The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, June 25, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. Contrasted with the preceding week, there is a decrease in the aggregate exchanges of about one-hundred and forty-two million dollars, and at New York alone the increase is one hundred and eight millions. In comparison with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 18·9 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 26·9 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 9·4 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 15·1 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 18·5 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 6·4 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The situation of affairs has this week been of such a character as, from its very nature, to develop a more watchful, hesitating attitude in investing circles. No conditions could exist better fitted than those that have existed for the encouragement of attacks on stock values. It is hardly needful to add that for furthering these attacks the worst that could be made out of the surroundings has as usual been made by rumors put afloat perverting and exaggerating every circumstance capable of bearing a disturbing construction. With then so much contributing to produce an unsettled and declining market, the fact that values have yielded only very slightly, affords of itself a favorable commentary on the inherent strength, present and prospective, of the properties dealt in and of the industrial promise the future holds out.

We are not permitted to doubt that solicitude would necessarily be felt by the public at large at a moment when a most critical crisis in the war with Spain was becoming daily more imminent, as has been so evidently the case each succeeding day of the last two weeks. No one, for illustration, needs to be told how much is involved affecting the length of the war we are now engaged in, or at least affecting the future disturbing character of the contest, in the results of the combinations which have been in process of culmination in and about Santiago. So far as matters have progressed there, the promise, to be sure, is every way favorable. But the event includes wide possibilities —not only the taking of Santiago, but the failure of the attempt, or its costliness in lives and material, and even the safety of our army; not only the capture or destruction or escape of Admiral Cervera's fleet but the injury to or safety of our own. No one in the United States really believes there is any uncertainty as to the outcome. At the same time war cannot be divested of uncertainty; and so long as such chances are in any degree involved in a near-by event daily coming nearer, so long as such large interests are in any measure at the risk of a single battle, which may occur to-day or to-morrow or the next day, it is but natural, it is unavoidable, that the enterprising men of the land should be on the alert and that capital should wait on the event.

Then, to mention but a single additional point in the military posture, note that other group of circumstances clustering around Manila and the Philippine Islands. We have no idea that there is any actual basis for present anxiety in relation to those matters. Least of all do we class among the possibilities a war with Germany growing out of the situation there. Yet, during the week, little incidents capable of the most amicable construction have been turned by the mischief mongers into hostile rumors and made to wear almost the garb of facts, showing an intention on the part of Germany to interfere with the progress of our arms at that center. Knowing the inflammable nature of the American legislator, and the quick resentment our people would feel, without distinction of party or class, at even the appearance of meddling by any nation with our rights gained in those Islands by the war, it can cause no surprise that the fables put afloat with so much of detail should give some slight set-back to the stock market. We are among those who do not desire the Philippine Islands ever to become a colony of the United States. We believe, too, that if the question can remain open until the fight is over and the war spirit is less the dominant influence, the opposition to attaching them to our territory is likely to grow. But outside pressure obviously would not help it to grow; that our Wall Street gauge has very clearly indicated.

Besides these uncertainties arising out of the existing state of hostilities with Spain, there are several other conditions which have contributed in some degree towards inducing investors for the moment to withhold active support from the security market. We referred last week to the position in which the failure of the Leiter speculation had left the prospective supplies and price of wheat. In addition to those matters the whole crop question always becomes an open one at this season of the year, and one which in a measure influences operators in the stock market, leading them as a rule to act with special deliberation, awaiting crop developments. The present summer is no exception to that rule, though the crop condition is at the moment favorable and it looks as if Europe would again need all our surplus wheat at a fair price. The corn crop, too, at this period is, as usual, being closely watched; it is believed to have made a promising start, but it has months of trial to pass through yet. For these and other reasons which will readily occur to the reader, the early summer is invariably a period of quieter markets. Those matters are, however, of less weight this season than they usually are. If a victory at Santiago such as is anticipated should be secured, it is highly probable that it would be followed by a general improvement in business affairs here; and if to this was added the lifting of the cloudy uncertainty respecting our situation at Manila by a victory there also, there can be little doubt that the inevitable sequence would be an upward trend to all values. This situation and belief is the cause why the stock market so quickly reacts when prices are forced down and why the declines are kept within such narrow limits.

A striking feature in the situation at the moment, and possibly a further influence against the market, is the sudden and decided change in the character of the returns of railway gross earnings. From very large increases we now have quite small increases, while some roads actually report losses. Up to the beginning of June it was not an uncommon thing to find our weekly compilations showing ratios of gain running as high as 15 or 16 per cent. But now all this has been changed, and the percentage of increase is apparently becoming smaller each week. For the first week of June the addition over the same week last year was 7·76 per cent, for the second week the addition dropped to 4·92 per cent, and for the third week (according to the table given to-day in our usual weekly form on page 24) the percentage of increase is only 4·72 per cent. Perhaps it may be thought that the comparison is now with greatly increased earnings a year ago. As far as one or two particular roads are concerned, this may be true. As far as the roads as a whole are concerned, it is not true. The great improvement in earnings which was a distinguishing characteristic of the returns in 1897 did not occur until the latter half of the year. In the month of June at that time growth was not entirely lacking, but it was of small proportions, the 1st week recording 3·01 per cent gain, the 2d week 2·54 per cent and the 3d week but 1·40 per cent.

What then accounts for the great dwindling down in the improvement in earnings? Examination of our table will show that the granger roads more particularly are reporting much diminished amounts of gain, while the decreases come almost entirely from this class of carriers. The explanation is to be found in a noteworthy contraction of the grain movement. We need cite only the statistics for the latest full week (the week ending June 25) to prove what an important factor this has become. In the week referred to the receipts of wheat at the Western primary markets were only 655,920 bushels the present year, against 1,535,068 bushels in the corresponding week of 1897 and 2,654,002 bushels in 1896, while the receipts of flour were only 134,012 barrels, against 251,270 and 234,851 barrels respectively in 1897 and 1896. It is unnecessary to go into any lengthy discussion as to the reasons for this contraction. Suffice it to say that the great drop in the price of wheat has taken away the inducement for sending forward the cereal, while at the same time the previously prevailing high prices, by drawing out old reserves, had so reduced farmers' holdings that as a matter of fact there is very little wheat that could come out in any event until supplies from the new crop are available. In addition to all this the movement of other kinds of grain has also shrunk to much smaller dimensions. This is not so noticeable in the case of corn, where the receipts for the week ending June 25 were 3,035,903 bushels in 1898, against 3,190,290 bushels in 1897, but in the case of oats the falling off has been of large proportions, the record showing receipts of only 1,991,136 bushels in the week this year, against 2,947,559 bushels in 1897 and 3,643,290 bushels in 1896. Even the minor cereals reflect the same tendency. Thus, of barley the deliveries were only 64,474 bushels, against 382,680 bushels and 344,471 bushels respectively in 1897 and 1896. In view of this great contraction in the grain movement, therefore, there is nothing strange or mysterious about the lessened gains in earnings.

Some of our bank officers anticipate dearer money after the 14th of July, when the Treasury is expected to absorb the funds paid in on subscriptions for the new United States bonds. For this reason it is stated that they are not offering money on time for long periods. The idea is that very few of our banks other than the National City will find it feasible to put up bonds as security for Government deposits, and consequently subscription payments will in large part have to be turned into the Treasury. If there should be any material advance in the rates, it would seem as if it must be of brief continuance. At least after the new bonds have been issued and distributed there can be no difficulty in any bank in city or country obtaining bonds as security for deposits. Besides, the surplus reserve was reported last Saturday by our Clearing House institutions at $62,206,250, and already the City Bank has deposited $5,000,000 as security for these Government moneys and the Chase and the Hanover have also each deposited $1,000,000. A Government official gives it as his opinion that the small subscriptions to the bonds will amount to about fifty million dollars, and that the remaining 150 millions will be taken by subscribers for from one thousand to five thousand dollars.

The Pennsylvania Railroad statement for May has been issued this week, and shows results about as expected—that is, shows only moderate improvement. The returns of the trunk lines, as is well known, while fairly good, have not been particularly flattering of late. Rates over these lines on account of the demoralization prevailing in that respect have been very low, while it is to be presumed that the volume of their tonnage was adversely affected by the lessened activity in trade occasioned by the Spanish war. On the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie the Pennsylvania reports $314,200 increase in gross and $29,400 increase in net, and on the Western lines $381,900 increase in gross with $85,200 decrease in net. Last year in this month there was $88,100 loss in gross on the Eastern lines and $215,800 loss on the Western lines, and $180,800 increase in net on the Eastern system and $69,100 decrease on the Western lines. Following is a comparison for a series of years of the results for the Eastern lines.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, has been in abundant supply this week, loaning generally at 1¼ per cent, with moderately large amounts at 1, and until Thursday comparatively small sums at 1½ per cent. The average for the week has been about 1¼ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 1½ per cent as the minimum. Time contracts are freely offered at 2½ per cent for thirty to ninety days, 3 per cent for four to five months and 3½ per cent for six to seven months on good Stock Exchange collateral; but the business reported is small. Commercial paper is in good demand, and choice names are selling promptly. Rates are 3@3½ per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 3½@4 for prime and 4½@5½ for good four to six months' single names. The banks have agreed upon a form of power of attorney as a substitute for the collateral notes which have heretofore accompanied loans on call on stock security, which notes, under the new revenue law, would require an ad valorem stamp of two cents for each $100.

There has been no important feature in the European financial situation this week. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount was reduced on Thursday to 2½ per cent from 3 per cent, at which it had stood since May 26. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 1@1⅛ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾ per cent, at Berlin it is 3½ per cent and at Frankfort it is 3⅝ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £44,474 bullion during the week and held £38,534,607 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to imports of £95,000 (of which £90,000 were from Australia and £5,000 from the Cape), to shipments of £16,000 net to the interior of Great Britain and to £35,000 exports, of which £20,000 were to Russia, £10,000 to China and £5,000 to Gibraltar.

The foreign exchange market has been generally firm this week, influenced by a good demand for bills, purchases having been made early in the week for the purpose of anticipating the new tax. As announced in the CHRONICLE last week, the foreign bankers at a conference held on Friday, came to an agreement respecting the manner of treating the new tax, deciding to add the cost of the stamps to the price of the bills. This decision had no particular effect upon the market on Monday, but on the following day there was an urgent inquiry for bills for immediate delivery which, in the absence of free offerings, caused a sharp advance in rates. The demand was partially satisfied on Wednesday, and the market then became dull. The tone grew easier on Thursday, chiefly because of the light demand. It was unsettled on Friday. Nominal rates for exchange on Monday were 4 85 for sixty-day and 4 86½ for sight. The tone of the market on that day was firm, but rates for actual business were unchanged compared with those at the close on Friday of last week. On the following day Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. and the Merchants' Bank of Canada advanced their posted rates half a cent, making the range from 4 85 to 4 85½ for sixty-day and from 4 86½ to 4 87 for sight, and the market was strong with an advance of half a cent in rates for actual business in long and short to 4 84½@4 84¾ for the former and to 4 85¾@4 86 for the latter, while those for cable transfers were advanced one quarter of a cent, to 4 86@4 86¼. The tone was steady and dull on the following day without any change either in nominal rates or in those for actual business, and it was easy on Thursday. On Friday the market was unsettled in consequence of uncertainty regarding the operation of the new tax. Rates for actual business were therefore quoted at a wide range. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

OUR VOLUNTEER ARMY.

No nation engages in war, after a long period of peace, without meeting an interesting and important test for many disputed problems of defense and armament. The Spanish war has already submitted our navy to the test, and with satisfactory results. Last week the test of our army system began—an experiment in some respects more interesting even than that of the navy; for our sea armament has been built up and managed on the lines adopted by all strong modern States, whereas our army system differs entirely in its methods and principles from that of any other first-class Power, excepting, perhaps, Great Britain.

The land manœuvres began two weeks ago with the occupation of Guantanamo by the marines. This movement was, however, a mere preliminary skirmish, and has proved to be only an incident in the general strategy about Santiago. But on Wednesday of last week, when the fleet of transport ships from Tampa landed the army of invasion at Baiquiri harbor, a few miles off from Santiago, the campaign may be said to have begun, and with it the test of this country's land armament.

We certainly do not exaggerate the facts in saying that the results thus far have been in the highest degree reassuring. It is true that our soldiers were confronted by a relatively incompetent enemy—badly commanded and uncertain of his own purpose. This was an unquestionable advantage in managing the usually very delicate problem of landing the soldiers from the transports. A vigilant enemy would surely have obstructed this manœuvre—if not by an open assault, which the co-operation of our fleet might have made impracticable, then at any rate by a process of harassing the disembarking troops, and thus creating that early doubt and uncertainty which is the heaviest handicap to an invading army. Whatever may have been the motive of the Spanish commanders, no resistance was offered to the landing of the United States troops. The successful achievement, therefore, of disembarkation on a hostile coast and in the face of the enemy, which would in most wars have been regarded as a particularly brilliant feat, was possibly nothing more than might under the circumstances have been expected.

But with the advance of our troops from the coast the situation was necessarily altered. They were no longer under the sheltering guns of the fleet; they were moving into a country with which they were wholly unfamiliar; they had to meet an enemy accustomed to the ground and practiced in warfare adapted to the region. Under these unfavorable circumstances, and knowing the enemy to be nearly, if not quite, their equal in numbers, the first test of our soldiers came in a battle fought against a foe in ambush, and fought on our own side by volunteers. It is only reasonable, therefore, to say that the test was unusually severe, and the fact that our soldiers stood their ground in this fight, drove the Spaniards out of cover, and without even incidental wavering or demoralization advanced to occupy the ground from which the enemy had been dislodged, is as ample a tribute as could be wished to the mettle and capacity of the volunteer soldier.

There remained the further exacting tests of the storming of Santiago, begun by General Shafter's army yesterday, and of the march across Cuba to seize Havana. What has been done already will, however, give the greatest possible reassurance, both to the army and to the nation. To the one it will bring the confidence in their leaders and in themselves which is invaluable at this stage of a campaign; with the other it will remove misgivings both for the present and for the long future.

We do not lose sight of the fact that there was delay in mobilizing the army, and that the commissary and transportation departments, and also in a degree the ordnance department, exhibited some defects which might have been seriously embarrassing under other circumstances. But there is reason to believe that the lessons of the Spanish war will not be least useful in this regard, for all these defects are such as can be removed by the adoption of a sounder routine system. Moreover, it must be remembered that shortcomings in these particulars might occur as readily in the case of a standing army as in the case of an army of volunteers. The important conclusion may already be drawn that it is possible, in an emergency, to raise a volunteer army quickly, to fit it for active service, and to send it out ready to do its work with regulars.

We certainly regard the army's work thus far as a vindication of the American and English system of militia armies. It is of course entirely obvious that the best volunteer army, levied and trained on short notice, could not compete with the huge armies of citizens which France, Germany and Russia keep under enforced and constant drill during the most useful part of the life of the citizen. But no one seriously argues that this country would be benefitted by such an armament, or that any such system is requisite for our safety. Nothing is more evident in the history of Europe than the fact that enormous standing armies in times of peace, and compulsory service by citizens, were forced on the Continental States through the exigency of circumstances. The standing armies of these governments are not now, as they undoubtedly were in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries, mere instruments for the upholding of the monarchical privilege and the suppression of the people. The movement of the past generation in the direction of a steady increase in the land armament of Continental States has been acquiesced in, if not universally approved, by the people of those States. In the one of those governments which is in form under absolute rule of the people, the large standing army is an institution which, as was shown on a very recent and sensational occasion, is enthusiastically applauded by the people.

But with France, as with Germany, Russia, Austria, and their smaller neighbors, the standing army takes the place of safeguard against sudden aggression by an adjoining State. In a continent divided into a dozen separate nationalities, intersected with easily-traveled roads and crossed by a network of railway systems, the possibilities of such a movement are so serious that it seemed to become incumbent on each State to maintain an army large enough to at least resist and obstruct any army of invasion. It is needless to review again the wholly different situation of Great Britain and the United States. With all England's enormous stores of wealth situated within a day's march from the ocean, the Bill of Rights of 1689 prohibits an English standing army in time of peace, except by the consent of Parliament, and Parliament to-day authorizes the employment of only 220,000 men for such an armament, of whom barely 100,000 are maintained in the British Isles. This is done in the face of the 572,000 soldiers kept under arms by France in time of peace and on French soil and the 585,000 of the German standing army. But the English Government and people rightly recognize the advantage of their geographical position—an advantage more than shared by the United States, whose frontier might conceivably be touched, but which never, by any imaginable combination of circumstances, could be held and occupied.

This factor in the situation virtually settled long ago, even as a controversial question, the matter of a large American standing army. We think that our experience thus far in the Spanish war will go far towards putting at rest the other question, which has excited some discussion, whether our present army ought not to be largely increased in numbers. The truth is that no legitimate middle ground exists between the continental system of a population virtually under arms, and a small, compact body of regulars which will serve as a nucleus to the larger volunteer armament in time of war. If the volunteer system had broken down under the test of this Spanish war, we should probably have had to face a vigorous discussion of the enlargement of the standing army and the end of such an experiment would be hard to guess. It is highly satisfactory to reflect that if, as is not impossible, this war results in a material enlargement of our navy, because of the value of its recent services, the prestige of the army's operations will be shared by the regulars and volunteers. Nothing more fortunate could have happened, in view of the possibilities which surrounded an army conflict at the opening of the war.

LONG-AND-SHORT-HAUL CLAUSE AGAIN APPLIED.

Two weeks ago, in the U. S. Circuit Court for the Northern District of Georgia, the meaning and application of the long-and-short-haul clause of the Inter-State law was again the subject of judicial interpretation. The decision has attracted very little attention outside of the localities affected, probably for the reason that the doctrines enunciated are considered by this time well established. Yet the question at issue was one of great importance to the railroads everywhere, and taken in connection with decisions of the same purport in other cases would seem to leave no room to doubt that the existing method of rate-making, where specially low rates, forced by competition, are granted to the larger trade centres, while local points not possessing the same favoring conditions are charged materially higher rates, is to be permanently continued under judicial sanction.

That the matter is not one which concerns the railroads alone is evident from the rejoicing of the merchants at Atlanta, Augusta, &c., over this victory of the railroads, which they are pleased to call their own victory. The Augusta "Chronicle," in commenting on the decision, said that the wholesale merchants in the larger cities of the South had good cause to be thankful. They have been saved, it argued, from a tremendous loss in business which meant millions of dollars to them. Business in these days, it well says, is done on close margins, and an advantage of a few cents on a hundred pounds will control most trades. There are some twenty or thirty centres in the South, like Atlanta, Augusta, Nashville, &c., which have low through rates from the North and West. These low rates are of great advantage to the wholesale dealers at those places, enabling them to supply local interior dealers with the stocks they need. On the other hand these interior dealers would like to get the same low rates to their own localities. They would then be in position to buy direct in the larger markets, Chicago, Cincinnati, &c., ignoring the jobbers at the distributing centres.

It is open to question whether equally favorable rates to local and competitive points, though destroying the trade at the distributing centres, would prove of any substantial benefit to the local dealers. However, that is not a point we need discuss on this occasion. It is sufficient to know that with the distributing centres deprived of the advantages which they have so long enjoyed, the whole course of trade in the South (we say South because the case involved rates to Southern points and also because there are more of these centres in the South than in any other part of the country) would be changed, and the method of rate-making have to be reconstructed.

The charge that the larger centres (Chicago and Cincinnati, for instance) have been conspiring to destroy the interior distributing centres is based on nothing more substantial than the desire which is known to exist on the part of these large centres to have opened up to them, through a readjustment of rates, a larger local market. At the same time interior dealers have no doubt been equally sincere in their belief that such an adjustment of rates would prove of great advantage to them. At all events the struggle has been going on for years, and, as stated above, the trend of decisions has been in favor of the continuance of the existing order of things. The main weapon of attack of course was the familiar one that the prevailing practice was in conflict with the long-and-short-haul clause of the Inter-State Act because involving a higher charge for the short haul than for the long haul. But it is precisely here that the railroads have been sustained, having secured their latest victory on the ground that the fourth section of the Inter-State law does not forbid the acts complained of.

The case dates back a great many years, action having first been brought before the Inter-State Commission by the Railroad Commission of Georgia in October 1891. The complaint was that the rates charged on freight from Cincinnati and other Ohio River points to Calhoun, Adairsville, Kingston, Cartersville, Acworth and Marietta, local stations on the line of the Western & Atlantic Railroad in Georgia, were greater than the rate charged to Atlanta, the eastern terminus of the Western & Atlantic Railroad, and a longer distance point. The claim of the plaintiffs was that the transportation to Atlanta and to the local stations named was under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, and that hence a greater charge for the shorter haul was forbidden under the fourth section of the Inter-State law. The defendant railroads (the Western & Atlantic, the Louisville & Nashville, the Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis, and the Cincinnati New Orleans & Texas Pacific) in their answers denied that the circumstances and conditions were similar. The Inter-State Commerce Commission, however, after much deliberation, on November 11 1892 filed it opinion ruling against the roads and requiring them to desist from the discrimination complained of against the local points. The roads refused to comply with the order, and the Inter-State Board accordingly on May 27 1893 filed its bill in the Circuit Court for the Northern District of Georgia, asking the Court to compel enforcement of the order.

It is this case which Judge Newman has now decided, and, as already said, the Court upholds the position and practice of the roads. It appears that the rate on first-class goods per 100 pounds from Cincinnati in 1892 was 76 cents to Chattanooga and $1 07 to Atlanta. To the intermediate points the rates were $1 09 to Calhoun, $1 12 to Adairsville, $1 15 to Kingston, $1 18 to Cartersville, $1 24 to Acworth and $1 27 to Marietta. In these latter cases the rate is in each case composed of the through rate to Chattanooga plus the local rate thence to the point named, as authorized by the Georgia Railroad Commission. In other words, in Georgia, as elsewhere in the South, the plan of rate-making to local non-competitive stations is to add to the through competitive rate the local rate. The testimony for the railroads showed that rates from Ohio River points to Atlanta and Chattanooga are entirely controlled by competition—both competition by the railroads themselves and competition from the Eastern seaboard. In some cases, though not in all, the adjustment of rates is on a basis intended to make the charge the same from Cincinnati to Atlanta as from Baltimore to Atlanta. On the other hand, at the local points mentioned—Calhoun, Adairsville, Kingston, Cartersville, Acworth and Marietta—no such conditions exist.

In his opinion Judge Newman points out that when the present case was heard and decided by the Inter-State Commission in 1892, there had been no authoritative determination of the question as to whether or not competition at a longer distance point might be considered as creating a situation where the carriage of freight to such point could be regarded as rendered under *dis*similar circumstances and conditions from those existing at a shorter distance point within the meaning of the fourth section of the Act to Regulate Commerce. But there is no longer any doubt on that point. The question was settled in the case of the Inter-State Commerce Commission vs. Alabama Midland Railway, where the United States Supreme Court held that "competition is one of the most obvious and effective circumstances that make the conditions under which a long-and-short-haul is performed substantially dissimilar, and as such must have been in the contemplation of Congress in the passage of the Act." Judge Newman also shows that the Commission is now itself of the opinion that this view must control. He quotes from its eleventh annual report, where the subject was discussed at length and the Commission said that it had always previously held that railway competition between carriers subject to the provisions of the Act could not of itself create necessary dissimilarity in circumstances and conditions, but that this contention was not sustained by the Supreme Court, which holds that such competition does create the dissimilarity contemplated in the Inter-State Act.

Applying this rule to the case under review, Judge Newman finds it easy to reach a conclusion. He says it is a matter of public knowledge that Atlanta is many times as large as any of the points on the Western & Atlantic regarding which complaint is made. It is also well known that at Atlanta several different lines of railroad compete actively for business; and not only is competition active between carriers, but also between markets competing for Atlanta business. Goods may be brought, Judge Newman well says, by water from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other eastern points by steamers to Charleston, Brunswick and Savannah, and thence by competing lines of railway to Atlanta. From similar points in the North and East there are also competing lines of rail. From points in the Middle North and great Northwest there is competition by rail and partly by water routes Eight lines of railroad enter Atlanta. Its commercial and manufacturing interests are large and varied. Contrariwise, at the local points mentioned there is very little, if any, competition, as already noted above.

Reasoning thus, Judge Newman says it must be apparent at a glance that the conditions under which transportation is effected to Atlanta and those which control at the local stations are entirely different. This being so, and the U. S. Supreme Court having decided that competition may distinguish the circumstances necessary to determine whether a given rate is obnoxious to the fourth section of the Inter-State Act, it must be regarded as perfectly clear that the rates complained of are not violative of that section. As to the contention that the rates from Cincinnati to the local points are unjust and unreasonable in and of themselves, Judge Newman is unable to discover any evidence whatever to justify such a finding. Everything goes to show, he declares, that the rate to Atlanta is forced on the railroad officials by competition. There is no evidence of an improper desire on the part of these officials to give Atlanta a lower rate or the local points a higher rate. The view must be, he thinks, that where the circumstances and conditions at the longer distance point are substantially dissimilar, the carrier may judge of this for itself in the first instance, and fix the rates for the longer distance point without violating the fourth section of the Act. This, however, does not preclude the courts or the Commission from inquiring as to whether the rates to the shorter distance points are unjust or unreasonable, or whether they constitute undue preferences for or unjust prejudice against any locality. Judge Newman is also careful to say that in order to constitute dissimilarity under the fourth section of the Act the competition must be real and not imaginary or trifling.

UNIFORMITY IN MUNICIPAL FINANCE.

In the June quarterly of "Municipal Affairs," Prof. C. W. Tooke makes an earnest plea for uniform methods in municipal finance. He well says that the lack of scientific methods of accounting and of continuity of system in a given municipality, and the absence of uniformity in the financial methods of different cities, have combined to leave this field of investigation an almost unknown territory. So great, he contends, are the divergencies and so difficult of access are the records of even the more important cities, that little light has been thrown on the efficiency of different methods of municipal administration; as a consequence the science of comparative city government in this country is yet largely a matter of theoretical speculation.

He cites by way of illustration the conditions prevailing in two of the most important States, New York and Illinois. In neither State has there ever been any scientific or regular system of central supervision over municipalities. How unsatisfactory has been the situation in New York was well shown in the report of the Fassett Committee in 1891, with which our readers are tolerably familiar. The problem in New York, as in Illinois, the writer says, is rendered more complex by the unscientific system of State finance, which still places a premium on the undervaluation of property for purposes of taxation. In Illinois the report of the Revenue Commission of 1886 showed that the assessment varied from 100 to 5 per cent of the actual cash value of the property. In some towns of Cook County the ratio now is less than 1 per cent of the fair cash value. These low assessments, made primarily to avoid State taxation, would place the indebtedness of the city of Chicago far in excess of the constitutional limitation of 5 per cent of the assessed valuation, were it not for the fact that the General Assembly has created other municipal corporations, each of which is financially independent of the others, thus conveniently relieving the city government proper of a large share of its burden. Upon the same area we find the county, the park district, the drainage district and the city. In the minor political divisions—the towns and villages—the confusion is still more striking. It is more difficult to collect reliable statistics of the financial history of the various towns of a county than of a large city. In many counties the financial records have not been preserved, while in the towns themselves it often appears that no books of account at all are kept. Nor are the two States mentioned exceptional in this respect. In some of the other States the conditions are in many respects even more serious.

The favorable feature is that there is a strong tendency towards improvement. Indeed, the progress already made is the best evidence that the evils of the present system are in process of being eliminated, though Prof. Tooke does not quite take so hopeful a view. Aside from the tendency towards general laws for the incorporation of cities and towards reforms in the State taxing systems, he notes the movements which have been made in the direction of State boards of audit, with powers more or less extensive, requiring uniform methods of municipal bookkeeping and exercising a directing control over municipal expenditure. One of the earliest instances of the creation of such an office in an American State was that of the Comptroller of County Accounts, established in Massachusetts in 1887. In the States of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota a similar officer has been provided for, called the public examiner, whose duties also include a supervision of the banking institutions of his State. Among other recent attempts to secure uniformity in municipal finance, mention is made of the Act of the General Assembly of Louisiana, passed in 1892, creating the office of the Examiner of Public Accounts. Unfortunately, in this case, owing to the failure to make an appropriation to pay his salary, the officer was never appointed and the Act was subsequently repealed.

In Washington, where all State institutions are under the control of a central board, and their accounts subject to a quarterly inspection by a traveling auditor, provision has recently been made for a uniform system of public blanks throughout the State. Most noteworthy of all, in Wyoming a comprehensive system of central audit and supervision by the State examiner over all the municipal corporations of the State has been inaugurated. The first Legislature in 1890-91 created the office and prescribed the duties of the officer. At present his functions extend to a supervision of the educational, charitable and reformatory institutions as well as of the banking and loan corporations of the State, besides which he exercises powers of supervision over the accounts of counties and indirectly over the financial operations of other municipal corporations. In this c however, it may be questioned whether too many responsibilities have not been thrust upon the officer. Professor Tooke admits that the duties in connection with the control of the State institutions and banking corporations overburden the office, but he nevertheless contends that great advantages have resulted from the supervision provided. In the case of municipal corporations, he says, we have uniform and correct accounting, direct access to the facts in each case, a central supervision of great value to the locality and to the State at large. Not only is there, he says, a large saving by reason of the fact that such supervision exists, but every year the amounts recovered that would otherwise be lost to the State are many times the expenses of the office.

Prof. Tooke accordingly argues that some such control as is exercised under the Wyoming law would be of benefit in other States which are more advanced industrially. Constitutional restrictions upon local taxation and indebtedness and upon special legislation have in part avoided the dangers previously existing; still the problem is far from a successful solution. But whether or not it be deemed expedient to establish such a system of administrative control in a given State, no objections of weight can be urged against the plan of securing uniformity in book keeping and publicity of the accounts of municipal corporations by State action. "A common system of book-keeping adjusted to the various conditions of municipalities, the benefit of the advice of an expert officer in the matter of expenditure, and the audit of accounts to prevent abuses, could not but prove welcome to the authorities of the towns and counties." For the larger cities, Prof. Tooke thinks, possibly the duties of the central office might be made purely advisory, investigations to be had and plans to be submitted upon the request of the authorities interested. He is inclined to recognize that in the great majority of our cities efficient service is already secured and that in some few cities the financial administration leaves nothing to be desired.

LISTINGS ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE DURING THE FIRST HALF OF 1898.

The record of the securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange during the first half of 1898 emphasizes in a rather striking manner the course of events in the financial world during this period. In the early weeks the additions were fairly numerous. Rumors of war and the opening of hostilities brought financial projects almost to a standstill and the listings were few. Latterly the restoration of confidence and the prospect of large crops have occasioned a revival of enterprise and much heavier listings.

Railroad construction continued on a low level. For the half year it aggregated about 1,100 miles of new road. Only two companies built in excess of 50 miles, and most of the new short lines were constructed by roads with capitalization too small to require listing on any Stock Exchange. Other enterprises started have scarcely reached the point for listing. Hence the new securities making their first appearance on the New York Exchange, in so far as they represented new capital, were for a comparatively small aggregate, the smallest indeed in our record, excepting 1897. On the other hand the refunding operations begun in 1897 have made great progress. These, together with the new securities arising out of the reorganization of the Union Pacific and the control acquired by the New York Central of the Lake Shore and Michigan Central roads have swelled to an enormous total the item of bonds listed to replace old securities. For the first time this item exceeds 300 millions; it is greater by 26 per cent than in the same period of any of the thirteen earlier years covered by our compilation.

The following table shows the listings of both stocks and bonds during the first six months of 1898 and for a corresponding period in every one of the last fourteen years. The classification is in accordance with principles explained in former articles.

NOTE.—Applications for the listing of Trust Company receipts and of securities marked "assented" (if preparatory to reorganization), or of securities stamped "assumed" or "assessment paid"—the securities themselves having previously been listed—are not included in this table

This table brings clearly before us the facts just mentioned, namely, a total of bonds for new capital of only 29 millions. contrasting, to be sure, with only 20¾ millions in 1897, but with 125 and 133 and 105 millions in the three half-years of 1896, 1895 and 1894, respectively. In 1888, or ten years ago, the loans for new capital reached a sum tive times our presont aggregate. Evidently with a return of normal conditions there is room for a vast increase in the floating of new bonds, without passing the limit of conservative action. The bonds representing old securities retired show a total of 342 millions. This contrasts with 186 and 228 millions, respectively, in 1897 and 1896, both periods noted for their many and important reorganizations, but with 51 and 64 and 29 millions in the more ordinary years just preceding. So small, however, have been the corporate borrowings to secure additional capital that even the vast amount of securities given in exchange suffices to make the aggregate of all the bonds listed during the late half-year exceed the total for 1890 by only about nineteen millions.

In the case of stocks the refunding operations are not reflected in the listings; the total amount issued for reorganization purposes is only 229 millions, as against 349½ and 282 millions in 1897 and 1896. And yet the result exceeds that for any one of the eleven years from 1885 to 1895 inclusive. This is due, however, to the appearance on the list of stock of the reorganized Union Pacific and of three other companies' shares for a large amount. The shares for new undertakings aggregate less than nine millions. Only once in the fourteen years has the sum been less. This does not mean that no stock companies of importance have been launched during the six months. On the contrary, as we shall show at the close of this article, the formation of new industrial corporations has made rapid progress, the aggregate capitalization being extraordinary in extent. Some of the more important of these organizations, it is expected, will soon apply for an official quotation on the Exchange; but time must naturally elapse before a new corporation is prepared to furnish the information required to secure the listing of its securities.

In the following table all the important listings of railroad bonds for the last six months are given, with a brief statement of the purpose of each issue:

The securities of three companies here stand out pre-eminent. The New York Central has the first place, owing to its refunding of bonds and its acquisition of a controlling interest in the stock of the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central. The proposition to purchase the stock of the Lake Shore was made in February last and nearly nine-tenths of the entire issue has been acquired, as we said last week, and thus far about 80 millions of 3½ per cent bonds have been issued on account of the same. The Michigan Central purchase did not begin till April, but two-thirds of the outstanding issue has been acquired, and $11,928,000 of the collateral bonds secured thereby have been listed. The refunding of the old debt was commenced in January and has resulted in the listing of 21¾ millions of the 3½ per cent refunding bonds, while an additional $2,019,000 of the loan has been issued and listed on account of improvements, etc.

The other conspicuous listings of railroad bonds are the 90 millions of new Union Pacific 4s, a product of reorganization, which are secured upon both railroad and land grant, and the 43½ millions of Rock Island general mortgage 4s, with which has been retired over two-thirds of the company's former funded debt. The refunding proceedings of the Lake Shore and the North West. have been accompanied by the placing on the Exchange list by each company of about 5 millions of its new 3½ per cents, while the Northern Pacific has added for similar and other purposes some four millions of the prior lien 4s. The one considerable loan issued for railroad extension is that of the Mobile & Ohio for $4,000,000 on account of its line to Montgomery. This line was completed and put in operation on June 5. The final acquisition by the Southern Railway of the last of the important properties formerly included in the Richmond Terminal system is marked by the listing of Memphis division bonds in connection with the merger of the Memphis & Charleston.

Miscellaneous and street railway bonds listed are shown in the next table.

The reader will notice in this table the bonds of the Adams Express Company, $12,000,000, and the bonds of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company, $5,000,000. The latter are a new departure as regards bonds dealt in on the Exchange, secured as they are by deposit in trust of first mortgages on real estate. The bonds of the Express Company cover first-class securities such as few persons supposed the company possessed, both bank stocks and railroad stocks and bonds. A peculiar thing, too, about this collateral is that it is held primarily "to indemnify and guarantee the shareholders of the company from time to time against any loss or damage by reason of personal liability," the company being an unincorporated association and its stockholders therefore liable for debts.

Our next table shows the listings of railroad, miscellaneous and street railway stocks, viz.:

The noteworthy issues in this tabulation, in addition to the 136 millions of Union Pacific stock already referred to, are first, the 24 millions of Erie Railroad common and preferred stocks used to take up the stock of the New York Susquehanna & Western; second, the stock of the Mergenthaler Linotype Company, and third, the shares of three recently reorganized concerns, namely the Pacific Coast Company, more familiarly known under its former name of the Oregon Improvement Company, the Colorado Midland Ry. and the Chicago Terminal & Transfer RR.

The insignificant character of the listings of so-called miscellaneous or industrial shares becomes apparent upon examination of the following compilation, referred to above, showing the leading companies of this nature organized in recent months.

* Part of this may perhaps be preferred stock.

Nearly all the companies here included are either in active operation or are shortly to be, and their authorized stock capitalization, aggregating as we see over 320 millions of dollars, is in each case for the most part either outstanding or soon to be distributed. It is reasonable to expect that before many months have passed they will serve to afford a material accession to the securities traded in on the New York Stock Exchange. Thus far the shares of only one of them, the Detroit City Gas Company, have been listed in this city.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, June 18, 1898.

The settlement of the dispute between this country and France respecting West Africa has come as a great relief to the market. The dispute has dragged on unpleasantly long and some months ago it threatened to assume a very serious phase. Happily both Governments recognized the danger in time. A commission was appointed to frame some kind of an arrangement and strict orders were given on both sides to the officers on the spot to avoid all collision. At last a settlement has been arrived at by which large mutual concessions are made. In this country no serious interest was felt in the subject. Indeed if the French had not invaded territory which was believed here to be unquestionably British there would probably have been hardly any public notice taken of the matter. It was the entrance of French troops upon what was believed here to be British territory that created the grave danger. Now that many of the places are given up the public is satisfied.

Which side has made the best bargain nobody knows, and, to speak frankly, very few care, for outside of a few merchants, especially in Liverpool, there is scarcely any interest taken here in West Africa. The settlement, then, is cordially welcomed, the more particularly as everybody assumes that if France was harboring designs which might lead to fresh disputes she would not think it worth her while to settle the West African business. It will be recollected that a few weeks ago grave apprehensions were entertained of the designs of France upon certain positions in Morocco and upon the Canaries. Now it is assumed that the suspicions must have been entirely unfounded or else France would not think it worth while to make the present large concessions.

But though the settlement has come as a relief, there is yet no more inclination than there was to engage in new enterprise. As long as the Spanish war goes on there will be always danger of complications and people therefore will be afraid to engage in new risks. Moreover, the bankruptcy of Spain seems imminent, and if there is a great collapse in Spain, French investors will suffer severely, and there may possibly be a kind of crisis in Paris, though it is hardly likely that there will be, since the collapse of Spain has been expected by everybody for so long a time. Then again the condition of Italy is very uncertain. The Austrian Parliament has been prorogued for some months and it is generally assumed that the Constitution will be suspended. In fact, the outlook in Austria Hungary is growing darker and darker every day. In the Balkan Peninsula there is widespread unrest. Still, people believe that Russian influence will be strong enough to prevent an outbreak. For all that there is enough of uncertainty in every direction to prevent any great activity on the Stock Exchange.

The compromise arranged between Messrs. Rothschild and the Brazilian Government has been concluded and practically no opposition is offered to it by the Brazilian bondholders.

Exceedingly good news comes from Australia to the effect that at last the drought is at an end. During Saturday and Sunday last it is reported by private telegrams received in the city that as much as 1¼ inches of rain fell over the greater part of New South Wales and Victoria, and that the weather remains mild as well as damp, and although it is now mid-winter in the colonies there will therefore be good vegetation. The break-down of the wheat corner in Chicago is likewise regarded here as a very favorable event. The rise in wheat has added very largely to the cost of our imports, and if it had continued dearer bread would have lessened the purchasing power of the working classes, and therefore would probably have adversely affected our trade. The decline in price, therefore, is felt to be favorable to the welfare of the working classes and to the progress of European trade.

Upon the Stock Exchange the only event of any importance is the fall in American securities brought about by sales from New York, no doubt due partly to the break-down of the wheat corner and partly to preparations for the coming war loan. Very considerable quantities have been bought here but the general investing public is still holding aloof, although there is a better demand undoubtedly for good bonds.

In the other departments the public is doing nothing. When the Brazilian compromise was first announced the stocks were put up, but as the public did not buy prices have gone back again and there is a general dulness all over the market.

The directors of the Bank of England made no change in their rate of discount on Thursday. The Bank itself is so strong that, looking only to the figures of the return, one would be inclined to say that a 2 per cent Bank rate would be high enough. Of course, however, the directors had to take into consideration many other things besides the mere figures of the returns. It is reported by bankers and bill brokers that American bills on a very large scale are being offered for discount. That is taken to mean that in preparation for the coming war loan it is thought desirable to ship gold to New York. Strong as the Bank is, the shipment of a couple of millions sterling would probably cause rates to rise rapidly, for it must not be forgotten that the Bank holds an immense amount of money for foreign governments, a very large amount for Japan and a considerable amount for other governments, like the Egyptian. While the conditions are such, while nobody knows how much gold may go thither, and while it is possible that the demand for Russia and Austria may again spring up, caution is evidently desirable.

In India the great stringency in the money market is coming to an end. On Thursday the Bank of Bombay lowered its rate of discount from 12 per cent to 10 per cent, while the Bank of Bengal put down its rate from 10 per cent to 9 per cent. The actual returns of both banks fail to explain the change. The reserves are very small, and, what is more remarkable still, in the case of the Bank of Bengal the Government deposits are as high as 196 lacs, while the total reserve is only 2 3 lacks. In other words, all but 17 lacs consist of Government deposits. From this the general inference is that the Government is purposely easing the market, with the intention of bringing out the rupee loan announced in March. It is almost certain that the stringency will return in November, and therefore the sooner the loan can be placed the more likely is its success.

Whether the surmise is right or wrong, there is another explanation. The rainy season ought to begin almost immediately now, and as soon as the monsoon breaks there will be a great check given to exports. The banks, therefore, may think that the falling off in exports will bring about a very considerable decline in the demand for money, that coin will rapidly return to them, and that therefore they are justified in giving relief to trade after so long a stringency. In the meantime the India Council continues to sell its drafts very successfully. It offered for tender on Wednesday 40 lacs, and sold the whole amount at prices ranging from 1s. 3 27-32d. to 1s 4d. per rupee. Later it sold a very small amount by private contract.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of June 16:

Gold.—The demand for Japan slackened after the departure of the P. & O. boat, and there has been less inquiry for India. With the arrival of the Cape gold on Monday, the price dropped to 77s 9¾d., but has since hardened on a demand for Russia, and the market closes firm at 77s. 10d. The Bank has received during the week, £364,000, and has sold £280,000, of which £2 [illegible] were in Yen. Arrivals: Australia, £ 8,0 0; South Africa, £287,000; Chili, £2,500. Total, £ 67,500. Shipments: Bombay, £102,000; Japan, £549 000. Total, £651,000.

Silver.—With the cessation of the demand for Spain, the price dropped from 27⅛d. to 26¾d., but India then came in as a buyer, and on rumors of further requirements for Spain, the market has slightly hardened, and closes 26 3/16d, after being 26⅞d. Indian rate 69 Rs. per 100 Tolahs. Arrivals: Chili, £24 300; New York, £127,000. Total, £151,300. Shipments to Bombay, £9,500.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The usual conditions attending the close of the half-year and preceding the July 4th holiday period have prevailed this week in Wall Street. There has been no important war news to change the course of events, and business has been chiefly of a routine character. At present there is a disposition in financial circles to hold active operations in abeyance until the occupation of Manila and Santiago by the American forces is an established fact.

Transactions at the Stock Exchange have been limited in volume with railway bonds steady to firm, railway shares fractionally lower in most cases, and miscellaneous and industrial stocks the features of the market for activity and strength. Both the foreign exchange and money markets have been somewhat more active than last week.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1 to 1¼ per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¼ to 1½ per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3 to 4 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £44,474, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 48·69, against 49·25 last week; the discount rate was reduced from 3 to 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 3,925,000 francs in gold and an increase of 775,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of June 25 showed an increase in the reserve held of $4,576,300 and a surplus over the required reserve of $62,206,250, against $59,272,800 the previous week.

State & Railroad Bonds.—No sales of State bonds have been reported at the Board this week.

The railway bond market, reflecting the conditions mentioned above, has been inactive but generally steady, with a few notably strong features. The volume of business, although somewhat larger than last week, averaged less than $2,800,000 par value per day, and was confined largely to a few issues. Brooklyn Rapid Transit 5s were conspicuous for an advance of 4 points on the continued favorable reports of earnings and excellent prospects of the company. Fort Worth & Denver City 1sts, Missouri Kansas & Texas 1sts, Pittsburg & Western 1st 4s, San Antonio & Aransas Pass 4s and Texas & Pacific 2ds advanced from 1½ to 2½ points.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The market for stocks has been exceptionally dull and the trading largely of a professional character. As is usual under such conditions, the tendency of prices has been towards a lower level. This is especially true of the railway list, but in most cases the losses are confined to fractions. Lake Shore was a feature of the market, selling up to 102, a gain of 4½ points, and closing (ex-dividend) at 187. The local traction stocks were irregular. Brooklyn Rapid Transit made a further net gain of 3⅜ points. Manhattan Elevated and Third Avenue were strong, while Metropolitan Street Railway declined, but recovered to-day.

The most active stocks are on the miscellaneous list, some of which show evidence of speculative manipulation. Pullman's Palace Car shares advanced 20 points on expectation of a distribution of treasury assets. American Sugar, American Tobacco, Consolidated Gas and U. S. Rubber preferred fluctuated over a range of between 4 and 5 points. People's Gas advanced 3 points. General Electric and U. S. Leather preferred show a gain of a point or more.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of June 18, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of July 23, 1898.

(Statement for the year ending April 30, 1898.)

"The company re elected the old directors at the annual meeting in Jersey City, N. J., June 10, and the reports of the President and Treasurer showed that the profits for the year ending April 30 were over $211,000, being equivalent to 7 per cent on the entire capital stock issued. The regular annual dividend of 7 per cent on the stock was declared payable June 29, and the balance of over $127,000 was carried over. Hereafter dividends will be paid semi-annually. During the past year the company refunded its bonded indebtedness on a five per cent basis, instead of 6 per cent, for a period of fifteen years. The original indebtedness of the company was $740,000, but during the past three and one-years it has been reduced by the profits to $409,000, against which real estate and machinery are held of the book value of over $4,600,000. The company is rebuilding the Sharon plant and extending the Thurlow plant at a cost of over $150,000."—"Railway Age."

Addison & Pennsylvania RR.—Addison & Susquehanna RR.—Successor Company.—The Addison & Susquehanna RR. Co. has been organized as successor of the Addison & Pennsylvania Railway Co., recently foreclosed. The capital stock is $100,000 and $94,900 of it is owned by the Messrs. Goodyear.—V. 66, p. 1012.

American Lamp Chimney Co.—New Company.—Subscriptions.—This company has been incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, and, it is claimed, will make lamp chimneys by machinery at a fraction of the cost of hand-made chimneys, one account saying for five cents a dozen, as against fifteen cents. The company will own and enlarge the plant of the Toledo Glass Co., so as to supply a considerable proportion of the entire demand of the United States of 7,000,000 dozen annually. The plant, the report says, now has a fourteen-pot furnace in operation, and will have another, a sixteen-pot furnace, in operation by November. A third furnace is to be put up early in 1899. By November the company expects to be able to manufacture 22,500 dozen chimneys a week.

The share capital is $750,000, divided into 2,500 shares of preferred cumulative 7 per cent stock of $100 each, and 5,000 shares of common stock of $100 each. Subscription books were opened recently at the offices of the Home Safe Deposit Co., of Toledo, and W. E. Hutton & Co., of Cincinnati.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Notice to Holders of 5 Per Cents of 1885.—Speyer & Co. and Speyer Brothers notify holders of their receipts issued for 5 per cent bonds, losn of 1885, that any receipt holders who do not assent to the plan and agreement of reorganization may withdraw their bonds and coupons at any time on or before July 21, 1898, upon the surrender of such receipts, without expense. All receipt holders who shall not make such withdrawal on or before July 21, 1898, will be deemed to have assented to the plan and will be bound thereby.

Reported Purchase of Miss Garrett's Holdings.—A newspaper report, which we have been unable to verify, states that Miss Mary Garrett recently sold her 20,000 shares of Baltimore & Ohio stock to a New York syndicate favorable to reorganization for about $10 per share; also that she has disposed of 5,000 shares of Consolidated Coal Company stock at $35 per share.

Preferred Stockholders Object to Plan.—After a meeting of the holders of first preferred stock at Baltimore on Tuesday substantially the following was given out:

It is the sense of the meeting that none of the holders of the $3,000,000 of first preferred stock of the B. & O. RR. can justly be required to determine whether they will accept the proposition published by the reorganization committee before the case in the Supreme Court is decided. That every effort should be made to have the hearing of that case advanced, and to that end the co-operation of the committee referred to respectfully invited. And that said committee be requested, if it shall fix a time limit for such assent, to put the same at such date as will come after such decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in order that it may not be necessary for the holders of the stock above mentioned to apply to the courts to restrain the carrying forward of such reorganization till their rights shall have been ascertained.—V. 66, p. 1235, 1236, 1239.

Baltimore Storage & Lighterage.—Vessels.—This company, whose $1,000,000 of capital stock is traded in in Baltimore has sold the following vessels of the Atlantic Transport Line, which it operates, to the Government, for a price said to be $4,000,000: Mohawk, Mississippi, Mobile, Massachusetts, Manitoba, Minnewaska and Michigan. This sale left the New York branch of the Atlantic Transport Line with but two vessels, the America and Europe. On Thursday, however, the New York Times announced the purchase of the fleet and business of the New York and London portion of the Wilson & Furness-Leyland line. Five new twin-screw vessels of 7,000 tons each, it is said, are thus acquired, including the Alexandria, Boadicea, Winnefreda, Cleopatra and Victoria. The price paid is reported as about $5,000,000. It is understood that by the terms of the contract the Wilson-Furness-Leyland line will not engage in the New York business for three years.

Brooklyn Elevated RR.—New Contract for Use of Brooklyn Bridge.—Receiver Uhlmann, acting under order of Court, and with the authority of the Reorganization Committee, on Monday signed the new contract giving the entire operation of the bridge railroad into the control of the Receiver of the Brooklyn Elevated RR., who will operate it subject to the supervision of the Bridge Commissioner. When the Kings County Elevated RR. Co. is ready to use the bridge, that company is expected to assume a share of the contract.

Under the original contract the elevated road was to pay 12½ cents per car for each round trip. Since the trolley lines began using the bridge roadway, the Court is informed, the number of passengers using the bridge cars has decreased more than one-half, which has diminished the receipts and rendered the bridge railroad unprofitable. The annual loss to the city when the two elevated railroads cross the Bridge was estimated, had it not been for the new contract, to exceed $600,000.

By the terms of the new contract the elevated road is to operate the bridge cars, charging the same fare as now between the bridge terminals and assuming all the expenses of operation and all loss incurred therein. The company is further to pay $20,306 annually for the use of certain track facilities. It is also to pay ten cents a car for each round trip and to guarantee that the amount so to be paid shall not be less than $250 a day, up to the time when the Kings County Elevated begins to operate, and $166 67 a day thereafter. In addition, if a surplus remains from the operation of the bridge road, a graduated percentage is to be paid to the Bridge Commissioner.

Further facts touching the contract follow:

The Elevated Road shall assume the entire burden of operating the local railroad under the direction of the Commissioner and in such a way as to afford adequate service (of which the Commissioner shall be the judge), and at the same fare as is now charged. It must keep the cars and everything connected with such railroad in good order to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, and provide at its own expense all the power and service required to operate the cars of the Brooklyn and those of the Kings County over such bridge and assume all liability for accidents.

The Elevated Road shall bear whatever loss may occur from operating the local railroad, while if the same shall prove profitable it must pay to the Commissioner in each year a graduated percentage of the surplus, namely: 5 per cent if between $10,000 and $20,000; 7½ per cent if between $20,000 and $40,000; 10 per cent if between $40,000 and $60,000; 12½ per cent if between $60,000 and $80,000; 15 per cent if between $80,000 and $100,000; 20 per cent if between $100,000 and $150,000; 25 per cent on all amounts exceeding $150,000.

Whatever work may be done in the shops of the Elevated Co. in repairing the railroad or its appurtenances shall be paid for by the Brooklyn Elevated RR. Co. at cost. As the reduced travel over the local railroad leaves the set of gauntleted tracks on the Bridge reserved for its use vacant during a large portion of the time, the Brooklyn Elevated may operate its cars over such tracks and use the switches and platforms connected therewith, but shall pay for such privilege $20,306 28 annually. In addition the Elevated Road shall pay 10 cents for each car owned or operated or controlled by it for each round trip, in addition to furnishing the power and paying all the costs and service, as against the charge of 12½ cents per round trip contained in the former contract by which the trustees were to supply power and service. The company must guarantee that the amount so to be paid should not be less than $250 a day, up to the time when the Kings County Elevated commences to operate, during which time the Brooklyn Elevated would be the only railroad operating over the bridge, and $166 67 a day thereafter.

The elevated trains crossing the bridge have been well patronized, but, the street railways claim, have taken much less of the bridge traffic than was expected. The Kings County Elevated, it is said, may begin to carry passengers across the bridge within a fortnight. The operation of the bridge railroad by the Receiver of the Brooklyn Elevated began at midnight June 30

Electrical Equipment.—The Brooklyn Elevated RR. expects to equip its Fifth Avenue line with electricity and the third rail system next fall, and after that the remainder of the road.—V. 66, p 1236.

Buffalo Kenmore & Tonawanda Electric Ry.—Sale Aug. 22.—The foreclosure sale is advertised for Aug. 22 at 210 Pearl Street, Buffalo.—V. 66, p. 1236.

Calgary & Edmonton Ry.—Interest Payment.—The Dominion subsidy for the six months ending the 30th inst., together with the net earnings of the road for the six months ending the 30th of April, it is announced, permit a distribution of £2 per £100 bond in respect of the coupon due July on the first mortgage sterling bonds. The payment will accordingly be made on and after that date at the office of Messrs. Morton, Chaplin & Co., 5 Princes Street, London, E. C.—V. 65, p. 1170.

Capital Ry.—Washington City Ry.—Proposed Change of Name.—A bill has been introduced in the House at Washington providing that the Capital Railway Company of that city be authorized to change its name to Washington City Railway Co.

Central Pacific RR.—Settlement of Government Debt.—The Senate at Washington, June 29, adopted an amendment to the general deficiency bill providing for the collection of the Pacific railway debts. The amendment follows:

That the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of the Interior and the Attorney-General, and their successors in office, be, and they are hereby appointed a Commission, with full power to settle the indebtedness to the Government growing out of the issue of bonds in aid of the construction of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific bond-aided railroads, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by them, or by a majority of them, and the owners of said railroads; provided that any and all settlements thus made shall be submitted in writing to the President for his approval or disapproval, and unless approved by him shall not be binding.

That said Commission shall not agree to accept a less sum in settlement of the amount due the United States than the full amount of the principal and all amounts necessary to reimburse the United Sates for moneys paid for interest or otherwise. And also provided that said Commission are hereby empowered to grant such time or times of payment by instalment, and at such rates of interest, to be not less than 3 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and with such security as said Commission may deem expedient; provided, however, that in any settlement that may be made the final payment and full discharge of said indebtedness shall not be postponed to exceed ten years, and the whole amount, principal and interest, shall be paid in equal semi-annual instalments within the period so limited, and in any settlement made it shall be provided that if default shall be made in any paymont of either principal or interest, or any part thereof, then the whole sum and all instalments, principal and interest, shall immediately become due and payable, notwithstanding any other stipulation of said settlement.

That there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $20,000 to defray the expenses of said Commission in making the said settlement.—V. 66, p. 1088.

Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville Ry.—Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry.—It is currently rumored that the Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville is to be merged into the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis. No confirmation of the report can be obtained.—(V. 66, p. 1236; V. 65, p. 1219.)

Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley RR.—Sale.—Successor Company.—This company has been incorporated with $3,000,000 capital stock, as successor of the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley Ry., which was sold June 29 under foreclosure and purchased for $500,000 by John P. Green acting in the interest of the Pennsylvania RR. Co.—V. 66, p. 1044.

Citizens' Ry., Fort Scott, Kan.—Change of Ownership.—This company, controlled by Fort Scott men, it is stated, has purchased the entire property of the Fort Scott Rapid Transit Co. The Transit Co. operated all the street car lines of Fort Scott, and was owned by the Davenport (Ia.) Investment Co.

Citizens' Street RR. of Indianapolis.—Bonds Extended.—The company has extended its $700,000 second mortgage bonds due June 1, 1898, to June 1, 1900.—V. 66, p. 953.

City of Chicago Brewing & Malting.—No Interim Dividend.—Press dispatches report that the company will pay no interim dividend this year. The preferred shares have usually received their dividends in June and December, but there is no fixed dividend day. They have received 8 per cent yearly since 1890, except in 1895, when no distribution was made.

City Passenger Ry. of Baltimore.—To Fund Floating Debt.—The stockholders will vote on July 7 on a proposition to fund the obligations created by the recent purchase of the Central Ry. and the equipment of the Red and White lines for operation by electricity, and to provide means for raising whatever money may be needed for additional improvements. The "Baltimore Sun" says:

It is proposed to issue 4 per cent bonds, and the amount of the issue, it is thought, may be fixed at $2,000,000. There is another suggestion that the money needed be secured by increasing the capital stock of the company, but a similar proposition made some time ago was abandoned, and certificates of indebtedness issued. With $2,000,000 of bonds the cost of the acquisition of the Central Railway, which was $600,000, recent improvements, and the reconstruction of the company's power-house would be covered, and about $500,000 left for future improvements. It is the expectation of the management to make further extensions. One of these is to build further out the Hartford road. The company also has the right to build further out the Belair road, and it is believed that Belair will be the ultimate terminus of this division.—V. 66, p. 334.

Colorado Midland Ry.—Coupon Payment.—Coupons due July 1 on the first mortgage 50 year gold bonds and on the equipment bonds, series B, will be paid on that date at the Central Trust Company. Two per cent non obligatory interest on first mortgage bonds numbered 1 to 6,250, inclusive, will be paid at the same time and place in scrip convertible into preferred stock voting trust certificates. The facts regarding the interest rights of the $6,250,000 bonds will be found clearly stated in the CHRONICLE of April 30, page 856.—V. 64, p. 1044.

Dolgeville (N. Y.) Electric Light & Power Co.—Receiver.—Judge Scripture on June 25 placed the company in the hands of James D. Feeter, of Little Falls, as receiver. The company is indebted to its employes in the sum of $1,500, and has liabilities, including outstanding bonds, amounting to over $100,000. The assets consist mainly of the dam and power plant, not yet fully completed.

Duluth Superior & Western—Eastern Ry. of Minnesota—Great Northern Ry.—Purchase of Duluth Superior & Western.—The Eastern Ry. of Minnesota has acquired the old Duluth & Winnipeg road, which was recently reorganized as the Duluth Superior & Western. The road, which is about 100 miles in length, will be used to form part of the extension of the Great Northern's main line to be completed this fall between Foston and Duluth. The Eastern Ry. of Minn. will issue $5,000,000 of its new 4 per cent bonds, which will be a first lien on the entire extension of 230 miles from Foston to Duluth.—V. 64, p. 134; V. 66, p. 1237.

Electrolytic Marine Salts Co.—Dividend—Gold from Sea Water.—Mr. J. G. Martin, of Boston, in his monthly dividend list for July, says:

"The Electrolytic Marine Salts Co. will pay 3 per cent on the $500,000 capital issued. This is the company which produces gold and silver from the ocean. It started Feb. 4, with five machines, increased to 114 March 15, and to 239 May 8, the full capacity of plant No. 1, which "manipulated" 5,000,000 tons of water during the period named. The second plant of 5,000 machines is being constructed. The product for the four months was 940 ounces of gold and 1,814 ounces of silver (about $20,000), at a cost of less than $5,000. At present the product is about $2,000 per week, and the 'mine' being on the 'mother lode' there is no danger of losing the vein."

Erie Telegraph & Telephone Co.—$200,000 Stock Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed an additional $200,000 of stock, sold to defray the cost of extensions and additions to the company's property. The total amount now listed and outstanding is $5,000,000.—V. 66, p. 951.

Fulton Chain RR.—Not Leased.—The statement that the N. Y. C. & H. R. has leased the Fulton Chain RR. is officially denied.—V. 66, p. 1237.

General Electric Company.—Directors Recommend a Reduction in Share Capital.—The directors, at a meeting yesterday, voted to recommend to the stockholders a reduction in the share capital of the company, both common and preferred, of 40 per cent, so that each holder of 100 shares of present stock will get 60 shares of the new stock. "This settlement, while satisfactory to the common stockholders, is regarded as particularly favorable to the preferred shareholders, inasmuch as it will render unnecessary the taking of any steps for the liquidation of the company, in which event the preferred stockholders would receive only the same amount as the common stockholders, and no back dividends. The plan now adopted contemplates the payment, from the surplus earnings of the company as they are hereafter made, of the accrued dividends on the preferred stock. On the basis of the new capitalization $1,275,000 will be required annually to pay 7 per cent upon the preferred stock and 6 per cent upon the common stock."—V. 66, p. 1188.

Gulf & Inter-State.—Issue Approved.—The Texas Railroad Commission has authorized the company to issue the proposed $71,000 of stock and $379,000 of bonds in lieu of $450,000 of the old stock.—V. 66, p. 1189.

Illinois Central RR.—Bonds Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $4,031,000 3 per cent and $6,321,000 3½ per cent St. Louis Division & Terminal gold bonds and $11,320,000 Louisville Division & Terminal mortgage 3½ per cent gold bonds.—(V. 66, p. 1237.)

Indiana & Lake Michigan RR.—Ordered Sold.—A foreclosure decree has been entered against this property by Judge Woods at Indianapolis.—V. 66, p. 331.

Kansas City (Mo.) Gas Co.—$2,225,000 Bonds Offered.—J. & W. Seligman & Co., in conjunction with the First National Bank of Philadelphia, offered this week, at 101 and accrued interest, $2,225,000 of the 5 per cent first mortgage sinking fund twenty-five year gold bonds of 1897, being part of a total authorized issue of $5,000,000, of which $1,525,000 had already been sold while $1,250,000 will remain in the hands of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York for future extensions. This company, which "is the only gas company supplying gas in Kansas City, Mo., and the only company authorized to do so," and its bonds now offered, were quite fully described in the CHRONICLE of Aug. 14, 1897, page 277.

Additional facts now published follow:

The principal and interest are payable in United States gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness. Coupon bonds, with privilege of registration as to principal. Mortgage Trustees, Guaranty Trust Co. of New York and Julius S. Walsh of St. Louis, Mo. The sinking fund is $75,000 per annum for ten years from Jan 1st, 1898, and $25,000 per annum thereafter until the maturity of the bonds. On July 1st, 1907, sinking fund will amount to, if invested on a 4½ per cent basis, $921,000, and in 1922, on the same basis of return, to $2,180,000. The sinking fund is to be invested by the Trust Company in these bonds by purchase at not above 105 and interest, or with the Gas Company's approval, in these bonds at a higher price; if not so invested, then in other securities selected by the Trust Company and approved by the Gas Company.

The company reports for the year ending April 30, 1898, net earnings, $302,655; annual interest charges, $187,500; balance, surplus, $115,155.—V. 65, p. 1024.

Kansas City Stock Yards.—Incorporated Under Missouri Laws.—President Charles Francis Adams announces the proposed re-incorporation of his company under the laws of Missouri (but without change in the capitalization) in the following circular to stockholders:

Owing to extensive purchases of real estate in Missouri, in order to accommodate a rapidly developing business, the Kansas City Stock Yards Co. has deemed it advisable on June 27 to surrender the letters of incorporation in the State of Kansas and to take out new letters of incorporation in the State of Missouri. So far as the stockholders are concerned, this transfer of domicile is merely formal, and involves no new purchases of real estate or other investments, and no change in capital, or in either the volume of stock issued or its value. Stockholders will surrender their present certificates of stock and receive new certificates of stock in the Kansas City Stock Yards Co. of Missouri, of equal amount, through the medium of the Old Colony Trust Co. of Boston. The next dividend will be declared at the usual time by the Kansas City Stock Yards Co. of Missouri, and will be payable only to the holders of certificates of that company received in exchange for those of the existing company.

The capital stock is $7,500,000, and for some time, it is stated, has been paying regular dividends of 6 per cent per annum, with occasional extra dividends of 1 and 2 per cent. No bonds, it is understood, are outstanding, and no floating debt. The Quarantine Stock Yards Co. has been organized with $300,000 capital, all of which is owned by the Kansas City Stock Yards Co., to operate the property on the Kansas side of the river, which will be used exclusively as a quarantine yard. Within a year the Kansas City Stock Yards Co. is reported to have purchased over $1,000,000 worth of real estate in Missouri for the purpose of extending its yards.

Long Island RR.—$1,121,000 First Consolidated Mortgage 5s Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $1,121,000 first consolidated mortgage gold bonds, interest reduced to 4 per cent. All of these bonds have printed across the face the following:

By agreement with the holder of this bond, the rate of interest upon it is reduced to 4 per cent per annum from the first day of May, 1898, payable quarterly thereafter at that rate in gold coin, according to the new coupons hereto annexed.

These bonds were issued to retire $1,121,000 of first mortgage bonds which matured May 1, 1898.—V. 66, p. 1189.

Maine Central RR.—Refunding of Maturing 7 Per Cents.—The $756,800 of 7 per cent bonds falling due July 1 proximo, together with their coupons then due, will be paid on presentation at the office of Vermilye & Co., Brazer Building, Boston, Mass. The firm named has purchased the $626,500 consolidated 4 per cent bonds, due April, 1912, issued to refund the maturing loan, and offers to holders of the 7s the right to exchange their bonds at par and interest to maturity for the new 4s at 105½ and interest.—V. 66, p. 616.

Manhattan Ry.—Rapid Transit in New York City.—The Rapid Transit Commission has declined to recede from its demand of a 5 per cent rental in return for the West Street franchise. President Gould, before sailing this week for Europe, said that when the Extension Committee adjourned on Tuesday it left the entire matter in the hands of the company's lawyers, Judge Dillon and Mr. Gardner, and that if any action becomes necessary during the summer they will attend to it.—V. 66, p. 1189.

Milwaukee & Chicago Breweries Limited.—No Interim Dividend.—Press dispatches state that no interim dividend will be paid this year. The preference dividend is usually paid in June and December, but there is no fixed dividend day. In 1897 the preferred shares received 12 per cent and in 1896 8 per cent, but in 1895 nothing. From 1891 to 1893, both inclusive, the average rate was 8 per cent yearly.

Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis Ry.—$300,000 First Consol. 5s Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $300,000 additional first consolidated mortgage 5s, issued on account of the Middle Tennessee & Alabama Railway, which was purchased in October, 1897, and extends from Fayetteville, Lincoln County, Tenn., to near Madison Cross Roads, Madison County, Ala., about 30 miles. The $300,000 make a total of $575,000 listed out of the $600,000 ($20,000 per mile) issuable on account of the new line. The total amount of the loan now on the list is $3,213,000.—V. 66, p. 617.

Nashville Gas Light.—Dividend and New Stock.—The Nashville American on June 23 said: "At a meeting yesterday a dividend of 3 per cent on the stock was declared, payable July 1, and it was recommended by the stockholders to the directors that dividends hereafter continue at the rate of 6 per cent per annum until such a time as the company is entirely out of debt. The suggestion of the directors, which was made at a recent meeting, providing that $60,000 worth of the stock be sold to stockholders at par, was adopted." This raises the capital stock, it is understood, to $1,000,000. The company, during a period of thirty years, is said never to have failed to pay dividends of 10 per cent per annum.—V. 66, p. 1089.

Nassau Electric RR.—Readjustment of Capitalization.—The financial plan for the readjustment of the capitalization of the Nassau Electric RR. and its subsidiary lines has been agreed upon. The combined property consists of the Nassau Electric RR., the Atlantic Avenue Railroad, the Brooklyn Bath & West End, the Kings County Traction and the Coney Island & Gravesend. There will be $15,000,000 of stock, of which $6,500,000 will be 4 per cent preferred and $15,000,000 of fifty-year 4 per cent gold bonds. Of the latter $1,500,000 will be reserved for future requirements. The balance of the bonds to the extent of $11,000,000 will be used to take up underlying liens for a like amount. The basis of exchange for Nassau 5s will be bond for bond, with a bonus of 20 per cent in preferred stock. Holders of the Atlantic Avenue RR. first and consolidated 5 per cent mortgage bonds will receive new 4 per cents and a 25 per cent bonus in preferred stock.

Practically all the stock of the Nassau Electric and Kings County Traction have assented to the plan and about $6,500,000 of the underlying bonds have already been deposited with the Guaranty Trust Co. for the proposed exchange. The floating debt of $1,500,000 will be paid off.—V. 66, p. 954.

New Central Coal.—New Stock Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the $1,000,000 capital stock of the par value of $20 per share, replacing the old stock of $5,000,000 in shares of $100 each.—V. 66, p. 1140.

New England Telephone & Telegraph.—Increase of Stock.—The stockholders will vote July 6 on a proposition to increase the capital stock from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. President Sherwin is quoted as saying: "No plan has yet been considered for issuing any part of the new stock in the immediate future. The increase is recommended in anticipation of the needs of the company from year to year for extension of the property and business, and with a view of taking up the 6 per cent bonds, which will mature within the next three years at the rate of about $5,000,000 a year."—V. 66, p. 951.

New Orleans Traction.—Proposed Plan.—The Reorganization Committee has outlined a plan which proposes that the stock shall raise the necessary cash to pay off the company's debt, provided the bondholders will accept 1 per cent reduction of interest for five years.—V. 66, p. 857.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Additional Collateral Bonds Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed additional Michigan Central 3½ per cent collateral bonds amounting to $6,928,000, making the amount now listed $11,928,000; also additional Lake Shore 3½ per cent collateral bonds amounting to $7,641,000, increasing the amount listed to $80,537,000.—V. 66, p. 1233, 1237, 1238.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—New England RR.—New England Road Taken Over.—At midnight June 30 the New England RR. was taken possession of by the New Haven road and became a part of its eastern division.

Position as to Dividends.—Regarding the transfer of the New England road to his company, President C. P. Clark said:

"I never expect to see a complete unification of the New Haven and New England system as far as stock ownership goes. Some people will think that the New Haven is especially desirous of securing all the New England stock and will hold off. I expect we will get in about 95 per cent. We already have control. New Haven stock will be exchanged for New England during 10 days of July on the basis already announced. In so far as the directors can look into the future, no change in the road's dividends would seem probable. The increased dividends call for but $300,000 per year, and the burden at the worst will be less than the saving later on through the refunding of the New England bonds.—V. 66, p. 1238, 1189.

New York & Queens County RR.—Mortgage Filed.—The New York & North Shore RR. has made a mortgage to the New York Security & Trust Co., as trustee, to secure 1,500 thirty-year gold bonds of $1,000 each. The New York & North Shore RR. was organized in March, 1897 by the managers of the New York & Queens County RR., which owns the trolley system in Long Island City, to build an extension of their line from Calvary Cemetery to Flushing, Whitestone, Bayside and Manhasset. The corporation claims to have the necessary franchises, and to need only a permit from the State Railroad Commissioners to begin construction.—V. 64, p. 567; V. 66, p. 574.

Nicaragua Canal—Maritime Canal Co.—Bill Reported in Senate.—At Washington, on June 20, Senator Morgan, as Chairman of the select committee on the Nicaragua Canal, reported to the Senate a substitute for his bill amending the act of 1889 incorporating the Maritime Canal Co. of Nicaragua. The substitute bill provides for the cancellation of all the outstanding stock, except that held by the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, and for an issue of 11,000,000 new shares, of a par value of $100. Of this new stock, $70,000,000, it is provided, shall be turned over to the Government, and in return the Government is to issue and guarantee the principal and interest on 3 per cent bonds to an amount not exceeding $100,000,000. The Government is to be secured by a first lien on all the property. The bill was introduced in the House on June 23.

Other features of the bill are published as follows:

Of the guaranteed bonds, $4,500,000 are to be used to liquidate the existing cash liabilities, contract obligations for the cancellation of stock and bonds outstanding, and for the reimbursement of the company for expenditures already incurred. The canal is to be constructed under the supervision of United States Army engineers, and the bonds are to be issued by the Treasury Department, and at not less than par, in payment for the work only as it progresses. The cost is limited to $115,000,000, and the work is to be completed within six years.

Provision is made for the appointment of directors by the President of the United States, and for the creation of a sinking fund to cancel eventually the liability of the Government. The neutrality of the canal is guaranteed to all nations, with the exception that the right is reserved to protect it against all interruptions and at all times as a necessary connection between the Eastern and Western coasts of the United States.

According to the sworn statement of President Hitchcock, the expenditures of the canal company since undertaking the enterprise up to June 4 were: For preliminary expenditures incident to procurement of concessions, $280,000; for surveys, plant, construction, navigation rights and lands, $4,287,736; for administration and care of property, $268,692; cash obligations, estimated, $300,000; total, $5,136,428. The bond and stock obligations were: Bond obligations for work done, $8,855,000, less bonds taken in liquidation, $518,000; net bond obligations, $6,336,500. Stock sold, $1,014,500; stock paid for concessions, $12,000,000; stock issued to Nicaragua, $6,000,000; stock to be issued to Costa Rica, $1,500,000; stock paid for work, $2,957,000; total stock obligations, $23,471,500.—V. 66, p. 27.

Ohio River & Charleston.—Sale Ordered.—Judge Simonton, of the United States Circuit Court, at Charlotte, N. C., has ordered the sale of this property under foreclosure of the mortgage of 1897, of which the Finance Co. of Pennsylvania is trustee. The sale will take place at Marion, N. C., at a date not named. It was recently reported that the South Carolina & Georgia would acquire and extend the line.—V. 66, p. 901.

Pacific Coast Co.—Securities Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $4,446,000 of the company's first mortgage 5 per cent bonds; also $2,515,500 first preferred stock, $3,914,400 second preferred stock and $6,809,600 common stock. As to its preferred shares, the company says:

Under said plan the first preferred stock is to have a first preference as to dividends to the amount of 5 per cent per annum, which shall not be cumulative; that is to say the preferred stock in any year shall be paid 5 per cent in dividends before any dividend is paid upon second preferred or common stock. The second preferred stock is to have a second preference as to dividends to the amount of 4 per cent per annum, which shall not be cumulative: that is to say the second preferred stock in any year shall be paid 4 per cent in dividends before any dividend is paid upon the common stock. After payment of 5 per cent upon the first preferred stock and 4 per cent upon the second preferred stock in any year, the common stock is next to be entitled to 4 per cent in dividends, and if in any year dividends in excess of 5 per cent upon the first preferred stock and 4 per cent upon the second preferred stock and 4 per cent upon the common stock be paid, both the last two classes of stock, to wit, second preferred and common are to share ratably therein; each share of stock receiving the same part thereof as any other share, without regard to whether it be second preferred or common.

Regarding the bonds the company adds:

The bonds covered by this application are part of an issue of bonds for the principal sum in the aggregate of $5,000,000, to wit: 5,000 bonds of $1,000 each, payable in New York City, in gold coin of the United States of the present standard, June 1, 1946, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable also in New York City, semi annually, in like gold coin, on the first days of June and December in each year; all dated the first day of December, A. D. 1897. The remainder of said issue of bonds to wit: $554,000, are by the terms of said mortgage to be delivered to the company upon its demand from time to time at no greater rate than at the rate of $100,000, par value, of bonds per annum, and then only upon purchase or acquisition of steamships or other property required by the company, of a value equal to the par value of the bonds so issued, which property shall become subject to the lien of said mortgage. The mortgage securing these bonds is dated Dec. 1, 1897, is made to the Manhattan Trust Co., as trustee and covers all the property, rights and franchises of the Pacific Coast Co., whether the same be now or hereafter acquired, including all the corporate stocks, bonds and other property hereinbefore mentioned.

Under the annual reports are given the statements, earnings, etc., furnished to the Exchange.—V. 66, p 1238.

Philadelphia (Natural) Gas Co. of Pittsburg.—Proposition to Extend Option till January 1, 1899.—President George Westinghouse has issued the following circular to the stockholders:

"At a meeting held to-day, stockholders were present representing substantially one-half of the shares for which I hold options, and after a full discussion, in view of the interruption to all important financial negotiations by reason of the war, it was unanimously resolved that Mr. Westinghouse be requested to ask the stockholders to extend the option which he now has until January 1, 1899."

"I therefore return herewith your option, expiring July 1, with the request that you execute and return the new option, which is also enclosed, at your earliest convenience."—V. 66, p. 952.

Philadelphia & West Chester Traction Co.—New Mortgage.—The stockholders will vote Aug. 23 on a proposition to make a new mortgage for $400,000 to retire outstanding indebtedness and for other purposes. On June 30, 1897, the company had $63,458 of loans payable outstanding.—V. 60, p. 837, Pullman's Palace Car.—Advance in Stock.—The stock of this company has advanced in price about 25 points within the past three weeks. No official announcement has been made to explain the advance, but the general expectation is that a distribution of treasury assets to the stockholders is about to be made. The company owns besides its manufacturing business a large amount of property, including real estate, which it has been thought might well be vested in a separate corporation. The formation of such a corporation and the distribution of all or a part of its stock to the Pullman shareholders to represent surplus earnings diverted to additions and improvements has often been talked of in the past and may perhaps be now impending. The company's capital stock is $36,000,000, and its income account surplus on July 1, 1897, stood at $25,247,648.—V. 66, p. 1141.

Sandusky (O.) Street Railway.—Foreclosure Sale July 9.—The sale of the property is advertised for July 9 under the foreclosure of the mortgage, of which Rollin B. Hubbard and Jay O. Moss are trustees.—V. 64, p. 235.

Southern Indiana Ry. Co.—Evansville & Terre Haute RR.—$1,500,000 New Bonds.—The Southern Indiana Ry. Co. has made an issue of first mortgage gold bonds for $1,500,000, of which $1,000 000 are now outstanding. The bonds are dated June 1, 1898, bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent, payable in June and December, and mature June 1, 1938. The bond certificates, amounting to $4 0,000, have been taken up. The Southern Indiana Ry. owns from Elnora, Ind., to Westport, 103 miles, and is a reorganization of the Evansville & Richmond RR. sold in foreclosure March, 1897. Its capital stock, $1,500 000, is all owned by the Evansville & Terre Haute RR. Co.—V. 65, p. 1173.

Southern Railway.—Knoxville Cumberland Gap & Louisville Ry. Acquired by Deed.—The Southern Railway Co. has acquired by deed the property and franchises of the Knoxville Cumberland Gap & Louisville Railway Co., extending from Knoxville, Tenn., to Cumberland Gap, Tenn. (about 63 miles), with trackage rights over about five miles of the line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad between Cumberland Gap and Middlesboro, Ky.

The Southern purchased all of the stock and bonds of the Knoxville Cumberland Gap & Louisville Railway Co. in 1896 (see Southern Railway Co. annual report for 1896, page 9). The result of the present conveyance, therefore, is simply to merge the property and franchises into those of the Southern Railway Co., which heretofore has controlled the Knoxville Cumberland Gap and Louisville property through the ownership of all that company's securities.

Virginia Midland Ry.—Acquired by Deed.—The Southern Railway Co. on June 21, 1898, acquired by deed the property and franchises of the Virginia Midland Railway Co. The Southern owned substantially all of the capital stock of the Virginia Midland and has heretofore operated the property under a lease.

The lines of railway thus conveyed to the Southern Railway Co. comprise about 366 miles of road within the State of Virginia, of which about 231 miles (from Alexandria to Danville) is a portion of the Southern's main line between Washington and Atlanta, and the remainder consists of branch lines in Virginia connecting with said main line.

The road is taken subject, of course, to the existing mortgages thereon, but by virtue of the purchase the consolidated mortgage of the Southern Railway Co. becomes a direct lien upon the property, whereas it has heretofore been a lien only on the Virginia Midland stock and upon the Southern Railway Company's leasehold interest in the property.—V. 66, p. 1238.

Southwestern Arkansas & Indian Territory RR.—Sale Ordered.—This property has been ordered to be sold under foreclosure, the upset price to be $115,000. The road extends from Smithton to Pike City, Ark., 34 miles.—V. 65, p. 879.

Spokane Falls & Northern Ry.—Northern Pacific RR.—Great Northern Ry.—Joint Purchase.—The additional fact has been learned officially that the purchase of the Spokane Falls & Northern was made in the interest of the Great Northern as well as the Northern Pacific.—V. 66, p. 1238, 1237.

Spring Valley Water Works Co. of San Francisco.—$4,000,000 New Bonds Proposed.—The stockholders will vote at the company's office, 126 Stockton Street, San Francisco, on Aug. 4, upon a proposition to increase the bonded indebtedness to $13 975,000 through an issue of $4,000,000 of 4 per cent gold bonds. The new bonds will be dated Sept. 1, 1898, and mature Sept. 1, 1905, with interest in the meantime quarterly. They are to be secured by mortgage upon all the property now owned or hereafter acquired, and are to be used "for the purpose of paying the debts of the corporation and maintaining and extending its properties and system of works, and for no other purpose."

Standard Distilling & Distributing Co.—Organized.—This company was incorporated on Monday, as planned, under the laws of New Jersey, and has elected the following directors and officers:

The company began active business July 1.—V. 66, p. 1190.

Staten Island Rapid Transit.—Default.—Deposits Requested.—Interest due July 1st on the second mortgage bonds has not been made and legal proceedings are being taken for the protection of the bonds and for the appointment of a receiver. Hallgarten & Co. accordingly have consented to accept deposits of the second mortgage bonds guaranteed by the Baltimore & Ohio RR. Co. under the mortgage of Nov. 21, 1885, and to act for the bondholders in devising and promoting a reorganization of the property covered by the mortgage and preserving the bondholders' interests. The bondholders' agreement has been prepared and may be obtained either from the firm or from the Central Trust Co. A plan of reorganization will be formulated and submitted to the bondholders as soon as can be done with due regard to their interests.

New Mortgage Trustee.—Charles E. Lewis has been appointed trustee under the second mortgage of Nov. 21, 1885, in the place of Charles Wehrhane, resigned.—V. 66, p. 955.

Tennessee Central RR.—Mortgage for $5 000,000.—The company has filed a mortgage to secure $5,000,000 of 5 per cent fifty-year gold bonds to the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. of St. Louis as trustee. Jere Baxter is President and W. E. Eastman Secretary of the railroad company. President Baxter is quoted as saying that the work is progressing well on the East Tennessee end of the line. The road is projected to run from near Kingston on the west bank of the Clinch River, via Knoxville and Nashville, to Clarksville, a distance of about 250 miles. In 1897 the line was about completed from Lebanon to Standing Stone, about 27 miles.—V. 66, p. 83.

United States Mortgage & Trust Co.—Bonds Called.—The entire issue of $1,000,000 first mortgage 5 per cent trust gold bonds, Series "A," will be paid at par on August 1, 1898.—V. 66, p. 1239.

Westinghouse Air Brake.—Purchase of Boyden Patents.—The stockholders of the Boyden Air Brake Co., at Baltimore, on June 24, voted unanimously to sell the Boyden patents to the Westinghouse Company for the sum of $900,000 This sale will end the contest which has been carried on by the two companies in the courts for nearly nine years.

An official of the Westinghouse Co. is quoted as saying:

In the recent litigation between the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. and the Boyden Brake Co., the Supreme Court decided that the Boyden patents were valid and covered a form of quick-action brake entirely different from those of the Westinghouse patents. After the decision was rendered, the Boyden people approached us with a view of selling its business and patents upon a basis which was considered very advantageous to the Westinghouse people. The final details of the matter are now being arranged.

Boyden brakes and Westinghouse brakes in one train, connected by the same air-pipe, it is said, will operate in perfect unison

Foreign Contract.—Negotiations, it is understood, have been completed between the Manchurian Railway in Russia and the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. of Pittsburg and the Westinghouse Brake Co., limited, of London, England, under which, reports say, the Manchurian Railway will purchase between $2,000,000 and $1,000,000 worth of Westinghouse air brakes. This contract, it is thought, may result in the establishment of Westinghouse shops in Russia.—V. 66, p. 955.

West Virginia Central & Pittsburg Ry. Co.—Additional Bonds Listed—The company has built and has in operation, including branches, and excluding sidings, 122·8 miles of road, from a junction with the Piedmont & Cumberland road at Piedmont, in Mineral County, West Virginia, to the town of Belington, in Barbour County, West Virginia. By the terms of its first mortgage this company is authorized to issue $1,000,000 of bonds on the first 25 miles of road built, and after that to issue bonds at the rate of $25,0 0 per mile for each mile of road completed. In conformity with this provision the directors on Jan. 25, 1898, authorized the issue of $250 000 additional bonds. Of these bonds the New York Stock Exchange has listed the $100,000 already sold, making total amount listed $3.100,000, inclusive. The trustees under the mortgage are now William Pinkney Whyte and the Metropolitan Trust Co. of New York. The proceeds of all the $250,000 bonds are to be used in the liquidation of indebtedness incurred for shops, equipment permanent improvements, &c.—(V. 65, p. 566.)

Wilmington Columbia & Augusta RR.—Northeastern RR.—Florence RR.—Manchester & Augusta RR.—Cheraw & Darlington RR.—Atlantic Coast Line RR. of South Carolina.—To Vote on Consolidation.—The stockholders of each of the six companies first named will vote during the third week of July on a proposition to consolidate their properties under the title of the Atlantic Coast Line RR. Co. of South Carolina, a company incorporated for that purpose early in 1897—see V. 64, p. 663, 887. The consolidated company will own and operate about 660 miles of road, and will issue a 4½-per-cent mortgage, and preferred and common stock. The details as to the new securities, it is stated, will not be completed until the meeting of stockholders of the several roads is held, when this part of the undertaking will be more fully matured and adopted.

The Wilmington Columbia & Augusta road is operated under a ninety nine-year lease by the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company, and to enable the W. C. & A. to become part of the new corporation the option to convert its stock, it is stated, will be given to existing stockholders by one of the three following methods: The new company will pay $130 in cash for each share; or $120 in 5 per cent certificates of indebtedness of the Atlantic Coast Line for each share, or by conversion of the present stock into the securities of the new company.—V. 64, p. 887; V. 66, p. 233.

Wisconsin Central.—Joint Improvement Bonds.—Central Car Co.—The receivers have filed a schednle of the property of the Central Car Co. in their possession. The schedule shows a total of 88 locomotives, 31 passenger coaches, 30 baggage coaches, 5 chair and 4 dining cars, 2,444 freight box cars, 392 flat cars, 1,166 other cars and 13 cabooses which belong to the car company. The receivers have collected $14,847 insurance for equipment destroyed, and have expended $10,081 for improvements. The number of cars totally destroyed is 224. The greater part of the stock of the Central Car Co. is pledged to secure the Wisconsin Central joint improvement bonds and forms their principal asset.—V. 66, p. 1143.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, July 1, 1898.

The past week has been one without features of special interest so far as the general business situation has been concerned. In a few lines trade has been spoken of as above an average for the time of year, particularly in the interior; but the general report has been of quiet markets, as merchants as a rule have been busily engaged in taking account of stock, and furthermore there has been a disposition shown to wait until after the holiday season before making new ventures. A large demand has been experienced for revenue stamps, inasmuch as the law necessitating their use became operative to-day. The progress of the American army in Cuba has received widespread attention, and reports were received to-day stating that an important engagement had been begun. Advices from Paris say it has been decided to restore the full import duty on wheat July first. Saturday, July 2, will be generally observed as a holiday in trade circles, as with few exceptions the financial and commercial Exchanges adjourned business from Friday night until Tuesday morning.

Lard on the spot has had only a limited sale, as the demand from both refiners and exporters has been slow; offerings have been fairly free, and prices have declined, closing quiet at 5 60c. for prime Western, 4·80c. for prime City and 5·95c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been quiet, and as packers have offered supplies with some freedom, prompted by a full run of swine, prices have declined.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been dull and prices have again weakened. Owing to the continued absence of demand for actual cotton, longs in the near-by deliveries have grown tired of carrying their holdings and have shown a disposition to liquidate their accounts. The new-crop deliveries have been influenced by the continued favorable conditions for the growing crop. The selling, however, has been done principally by foreigners, and it is generally believed by the local trade that it has been against their actual holdings. Neither regular nor outside local operators have shown a disposition to make new ventures in the market, as they have been unable to see anything in the situation to warrant buying for investment account; still, as the crop has two critical months to pass through before it is assured, they have been as reluctant to sell the market at the comparatively low prices now ruling inasmuch as with a period of unfavorable weather conditions the market would take on a wholly different aspect from the one now noted. To-day there was a quiet and easier market prices declining 4@8 points under weaker foreign advices, accompanied by selling orders, liquidation by longs and continued favorable crop prospects. The close was reported barely steady. Cotton on the spot has been quiet and prices were lowered 1-16c. on Thursday and 1-16c. to-day, closing easy at 6¼c. for middling uplands.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 17, 1897, by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows.

MANCHESTER MARKET.—Our report received by cable to-night from Manchester states that the market is quiet for both yarns and shirtings. The demand for both India and China is improving. We give the prices for to-day below and leave those for previous weeks of this and last year for comparison.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—It is highly probable that over half the cotton mills located in Fall River will be idle next week. Altogether about 600,000 spindles and 15,000 looms are represented. In the Howland and Rotch mills, New Bedford, notices of reductions in wages were posted on June 15, and similar action has now been taken by the New Bedford Spinning Co., the cut-down to go into effect July 4.

EGYPTIAN CROP.—Mr. Fr. Jac. Andres, of Boston, has furnished us the report of the Alexandria General Produce Association for the month of May as follows:

The temperature has been favorable, especially during the latter part of the month. From some districts reports come of the crop being rather backward, but in general the cotton plants are in a normal condition and progressing favorably. In fact their condition, taken altogether, is almost the same as this time last year. Worms in small quantities have made their appearance in several localities, but have been disturbed, owing to great heat, and occasioned no damage up to the present. Water is far from being plentiful, but, thanks to the system of rotation, irrigation has been carried on regularly. In Upper Egypt and Fayoum the reports as to the state of the plants are satisfactory, although somewhat late. Water is distributed here rather more easily than in Lower Egypt.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending June 27:

VIRGINIA.—Dry and generally cool; weather favorable for farm work which was vigorously prosecuted; growth of cotton retarded.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Except cool nights first half, which checked growth of cotton, week was favorable, being dry and sunny, enabling farmers to clean and cultivate thoroughly; cotton still late forming squares slowly, only blooming along southern tier of counties; damage by lice considerable.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Favorable week, with marked improvement in all crops; cotton healthy, much of it small for the season, but growing and putting on squares satisfactorily, some fields becoming grassy.

GEORGIA.—Good rains over most of State first of week, followed by occasional showers and plenty of sunshine, have improved all crops. Cotton making good growth and taking on fruit and bloom.

FLORIDA.—Favorable week over Western District, where cotton improved; conditions vary over other sections, where rainfall was badly distributed; cotton continues to improve.

ALABAMA.—Frequent and well-distributed showers; cotton growing nicely, squares and blooms becoming general, and early-planted beginning to fruit.

MISSISSIPPI.—Cotton growing rapidly and blooms becoming more general, but some complaint of too much rain locally, causing too rapid growth to fruit well.

LOUISIANA.—Warm, showery week favorable for crop growth; cotton growing almost too rapidly to fruit well, blooms general, some grassy.

TEXAS.—Week of favorable weather for cleaning crops of weeds and grass; cotton improving rapidly, is in good state of cultivation, except in few localities, and crop promising.

ARKANSAS.—Cotton growing rapidly and is in promising condition, though along the upper Arkansas River much overflowed land will be abandoned; rains have been so frequent as to prevent proper working of crops.

TENNESSEE.—Good rains over greater portion of State, followed by warm sunshine, greatly improved condition of crops; heavy, damaging local rains in middle section; cotton generally well cultivated and fruiting, but some fields in western section are foul, owing to excess of rain.

OKLAHOMA.—Earliest cotton is forming squares and a few blooms are showing.

MISSOURI.—Cotton excellent.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Except in the Carolinas, cotton has grown rapidly throughout the cotton belt, and in portions of the central section its growth has been somewhat too rapid. The crop is generally well cultivated except in limited areas in Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee and South Carolina, where some fields are grassy. Complaints of lice are also received from the Carolinas.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &C.—There has been a fairly good demand for bagging during the week under review and prices have been well maintained. The close to-night is at 5¼c. for 1¾ lbs., 5⅝c. for 2 lbs. and 5⅞c. for standard grades. The market for jute butts continues dull. Quotations are nominally 80c. for paper quality and 1⅛c. for mixing.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, July 1, 1898.

The demand for wheat flour has shown something of an improvement from that experienced during the preceding fortnight. With the more settled and steadier tone to wheat values, particularly during the latter part of the week, buyers showed rather more interest. Their purchases, however, have been principally of small lots, as naturally at this season of the year the trade is not disposed to invest freely; prices have held to a steady basis. Rye flour has had a limited sale and has brought steady values. Corn meal has sold slowly and prices have weakened slightly in sympathy with the decline in the grain.

Speculation in the market for wheat contracts has been quiet and the course of prices has been somewhat irregular. Early in the week the tendency was downward, as there continued some pressure to sell by longs to liquidate their accounts; foreign advices reported dull and easier markets and the weather conditions at the West were reported more favorable for the harvesting of the winter-wheat crop. At the lower prices, however, exporters were good buyers. Wednesday the market took a decided turn for the better, prices advancing 2@2½c. Disappointing returns from the harvest fields as to the yield of the winter-wheat crop, owing to the unfavorable weather conditions latterly experienced, together with a revival of the demand from exporters, had a tendency to restore confidence in the situation, and prices scored the advance above noted. Thursday prices advanced early in the day, but at the higher prices selling by recent buyers to realize profits turned the market easier and the improvement was lost. To day there was a moderately active and higher market on buying for investment account, stimulated by an favorable crop accounts and steadier foreign advices, closing at an advance of 2@3½c. for the day. The spot market was firmer but quiet. The sales for export here and at outports were 58,000 bushels.

There has been a moderate speculation in the market for Indian corn futures, but it has been at the expense of prices, particularly during the first half of the week, under liquidation by longs, especially in the near-by deliveries Weather conditions have been more favorable, although complaints of too much moisture are still heard Subsequently, however, sympathy with the stronger turn to wheat values and a demand from shorts to cover contracts advanced prices; but on Thursday renewed selling by longs again turned the market easier. To day the market was firm on crop reports. The spot market was fairly active. The sales for export here and at outports were 230,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been dull but prices have declined sharply, following the Western market, where the country trades have been reported as free sellers, and has induced selling by longs to liquidate accounts. Sympathy with the easier market for other grains early in the week also had a weakening influence, as did the continued slowness of the cash trade. To day the market was dull but steady. The spot market was firm but quiet, closing at 26¼c. for No. 2 mixed in elevator and No. 2 white at 28c. in elevator.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., July 1, 1898.

Compared with recent weeks (during which revised prices were made on bleached goods and the price basis established for fall prints and Clay worsteds was reduced) the week just closing has been dull and uneventful. The demand has kept up fairly well and in view of the usually prevalent dulness at this time of the year results can be regarded as satisfactory. With the close of the first half of the year attention is being directed more pointedly to the conditions and promises of the second half. These have been referred to in recent reports as of highly encouraging character and must be regarded as still continuing so. From all parts of the country the trade advices are most hopeful. There has been a large distribution of merchandise during the last six months, despite disturbing elements, and stocks in second hands are admittedly of indifferent proportions. A much larger distribution during the next six months is counted as assured and to meet it a sustained heavy drain upon the primary market will be necessary. In that market there are now a number of "bare spots" which impart an undertone of strength to it and prepare the way for a return to a higher general average of prices later on.

WOOLEN GOODS.—More progress has been made in selling men's wear heavy weight woolens and worsteds during the past week than for a number of weeks past The reorders have come to hand in increased numbers, and it is evident that the wholesale clothiers and jobbers are now feeling the results of the heavy cancellations they indulged in earlier in the year. In some instances sellers are meeting the demand as freely as before, but in others the stocks on hand have been so much reduced that holders are showing a firmer attitude and the general tone of the market is better. The new season for spring weights will open to some extent next week. It can hardly be called open at all as yet, although some business, in serges chiefly, has been done, and prices have yet to be determined. Satinets and cotton warp cassimeres are quiet and doeskin jeans in moderate demand. Overcoatings in limited request outside of Kerseys, which are selling fairly well. Cloakings quiet and unchanged. Flannels and blankets quiet but firm. Business in dress goods is still disappointing although improving somewhat.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 27 were 1,665 packages, valued at $97,720, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $5,905,648 in 1898 against $5,837,208 in 1897.

The demand for bleached cottons has fallen somewhat short of previous proportions, but still sales have reached a fair total. Stocks are in improved condition and prices rule steady. The brown goods market continues firm for all leading brands of heavy-weights and generally steady for light-weights. The demand from jobbers and converters has been moderate and export buying on an indifferent scale only. The cotton duck market is still heavily over-sold and strong. Business in denims has run in light quantities without change in prices. Ticks dull, plaids in moderate request and other coarse colored cottons quiet at previous prices. The demand for wide sheetings is slow and prices are barely steady. Cotton flannels and blankets quiet but prices firm. Kid finished cambrics dull with an easy tendency. There has again been a good demand for dark fancy prints in all grades, and the sales since the season opened are larger than for a number of seasons past up to corresponding date. Light fancy work has sold at low prices to clean up. Staple lines of prints quiet without change in prices. Ginghams, both staples and dress styles, are without change. Print cloths close unchanged at 2c. for regulars, which have been in limited request. Odds sell fairly.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Some improvement is reported in the demand for foreign dress goods and silks in novelty lines, but staples continue quiet. Ribbons in better request. Laces quiet. Linens dull. Men's-wear woolens and worsteds quiet in both heavy-weights and new spring goods.

Camden, N. J.—Bond Litigation.—On June 27, 1898, argument was heard by Vice Chancellor Reed in the application for an injunction to prevent the city officials from delivering the $200,000 paving bonds, awarded last month, to Street, Wykes & Co., New York. The petitioners claim that the bonds were not sold at public sale, contending that selling bonds by sealed bids is in the nature of a private sale, and also that the city had exceeded its debt limitation as fixed by the city charter.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Library Bonds Valid.—The Supreme Court at Columbus has handed down a decision declaring valid the $250,000 5% library bonds. These bonds were awarded last September to E. C. Stanwood & Co., Boston, who, acting under the advice of Judge Dillon of New York, refused the bonds on the ground that the law under which they were issued was unconstitutional.

Genoa, N. Y.—Bond Litigation.—According to the Binghamton "Leader" the Oswego County Savings Bank has brought suit before Judge P. B. McLenna to recover interest on $75,000 bonds issued in 1872 by the town of Genoa in aid of the Ontario & Western Railroad, then known as the Midland Railway. The action is also brought to determine the validity of the bonds.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Bond Injunction Dissolved.—Temporary Injunction.—On June 24, 1898, Judge Ludwig dissolved the temporary injunction restraining the city officials from selling the $80,000 garbage bonds, bids for which were received until June 22, 1898. Another injunction was then served on the officials restraining them from issuing not only the $80,000 garbage bonds but also the $140,000 street-improvement bonds and $80,000 Broadway Bridge bonds, the issuance of which has been authorized. It is claimed that the city has exceeded its limit of indebtedness. The injunction will be argued before Judge Sutherland on July 9, 1898.

New Jersey.—An Act of 1895 Unconstitutional.—The New Jersey Supreme Court on June 14, 1898, declared unconstitutional the Act of 1895 under which Dover and Englewood were incorporated as cities.

The unconstitutional feature of the Act of 1895, it is stated, was the provision that cities incorporated under the Act should not be affected by subsequent legislation relating to cities, unless this legislation was stipulated to be also applicable to cities incorporated under the Act of 1895. The Court held that this established, for purposes of legislation or exemption from legislation, a class of cities from which were excluded other cities of similar population, conditions, needs, etc.

Reeds, Wabasha County, Minn.—Bond Litigation.—Suit has been brought in the United States Court at Winona by Russell Sage against the village of Reeds to recover on $16,400 bonds issued in 1877 in aid of the St. Paul & Chicago Railroad, and which the village refuses to pay.

Tacoma, Wash.—Warrant Litigation.—We take the following from the Tacoma "News" of June 18, 1898:

Suit has been brought for the payment of 139 more city warrants, aggregating about $10,000, issued October 31, November 1 and 7, 1892, and now held by the Citizens' State Bank of Iowa. The allegations of the complaint are of the same general character as those in the suits already commenced by the other warrant holders. D. F. Morry is made one of the defendants, as the warrants are all of the once-paid kind, which were declared illegal and void in the Morry suit.

Tucson, Ariz.—Litigation.—Suit has been begun in the District Court to test the legality of the election held May 5, 1898, at which $1 0.000 5% water and sewer bonds were voted.

Washington.—Forged Warrants.—A telegraphic despatch from Olympia, dated June 16, 1898, stated that from $8,000 to $10,000 forged State warrants had been discovered in circulation.

Wichita County, Kan.—Bond Decision Reversed.—In the Chronicle November 27, 1897, we stated that Judge Andrews, of Wichita County, had decided that the $35,000 bonds issued in 1892 in aid of the Chicago Kansas & Western Railroad were illegal. On June 11, 1898, the Supreme Court reversed the decision and remanded the case for a new trial. The bonds are owned by the State School Fund Commissioners.

Bond Calls and Redemptions.

Allegheny County, Pa.—Bond Call.—W. E. Thompson, County Comptroller, has called for payment on July 1, 1898, at his office, the following 4½ 10-20-year registered riot bonds: Nos. 1 to 104 for $1,000 each, issued January 1, 1880, and Nos. 1 and 2 for $500 each, issued January 1, 1880.

Bell County, Texas.—Bonds Redeemed.—The county has redeemed $65,000 court-house bonds held by the State Permanent School Fund.

Canton School District, Lewis County, Mo.—Bond Call.—$500 refunding bonds Nos. 3 and 4, bearing 5% interest, have been called for payment July 1, 1898, at the St. Louis Trust Co., St. Louis.

Carroll County (Mo.) School District No. 9.—Bond Call.—Bonds No. 7 and 8, dated May 28, 1889, and bearing 6% interest, have been called for payment July 1, 1898, at the National Park Bank, New York City.

Clinton County, Mo.—Bond Call.—The county has called for payment July 1, 1898, 5% bonds, Nos. 41 to 75, dated July 1, 1888. Securities are in denomination of $1,0 0.

Larimer Street Paving District No. 1.—Bonds Nos. 59 to 63, inclusive.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The week's events, whether followed by peace or not, have closed the war with Spain so far as it has been, or can prove to be, a serious menace to the industrial interests of the United States. Last Sunday and Monday were the occasion of a marked contrast in public feeling—heavy depression prevailing the former day and great elation the latter. The only truly cheerful people on Sunday were those who had no opportunity of knowing the official news given out at Washington that day. Every one had felt Saturday night thoroughly satisfied with the marvelous progress General Shafter had made towards taking Santiago. Sunday General Shafter's despondent dispatch was made public, besides other bits of disquieting news, which interpreted together were at the time considered to be suggestive of a serious check to any immediate further forward movement of the army if not ominous of a retreat. Monday's news disclosed, not that Santiago had been taken, but better still that Admiral Cervera's fleet had been totally destroyed; that substantially all the officers and men of the fleet were either dead or had been taken prisoners; and that this had been done at a sacrifice of only one American sailor killed, two wounded and a very slight injury to one of our ships.

The decisive character of the victory has in general estimation been developing every day since its occurrence. The more its effects have been considered the more conclusive of the contest with Spain have they appeared. Most important of all is the obvious fact that with this disaster Spain's wonderful career in the world's history as a sea power is closed—what is left of its navy is of little account. It is likewise becoming apparent that discouragement widely prevails in its army as a result of the event, while our army now at Santiago has been made more confident, and with the reënforcements which are being hurried forward, is getting into much stronger condition than it has ever been, so that anxiety on its account, which was for the moment felt here on Sunday, is without excuse now. Moreover, the destruction of Spain's naval power carries with it the release of our ships from duties at and near home, except so far as they may be needed to make the blockade of all Cuban ports effective; hence we are left free to transfer the theatre of active warfare to the Spanish coast cities. In the meantime anxiety about Cuba can be dismissed. We can shut up Havana and shut out the opportunity it now has of obtaining supplies through other ports; having made those points as secure as possible, and having taken Santiago, we need risk no more lives in Cuba, at least until late fall shall make the island habitable. Probably a short experience of our navy on the Spanish coasts and time given for reflection in Cuba will secure for us peace and possession of the island without further cost.

With the war thus almost entirely eliminated as an active depressing influence on our industries, surprise has been expressed that a quickened movement and higher values in our stock market should not have followed this latest victory. There are a good many influences tending to keep that market quiet. First of all, the summer months are naturally the waiting period of the year for reasons we mentioned last week. Then railroad earnings are not as favorable as they were and do not at the moment promise well, because of the reckless cutting of rates now in progress; the reports too are that the winter-wheat crop will move slowly at present prices for that cereal. Inasmuch as last year's earnings began to increase in July, we shall also soon begin to compare with larger figures: if the weekly and monthly reports, for the reasons stated, should for a time show decreases instead of increases, this would no doubt be a depressing factor. That condition, it has been urged by some, confronts us. It is likewise claimed that the business doing on the Exchange is small in amount, and therefore dull instead of active, because "room traders" (or members of the Exchange who in the absence of commission orders trade on their own account) are not doing much, as the new stamp tax of $2 per hundred shares increases the hazard of their operations. When we remember that during dull seasons the business on the Exchange is very largely confined to the "room traders," it is easy to understand that any material reduction in that class of operations might greatly reduce the volume of business. We do not see why, similarly, the tax would not also tend to lessen much of the speculative and fictitious buying which always constitutes a large part of the daily transactions.

But no doubt another and further explanation for the lack of immediate response on our Stock Exchange to the victory of this week is to be found in the unsatisfactory state of general business in many departments, some of the largest of which are in poor shape. Railroad traffic depends of course to a great extent on general industrial prosperity and not on crops alone. We must look, then, first of all for new evidences of trade revival as a result of the greatly improved military conditions. With confidence increasing, enterprise must increase, and soon thereafter the consumption of all sorts of manufactured products must also increase. A further very hopeful and encouraging feature is the promising situation of all our crops. Thoman's July statement has been issued this week, and we give it in our breadstuffs report to-day. Although the condition for winter wheat is stated to be below the June figure, it is still 87·3, against 81·5 a year ago; while spring wheat is given at 95·3, against 91·5 last year. The corn condition, with a reduction of 2·5 per cent in acreage, stands at 92·2, against 84·4 last July, and oats are reported at 91·5, against 88·8 a year ago. If these figures approximately represent the situation, and we believe they do, the outlook on July 1 was for abundant harvests; and if the war as an irritant can truly be said to be no longer harassing industrial progress, what stands in the way of progress?

As stated above, railway earnings for the time being continue to show lessened gains. For the fourth week of June our preliminary tabulation makes a somewhat better exhibit than did the compilations for the weeks immediately preceding, and the increase reaches almost 9 per cent against only 4·72 per cent in the third week, 4·92 per cent in the second week and 7·76 per cent in the first week. However, notwithstanding this slightly improved result for the roads as a whole, several of the separate companies show losses; and the fact that these losses come so largely from the grain-carrying lines, either in the Middle West or in the spring-wheat sections of the Northwest, makes obvious enough the main cause of the falling off. The explanation is simply that there is less grain moving, for reasons previously given. We noted this fact last week, and later figures show that the contraction is still going on. For the week ending July 2 the deliveries of wheat at the Western primary markets were only 560,320 bushels, against 1,528,976 bushels in the corresponding week of 1897 and 1,943,238 bushels in the same week of 1896. The corn movement is being well maintained, receipts standing a 2,505,730, 2,566,017 and 2,009,208 bushels respectively in 1898, 1897 and 1896. But oats (as also the minor cereals) show losses the same as wheat. In the week referred to only 2,076,440 bushels of oats were brought in, against 3,168,477 bushels in 1897 and 3,023,193 bushels in 1896. As the reason for the smaller improvement in the returns of railway earnings lies thus on the surface, the matter possesses little significance. Moreover, as the crop situation is so satisfactory, we may expect the grain movement to become freer again as soon as the present season's crop comes forward and prices recover.

It is gratifying to find that new railroad construction is proceeding on a somewhat larger scale. Both the "Railroad Gazette" and the "Railway Age" have published their records for the first six months of the year, and they agree on this point. The "Gazette" gives the aggregate of new track laid as 1,092 miles. The "Age" makes the total 1,181 miles. Of course even these figures do not reflect any very great activity, and it is significant that in only one State has the amount of new road added been as much as one hundred miles. The State referred to is Alabama, where the building of the Montgomery extension of the Mobile & Ohio has raised the total of track added to 140 miles. According to the "Age," the 1,181 miles built in the six months this year compares with only 622 miles in the first six months of 1897, 788 miles in 1896, 641 miles in 1895, 525 miles in 1894, 1,014 miles in 1893 and 1,367 miles in 1892. In other words, construction has been at a greater rate than in any year since 1892. The "Age" expects to see an addition of 3,000 miles for the full twelve months of 1898, resulting in an expenditure of $60,000,000, or $20,000,000 more than in any other year since 1893. The "Age" dilates upon the advantages to accrue from this expenditure of money. It points out that the cost of new construction is almost entirely paid to labor—either directly to the construction gangs or in the purchase of materials (such as rails, track supplies and timber), in the price of which labor is by far the largest element. In addition, when the railway is built, it remains as a permanent investment, an addition to the taxable wealth of the community, and is moreover the most powerful instrumentality in the growth and development of the districts in which it is located.

Last week's bank statement showed remarkable increases in loans and in deposits. The former gained $8,384,700, carrying the average to $620,983,803, while the latter gained $12,526,800, making the unprecedented average of $750,074,600. The increase in specie was $1,963,300 and in legal tenders $975,700. There was a decrease of $192,700 in surplus reserve, which now stands at $62,013,550. The deposits were largely augmented by the placing of Government money in the City Bank. The Clearing House balances on Saturday were $17,009,341, the largest on record, the highest previously reported being $16,028,000, in 1895. Assistant Secretary Vanderlip of the Treasury Department stated on July 6 that the subscriptions for the war bonds at that date aggregated $875,593,000, of which about $51,000,000 were in subscriptions of $500 or less, $324,593,930 in amounts over $500, and $500,000,000 in syndicate subscriptions. These syndicate subscriptions cover two offers to take the whole loan and one offer to take $100,000,000 at a premium of one per cent. The bonds are nominally quoted in the New York market at 102@102½.

The foreign exchange market has been affected this week by the inability of all bankers to obtain revenue stamps required by the new law, and early in the week it was almost impossible to do business because of this fact. Some bankers reported that several important trades were lost, they being unable to comply with the revenue law. This obstacle to business was removed after Wednesday. It is, however, found that the law will greatly interfere with a class of business which has heretofore been quite profitable among bankers, and has also given remunerative employment to the brokers in exchange. The law requires that brokers shall pay a license fee of $50 per annum and a stamp tax of 10 cents on each memorandum of sale. This bears heavily upon brokers, whose profit is generally small. It has been the custom of foreign bankers to trade in each other's bills. In many cases a single name long bill would be offered through brokers and, if acceptable, the banker to whom it was offered would buy it or sell against it his own short bill endorsing the long bill, thus making it double name, and forwarding it for acceptance and discount, making from 1-16 to 1-32 of 1 per cent profit. In other cases long or short single name bills of one banker would be sold to another banker through brokers, resulting in a similar profit. The compulsory addition of a stamp of 4 cents per $100 will tend to make such negotiations generally unprofitable and consequently this class of business will hereafter be greatly curtailed if not wholly abandoned by some bankers, thus compelling them to limit their transactions to commercial bills, the profit in which is large enough to bear the tax.

On Wednesday it was discovered that the National City Bank was drawing and selling checks or demand drafts upon its foreign balances or credits, placing thereon a two cent stamp, being advised by their counsel that this course was legal under the revenue law. As these drafts by the City Bank had been issued since the 1st instant the business in exchange was doubtless more or less affected by such drawings. The City Bank officials contended that the Internal Revenue Act made no distinction between domestic and foreign bank checks payable on demand, and the bank relied upon the following clause of the Act in support of its contention: "Bank check, draft or certificate of deposit not drawing interest, or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn upon or issued by any bank, trust company or any person or persons, companies or corporations, at sight or on demand, two cents." Foreign bankers, however, claimed that all drafts, checks or other demand orders drawn in but payable out of the United States were within the provisions of the Act governing bills of exchange, and that they were subject to a stamp tax of four cents per $100. Some of these bankers applied to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for a ruling upon this point, and late on Wednesday afternoon that official made the following decision: "Orders drawn in the United States, payable n foreign countries, though in the form of checks, are subject to a tax of four cents on each $100 or fraction thereof, under the fifth paragraph of Section A." On Thursday the City Bank conformed to the ruling of the Commissioner, and drafts hereafter drawn by the bank will be treated as bills of exchange.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, has loaned during the week at 1¼ and at 1½ per cent with the bulk of the business and the average at about 1¼ per cent. On Friday loans for small amounts only were made at 2 per cent, though this was regarded as not fairly representing the market. Banks and trust companies generally quote 1½ per cent as the minimum, but some of the last-named institutions offer money in liberal amounts at 1¼ per cent. Time contracts are quoted at 2 per cent for thirty days, 2¼ per cent for sixty days, 3 per cent for ninety days to four months and 3½ per cent for longer periods, but comparatively little business is reported and there now seems to be no expectation of great activity in time money resulting from the subscriptions to the new loan. The principal banks which have been designated as depositories have increased their deposits of Government bonds as security, and there is an abundance of money offering on call, while the demand for it seems likely to be small. There is a good inquiry for choice mercantile paper and a fair supply. Rates are firmer at 3¼@3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 3½@4 per cent for prime and 4½@5½ per cent for good four to six months single names.

There have been reports of severe political tension in Spain, caused by the disastrous defeat of Admiral Cervera's fleet at Santiago and a revival of reports of a Ministerial crisis, which may be followed by peace proposals. The European financial situation remains without especially new feature. It is reported that Holland is drawing gold heavily from London, that a new Persian loan for £1,500,000 is being underwritten, and that a large brewing amalgamation loan for £15,000,000 is being brought out in London. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London at 1⅛@1¼ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¼@3⅜ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England lost £1,431,555 bullion during the week and hold £37,103,052 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to shipments of £813,000 net to the interior of Great Britain and to exports of £619,000, of which £429,000 were to Russia and £190,000 to Holland.

The foreign exchange market has been extremely dull, though quite firm, this week. The dulness was mainly due to the change in methods of doing business caused by the operation of the new revenue law, explained above. The range for nominal rates for exchange opened on Tuesday at from 4 85 to 4 85½ for sixty-day and from 4 86¼ to 4 87 for sight, and they remained unaltered thereafter. The tone of the market was firm and rates for actual business were unchanged compared with those at the close of Friday of last week, except that the difference between the bid and the asking quotations was closer. Rates were 4 84½@4 84¾ for long, 4 85¾@4 86 for short and 4 86@4 86¼ for cable transfers. The market continued firm on the following day and on Thursday, without change in rates for actual business for sterling, and there was only a slight alteration in Continental. The tone was firm on Friday. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

THE VICTORY AT SANTIAGO.

It must be remembered, in drawing conclusions from the series of exciting events near Santiago, at last week's close and at the opening of the present week, that the campaign in that part of Cuba had a double purpose. It was not alone to capture Cervera's fleet that the movement on that city was undertaken; naturally and necessarily the movement was a part of the campaign for the capture of the Spanish strongholds in Cuba and the consequent expulsion of the Spaniards from the island. At whatever point, therefore, this advance on the Spanish lines had begun, the movement could not end—unless in the case of the Spanish Government's surrender—short of the capture of all other points of resistance on Cuban territory.

Considered from this point of view there has been a disposition shown in some quarters to give expression to only a qualified jubilation over the magnificent conduct of our soldiers at Santiago. It is claimed that there has been lack of foresight somewhere. Moreover, it is stated that in the capture of the outer Spanish defenses the losses of our army were extremely heavy. The Battle of Fredericksburg in December 1862, which, like the Battle of Santiago, was an attack upon a fortified city, has long been remembered for the disastrous losses to the attacking army. Yet, in proportion to the total force engaged, the list of killed and wounded at Fredericksburg was no more formidable than the list of last week at Santiago. General Burnside commanded 113,000 men at the assault, of whom he lost something below 11,000. But General Shafter's losses of 1,800 killed and wounded in the two days' battle of Friday and Saturday were suffered by an army, so far as the United States forces were concerned, of barely 16,000. That is to say, the severity of our loss before Santiago was actually greater than it was in the bloody battle on the Rappahannock thirty-six years ago. But when allowance is made for the changes introduced during those years in the destructive character of the projectiles and guns with which on the present occasion the fortifications were provided, of the weapons with which the soldiers were armed and the smokeless powder the sharpshooters took advantage of, the comparison will probably be found to be wholly inapplicable. No conclusion is clearer than that these changes have made it impossible for a land force in our day to carry by assault defensive works without much larger proportionate loss of life than formerly.

Not unconnected with these heavy losses by our troops, the obstinacy and bravery of the opposing Spanish forces have been amply demonstrated. This was indeed no new discovery, for even on their riddled hulks at Cavite the Spanish sailors fought with acknowledged courage. But Admiral Dewey's easy victory, without the loss of a single life, followed in Cuba by the hasty retreat of the Spaniards, both at Guantanamo and at the Baiquiri landing, had raised in the popular mind some very erroneous impressions regarding the prospects at the general attack on Santiago. Finally, our army's serious losses were not rewarded by the capture of Santiago. The city was not occupied, even after our seizure of the heights commanding it. People who heard the depressing rumors which circulated last Sunday, and who read between the lines of General Shafter's first report to the War Department, will long remember their first impression on receipt of those advices. That public enthusiasm, even after the sudden revulsion of sentiment on the news of Monday morning, should have been partly dampened by the thought of what a protracted Cuban campaign would mean under such conditions, is hardly a matter for surprise.

But, as we said to begin with, the capture of the city and the entering of a wedge, so to speak, into the Spanish defenses was only one motive—and indeed only a secondary motive—in the movement against Santiago. From the opening of the war our Government has followed consistently the theory of Captain Mahan and the majority of modern naval critics that the destruction of the enemy's floating armament is our objective point. Such were the explicit instructions sent to Commodore Dewey at Hong Kong; such was the purpose of the first movement of Commodore Schley against Cervera; and such, if the reports of a projected expedition into Spanish waters have been correct, is undoubtedly the design in that direction. The basis for this theory of warfare is sufficiently obvious. War between two States whose territory is not adjacent must of necessity be waged chiefly by nava armaments. The fleet is the medium both of offense and of defense; with the fleet annihilated, therefore, not only is the victorious Power secure against the possibility of invasion, but it has the enemy's sea coas largely at its mercy. We believe it to be the judgment of our military and naval experts that the complete destruction of Admiral Cervera's fleet on Sunday morning was an achievement far surpassing in strategic importance even a seizure of Santiago City by the army. Indeed there is reason to believe that the selection of Santiago for attack, and the operations of the army against the city's defenses, had as its chief objective point such control of the fortresses commanding the harbor as would enable our own artillery corps to turn their guns at short range on the Spanish fleet. Beyond any question it was belief in such an outcome, sooner or later, which prompted Cervera's desperate effort to escape.

The significance of the destruction of his ships, following the annihilation of the Manila fleet, seems to us to have hardly yet been realized by our people. It is doubtless premature to assume, as some critics have done, the certainty of an immediate appeal for peace by Spain. Throughout its long series of military disasters, one quality has stood forth prominent in every similar emergency—the obstinacy with which the Spanish people and their Government have refused to confess that they were beaten. This resistance to the last blocked the plans of the Allies in 1704, as it blocked those of Napoleon a century later. As against these precedents, however, it must be remembered that invasion of Spain itself is no part of our programme, and that the colonial possessions of the Spanish nation, in and concerning which alone we have thus far fought, are now left in a position where neither supplies nor reinforcements can be expected to reach them. The seemingly unanimous judgment of European States, since Cervera's fleet went down, is that further contest on the part of Spain is hopeless. That the pro-Spanish newspapers of Paris should lead in such expression of opinion is significant, and if the market for Spanish bonds is any longer an accurate barometer of feeling, the rise of the 4 per cents in Paris on the very news from Santiago speaks for itself.

But this is not all that the destruction of the Spanish fleet means to the situation. Our business interests did, it is true, recover with extraordinary quickness from the first shock of the war outbreak. But people are nevertheless quite mistaken who suppose that all the lost ground has been retraced. Enterprises involving heavy risk of capital, and with them trade activity in many quarters, have been arrested or suspended by even the remote uncertainties of war. The chance of foreign intervention on the side of Spain, or of an unexpected move upon our coast and commerce by the Spanish fleet itself, has been reflected even in the stock market's hesitation, and equally reflected, it is perfectly safe to say, in general industry. If it be contended that these were extreme improbabilities, it must be answered that realization of similar improbabilities makes up a good part of military history. So far as concerns the prospect of a demonstration by the Spanish navy, it may now be said that the overhanging cloud has been dispelled. So far as concerns the question of foreign intervention, the change in tone of our European critics since the destruction of Cervera's fleet shows plainly enough the actual present situation. We have never taken the German naval demonstration at Manila as significant of anything except the disposition of that Government to be prepared for any unexpected reversal of the situation. No such reversal is now probable, and it will not be overlooked that this very week Madrid is wasting angry and disappointed conjecture over the departure from Manila Bay of half the German Squadron. In short, it seems to us that as the altered situation is fully realized by our people, the feeling of relief cannot fail to find expression in a genuine renewal of trade activity.

The more technical conclusions to be drawn from the last week's incidents at Santiago merely confirm, with added emphasis, those which have been already taught in the progress of the war. We are satisfied that the gallantry of our soldiers, under a test as severe as any in a generation, bears out what we have hitherto affirmed regarding the American army, regular and volunteer. Between these two branches of the army there is little chance to distinguish, whether as regards their courage under fire or their effectiveness in close fighting.

The navy's brilliant achievement of last Sunday was remarkable for exactly the reason which gave note to Commodore Dewey's victory. As Captain Sigsbee has pointed out in a recent interview, our navy's effectiveness has been primarily derived from thorough training. The wonderful markmanship of our gunners and the wild firing of their opponents have been no result of accident. A powerful ship means much; a competent commander sometimes means even more. But, as the Spanish navy itself has shown, neither tonnage, nor armor, nor armament, nor commander, will save the ship which has not brought its gunners, through constant and tireless practice, to the highest stage of efficiency. The criticism has been somewhat common that no new principles have yet been established by this year's naval war. It is true that the principle of marksmanship as an element in military success is by no means new; but we cannot help thinking that this important principle has been obscured of recent years by the clamor for more war-ships and heavier war-ships. The accounts of Sunday's engagement certainly suggest that Cervera's fleet would as surely have been destroyed if the opposing fleet had been heavily reduced in numbers. No better proof could be desired than the achievements in that battle of the armored yacht Gloucester, formerly owned by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan.

If, as seems not at all improbable, the general lesson of this war will be that decisive battles are hereafter for the most part to be fought on shipboard, the result will to that extent be a matter for congratulation. A modern naval armament is a matter of enormous cost; yet its expense is trifling when compared with a Continental standing army. Even in terms of money outlay, the German army has cost its Government nearly five times as much per year as its navy, and the annual naval outlay almost equals that of the United States. But the difference in money outlay is a small part of the problem. The withdrawal of half a million citizens from industrious pursuits in time of peace, the wholesale destruction of life and property in time of war, are incidents of modern government which nearest approximate the principles of barbarism. Certainly, when the occurrences and results of the army manœuvres about Santiago are compared with those of the navy at the same point, nobody guided by either sense or humanity will deplore the very obvious shifting of the arena of international conflicts from the land to the sea.

CAN A STATE FORFEIT LANDS FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.

A question in which every taxpayer in the United States necessarily feels some concern, and which involved an inquiry into the powers of a State over private property where there has been a failure to pay taxes for a specified time, was recently presented for judicial determination in the highest tribunal in the land. The opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the case where this issue was raised and settled serves to throw a great deal of light on the principles which control in such circumstances and also to afford an insight into the views of the Court regarding matters of taxation, though the Court, following custom, limits the scope of its decision as far as possible. It avoids declaring its position on the broad general question raised, and rests its conclusions entirely on the facts of the case before it. In other words, in defining its general position, it goes only so far as necessary to determine the issues presented in this instance, leaving other matters for consideration and adjudication in the future as they may arise.

The case was that of King vs. Mullins et al. King brought an action of ejectment to recover that part lying in the State of West Virginia of a tract of 500,000 acres of land patented by the Commonwealth of Virginia in 1795 to Robert Morris, assignee of Wilson Cary Nicholas. At the trial in the Circuit Court the original patent to Morris was produced, showing that the lands therein described had been granted without conditions. There was also evidence to prove successive conveyances since then, the plaintiff, King, claiming title through a deed from John V. Le Moyne. The defense was that prior to the date of the deed from Le Moyne the lands embraced in the patent had been forfeited to the State for non-payment of taxes. It appears that one of the articles of the West Virginia Constitution makes it the duty of every owner of land to have it entered upon the land books of the county in which it is situated, and to cause himself to be charged with the taxes on it, and to pay the same. The instrument also provides that when for any five successive years the owner of any tract of land containing one thousand acres or more shall not have been charged on the land books with the State tax on his land, then "by operation hereof" the land shall be forfeited and the title thereto vest in the State.

It was the contention of King, the plaintiff, that that part of this Constitutional provision which forfeits and vests absolutely in the State ("without inquisition of record or some public transaction equivalent to office found") title to lands not charged with the State taxes is repugnant to the clause of the 14th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States declaring that no State shall deprive any person of his property without due process of law. King claimed, too, that if there was a forfeiture of the land to the State, such title could not be set up against him, he being a purchaser for value, without knowledge of such forfeiture or of such outstanding title. He cited various authorities in support of his contention. In Griffin vs. Mixon the High Court of Errors and Appeals of Mississippi, in 1860, held a statute of that State declaring the forfeiture of lands on the failure simply of the owner to pay the taxes due thereon, without notice or hearing in any form, to be in violation of the Constitutional provisions prohibiting the taking of private property for public use without just compensation being first made therefor, or the deprivation of property without due process of law. In another case—that of Marshall vs. McDaniel—the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, in 1876, held unconstitutional a provision in a statute of that State declaring "that in all cases where any lands shall hereafter be forfeited for failing to list for taxation, or stricken off to the State, the title of such lands shall vest in this Commonwealth by virtue of this Act without any inquest of office found, unless said lands shall have been redeemed according to law."

In this last mentioned case the right of the State to seize and sell property in satisfaction of taxes was declared to be beyond question. But it was held that when laws are enacted for this purpose the forfeitures prescribed must be regarded as penalties; and they cannot be inflicted until inquiry has first been made and the commission of the offense ascertained by due course of law. On the other hand, the decisions of the courts in Virginia, of which State West Virginia originally formed part and from which the patent of land was obtained, have all been to the opposite effect. Thus in passing on the question in 1853, the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia said it was well established that in order to consummate and perfect a forfeiture no judgment or decree, or other matter of record, nor any inquest of office, was necessary, but that the statutes themselves, of their own force and by their own energy, work out their own purpose, and operate effectually to divest the title out of the defaulting owner, and perfectly to vest it in the Commonwealth, without the machinery of any proceeding of record, or anything in the nature of an inquest of office. The Supreme Court of West Virginia has also repeatedly given expression to the same views. In McClure vs. Maitland the Court after setting out the conditions which made necessary the enactment of the laws of Virginia back in 1831, forfeiting lands for non-payment of taxes, said that the purpose in enforcing forfeiture was not merely to create a lien for the taxes on the delinquent and unoccupied lands, "but to effect, by their own force and vigor, an absolute forfeiture of them, and effectually vest the title thereto in the State without the machinery of any proceeding of record, or anything in the nature of an inquest of office. Such was intended to be, and such was in fact, the effect of these statutes."

Justice Harlan (who read the opinion of the U. S. Supreme Court), after reviewing the cases cited above and various others, said the question of constitutional law presented was one of unusual gravity. On the one hand it was not to be forgotten that the clause of the Federal Constitution which the Court was asked to interpret is part of the supreme law of the land and that it must be given full force and effect throughout the entire Union—that is, the due process of law enjoined by the 14th Amendment must mean the same thing in all the States. On the other hand the fact could not be ignored that a decision declaring that that Amendment forbids a State, by force alone of its constitution or statutes, and without inquisition or inquiry in any form, to take to itself the absolute title to lands of the citizen because of his failure to put them on record for taxation, or to pay the taxes thereon, might greatly disturb the land titles of two States under a system which has long been upheld and enforced by their respective legislatures and courts. Under these circumstances he said it was his opinion and that of his associates that it was the duty of the Court not to go beyond what was necessary to the decision of the particular case before the Court. If the rights of the parties in the present case could be fully determined without passing upon the general question whether the clause of the West Virginia Constitution alone considered was consistent with the National Constitution, that question might properly, the Court thought, be left for examination until it arises in some cases in which it must be decided.

Acting on that idea the Court proceeds to inquire whether, looking at the Constitution and the statutes of West Virginia together, a remedy was not provided which, if pursued, furnished to the plaintiff and those under whom he asserted title, all the opportunity that due "process of law" required in order to vindicate any rights that he or they had in respect to the lands in question. If, in addition to the provisions contained in the Constitution, says Justice Harlan, that instrument had itself provided for the sale of forfeited lands for the benefit of the school fund, but reserved the right to the owner, before sale, and within a reasonable period, to pay the taxes and charges due thereon, and thereby relieve his land from forfeiture, the Court does not think such a system would be held inconsistent with due process of law. This being true, it naturally follows that if the statutes of the State, in connection with the Constitution, gave the taxpayer reasonable opportunity to protect his lands against a forfeiture arising from his failure to place them upon the land books, there is no ground for him to complain that his property has been taken without due process of law.

Examining the provisions of the statutes, Justice Harlan finds that there are abundant safeguards of this kind for the protection of the delinquent landholder. For instance, the statutes provide (1) that all lands forfeited to the State shall be sold for the benefit of the school fund; (2) that the sale shall be sought by petition filed by the Commissioner of School Lands in the proper Circuit Court, to which proceeding all claimants shall be made parties, and be brought in by personal service of summons upon all found in the county, or by publication as to those who cannot be found; (3) that the petition shall be referred to a Commissioner in Chancery, who shall report upon the same and upon such other things as the Court may direct, and particularly as to the amount of taxes due and unpaid upon any lands mentioned in the petition, in whose name and when and how forfeited; (4) that at any time during the pendency of the proceedings instituted for the sale of forfeited lands for the benefit of the school fund, the owner, or any creditor of the owner having a lien thereon, may file his petition in the Circuit Court of the county for the redemption of his lands, upon the payment into court or to the Commissioner of school lands of all costs, taxes and interest due thereon, and obtain a decree or order declaring the lands redeemed, etc.

The Court points out that much of the argument on behalf of the plaintiff proceeds upon the erroneous theory that all principles involved in due process of law, as applied to proceedings strictly judicial in their nature, apply equally to proceedings for the collection of public revenue by taxation. As a matter of fact very summary remedies may be used in the collection of taxes that could not be applied in cases of a judicial character. In Bell's Gap RR. Co. vs. Pennsylvania it was said that "the process of taxation does not require the same kind of notice as is required in a suit at large or even in proceedings for taking private property under the power of eminent domain. It involves no violation of due process of law when it is executed according to customary forms and established usages, or in subordination to the principles which underlie them." In this view the statutes of West Virginia in force after 1882, Justice Harlan thinks, seem fully to meet the requirements, for under them, as already noted, the owner of the forfeited lands had the right to become a party to a judicial proceeding, of which he was entitled to notice, and in which the Court had authority to relieve him, upon terms that were reasonable, from the forfeiture of his lands. The Court accordingly affirms the judgment of the Circuit Court against the plaintiff.

Another point made on behalf of King was that the provision of the Constitution of West Virginia exempting tracts of less than 1,000 acres from forfeiture was a discrimination against the owners of tracts containing 1,000 acres or more, which amounted to a denial to citizens or land owners of the latter class of the equal protection of the laws. The Court does not concur in this view. It says the evil intended to be remedied by the Constitution and laws of West Virginia was the persistent failure of those who owned or claimed to own large tracts of lands, patented in the last century, or early in the present century, to put them on the land books, so that the extent and boundaries of such tracts might be ascertained by the officers charged with the duty of assessing and collecting taxes. Where the tract was a small one the probability was that it was actually occupied by some one, and its extent or boundary could be readily ascertained for purposes of assessment and taxation. "We can well understand," Justice Harlan observes, "why one policy could be properly adopted as to large tracts, which the necessities of the public revenue did not require to be prescribed as to small tracts." The judiciary, he declares, should be very reluctant to interfere with the taxing systems of a State and should never do so unless that which the State attempts to do is in palpable violation of the Constitutional rights of the owners of property. Under this view of its duty the Court, he says, is unwilling to hold that the provision referred to is repugnant to the clause of the 14th Amendment forbidding a denial of the equal protection of the laws.

GOVERNMENT FINANCES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR.

An analysis of the Government debt and revenue statements for the fiscal year ending June 30 1898, so as to reach correct conclusions, is attended by more than the ordinary difficulties. On the one hand the receipts have been affected by a number of extraneous and exceptional items and circumstances. On the other hand the expenses have in like manner been affected by a variety of special events and conditions. Consequently, if we would compare with previous years or judge of the revenue-producing capacity of our tariff and revenue laws, we must allow for these disturbing factors or seek to eliminate them.

It is hardly necessary to say that the late years' receipts afford no criterion of the prospective yield either of our Customs or our revenue laws as these laws now stand. The internal revenue taxes have just been greatly extend d, new articles and subjects for taxation having been added, some not embraced in the list since the Civil War, and others never previously included. At first sight it may seem as if these added tax provisions could have played no part in affecting the late year's revenue results. But while it is true that most of the provisions of the War Revenue bill did not become operative until July 1 1898, certain clauses and sections went into effect the day succeeding the passage of the Act, on June 13. This is true of the taxes on beer, ale, porter, etc., and also the taxes on tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff.

With reference to the Customs receipts, too, the new law has in some small measure come in to affect the late year's results. There is in the law only one Customs impost, namely the duty of ten cents a pound on tea, but that, as it happens, went into immediate effect, and hence has counted as a new item of Customs revenue since June 14. This, however, is merely a minor circumstance alongside of the other and more seriously disturbing conditions that have marked the course of the Customs receipts during the year. As will be remembered, an entirely new tariff law was enacted in July of last year. This tariff Act raised duties all around very materially, and was hence expected to produce a greatly increased volume of Customs revenue. The expectation has been disappointed, the actual receipts from that source having been the smallest, with one exception, of any of the past nineteen years. The reason is known to all our readers. The public had knowledge of the proposed increase in duties, and accordingly there were enormous importations in advance to get the benefit of the old and lower duties. As a consequence, for a considerable time after the new law was in force the imports were very small; consumers' wants had been so largely anticipated.

As bearing upon this point, it is only necessary to say that the new Congress was convened in extraordinary session in March of last year, and that for the period from March to June, inclusive (the closing four months of the previous fiscal year), the Customs revenue averaged close to 21½ million dollars a month. The movement extended in a measure into the late fiscal year, and hence the Customs receipts in July 1897 were still large, falling not far short of 17 million dollars; but the very next month (August) there was a drop to $6,988,000. While the amounts improved after that, in no month prior to December did the total again reach ten million dollars. In the second half of the fiscal year—from January to June 1898—it was hoped there would be a great change for the better. Customs revenue did improve materially, the monthly totals running from 13½ to 15½ million dollars, but there was no chance of testing the full productiveness of the new duties. Talk of war and finally war itself intervened to check business activity and keep the volume of imports down. We would refer those who wish to study the monthly deviations more closely to our detailed statement on page 58, where in a new and improved form we furnish a complete record by months of both the receipts and expenditures.

The miscellaneous receipts, as it happens, were also subject to marked fluctuations by reason of the inclusion of special items of receipts. During November, December and January, the Treasury received no less than $58,448,223 75 from the purchasers of the Union Pacific in payment of the Government's claim on that property. The whole of this was added to the miscellaneous receipts. At the same time the disbursements during November were on like account swelled $4,549,368, this being that part of the $58,448,223 75 which was represented by cash in the sinking funds and had previously been credited, and which was now incorporated as a disbursement to make the accounts balance. The Government, in addition, received during March and April $6,303,000 in payment of its lien on the Kansas Pacific. Altogether, therefore, it received $64,751,223 75 gross in this way, and allowing for the $4,549,368 of moneys in the sinking funds already counted in the Treasury cash, it received $60,201,855 net. Out of the amount, however, it had to pay $29,904,952 in redemption of the currency 6s maturing January 1 1898, being a portion of the subsidy bonds issued by the United States in aid of the Pacific Railroads. It is only proper to say that the latter item does not come in to affect the Treasury accounts of revenue and disbursements, since it has not been entered as a disbursement. It is, however, an item to be taken into consideration in the analysis of the Treasury cash and debt statements when we come to them. In this last particular, too, there is still another item that must not be overlooked. We refer to the fact that the Treasury has received very large sums of money in payment for subscriptions to the $200,000,000 new 3 per cent bonds.

The receipts on account of the new bonds up to June 30 have been estimated as high as $40,000,000. But obviously the whole amount had not then been credited, if received. A rough and very imperfect method of measuring the cash received from that source is to compare the changes in the Treasury debt statement with the figures of receipts and disbursements for the same month, and note the difference. For instance, we find from the record of receipts and expenditures that revenues for June fell $14,342,968 short of meeting the outgoes. On the other hand, if we take the net debt less cash in the Treasury, we get an improvement—that is, a reduction in the net debt—between June 1 and July 1 of $10,688,268. Adding this $10,688,268 to the $14,342,968, we have $25,031,236 representing cash derived from some outside source—presumably the bond sales.

Lastly, the great increase in the expenditures for the army and navy on account of the war has been a prominent factor in the fiscal results of the year. The importance of this feature can be judged from the figures for the month of June. We have already stated that disbursements exceeded receipts in that month in the sum of $14,342,968. But the expenditures for the army and navy in June 1898 were $29,229,825,* against only 6,449,939 in June 1897. Had therefore the expenditures in this way been no larger this year than last—that is, $22,779,886 less—the final result would have shown a surplus of $8,436,918, instead of the deficit of $14,342,968.

According to the Government's method of stating the accounts, receipts for the twelve months ending June 30 1898 were $404,511,081, while the expenditures were $443,375,387, leaving a deficit of $38,864,306. But, as already pointed out, this includes $64,751,223 gross and $60,201,855 net received by the Government on account of its claims against the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific. With these amounts eliminated, the result is a deficit in amount of over ninety-nine million dollars—$99,066,161. While there has been a deficit of some kind in all recent years, this is far in excess, of course, of the heaviest amount previously reached. In 1896-7 the deficit was only $18,623,107. The loss in receipts as compared with that year has been not quite 7½ million dollars, but on the other hand expenditures increased no less than 73 million dollars. There has been a distinct tendency upward in nearly all the items of expenditures, but the bulk of this 73 million dollars augmentation is accounted for by the army and navy outlays, which aggregated $150,806,564 in 1897-8, against only $83,503,930 in 1896-7, an addition of 67¼ million dollars. We may say, therefore, that except for this increase in the war expenditures, the deficiency for the twelve months would have been less than 32 million dollars, instead of 99 million dollars. Here is a comparison of the receipts and expenditures for each year back to 1879 :

* Including war and navy.
† Allowing for the premiums paid, the actual excess in 1888 is $119,612,116; in 1889, $105,053,444; in 1890, $105,341,496 and in 1891, $37,239,763.

It should be observed that the pension outlays have again increased, and at $147,450,940 are the largest, with one exception, ever reached. A gratifying feature is the steady growth in the internal revenue returns, the total of which for 1897-8 was by far the best for all the years included in the table. It should be noted, too, that this is the record on the basis of the old taxes. With the further additions to the taxable list now made, the promise is for a really striking total in the current fiscal year. The falling off disclosed in the miscellaneous receipts in the late year (after eliminating the Pacific RR. receipts) is in part explained by the fact of a smaller profit from seignorage, the Government having coined only 10,002,780 silver dollars against 21,203,741 the previous year.

In the gross total of the bonded debt there was no material change during the twelve months, the new bonds not having been issued as yet, though the Treasury has received, as stated above, a substantial amount of cash on account of the same. The debt aggregated $847,367,470 June 30 1898, against $847,365,130 June 30 1897. The net debt less cash in the Treasury figures out $1,027,085,492 now, against $986,656,086 June 30 1897, an increase, roughly, of 40½ million dollars. The deficiency of receipts for the twelve months, we have seen, was 99 million dollars. To reconcile the two results it is only necessary to bear in mind that the Government received $60,201,885 cash from the Union Pacific sale and that even after paying out $29,904,952 for maturing currency sixes this still left $30,296,933 of cash; furthermore that the bond subscriptions have contributed 25 million dollars to the Treasury cash. Adding these two amounts ($25,000,000 plus $30,296,933) to the 40½ millions, we get a total of about 96 million dollars, which thus does not differ greatly from the 99 millions deficiency shown by the other method. As to the Treasury gold reserve, we need hardly say that this was large throughout the twelve months and at no time gave cause for anxiety. The amount May 5 was $181,240,389, but on July 1 it was down to $167,004,410, having been diminished by the heavy war payments; a year ago the net holdings were $140,790,738.

PROGRESS OF RAILROAD REFUNDING.

In the Chronicle of March 13 1897 we presented an elaborate table showing the great saving in interest charges which would be possible for the railroads of the country within a few years through the refunding of their high-interest-rate bonds into new bonds bearing the now prevailing low rates. Even then two companies (the Northern Pacific and Lake Shore) had begun the refunding operation, and three others have since followed their example, namely, the New York Central, the Rock Island and the North West. The question arises, how far this refunding process has been carried and with what effect on the finances of each company.

The Northern Pacific was the first of the large companies to attempt the voluntary exchange of old first mortgage bonds having yet a considerable period to run for new bonds in amounts to make the exchange attractive and advantageous to the holders. The general first mortgage 6s at the time of the reorganization, in March 1896, were outstanding to a total of $41,879,000, and in addition there were still unpaid $2,172,500 of old first mortgage 6 per cent divisional bonds, in all $44,051,500. Not only did these old loans bear a high rate of interest (6 per cent), but their very existence to such a large aggregate detracted greatly from the prospective value of the new Prior Lien and General Lien bonds then about to be issued. It was consequently decided, as our readers will remember, to offer $1,350 in the Prior Lien bonds in exchange for the General first 6s, which though not due till 1921 were subject to call for payment at 110 for the sinking fund and from land sales. During the past two years all the divisional bonds and a considerable block of the general first mortgage 6s have been paid by land sales and sinking fund. But in addition to this the voluntary exchanges have been extremely heavy, so that the amount of bonds underlying the new Prior Lien bonds has been reduced from 44 millions to about $9,200,000. The amount allowed in the voluntary exchange was reduced from $1,350 in Prior Lien bonds to $1,300 and finally to $1,225. With the prospects so bright for a good demand for land in the Northwest, there is little reason to question that the old general first mortgage 6 per cent loan will constantly dwindle in amount and within a few years will disappear entirely from the list. When this last occurs the Prior Lien bonds will be an absolutely first lien on the entire property. At present the option extended to holders of the general first 6s to exchange their bonds for Prior Lien bonds after having been made much less favorable than at first has been entirely withdrawn.

The facts regarding the Northern Pacific refunding are summarized in the following table.

Do do do in 1897 1,300
Do do do in March, 1898 1,225

The result here shown is remarkable, the land sales and the voluntary exchanges having effected a reduction of nearly 35 millions in the amount of the 6 per cent bonds. The interest charge has thus been decreased about $274,000. This refunding indeed grew out of, and was a part of, the reorganization scheme, but as the acceptance of the terms offered was entirely optional with the security holders, whose bonds if not exchanged would have run till they matured or were called, we think the case properly deserves mention.

The Lake Shore began its refunding in March 1897, and while the operation has not been carried as far towards completion as in the case of the Northern Pacific, the saving effected in the interest charge has been much larger. The 43 millions of old 7 per cents have been reduced to about 19½ millions, and the annual interest requirement has been lessened by nearly $700,000, or about 1·4 per cent on the stock. The extent of the operation is shown as follows.

Basis of Exchange.

Old bonds received at the price at which they would yield 3½ per cent if held till maturity exchanged for:
New 3½ per cent bonds in March, 1897, at price of..... 102½

* As reported by New York Stock Exchange.

The refunding by the Lake Shore Company has progressed quietly, about five millions of the refunding bonds having been issued since the first of the year. The old bonds were exchanged, at a price at which they would yield 3½ per cent if held to maturity, for the new 3½s at 102½. This basis has not been changed, but the option is no longer operative.

The refunding by the Rock Island, which began last January, has been carried on more advantageously in one respect than in the case of the other companies, owing to the fact that over three-fourths of the existing debt was immediately subject to call at 105. The old bonds on Jan. 1 1898 aggregated over 62 millions, but have now been reduced to about 19 millions, and within a year and a-half will not exceed the amount of the old first 6s of 1877, of which $12,100,000 are at present outstanding. The changes in the debt appear in the following.

Basis of Exchange.

Each $1,000 5 per cent debenture bond and each extension and collateral trust 5 per cent bond (the latter issue was paid April 30, 1898, at 105) was exchangeable in January, 1898, for $1,000 new 4 per cent bond at a price for latter of.....103½
And also a certain amount of cash to represent difference between the two prices of 103½ and 105, and the adjustment of interest.

The alteration here shown in the constitution of the debt is most marked, and it has been accompanied by a saving to the company in interest charges of an amount equal to about 7-10 of one per cent on the 50 millions of capital stock.

The New York Central also started its refunding scheme in January last, and of its 70 millions of old bonds twenty odd millions have been retired as shown by the following.

REFUNDING OF NEW YORK CENTRAL BONDS BEGUN IN JANUARY, 1898. (V. 66, P. 83.)

While 20 millions and more of the old loans have been exchanged, the refunding has here been relatively most heavy in the case of the loans bearing the lower rates of interest, namely the debentures. The saving in interest has reached about $263,000. The price charged for the new 3½s in the exchange has twice been raised, first from 103 and interest to 103½ and interest, and recently to 104 and interest.

The North West. announced its refunding plan in December last, but the plan applied to only a small part of the 131½ millions of the bonds of the system. The exchange has been partially carried out, but the saving in interest has not reached a large figure. The following shows approximately what had been accomplished to June 1st, 1898:

In this last case, and the others as well, we have not attempted to deduct the amount of new bonds, if any, issued for purposes other than refunding, as the question of chief interest to the investor is, "how do the fixed charges on the old debt compare with those a year ago?" The one exception to this method of procedure is in the case of the Northern Pacific below, where we allow and deduct $40,000,000 as the amount of the Prior Lien bonds issued in the reorganization independent of the refunding of the general first 6s.

The final table brings together the results for all the companies as follows.

† Right to refund extended thus far to only about $18,000,000 of these.

By reason of this refunding, as appears from the table, there have been retired to a recent date about 125 millions of bonds, and there has been a total saving in the annual interest charge to the companies concerned of nearly sixteen hundred thousand dollars.

THE NEW STAMP TAXES AND THE FINANCIAL MARKETS.

The new internal revenue taxes imposed under the War Revenue Bill have been in operation a week now, and business in the financial markets is being gradually adjusted to them. It is a little early yet to say just what effect these new taxes will have upon the departments and markets most immediately concerned. No doubt in certain branches the additional burdens imposed will serve to restrict the volume of speculation and possibly also the amount of legitimate dealings. The foreign exchange market still remains more or less unsettled on account of the disturbance occasioned by the taxes, and here the disposition is to think that certain classes of operations will be made very difficult, if not impossible, hereafter, because of the added cost resulting from the taxes On the Stock Exchange dealings between members of the Exchange will necessarily be restricted, as with a tax of two dollars (per 100 shares) to pay, the cost of such business becomes a serious item. All confusion as to the application of the law in the matter of stock transfers and sales and as to whether a tax of five dollars per hundred shares must be paid or a tax of only two dollars, was cleared up in the letter written last week by Commissioner Scott to Collector McLain, of the First Pennsylvania District. On account of its importance and as a matter of record we print the substance of this letter below.

On the question of the construction of that part of Schedule A of the Act of June 13, 1898, imposing stamp tax on each original issue, whether on organization or reorganization, of certificates of stock, it is held that the meaning of the words "original issue" as herein used is limited and controlled by the words "whether on organization or reorganization," and that therefore the only certificates of stock on which the tax of five cents on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof is imposed by this Act are those certificates issued on or after July 1, 1898, on the organization or reorganization of a company.

In case of corporation having (for instance) an authorized capital stock of $1,500,000, of which it has issued only $500,000 prior to July 1, 1898, and on and after that date finds it necessary to make one or more additional issues under the authority possessed by it, each additional issue thus made is an original issue within the terms and meaning of the statute here under consideration, and the certificates of each issue are subject to the stamp tax. Where any original certificate issued is presented by the holder to the company or corporation for re-issuance on another certificate or certificates in lieu thereof, the certificate or certificates thereupon issued to take the place of the original certificate could not under the language and limitation of the statute before cited require any stamp as long as there is no sale, nor agreement to sell, nor memorandum of sale, nor transfer of any of these certificates issued in lieu of the original.

In case of sale, where the evidence of transfer is shown only by the books of the company, the tax of two cents is required to be paid on each $10 of face value or fraction thereof, and the stamp representing this is required to be placed upon such books. Where the change of ownership is by transfer certificate that is to say the executed authority to transfer is contained on the back of the stock certificate which is to be transferred—the stamp must be placed on the transfer certificate, that is to say upon the surrendered certificate containing the transfer. In case of agreement to sell or where the transfer is by delivery of the certificate assigned in blank, there must be executed a memorandum thereof to which the stamp is required to be affixed.

Under the ruling herein stated, in the case (that may be supposed) of a man who is the owner of a certificate for one hundred shares of stock and wishes to sell ten of these to another person, the result being that one certificate would be issued for the ten shares sold and also an additional certificate for the ninety shares still remaining in him, the certificate for ninety shares issued (with the certificate for ten shares sold) in lieu thereof does not require any stamp, and the certificate for ten shares does not require a stamp representing the tax of five cents on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof, as it is not an original issue. The only stamp required with reference to these certificates is a stamp on the transfer of the ten shares sold, representing payment of the tax of two cents on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof.

In another case (cited for illustration) where a man holds several certificates for shares of stock, aggregating one hundred shares, and for his convenience calls upon the company to issue to him in lieu thereof one certificate for one hundred shares, there being no sale nor agreement to sell, nor memorandum of sale or delivery or transfer of this new certificate, the statute does not require the affixing of any stamp thereto.

In the money market the new form of agreement with reference to call loans, as sanctioned by the Clearing House Committee, seems to be working well. Call loans are usually renewed from day to day, and the collateral is also apt to be changed from day to day. If with each renewal a new stamp had to be affixed, the tax would become prohibitory, since it would amount to three or four times the interest charge. The object, therefore, was to provide a continuous agreement, which would give the banks effective control of the collateral while relieving the borrower from the necessity of paying the tax over and over again. Annexed is the form of the new contract.

STAMP.

Know all Men by these Presents, That the undersigned, in consideration of financial accommodations given, or to be given, or continued to the undersigned by the.....Bank.....of the City of New York, hereby agree with the said Bank that whenever the undersigned shall become or remain, directly or contingently, indebted to the said Bank for money lent, or for money paid for the use or account of the undersigned, or for any overdraft or upon any endorsement, draft, guaranty or in any other manner whatsoever, or upon any other claim, the said Bank shall then and thereafter have the following rights, in addition to those created by the circumstances from which such indebtedness may arise against the undersigned, or his, or their executors, administrators or assigns, namely:

1. All securities deposited by the undersigned with said bank as collateral to any such loan or indebtedness of the undersigned to said bank shall also be held by said bank as security for any other liability of the undersigned to said bank, whether then existing or thereafter contracted; and said bank shall also have a lien upon any balance of the deposit account of the undersigned with said bank existing from time to time, and upon all property of the undersigned of every description left with said bank for safe-keeping or otherwise, or coming to the hands of said bank in any way, as security for any liability of the undersigned to said bank now existing or hereafter contracted.

2. Said bank shall at all times have the right to require from the undersigned that there shall be lodged with said bank as security for all existing liabilities of the undersigned to said bank, approved collateral securities to an amount satisfactory to said bank; and upon the failure of the undersigned at all times to keep up the margin of securities with said bank for such liabilities of the undersigned, satisfactory to said bank, or upon any failure in business or making of an insolvent assignment by the undersigned, then and in either event all liabilities of the undersigned to said bank shall at the option of said bank become immediately due and payable, notwithstanding any credit or time allowed to the undersigned by any instrument evidencing any of the said liabilities.

3. Upon failure of the undersigned either to pay any indebtedness to said bank when becoming or made due, or to keep up the margin of collateral securities above provided for, then and in either event said bank may immediately without advertisement, and without notice to the undersigned, sell any of the securities held by it as against any or all of the liabilities of the undersigned, at private sale or Broker's Board or otherwise and apply the proceeds of such sale as far as needed toward the payment of any or all of such liabilities, together with interest and expenses of sale, holding the undersigned responsible for any deficiency remaining unpaid after such application. If any such sale be at Broker's Board or at public auction, said bank may itself be a purchaser at such sale free from any right or equity of redemption of the undersigned, such right and equity being hereby expressly waived and released. Upon default as aforesaid, said bank may also apply toward the payment of the said liabilities all balances of any deposit account of the undersigned with said bank then existing.

It is further agreed that these presents constitute a continuing agreement, applying to any and all future as well as to existing transactions between the undersigned and said bank.

Clearings by Telegraph.—Sales of Stocks, Bonds, &c.—The subjoined table, covering clearings for the current week, usually appears on the first page of the Chronicle, but on account of the length of the other tables is crowded out once a month. The figures are received by telegraph from the leading cities. It will be observed that as compared with the corresponding week of 1897 there is an increase in the aggregate of 16·6 per cent. So far as the individual cities are concerned, New York exhibits a gain of 19·2 per cent, and the gains at other points are: Philadelphia 14·9 per cent, Baltimore 5·1 per cent, Chicago 20·4 per cent and St. Louis 21·7 per cent. Boston records a loss of 3·9 per cent and New Orleans 7·2 per cent. In both years Fourth of July holiday fell in this week.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, June 25, 1898.

So far as is known here in London there is practically no change with regard to the outlook of the war since I wrote on Saturday last. The announcement that the Spanish Government has made arrangement for the payment of the July cupon upon the foreign debt had been looked for. As it is felt that the United States Government is not yet in a position to terminate the war at once, it is feared that it may be still prolonged for a considerable time. The operations of the American fleet both in Cuba and in the Philippines, as well as the ever-varying accounts of the movements of the United States troops, are watched here with keen interest, as it is hoped that a decisive engagement will soon bring Spain to an appreciation of the futility of continuing the struggle. It is a matter of common knowledge that the Spanish Government is making most strenous efforts to raise further money in Paris, and last week, your readers will remember, it was announced that the Bank of Spain had once more been instructed to set the printing press working. The serious financial difficulties in which Spain is involved may of course compel her to give in, but the general impression is that she is not yet fully convinced that the longer she pursues the war the more disastrous it must be to herself.

The price of silver has recovered to 27¼d., Spain having again bought this week, and some purchases for other Continental buyers have been made. As yet India will not pay the higher price, but India would probably buy a good deal should any decline occur. Although the Bank of Bombay has this week reduced its official rate of discount from 10 to 9 per cent, there is still a strong demand for money in India. Owing to the fall in the price of wheat, importers in this country are less under the necessity to send money than two or three weeks ago, but there is still a strong demand for India Council bills. The applications on the part of the market for the 40 lacs offered for tender by the India Council on Wednesday last exceeded 232 lacs. The prices obtained for them were, however, slightly less than on the preceding Wednesday Exchange between this country and India is fractionally lower for the week. The total sale of India Council drafts for the financial year, which commenced on the 1st of April, exceeds £5,000,000 sterling as against a little over 2¼ millions at the corresponding date last year. The prices at which the India Council has been able to sell its drafts have been on an average nearly 1 3 16d. higher than those obtained twelve months ago.

Business upon the Stock Exchange, both in the investment and speculative departments, continues very quiet. In the parlance of the Stock Exchange, speculators see nothing at the moment to "go for," and consequently even the professional element are doing little or nothing either in American railroad securities, South African or West Australian gold mining shares, which now compose the principal speculative sections of our market. The reason for the prolonged dulness in the investment market is different, and it is caused partly by the very high prices to which the best classes of American securities have attained, and is partly owing to the activity of general trade in this country. The very wealthy and the trade classes generally have at a time like the present a variety of opportunities of profitably employing their capital to far greater advantage than by investing it in Stock Exchange securities. There is, for instance, at the moment, an active demand for money by all great shipbuilding firms and the allied trades affected by activity in the shipbuilding industry. In consequence the iron industry is also active, and ammunition factories find ample opportunities of employing any surplus balances which may be at their disposal. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that the trade classes generally decline to accept from 2 to 2⅝ per cent, which is, roughly, the return to be obtained from the highest class of investment securities, although as much as 3 per cent can be obtained in special cases; any return above that may be said to mean that in the opinion of the market the security has either never been or has ceased to be in the highest class. The professional people and those in receipt of fixed incomes, for the most part, are willing to take a certain amount of risk, provided that they see their way to a rise in capital value upon the securities purchased, as well as what they consider a fair rate of discount or interest.

The strike in the Welsh steam coal trade continues and there is no immediate prospect of a termination. From the outset the leaders of the men were opposed to the strike and advised them in the strongest terms not to engage in it, and the well informed both on the side of the men and on the side of the employers predicted a certain and speedy collapse. Nevertheless it has gone on now for months, and although terrible distress is reported from certain parts of the districts affected, it is not possible to predict when the end will come.

Apropos of the Welsh coal strike the Government announces that this year the autumn manœuvres of the British fleet will not take place. The official reason given is that owing to this trouble the authorities are unwilling to seriously reduce the reserve supply of Welsh steam coal on hand. At first this suggestion was not generally accepted, and questions on the subject were asked in Parliament. Now the general feeling is that the official explanation is the correct one.

The directors of the Bank of England, at their meeting on Thursday morning, made no change in their official rate of discount, which remains at 3 per cent. Speaking at a dinner given on Wednesday night at the Mansion House to the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the bankers and merchants of London, Mr. Hugh Collin Smith, the Governor of the Bank, following immediately the speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that the condition of the Bank, like that of the public purse, was remarkably strong, and he feared that he would not conciliate his friends, the bankers of London, when he assured them that for some months to come their profits would necessarily be very small. The fact is that chiefly owing to the absence of speculation on the Stock Exchange it is very difficult to find profitable employment for the balances which bankers have to lend, especially as upon a large proportion of their deposits they are allowing some rate of interest. Day-to-day money is in plentiful supply at about ½ per cent, and the discount rate for first class three months' bank bills is not more than 1¼ per cent. The Bank rate is expected to be reduced to 2½ or even to 2 per cent when the interest on the Funds is paid early in July, unless the American exchange further weakens and renewed gold shipments are threatened. It is, however, not believed that the U. S. will take gold from London until the autumn. The reserve of the Bank now closely approaches 28 millions sterling, against about 26 millions sterling at this time last year. Russia continues to buy all the bar gold arriving from the mines at 77s. 10d. per ounce. The Bank's price is now 77s. 9d.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—There was a sharp advance in prices at the opening of the Stock Exchange on Tuesday morning, immediately following the holiday period. This advance brought out more liberal offerings, which in turn were followed by a gradual decline that continued through Wednesday. As the week advanced, however, there was a change in the tone of the markets It became apparent that investors generally believe that Spanish-American affairs are nearing a crisis, and therefore security values are likely to enhance. Other factors are largely lost sight of in view of the interest which is manifested in military and naval operations. On Thursday and to day there has been a good demand for high-grade investment shares at advancing prices. Business in the foreign exchange market has been near the minimum in volume, as the demand incident to the July 1st settlements seems to be about over.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¼ to 2 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¼ to 2 per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3½ to 4 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £1,431,555, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 46 39, against 48 69 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 1,200,000 francs in gold and 125,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of July 2 showed an increase in the reserve held of $2,939,000 and a surplus over the required reserve of $62,013,550, against $62,206,250 the previous week.

State & Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board include $35,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 91 to 91½; $28,000 Virginia fund debt 2-3s of 1991 at 71; $1,000 Louisiana con. 4s at 102, and $1,000 District of Columbia 3s at 116.

The market for railway bonds has been relatively steady, on a volume of business limited to a little more than $2,000,000, par value, per day, and was somewhat better distributed than has usually been the case of late. Although the undertone was strong, there was not a sufficient demand to cause a general advance, and in the active list changes are about evenly divided between higher and lower quotations. Kings County Elevated 1sts and New York Susquehanna & Western general 5s were conspicuous for an advance of 8½ and 2 points respectively. St. Louis & Iron Mountain 5s and Texas & Pacific 1sts advanced over a point.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market opened with a rush of buying orders on Tuesday morning. The favorable war news had directly or indirectly created a demand for stocks, and opening prices were in many cases from 1 to 2 points above the close last week. There was a reaction, which continued through Wednesday, and resulted in a decline averaging about one half or more of the advance noted above. On Thursday and to day there has been a better demand, which carried Pennsylvania, New York Central and some other so called Vanderbilt shares above the previous highest prices of the week, and gave a firmer tone to the whole market. Otherwise the movement of the railway list has been generally uniform, and net results show higher quotations in most cases. Pullman's Palace Car advanced to 216, a price which was not sustained. It fell on Wednesday to 208, and closes at 210.

a Net earnings here given are after deducting taxes.

b Net earnings here given are before deducting taxes.

* Deducting other expenditures for repairs, replacements and general expenses, net income applicable to interest on bonds in May was $93,332, against $129,487 last year, and for January 1 to May 31 $459,174, against $667,870. This is the result in Mexican dollars treated (according to the company's method of keeping its accounts) as equivalent to 80 cents in United States money—that is, depreciation beyond 20 per cent has already been allowed for.

Interest Charges and Surplus.—The following roads, in addition to their gross and net earnings given in the foregoing, also report charges for interest, &c., with the surplus or deficit above or below those charges.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of June 18, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of July 23, 1898.

The amount to credit of profit and loss May 31, 1898, was $5,369,100 while the company's capital stock is only $5,000,000. The funded debt at present consists of $1,351,000 of 5 per cent bonds, due Feb. 1, 1907; the excess of current resources over current liabilities is $3,139,722. The report, moreover, does not include a contract, representing $1,000,000 or so of business, for forgings and armor plate for the Russian war vessels being built by the Cramps.

The directors were re elected without change, except that George H. Myers who retired on account of illness was succeeded by R. W. Davenport.—V. 66, p. 663.

American Bell Telephone Co.—New Bonds.—Additional Particulars.—Below we give the form of bond of the $5,000,000 four per cent ten-year debentures which were purchased recently by Lee, Higginson & Co., of Boston. Of these bonds two fifths are to be paid for July 1, 1898, and three fifths July 29, 1898.

These bonds are part of an authorized issue of $10 000,000 and are issued to provide money to take up the $2,000,0 0 7 per cent debentures due Aug. 1, 1898, and to provide means for new construction. The remaining $5,0' 0,000 bonds may be issued at the pleasure of the company. A Massachusetts statute limits the issue of bonds by a corporation like the Bell to one-half its outstanding stock. The company's stock at present is $25,8·6 300.

FORM OF DEBENTURE BOND.

FOUR PER CENTS DUE 1908.—PAYABLE IN LAWFUL MONEY.

$1,000. For Value Received The American Bell Telephone Co. will pay, at the office of its Treasurer in the City of Boston, to the bearer hereof, or in case of registration to the registered holder hereof, the sum of $1,000 in lawful money of the United States, on the first day of July in the year 1908, with interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July in each year on presentation and surrender of the proper annexed coupons.

THIS ISSUE IS $10,000,000.

This bond is one of ten thousand bonds of like tenor and amount, numbered from one to ten thousand consecutively. The American Bell Telephone Co. has executed an indenture with the Old Colony Trust Co. as representative and for the benefit of the holders of all said bonds, wherein said The American Bell Telephone Co. covenants:

COMPANY COVENANTS NOT TO IMPAIR THE SECURITY OF BONDS.

First. That it will not create any incumbrance upon its property that will impair the security of said bonds.

AND TO SECURE THEM BY ANY FUTURE MORTGAGE.

Second. That if any mortgage or other incumbrance be placed hereafter upon its property or any of it, said bonds and each and all of them shall be included therein and secured thereby.

BUT RESERVES RIGHT TO ISSUE OTHER SIMILAR BONDS.

But these covenants shall not preclude the issuing of further bonds of like nature.

PRINCIPAL BUT NOT COUPONS MAY BE REGISTERED.

This bond, when payable to bearer, may be registered on the books of the company in the name of the holder. Thereafter title shall pass only by transfer registered on the books of the company and certified hereon by the Treasurer, unless and until a transfer to bearer shall have been so registered and certified. Such registration shall apply only to the principal of this bond and not to its coupons.

CERTIFICATION, ETC.

This bond will be valid only when authenticated by a certificate endorsed hereon signed by the said Old Colony Trust Co.

In witness whereof the company has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed and this obligation to be signed by its President and Treasurer, and the coupons hereto annexed to be attested by the name of said Treasurer, at Boston, this first day of July in the year 1898.

(Seal.) Treasurer. President.—V. 66, p. 1138.

American Graphophone Co. of Washington.—New Stock.—The additional issue of $200,000 7 per cent stock is reported to have been taken entirely by the stockholders.

American Steel & Wire.—First Dividend.—The company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable August 1. The stock is now dealt in in the unlisted department of the New York Stock Exchange. The company was incorporated in March, 1898, with an authorized capital of $12,000 000 7 per cent preferred and $12,000,000 common stock.—V. 66, p. 615.

Arcadian Copper Co.—Consolidation.—This company has been organized in Boston, under the laws of Michigan, to own and operate copper mines in the Lake Superior district, which have been acquired by Standard Oil and other interests. The capital stock is $2,500,000, in $25 shares, on which $20 per share, or $2,000,000, has been paid in, providing a development fund in addition to the purchase money. The officers and directors are as follows:

Directors—Albert C. Burrage, of Boston, representative of the Standard Oil Co. in that city; Henry H. Rogers, of New York, Vice-President and Trustee of the Standard Oil Co.; William Rockefeller, of Newark, President of the Standard Oil Co.; Charles D. Burrage, of Boston; Nathan F. Leopold, of Chicago; Henry G. Foreman, of Chicago; William A. Paine, of Boston; Sidney Chase, of Boston; J. H. Rice, of Houghton, Mich.

Officers—President, Albert C. Burrage; General Manager, Nathan F. Leopold; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles D. Burrage.

Altogether, seventeen tracts of land, aggregating 2,846 acres, it is stated, have been acquired in Houghton County including 60 acres formerly belonging to the old Arcadian Mining Co., 320 acres to the Edwards Mining Co., 320 acres to the St. Mary's Canal Mineral Land Co., 161 acres to the Concord Copper Co., 160 acres to the Douglas Mining Co. The new company has a valuable mill site on Portage Lake, and, it is claimed, embraces extensions of the Huron, Kearsarge, Isle Royale and other well-known copper lodes. The Arcadian, it is estimated, has 2½ miles on the outcrop of lode, with an estimated depth of over two miles in sinking, at an angle of 35 degrees.

Atlanta Consolidated Street Ry.—Proposed Reduction of Interest.—"A plan is now being considered by the stockholders of the Consolidated Street Railway Company looking to a reduction of the interest on the outstanding bonds of the corporation For the last two years the bonds have paid 5 per cent interest, and it is proposed to lower the rate to 4 per cent, which will reduce the expenses of the company more than $30,000 a year."—"Atlanta Constitution."—V. 63, p. 27.

Baltimore City Passenger Ry.—New Stock Authorized.—The stockholders at their meeting on Thursday voted to issue 40,000 additional shares of stock, par value of $25 per share. The new stock, it is stated, will be offered to the stockholders at $30 per share, permission having been secured from the Legislature to sell additional stock at that figure. This will give the company $2,000,000 to pay off obligations and leave a substantial surplus for future use. "Baltimore Sun" says:

Of the amount, $ 00,000 will be used to pay for the Central Railway, recently purchased $270 000, to pay for the bonds of the Baltimore Middle River & Sparrow's Point Ry., purchased by the company some time ago, and about $150,000 to retire loans for sundry improvements that have been made and existing contracts for further improvements. This includes the cost for equipment of the Red and White lines for operation by electricity. These payments will aggregate about $1,42 ,000, leaving about $6:0,000 for future extensions, improvements and equipment.

The actual increase of the capital stock is $1,000,000, making the total capital stock $3,500,000.—V. 67, p. 28.

Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg.—Allegheny & Western Ry.—Contracts Let.—The "Railroad Gazette" says: "All the contracts for grading and bridging have been let on the Allegheny & Western extension from Punxsutawney, Pa., west 98 miles to Newcastle. There will be a 700-foot tunnel near Buffalo Mills. Some of the cuts are very heavy. The contract for grading to the Moss Grove Bridge was let some time ago." At New Castle connection will be made with the Cleveland & New Castle Ry., which the Lake Erie & Western is building to that city from Akron, O. With these new roads completed the two systems will form a new through route from Illinois to Western New York.—V. 66, p. 1038, 759.

Central Branch Union Pacific Ry.—Successor Company.—The sale of the Central Branch Union Pacific RR. having been confirmed, the new company has been organized under the title of the Central Branch Union Pacific Railway Company. The company will be controlled by the Missouri Pacific. The line extends from Atchison, Kan., to Waterville, Kan., 100 miles. The officers are: President, James W. Ham; Vice President, Edward H. Ladd, Jr.; Secretary, F. S. Blakeslee, and Treasurer, Gilmer Clapp.

Twenty Per Cent Cash Distribution.—New Bonds Ready Aug. 1.—The reorganization committee notifies the holders of certificates of deposit for Atchison & Pike's Peak first mortgage 6s and Central Branch Union Pacific funded coupon 7s that the Union Trust Co. of New York is ready to make the cash payment of 20 per cent provided for in the plan of reorganization as amended May 20, 1898, upon presentation of the certificates. It is expected that the Trust Company will be ready to deliver the new 4 per cent bonds by Aug. 1st and will do so without further notice.—V. 66, p. 1139.

Central Electric Ry.—Northeast Electric Ry. of Kansas City.—New Company.—The Central Electric Ry. of Kansas City, with a capital stock of $1,000,000 authorized and $500,000 paid in, has filed articles of incorporation in Kansas City. Samuel M. Jarvis of New York City owns all the shares but six. W. C Scarritt, R. R Conklin, F. S. Groves, William M. Reid, E. S. Youmans and E. G. Vaughan own one share apiece. The "Kansas City Star" says, it is designed that this company should absorb, or at least control, the company of which these same men are the chief stockholders, known as the Northeast Electric Railway Co. Numerous extensions are projected.

Central Pacific RR.—House Passes Amendment.—At Washington, on Wednesday, the house passed the Pacific Railroad Amendment to the deficiency appropriation bill, as amended by the Senate, authorizing the appointment of a commission to settle the Pacific Railroad debt. The Amendment was given in the last CHRONICLE.—V. 67, p. 37.

Chattanooga Rapid Transit Co.—Belt Railway Co. of Chattanooga.—Trackage Rights.—The Alabama Great Southern RR. Co., as the lessee of the Belt Railway Co. of Chattanooga, has granted to the Chattanooga Rapid Transit Co. trackage rights over certain parts of the Belt Railway Company's lines, aggregating about 13 miles in length, the lines being equipped electrically by the Rapid Transit Company. The Rapid Transit Company is granted the exclusive right to handle all passenger, mail and express traffic on the lines referred to, while the exclusive right to handle freight traffic on the said lines is reserved to the Alabama Great Southern RR. Co. The Chattanooga Rapid Transit Co. pays a fixed rental for the use of the property, based upon 6 per cent on the agreed valuation thereof. The trackage agreement covers, it will be noticed, only a portion of the 25 miles of road owned by the Belt Railway Co.—V. 63, p. 699.

Chicago Peoria & St. Louis RR.—Sale of Hypothecated Securities.—Dent, Palmer & Co., of 27 Pine St., advertise that they will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the city of New York, through Messrs. R. V. Harnett & Co., on July 18, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon, the following securities pledged with them by the railroad company:

Chicago Peoria & St. Louis RR. 1st M. 4s (Jan. 1, 1897, and subsequent coupons on)	$2,100,000
Chicago Peoria & St. Louis RR. preferred stock	1,075,000
Do do do common stock	297,900
Jacksonville & St. Louis Ry. income bonds (July 1, 1897, and all subsequent coupons attached)	201,000
Jacksonville & St. Louis Ry. stock (voting trustee certf.)	100,000

The sale of this collateral is preliminary to reorganization, which, it is understood, will be undertaken at once, and the fixed charges brought within the earning capacity. The present first mortgage bondholders will be asked to give up a part of their holding for a debenture security.—V. 66, p. 1237.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry.—Debentures Called for Payment.—The formal notice calling for payment of the entire issue of debenture bonds is being advertised. The bonds will be paid Sept. 1, 1898, at 105 and interest at the United States Trust Co.—V. 66, p. 1237.

City of Chicago Brewing & Malting.—Official Circular.—No Interim Dividend.—The circular sent to the stockholders regarding the non-payment of an interim dividend is substantially as follows:

For the six months to the 31st of March last sales of beer were very satisfactory, as they amounted to 158,474 barrels, being a net increase of 16,302 barrels when compared with the same six months of the previous year. Profits in the same period have, however, not been satisfactory, owing to the continued competition, chiefly of brewers outside of Chicago. This competition continued steadily up to the middle of May last, when the competition had so far ceased that the selling price might safely be raised. Prices of materials are ruling considerably higher than last year, but at the present selling price business for the remainder of the current year should be satisfactory. It is anticipated that an additional war duty of $1 per barrel will be enforced, but it is understood that this will be met by a corresponding advance in price. The plants are reported in excellent order. The directors regret that in consequence of the unsatisfactory business in the first half of the year they are unable at the present time to declare an interim dividend on preference shares. It is anticipated, however, if the present conditions are maintained, that it will be possible to pay a dividend on the preference shares in December next.—V. 67, p. 28.

Columbus (O.) Central Ry.—Stockholders Held Liable.—Master Commissioner George B. Okey has made a report showing the assessments to be levied on the stock under the liability clause of the Ohio laws. The "Ohio State Journal" says: "The list of those holding stock is given in the report and they are all told they will have to make good the bills of the company. It is estimated that the company owes to different parties in the State or mostly in the City of Columbus $278,699 74, and this is the sum that must be met by the stockholders." Of the 15,000 shares issued by the company, 14,083 shares are in the hands of the defendants named in the report. The remaining shares are held by persons outside of the jurisdiction of the Court. The company has outstanding $1,500,000 first mortgage 5s, sold at 80.—V. 65, p. 1023.

Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brooklyn—Kings County Electric Light & Power.—Negotiations.—The stock of Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brooklyn has advanced sharply within a week or two on the understanding that negotiations are pending for the acquisition of the property by the Kings County Electric Light & Power Co.

The latter is a new company which in September last increased its capital stock from $350,000 to $2,500,000, and made an issue of bonds, selling the latter, it is said, at 90, with a bonus of 75 per cent in stock. The company purchased in Brooklyn for about $535,000 the block extending from the East River to John Street, between Bridge and Gold streets, Brooklyn, and has built on it a large electric-light and power plant. Last December it had laid 50 miles of subway, and recently it underbid the Edison Company for the city lighting contract, but there was delay in awarding the contract and it was claimed the new company was not prepared to supply the electricity required. Among those said to be interested in the Kings County Company are Roswell P. Flower, Anthony N. Brady, William Berri, Seth L. Keeney and Felix Campbell, President of the People's Trust Co. Charles Cooper is a director.

If this deal is successfully consummated, it will place the Kings County Company in practically complete possession of the electric-lighting field of the borough of Brooklyn.—V. 66, p. 1044.

Duluth Street Ry.—Receiver Appointed.—President L. Mendenhall has been appointed receiver on application of Thomas Lowry of Minneapolis, one of the stockholders and creditors. This move is said to be preparatory to reorganization.

Elyton (Land) Co. of Birmingham, Ala.—Receiver Appointed.—This company, which developed Birmingham, Ala., and which still owns a great amount of property in that city, was not in a position to pay the interest on its $1,796,000 of 5 per cents on July 1, and F. M. Billing, a director, was therefore appointed receiver. President J. K. McDonald has made a statement, in which he says:

The company's difficulties date back to the original issue of $2,400,000 of ten-year 6 per cent dividend trust bonds by the Elyton Land Co. in 1888. The bonds were secured by real estate mortgage notes, covering improved property sold at greatly inflated values. The company bought up and canceled $604,000 of these bonds, and up to 1894 paid the interest on the remainder by collections from trust fund notes, but at that time it became apparent that the remainder of the trust fund notes were largely uncollectible in money. It was then, in 1891, that the Elyton Company was organized, purchasing the assets and assuming the liabilities of the Elyton Land Co., and funding the dividend trust bonds still outstanding, amounting to $1,794,000, by an issue of thirty-year 5 per cent bonds, secured by a first mortgage upon the assets of the company, the shareholders voluntarily agreeing that no dividend should ever be paid upon their stock until after the payment of the entire bonded debt of the company. The dividend trust bonds outstanding, except $120,000, were promptly exchanged for the Elyton Company 5 per cents.

Out of 2,000 shares of stock of the Elyton Land Co. there was one shareholder owning five shares of the par value of $500 who protested and brought suit for a receiver. This suit hampered the company for more than two years. The panic of 1893 put a stop to real estate transactions and necessitated a floating debt in order to meet the interest charges. A short period of financial improvement was followed in its turn by a smallpox epidemic, then a yellow fever epidemic, and its more disastrous ally, the shotgun quarantine. Then came the two suits filed by the dividend trust bondholders in January last, which threw a cloud upon the company's titles and further injured its credit. Last of all came the war.

"The directors believe that if the company were tided over these temporary embarrassments the conditions would certainly improve sufficiently within a few years to enable it to pay its floating debt and begin materially to reduce its bonded debt. But in the face of the suits filed in January last by holders of the unexchanged dividend trust bonds the company has been reluctantly forced into receiver's hands.

Galveston La Porte & Houston Ry.—Sold.—At the sale on Tuesday the property was purchased by George C. Holt, of Woodstock, Conn., the only bidder, for $100,000.—V. 66, p. 1140.

Gas Company of Luzerne County.—Officers.—This company, controlling the entire gas business of Wilkesbarre, Penn., has been organized as follows:

Officers.—President, Abram Nesbitt, President Second National Bank, Wilkesbarre; Vice President, John W. Hollenback, President People's Bank, Wilkesbarre; Secretary and Treasurer, E. W. Mulligan, Cashier, Second National Bank, Wilkesbarre.

Directors.—Besides the above officers, Edward C. Jones, of New York; Liddon Flick, C. E. Stegmaier, Elwin H. Jones, Irving H. Stearns and John Flanigan, of Wilkesbarre.

Bonds Over Subscribed.—The company has issued a mortgage of $750,000 and stock for the same amount, and at a recent offering of the bonds for subscription they were doubly subscribed, and the allotment was but 50 per cent.—V. 66, p. 1090.

Indianapolis (Ind.), Water.—Proposition to City.—The city of Indianapolis, which for some time past has been considering the advisability of purchasing the Indianapolis Water Co., has received from William B Hord, of 44 Wall Street, representing the company, a letter saying:

The owners of more than three-fourths of the stock assure me that they will favor a sale of the property to the city and give immediate possession on the plan indicated in my former letter to you, viz:

If the city will agree to pay the company $120,000 per annum hydrant rental for twenty-five years [in place of $80,000 yearly as now] they will favor a sale of the entire capital stock of the Indianapolis Water Co. [$500,000] to the city of Indianapolis for the sum of $200,000 cash, subject to a mortgage indebtedness of $4,350,000 bearing 5 per cent interest per annum, excepting $500,000 of said indebtedness, which now bears 6 per cent interest, and becomes due in 1911. Said indebtedness is to be payable by the Water Company in instalments of $75,000 for the first five years and increasing annually thereafter as the principal is paid and the interest becomes correspondingly reduced.

This indebtedness is to be secured by a mortgage upon the water works and to be in no sense a liability or obligation of the city, and to be paid only out of the revenues of the Water Company.

The following is a statement of the revenue and operating expenses:

Annual revenues from private consumers for the year ending April 1, 1898	$216,430
Estimated increase in revenue for current year	3,570
Hydrant rental, as proposed	120,000
Total revenue	$340,000
Operating expenses [estimated from results at Louisville]	80,000
Surplus earnings	$260,000

Of the surplus earnings at least $75,000 per annum must be applied for the first five years to the reduction of the principal of the debt; $172,500 will be required the first year to pay interest, and the remainder can be applied, if necessary, to betterments and improvements. As the principal of the debt is reduced, the interest charge is also reduced, and the balance available to pay the principal of the debt and for improvements becomes larger each year, so that the entire indebtedness of the Water Company can be paid out of the present earnings of the plant, including the proposed hydrant rentals, in less than twenty-five years, and a fund set apart for betterments and improvements.

The company has 182 miles of mains and 7,700 consumers.

Joliet RR.—$200 000 Bonds Offered.—The Portland (Me.) Trust Co., the mortgage trustee, offers for sale at par and interest $200,000 first consolidated mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, dated April 30, 1898, due in twenty years, without option. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin. The following facts are given:

The total authorized mortgage is $500,000, of which $75,000 has been reserved to take up an equal amount of 6 per cent bonds due in 1904. $100,000 additional has also been reserved for future improvements. Of the balance ($325,000) $125,000 has been sold to private parties, leaving the above $200,000 now offered on the market. The capital stock is $500,000, a majority of which is owned by Portland capitalists. There is no floating debt. The road has a franchise for fifty years. The President of the Railroad Co. is Weston F. Milliken; Treasurer, Henry P. Cox, and Secretary, Edward Woodman—all of Portland. The length of track is over twenty-one miles, making the bonded debt less than $20,000 per mile.

The gross and net earnings are rapidly increasing (the current net earnings being about 30 per cent over those of 1897), so that the road is now earning net upwards of $40,000 a year. The interest charges are $20,750, or about one-half of the net earnings.—V. 66, p. 914.

Kansas City Watkins & Gulf RR.—Meeting of Bondholders July 12.—By virtue of a decree of the Court the master appointed to ascertain what bonds are entitled to the security of the mortgage of February 1st, 1890, will hold a public meeting at the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., 22 William Street, New York, on Tuesday, July 12th, 1898, at 11 o'clock A. M. Holders of bonds may present the same then, and persons having objections to any bonds presented may then make their objections.—V. 66, p. 520.

Kings County Traction.—Nassau Electric RR.—Suit Discontinued.—The suit by Crowell Hadden, representing the minority stockholders of the Kings County Traction Co., to enjoin the majority stockholders from disposing of the stock, has been discontinued.

Sale.—The directors of the Kings County Traction Co., pursuant to Section 57 of the Stock Corporation Law, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, New York, on July 14, 1898, the assets of the company, as follows:

39,987 shares of the capital stock of the Atlantic Avenue RR. Co., of Brooklyn, and options upon the remaining 13 shares of said capital stock, and also options upon 9 shares of the capital stock of the Brooklyn Bath & West End RR. Co. All of these shares and options are now deposited with the Central Trust Co., subject to the terms of an option agreement, dated April 4, 1896 executed between the Nassau Electric RR. and the Brooklyn Traction Co., and are to be sold subject thereto.

This sale is preparatory to the winding up of the company's affairs.—V. 66, p. 900; V. 67, p. 29.

Lake Street Elevated RR. of Chicago.—Mortgage Trusteeship.—Judge Brown, of the United States Supreme Court, has granted a stay on appeal of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. from the decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois affirming the decision of Judge Payne, which held that the New York corporation could not transact business in Illinois unless a deposit of $20,000 was made.

Judge Payne's decision was affirmed by the higher court on the ground that in the case in question, that of the trusteeship of the mortgage issued by the Lake Street Elevated Ry. Co., the mortgage required the trustee to do business in Illinois and that the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. could not do business without making a deposit under the Illinois law. Since Judge Payne's decision the law has been changed, and the mortgage trustees exempted, but this law was passed after Judge Payne's decision.—V. 66, p. 1237.

Maryland Traction—Eckington & Soldiers' Home Ry. City & Suburban Ry. of Washington.—Reorganization.—New Bonds.—Judge Ritchie, in the Circuit Court July 1, signed the final order authorizing the transfer to the Maryland Traction Co. and the Baltimore Security & Trading Co. of all of the property and franchises of the Columbia & Maryland Railway purchased by the Security Company at the foreclosure sale.

Mr. Francis K. Carey gave the following explanation of the plans of his clients for establishing trolley service from Washington to Laurel and eventually to Catonsville and Baltimore.

"Our clients will now be enabled to consummate all their plans. The Maryland Traction Co. will sell to the Baltimore Consolidated Ry the line extending from Howard and Saratoga streets, in Baltimore, to Ellicott City, by way of Catonsville, and will sell to the Eckington & Soldiers' Home Railway, of the District of Columbia, the line of railway extending from the District line to Laurel. The Maryland Traction Co. will continue to own the other railway franchises formerly owned by the Columbia & Maryland Railway, which will authorize it to connect Laurel with the Catonsville Short Line.

"The Security Company will at once obtain possession of the stocks and bonds of the Short Line, the Eckington & Soldiers' Home and the Maryland & Washington railways. Under an Act of Congress, which was approved by the President this week, the Eckington Company was authorized to buy the property and franchises of the Maryland & Washington Co., and the line of railway between the District line and Laurel, and to change its name to 'City & Suburban Railway of Washington.' Meetings of stockholders have been called for July 14 to consummate these purchases and to unite the three lines under one system. At the same time the issue of bonds of the City & Suburban Railway Co. of Washington, will be authorized for the purpose of providing funds for the immediate reconstruction and equipment of the system.

"The Laurel line will only be constructed and operated for the present so far as Berwyn, a short distance north of Hyattsville, but the extension of the system to Laurel in the near future is contemplated. A syndicate headed by the Baltimore Trust & Guarantee Co., has underwritten the entire issue of bonds and the construction contracts will be given out at once. The underground electric system will be used in Washington City and the overhead trolley over the rest of the line.

"Mr O. T. Crosby has been elected President of the Washington system, and the directors are Messrs. Henry A. Parr, Thos J. Hayward, Henry P. Scott, Robert S. Carswell, David M. Newbold, W. Kesley Schoeff, John Ridout and Robert C. Davidson. The City & Suburban Railway of Washington will own and operate about 26 miles of railway."—V. 66, p. 1000; V. 63, p. 559.

Milwaukee & Chicago Breweries, Limited.—Official Circular as to Non-Payment of Interim Dividend.—The stockholders received substantially the following:

The sales for the six months to March 31, 1898, have been good, amounting to 273,706 barrels, compared with 260,403 barrels in the corresponding period of the previous year. In the eight months to May 31 the increase amounted to 19,933 barrels. The disturbance in trade which commenced in October last has been more severe than was anticipated, and continued up to May 13 last, when the selling price of beer was restored. This competition has affected the profits of the company adversely, and the directors regret that they must for the present postpone payment of the interim dividend on the preference shares, which is usually distributed in June. With the improved selling price profits for the remainder of the year, which embraces the best months for beer sales, should be satisfactory, and the dividend distribution will be made at the earliest possible moment. Prices of materials will be higher this year, but the increased sale will somewhat counteract this. An additional war tax of $1 per barrel has been imposed on beer, but it is believed that there will be no difficulty in raising the price to meet the tax.—V. 67, p. 29.

Milwaukee Electric Ry. & Light Co.—Injunction is Served.—The permanent injunction restraining the city of Milwaukee from attempting to place the 4 cent fare ordinance in effect was served upon the city on July first. We hear of no move to appeal the case.—V. 66, p. 1234.

Monongahela Street Ry. of Pittsburg.—$1,000,000 New Bonds.—An official says: "This company has absorbed the Homestead & Highlands, the Braddock & Homestead and the Braddock & Duquesne Street Ry. companies (the latter road now being built) by an agreement of consolidation or merger dated May 26, 1898. It is the intention of the Monongahela Company to re-build the old lines and to build the necessary new lines to form a continuous double-track road from the boroughs of Braddock, Duquesne and Homestead, passing through the boulevard and park district of Pittsburg and entering the business portion of that city by virtue of a trackage agreement with the Consolidated Traction Co. When the road now under way is completed, the company will own about seventeen miles of double track, including branches, and will have, under its agreement with the Consolidated Traction Co., five additional miles, making a total length of road operated twenty two miles. The road is to be improved throughout and fully re equipped with new rolling stock. This work is now under way and is expected to be completed early in September.

"The White Traction Co. (or the McKeesport Duquesne & Wilmerding Street Ry. Co.) has not been acquired.

"The Monongahela Company has retired all of the underlying bonded indebtedness and capital stock of the companies merged in it and has itself issued $1,000,000 of full paid stock and has authorized a bonded indebtedness of $1,000,000 The bonds are secured by a mortgage dated June 1, 1898, made to the Union Trust Co of Pittsburg, Pa., as trustee. The bonds bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable, free of tax, June 1 and Dec. 1 in each year, and the principal is payable at the expiration of thirty years. Both principal and interest are payable in gold.

"The Monongahela Street Ry. Co. has no floating indebtedness, having $400,000 of bonds in the treasury for the completion of improvements now under way. The mortgage provides for no sinking fund and provides for foreclosure in case of default in payment of any interest coupon for thirty days. The Monongahela Street Railway Co. has guaranteed no bonds of other companies, and the mortgage above referred to is a first mortgage on all its properties."

Messrs. T. Mellon & Sons. of Pittsburg arranged the consolidation.—V. 66, p. 960.

Muskegon Grand Rapids & Indiana RR.—Coupon Payment —Coupons due Jan. 1, 1896, are being paid at office of Winslow, Lanier & Co., 17 Nassau Street.—V. 66, p. 426.

New England Telephone & Telegraph.—New Stock Authorized.—The stockholders on Wednesday duly authorized the proposed increase in the capital stock from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.—V. 67, p. 29.

Newfoundland & Transinsular Ry.—First Train.—This road, it is stated, is now open, the first through train having run June 30, from St. Johns to Port Aux Basques, 548 miles, in twenty four hours. From the latter point the ferry steamer Bruce takes passengers to Sydney, C. B., in six hours, connecting with the railway systems of Canada and the United States. The service gives Newfoundland tri-weekly connection with the American Continent.—V. 65, p. 729.

New York Susquehanna & Western RR.—Erie RR.—Property Transferred.—Change of Officers.—The formal transfer of the New York Susquehanna & Western to the Erie took place July 1, the executive officers of the latter taking the places of the Susquehanna executives, except that F. P. Moore, now Second Vice-President and Treasurer of the Susquehanna, is retained with the title of Third Vice-President. E. D. McKelvey also remains as General Superintendent, and the other places are filled by Erie men. The Susquehanna will continue to be operated separately, and its passenger business will still come in by the Pennsylvania terminals; but its freight and milk business will be switched into the Erie yards. The coal traffic will, of course, be kept at the Edgewater terminals, further up the river.—V. 66, p. 901.

Ohio Southern.—Sale Aug. 20.—The foreclosure sale is set for Aug. 20. The sale will be under the first mortgage, of which the Central Trust Co. is trustee.—V. 66, p. 1002.

People's Gas Light & Coke.—Litigation.—As a matter of record, mention should be made of the two suits now pending against the company in the Circuit Court at Chicago. One of these was brought by James Doane Livingston, as holder of $15,000 bonds. This suit seeks to review the constitutionality of the recently enacted Illinois law, under which the various gas properties were consolidated, to vacate the $40,000,000 mortgage of 1897 in so far as it applies to the three constituent companies—the People's, the Chicago Gas Light & Coke and the Equitable—and incidentally to restrain further payment of dividends pending the determination of the suit. Mr. Livingston's New York attorneys are Hawkins, Delafield & Sturgis, of 111 Broadway. The case was filed before Judge Dunne on May 24, and depositions from the plaintiffs were ordered to be furnished during the present month.

The other suit (or rather suits, each complainant having filed a bill) was instituted June 25 by Maurice Steernbach, Charles Steernbach and Abraham Hermann, New York importers, who hold $42,000 in bonds of the Equitable Gas Light & Coke Co. The complainants in this instance seek to have a receiver appointed for the corporation, to have the Act of the Legislature under which the consolidation was formed declared unconstitutional and to have the Central Trust Co. of New York removed as trustee for having failed to make the cash deposit required of trust companies doing business in Illinois. The Ogden Gas Co. is made a defendant, the bills declaring that through a secret arrangement the Ogden company is a party to the monopoly and is about to turn over its assets to the trust and become a member. This case, which was to have come before Judge Tuley on Monday, was postponed, owing to the illness of the Judge.

The People's company attaches no importance to these suits, claiming they are of the same nature as much litigation to which the properties concerned have been subjected in the past.—V. 66, p. 1238.

Peoria Decatur & Evansville Ry.—Default on Peoria Firsts.—The non-payment of interest July first on the Peoria division bonds completes a six months' default, and under the terms of the mortgage the principal can now be declared due. It is stated that foreclosure proceedings will now be pushed.—V. 66, p. 1234.

Philadelphia Reading & New England RR.—Foreclosure Sale Oct. 6.—The foreclosure sale is advertised for Oct. 6 at Poughkeepsie. The upset price is $2,140,000.—V. 66. p. 901.

Potomac Electric Power, Washington, D. C.—New Stock and Bonds —The stockholders on June 29 voted to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000, of which $250,000 to be 6 per cent voting non-cumulative preferred stock and $750,000 shall be common stock, all in shares of $100 each. The company has also made a mortgage to the United States Mortgage & Trust Co., as trustee, to secure $750,000 of 5 per cent $1,000 bonds, payable June 1, 1948. The deed covers all the company's property, rights and franchises. The present liabilities amount to $380,000.

Pullman's Palace Car Co.—Extra Cash Dividend of 20 Per Cent.—The usual quarterly dividend of $2 per share from net earnings has been declared and also a special cash dividend of $20 per share, both payable Aug. 15 to stockholders of record at close of business Aug. 1, 1898.

Proposed Stock Dividend of 50 Per Cent.—Dividend Rule.—The board of directors recommend that the surplus assets, to the extent of $18,000,000, existing at the end of the current fiscal year, should be distributed to the stockholders through a stock dividend of 50 per cent, and that for that purpose the capital stock should be increased from $36,000,000 to $54,000,000. They further recommend a reduction in the dividend rate on the stock as increased from 8 per cent to 6 per cent per annum. At this latter rate the stockholder on his increased holdings will receive annually in dividends an amount equivalent to 9 per cent on his original stock.

The resolutions adopted by the board of directors at their meeting July 1 were as follows:

Resolved, That a quarterly dividend (No. 126) of $2 per share from net earnings be declared payable on and after Aug. 15 to stockholders of record at close of business Aug. 1, 1898.

Resolved, That a special dividend of $20 per share be declared, payable on and after Aug. 15 to stockholders at close of business Aug. 1, 1898.

Resolved, That the board of directors of this company are of opinion that surplus assets of this company to the extent of $18,000,000 existing at the end of the current fiscal year should be distributed to the stockholders of the company, and that for such purpose the capital stock of this company should be increased to the sum of $54,000,000, and that the increase of stock should be issued to shareholders of the company in the ratio of one share for each two held by them, and that the board of directors will recommend action accordingly to the stockholders of the company at the regular annual meeting, to be held on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1898.

And Resolved Further, That the board of directors are of opinion that the regular dividends to be thereafter declared on the capital stock should be at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.—V. 67, p. 30.

Pullman's Palace Car.—Central Transportation Co.—Payment of Claim.—At Philadelphia, on July 2, in accordance with the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, Judge Butler, in the United States Circuit Court, made a decree directing the Pullman's Palace Car Co. to pay to the Central Transportation Co. $1,317,402 16, being the amount of $727,846 50, with interest from January 1, 1885, to July 1, 1898. The Pullman Company thereupon paid to the Central Transportation Co. three checks, aggregating the full amount due. The costs, which are also to be paid by the Pullman Company, have not yet been ascertained. It is understood that the Pullman Company is owner of a majority of the stock of the Central Transportation Co., and therefore will receive back a large share of the money paid whenever the same is distributed. The Central Transportation stockholders will meet July 18 to vote on a proposition that the corporation be dissolved and its affairs wound up. It is said that the assets will amount to about $28 a share.—V. 67, p. 30; V. 66, p. 1141.

Quebec Montgomery & Charlevoix (Electric) Ry.—Consolidation —New Bonds.—The consolidation of the Quebec Montgomery & Charlevoix Ry. and the Quebec District Ry has been effected. The consolidated company was to have a capital stock of $3,000,000, of which $2,000,000 is subscribed, and it has sold bonds amounting to $1,500,000 to Messrs. Hansen Bros., of Montreal, who have paid for some $1,150,000 of the issue. The remaining $350,000 bonds will provide for the equipment of additional lines with the electric system.

St. Louis & Belleville Electric Ry.—Mortgage for $500,000.—The company has made a mortgage for $500,000 to Breckinridge Jones, Vice-President of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. of St. Louis, as Trustee, to secure a series of 5 per cent 40-year gold bonds, 250 of which are for $1,000 each and 500 for $500 each. Work on the road from Belleville to the Eads Bridge is being pushed, and by contract should be completed by Sept. 15, 1898. The company has also increased its capital stock from $50,000 to $500,000.—V. 66, p. 83.

Southern Indiana Ry.—Evansville & Terre Haute—Correction—No Present Connection with Evansville & Terre Haute.—The bonds of the old Evansville & Richmond were mostly re ired with the preferred stock of the Evansville & Terre Haute, and after the foreclosure sale a year ago it was understood the stock of the successor company, the Southern Indiana Ry., passed into the hands of, and we supposed was now owned by, the Evansville & Terre Haute Company. This was an error. The capital stock of the Southern Indiana is all owned in Chicago, and the Evansville & Terre Haute RR. Co. has no connection with the company in any way. The remainder of last week's item is correct, having been obtained from the company's officials.—V. 67, p. 30.

Suburban Traction Co. of Orange, N. J.—Orange & Passaic Valley Ry. Co.—North Jersey Street Ry.—Sold—Successor Company.—The property of the Suburban Traction Co. of Orange, N. J., was sold on Wednesday under foreclosure of the mortgage of 1893 and purchased for $100,000 by Col. Charles A. Sterling, of East Orange. The purchase was made for the Orange & Passaic Valley Ry. Co., which was incorporated recently with an authorized capital stock of $1,000,000 by Col. Sterling, A. B. Carleton, City Comptroller of Elizabeth; John A. Ely, of New York; William Sheerer, of Orange, and Thomas M. Moore and Gen. Bird W. Spencer, of Passaic County. The new company, if not controlled by the North Jersey Street Ry. interests, will at least be operated in harmony with that company. B. M. Shanley, a director of the North Jersey Street Ry., is quoted as saying that the Orange & Passaic Valley Co. plans the extension of its line from Bloomfield to connect at Upper Montclair with the road which the North Jersey is building from Montclair to Passaic and south from Orange Valley to South Orange.

The $100,000 purchase money will provide for $67,000 receiver's certificates, $8,000 interest on same and $25,000 in costs of court and lawyers' fees. The new company, it is understood, assumes the payment of $60,000 of first mortgage bonds issued by the Orange & Bloomfield Crosstown Ry. Co. and a guaranteed loan of $150,000 made upon the bonds of 1893.—V. 66, p. 1141.

Tarrytown White Plains & Mamaroneck (Electric) Ry.—This company, which is successor of the New York Elmsford & White Plains Ry. Co., has completed its trolley road from White Plains to Mamaroneck, and therefore operates a through line from Tarrytown on the Hudson River to Long Island Sound. The company, it is said, will carry freight as well as passengers. Extensions along Long Island Sound as far east as the Connecticut line and west as far as New Rochelle are projected.

Texas & Pacific RR.—Vicksburg Shreveport & Pacific RR.—New Line to Replace Trackage.—The Texas & Pacific is building a new line from Waskom, Tex., to Reisor, La., 12 miles, which is to be used as a part of the main line instead of the line heretofore leased of the Vicksburg Shreveport & Pacific RR. Co. from State Line to Shreveport, La.—V. 66, p. 1239; V. 65, p. 618.

Traverse City RR.—Coupon Payment.—Coupons due July 1, 1897, are being paid at office of Winslow, Lanier & Co., 17 Nassau Street.—V. 66, p. 84.

Union Pacific Lincoln & Colorado.—Foreclosure Sale.—The Federal Court at Topeka, Kan., has entered a decree of foreclosure.—V. 66, p. 473.

Union Passenger Depot Co. of Galveston.—New Mortgage.—The company has made a mortgage to the Union Trust Company of New York, trustee, to secure an issue of $100,000 of 6 per cent thirty-year gold bonds of $1,000 each. The mortgage covers all the real and leasehold property now owned or hereafter to be acquired. L. J. Polk is President and A. C. Torbett, Secretary, of the Depot Company.

Union Terminal RR. Association.—Kansas City & Atlantic.—Kansas City & Northern Connecting RR.—New Company.—The Union Terminal Association filed articles of incorporation in New Jersey, July 6. The authorized capital stock is $5,000,000, but only $1,000 is paid in. The incorporators are I. R. Salmon and Courtlandt Parker, Jr., of Newark, N. J.; William H. Lee of Greenwood, Mass.; Vernon O. Taylor of Rhode Island; Francis E. Dana of Summit, N. J., and Stephen Salisbury and T. C. Bates of Worcester, Mass. The object of the company, it is said, is to purchase the stock and franchises of the Kansas City & Atlantic RR. Co. and other corporations in Missouri, and to build railroads, wharves, canals and elevators. The road of the Kansas City & Atlantic, extending from North Kansas City to Smithville, Mo., 20 miles, was acquired in January, 1897, by the Kansas

City & Northern Connecting RR., and is now an integral part of that company's line between Kansas City and Pattonburg. The Kansas City & Atlantic RR. Co., however, as successor of the Kansas City Bridge & Terminal Co. (Willard E. Winner a project) no doubt also had the right to build belt and terminal lines and a railroad and carriage bridge at Kansas City.—V. 64, p. 131; V. 66, p. 573.

Waco & Northwestern Ry.—Houston & Texas Central RR.—Purchase Completed.—Wilbur F. Boyle, of St. Louis, who purchased the Waco & Northwestern at foreclosure sale three years ago, has paid the $1,405,000 remaining due on his bid of $1,505,000, and at midnight June 30 the property was turned over to the Houston & Texas Central RR. Co., on whose behalf the bid was made. The road extends from Bremond to Ross, Texas, 54 miles. There are $1,021,000 Waco & Northwestern 7s outstanding, and the amount due on each for principal and interest was about $2,200. The purchase money paid provides for $1,769 44 per bond and the balance remains as a claim against the earnings in the hands of the Court and the land grant of 223,600 acres, which was not conveyed by Mr. Boyle to the Houston & Texas Central. It is not likely, however, the bonds will receive the full amount due. See statement in V. 65, p 1025. —V. 65, p. 1025; V. 66, p. 471.

Wisconsin Inland Lakes & Chicago Ry.—Mortgage for $10,000,000 filed.—The company has made a mortgage for $10,000,000 to William H. Holden, as trustee, to secure 30-year 5 per cent bonds. The company was incorporated April 27, 1897, and its road is projected from Chicago northwest to Rhinelander, Wis., with branches to Madison and Milwaukee, in all about 500 miles.

—The United States Rubber Co. has declared a quarterly dividend upon the preferred stock of 2 per cent from the net earnings of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1898, payable July 30.

—Messrs. F. J. Lisman & Co. offer for sale, on a 5½ per cent basis, 1,000 shares of Atlanta & Charlotte Air Line stock guaranteed by the Southern Ry. The Atlanta & Charlotte Air Line paid its dividends promptly throughout the Richmond Terminal receivership, and the offering, as advertised on page viii, appears to be a very attractive one.

—The sixth annual number of "Pennsylvania Securities," better known, perhaps, as the "Philadelphia Red Book," will receive a hearty welcome from the large class of financial men who have had occasion to consult the work in the past and who have been looking for the new edition to replace the last, which was issued in 1895. The scope of the volume is large, there being embraced in its 1,000 and odd pages descriptions of the leading financial, industrial, coal and iron, railroad, street railway, etc., etc., corporations located not only in Philadelphia but in any part of Pennsylvania. The volume, we are told, has undergone the most thorough and painstaking revision. J. B. Crittenden is the editor, and the Securities Company, the "Bourse," Philadelphia, is the publisher.

—"American Street Railway Investments," the financial supplement of the "Street Railway Journal," contains in the 1898 edition, just published, an interesting comparison of the gross receipts for 1896 and 1897 of the principal American street railway properties, 175 in number. It appears that there are no less than 23 properties earning $1,000,000 or more; 19 earning from $500,000 to $1,000,000; 46 earning from $100,000 to $500,000; while the remaining 84 earned less than $100,000. The gross receipts of the first group, when compared with 1893, show an increase of 2·2 per cent; the second group a decrease of 0·11 per cent; the third group an increase of 1·87 per cent, and the smaller systems but a slight variation. The entire 175 properties show an increase in receipts of 1·9 per cent in 1897 as compared with 1896. This Supplement contains much valuable information, and, as regards companies included, is unquestionably the most complete work of the kind published, as only a technical journal can afford to give the space required to describe fully all the very small as well as the many important street railway properties of the country.

—The statement of the condition of the Tradesmen's National Bank of this city at the commencement of business on July first is given on another page of to day's Chronicle. The statement contains an interesting little table showing the surplus and undivided profits and the deposits of the institution on July first in 1898 and in each of the three preceding years. The present management took possession in 1895. The exhibit therefore marks the growth, year by year, in the bank's business under the new regime. In 1895 the surplus and undivided profits, according to the figures given, were $29,754; in 1898 they had reached $142,985. In the same period the deposits increased from about two millions to $3,717,458. The Clinton Bank was absorbed in February 1898. The Tradesmen's Bank is a very old one, with a long dividend history. Its management, however, just prior to 1895, when the change of control occurred, appeared to be a little apathetic. The figures since then speak for themselves. The present management entertain the very laudable ambition of desiring to lift the institution into the front rank of the banks of this city, and at the rate of progress they have made in the past three years they believe it will not take a very great length of time to accomplish this result.

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, July 8, 1898.

The observance of a national holiday on Monday and the fact that Saturday was also observed by many as a holiday materially shortened the business week. In many lines of trade merchants were still busy taking an inventory of stock and the volume of business transacted has been of only very moderate proportions. The six months just closed have generally been spoken of as moderately prosperous, and as the victories of the American forces the past week have been such as to lead many to look for an early termination of the war, a prosperous second half of the year is generally anticipated. A feature of the week has been the passage by the Senate and the signing by the President of the bill annexing Hawaii to the United States. An enormous loss of life resulting from the sinking of a French liner in a collision in mid-ocean has been a distressing occurrence of the week. Crop accounts have been generally of a favorable nature, indicating large yields.

Speculation in cotton for futnre delivery the past week has been exceptionally dull, the observance of holidays on Saturday and Monday serving to further restrict general interest in the market for the week under review. Both regular and outside operators have continued to hold back from making new ventures, as the favorable crop accounts received from the South from both public and private sources, together with the absence of demand for actual cotton, has served to hold buyers in check. Still, as the crop is by no means assnred there has been as little disposition shown to sell as there has been to buy. Consequently operations have been confined almost exclusively to scalping transactions by room traders and changes in prices have been slight, although on Thursday selling by tired longs to liquidate their accounts in August depressed prices a few points for this month. Foreign advices have reported fully as quiet markets in Europe as at this centre; in fact the general cotton world appears to be waiting for some developments which shall give the market a turn one way or the other and in the meantime is doing practically nothing. To day there was a quiet market and prices weakened slightly for August delivery under continued selling by longs to liquidate their accounts. The close was barely steady, with prices 3 points lower for this crop and 1 point lower to 1 point higher for the next crop. Cotton on the spot has sold slowly, and on Thnrsday prices declined 1-16c. To day the market was dull and unchanged at 6 3-16c. for middling uplands.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 17, 1897, by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows.

Fair	c. 1 on	Good Ordinary	c. 1 1/4 off
Middling Fair	11/16 on	Good Middling Tinged	Even
Strict Good Middling	3/8 on	Strict Middling Stained	7/32 off

Strict Low Middling	3/16 off	Strict Low Mid. Stained	1/2 off
Low Middling	7/16 off	Low Middling Stained	1/8 off

Jute Butts, Bagging, Etc.—Business in jute bagging has been of fair volume during the week under review at unchanged prices. The quotations this evening are 5¼c. for 1¾ lbs., 5⅝c. for 2 lbs. and 5¾c. for standard grades. The market for jute butts has been dull. Quotations are nominally 1⅛c. for paper quality and 1½c. for mixing.

From Messrs. Ira A. Kip & Co.'s circular we ascertain that the deliveries of jute butts and rejections at New York and Boston during June were 33,853 bales, against 46,137 bales for the same month last year, and since January 1st the deliveries have reached 230,551 bales, against 217,083 bales in 1897. The aggregate stock in the hands of importers and speculators in New York and Boston on June 30th was nil bales, against 1,000 at the corresponding date in 1897, and the amount afloat reaches 83,182 bales, against 113,471 bales last year.

—We have received this week from the publishers—"The Textile World," Boston—a copy of the 1898 edition of "The Textile World's Directory of the Mill Trade and of Buyers of Textile Fabrics." It is a very complete directory of the textile establishments in the country, detailed information concerning each mill being given. Furthermore a series of textile maps shows at a glance the exact location of cities and towns where there are textile establishments.

Fall River Mill Dividends.—A majority of the mills at Fall River have declared no dividends to date in 1898. So far as we have been able to learn, sixteen corporations, with an aggregate capital of $10,850,000, have distributed a total of $176,625 during the half-year, or an average of 1·63 per cent on the investment. This is very much below the total paid out by the same mills—$352,500—for the corresponding period a year ago, or an average of 3·33 per cent on the capital.

Government Weekly Cotton Report.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending July 4:

Virginia. Cotton improved.

North Carolina.—Hot, dry week; improvement in cotton, which is standing drought well; cotton small but clean, blooming more freely.

South Carolina.—Week's rainfall deficient and poorly distributed; cotton doing well, blooming and putting on fruit freely.

Georgia.—High temperature, abundant sunshine and scattered showers characterized the week; general rains needed; cotton taking on fruit and looking well.

Florida.—Crop conditions variable; rainfall generally light; badly distributed showers improved cotton, which is free from grass.

Alabama.—Fairly well distributed showers; cotton making good stalk and fruiting well, but is getting grassy in low lands.

Mississippi.—Crops improving except where rainfall was too much for cotton, which has become grassy and fields have been abandoned in places on account of grass and weeds; few army worms reported.

Louisiana.—Frequent and heavy rains retarded field work; lowland crops rather grassy, particularly cotton; cotton continues growing too rapidly to fruit well and is becoming rusty.

Texas.—Week of showery weather with occasional scattered heavy rains; cotton making rapid growth, but too much rain in northeast portion, where crop is in need of cultivation; Mexican boll weevil and rust reported in few localities; otherwise crop very promising.

Arkansas.—Growing crops in flourishing condition, though beginning to need rain; cotton growing rapidly and fruiting well.

Tennessee.—Good rains early part of week, followed by warm sunshine, greatly benefited growing crops, and latter part favored work of final cultivation; cotton growing and developing well, blooming nicely.

Oklahoma.—Cotton has done finely.

Missouri.—Weather very favorable; cotton in good condition and growing finely.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Cotton has improved over the greater part of the cotton belt, but owing to continuous rains is badly in need of cultivation in Mississippi, Louisiana and portions of Northeastern Texas and Alabama. Too rapid growth and rust are reported from Louisiana, and boll weevil and rust are reported from portions of Texas, where, however, the general condition of the crop is very promising.

First Bale of New Cotton.—The first bale of cotton of the crop of 1898 99 was received at San Antonio, Texas, from Pearsall, Texas, on Friday, July 1, or one day later than the first new bale appeared in 1897. Last year the first new bale reached Houston on June 30. In 1896 the earliest arrival was on July 10, at New Orleans; in 1895 on July 11, at Galveston; in 1894 on June 26 and in 1892 on June 30, both at Houston.

New England Cotton Mill Situation.—The Whitinsville (Mass.) Cotton Mill, 14,416 spindles, and the Saundersville (Mass.) Cotton Mill, 12,800 spindles, are idle this week, and while they will start up on Monday another suspension of operations is likely unless the market improves.

Shipping News.—As shown on a previous page, the exports of cotton from the United States the past week have reached 21,211 bales. The shipments in detail, as made up from mail and telegraphic returns, are as follows:

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, July 8, 1898.

The market for wheat flour has shown a fairly good undertone. The volume of business transacted has been of only very moderate proportions, as jobbers as a rule have been limited buyers, and the demand from exporters has been quiet; still, as the mills have shown no anxiety to make sales, as they have only moderate supplies to offer, values have been well maintained, the sales made having been made at full values. Rye flour has sold slowly, and prices have weakened slightly. Corn meal has met with only a limited call, but values have been unchanged and steady.

Owing to the observance of holidays on Saturday and Monday the week under review has been a short one. The speculation in the market for wheat futures has been quiet, and prices have weakened slightly, the principal factor being improved crop accounts from the winter-wheat belt, although cable advices from the Continent reporting dull and easier markets have also had their influence against values. Tuesday there was a decline in prices of 2@2⅜c. from Friday's final quotations (the last business day), as improved crop accounts and easier advices from the Continent prompted selling by the bear operators. Wednesday part of the loss was recovered, prices advancing ¾@1¼c., principally on a demand from shorts to cover contracts, stimulated by stronger foreign advices than expected and some bad crop accounts. Thursday there was a quiet market and prices declined ½@⅞c. Cable advices were disappointing; there was some selling by longs to liquidate accounts, and a large crop estimate also had its influence against values. To-day there was a stronger turn to the market, especially for the near-by deliveries. July advancing 3c. on a demand from shorts to cover contracts; other months advanced ¼@⅝c. in sympathy. The spot market was quiet. The sales for export here and at outports were 76 000 bushels.

Indian corn futures have received only a small amount of attention, the speculative dealings having been on a limited scale only, and the net changes in prices for the week were of an unimportant nature. Tuesday the market was easier, prices declining ⅜c. under improved crop accounts, liquidation by longs, and in sympathy with the weakness of the wheat market. Wednesday the decline was more than recovered, prices advancing ½@¾c. on buying principally by shorts to cover contracts, stimulated mainly by a more active cash trade. Thursday prices reacted ¼@⅜c. under realizing sales by longs. To-day the market was dull but steady. The sales for export here and at outports were 100,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been dull, and the fluctuations in values have followed closely after those for corn. Tuesday prices showed a decline of ¼c. Wednesday there was an advance of ½c., a better cash trade and a limited crop movement, together with sympathy with an advance in values for other grains being the strengthening features. Thursday there was a reaction of ¼c., as the markets for other grains were easier. To-day prices advanced on the small crop movement. The spot market was quiet. The sales for export were 20,000 bushels.

THOMAN'S JULY CROP REPORT.—The full text of Mr. Thoman's crop report for July 1 is as follows:

WHEAT.—The present condition for the whole breadth is 87·3 per cent, as against 91·2 per cent last month, and 81·5 per cent on the corrospoudiog date last year.

The deterioration has been more marked in the six principal States east of the Rocky Mountains, the condition being 88·5 per cent, as contrasted with 93·5 per cent on June 1, and 74·5 per cent on July 1, 1897.

The condition on the Pacific Coast is now returned as 71·2 per cent; last month 71 7 per cent, and last July 88·7 per cent.

With but four exceptions—Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and California—the crop during June has shown quite a noticeable decline, resulting from the unfavorable weather, rust and insect ravages.

A very striking and more or less puzzling phase of the present condition is the marked disparity between the condition and rate of yield returns as compared with those of a month ago. On that date the average rate of yield was returned as 17·1 bushels per acre, and now at 15·2 bushels, with a corresponding decline in condition of only 3·9 per cent. It is thus seen that the relationship between figures bearing upon the rate of yield and the condition in June shows a proportion a to difference of 1 4 bushels to the acre as compared with the same estimates for the present month. This disparity has undoubtedly resulted from a deceptive appearance of growth. In the history of its production probably no crop at harvest ever looked better, as judged superficially, but threshing returns up to the present time give evidence that the heads were not well developed and that the yield will be considerably below earlier expectations.

Calculated upon returns showing the indicated yield per acre in bushels, the prospective winter-wheat crop is shown to be in the neighborhood of 400,000,000 bushels, as against 379,000,000 bushels harvested last year. Of this total, the six principal States east of the Rocky Mountains have a prospect of 219,000,000 bushels, as compared with 188,000,000 bushels the previous year.

The condition of spring wheat is 95·3 per cent for the whole breadth, as against 99·4 per cent on June 1, and 91·5 per cent on the corresponding date last year. In the three principal States—Minnesota and North and South Dakota—the condition is 94·8 per cent, last month 99·4 per cent, and last July 91·9 per cent. The crop in South Dakota has suffered considerably during June from drought and rust. The stand is reported irregular, especially in the southern districts, and from this section it is generally stated that rain is an immediate necessity, to save the plant from further material injury. In Minnesota and North Dakota the crop is still in excellent promise. In Oregon and Washington the promise of last month is well maintained. The indicated harvest of spring wheat, based upon returns showing the prospective yield per acre in bushels, equals 285,000,000 bushels, as contrasted with 201,000,000 bushels harvested last year.

Minnesota and the Dakotas indicate a crop, for the three States in the neighborhood of 208,000,000 bushels, as against 143,000,000 bushels harvested in 1897.

The aggregate prospective harvest of both spring and winter wheat is shown to be, approximately, 685,000,000 bushels, as against what has been proved by the year's distribution to have been, at least, a 580,000,000-bushel crop last year. The quantity of wheat yet remaining in producers' hands approximates 19,000,000 bushels, as against 35,000,000 bushels last July, and 43,000,000 bushels on the corresponding date two years ago. By including the available supply, the quantity of wheat carried over on this date equals, approximately, 40,000,000 bushels. Should this year's harvest meet present expectations, the total supply for the ensuing twelve months would equal 725,000,000 bushels. After deducting 400,000,000 bushels for home requirements, which is a very liberal allowance, there would be left a surplus of 325,000,000 bushels with which to meet the export requirements for the year and for domestic reserves at the end of next June.

Corn.—From present returns there appears to be a reduction of 2·5 per cent in the acreage of corn. It approximates 77,238,000 acres, as against 79,254,000 acres harvested last year. The condition for the whole breadth stands at 92·2 per cent, as against 84·4 per cent last July. The crop in Illinois and Missouri is generally reported late and the stand poor. Outside of these two States but little complaint is made, except as to the late season The fields are clean and no insect life is apparent. Favorable weather during July will go far to rectify all present drawbacks.

Oats.—The condition is 91·5 per cent, against 91·9 per cent last month, and 88·8 per cent last July. With the exception of Iowa and Missouri, the promise is favorable. Fields are unusually free from insects, and but little damage from rust reported. There are in the neighborhood of 82,000,000 bushels of oats yet remaining in the hands of producers, which equals about 9·7 per cent of last year's production.

On the first of last July there were held in the same position 138,000,000 bushels, which was about 18 per cent of the previous year's crop.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE

New York, Friday, P. M., July 8, 1898.

Business during the early part of the week was practically at a standstill. Monday was a close holiday, and its influence was very perceptible Tuesday and Wednesday. Yesterday there were a fair number of buyers in the market, and at the close the demand shows material improvement. Sellers are looking for a further increase in the attendance next week and a steady development of buying during the rest of the month. This explains why the market for cotton goods has remained quite steady in spite of slow trade. Sellers have refrained from pressing stocks upon buyers in either staple or fancy lines, preferring rather to await the broadening of their outlets to endeavoring to effect a present more liberal movement by price concessions. The reports which have been received during the week from out-of-town markets continue encouraging. Trade in all the chief distributing centres is healthy, and the outlook presents no disagreeable feature. Reports on financial conditions are good and collections satisfactory. In the woolen goods division of the market some new lines for next spring have opened at lower prices than generally expected, but the situation for the coming season is not by any means defined yet.

Woolen Goods.—Chief attention has been given this week to the opening up of new lines of serges for men's wear for next spring, and the prices named on some leading makes, such as 72½c for 10 ounces and 82½c. for 11 to 12 ounces, have been a disappointment to the majority of sellers. These prices, while about 5 per cent higher than those quoted at the opening of last season, are fully 5 per cent below the prices made later. Some other lines of low grades in cheviots and cassimeres, upon which prices have been named show a like condition, and indications are that the spring season will not maintain the full advances made subsequent to the opening of last season. The reorders for heavy-weight woolens and worsteds have been on a fair scale, but as before, mainly for low and medium grade goods. Overcoatings have been in quiet request and cloakings slow. Dress goods continue quiet throughout and barely steady in some plain and low grade fancy lines. Flannels and blankets firm but demand moderate.

Domestic Cotton Goods.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending July 4 were 2,098 packages, valued at $72,516, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $5,978,161 in 1898 against $5,890,711 in 1897.

There has been no change in the character of the market for heavy-weight brown sheetings and drills, the demand being again quite moderate at previous prices. Some light-weight goods have favored buyers slightly. Business in all grades of bleached cottons has been on a limited scale, but prices ruled steady with but insignificant exceptions. Cotton duck still in very limited supply, and prices strong. Wide sheetings inactive and barely steady. Cotton flannels and blankets in quiet demand, but prices well maintained. Denims dull and ticks slow, without change in price. Other coarse, colored cottons inactive and featureless. Kid-finished cambrics barely steady. Business in dark, fancy calicoes quieter than of late, and other prints dull with ready sellers. Staple ginghams very steady in price, but current demand indifferent. Dress style ginghams and napped fabrics well sold for fall and steady. Print cloths have sold to a moderate extent at 2c. for regulars. Oil goods are barely steady.

Foreign Dry Goods.—Business for fall continues backward. This week's orders for dress goods and silks have been indifferent in volume. Ribbons, laces and hosiery and underwear quiet. Linens inactive. Men's-wear woolens and worsteds in slightly improved demand.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN JUNE.

Although the amount of sales recorded for the month of June does not approach the totals for the same month in previous years, yet the result is a very satisfactory one. The comparison is all the more pleasing when we notice that in previous years the June aggregates embraced a number of large issues, while the present year the distinguishing feature is the very large number of the smaller issues. Indeed the number of municipalities emitting bonds and the number of issues placed on the market, is in excess of that ever before recorded in these columns in any monthly review. It speaks well for the condition of the municipal bond market that in many cases this class of securities commands almost as high prices now as prevailed prior to the commencement of the war.

The total amount of municipal bonds marketed during the month of June 1898 was $9,690,325, not including $5,891,024 of temporary loans reported. This total compares with $16,385,065 in June 1897 and $7,036,926 for May 1898. In April 1898 the sales amounted to $3,570,963.

The number of municipalities issuing bonds during June was 205 (emitting 235 separate issues), as against 142 (emitting 163 issues) for May 1898.

The sales of large amount were few, as already stated. The following comprises all those of $250,000 or over: The Philadelphia, Pa., $1,306,000 serial loan, awarded to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund at par for three per cents; the New Orleans, La., $500,000 5 per cent 2-40 year (optional) drainage bonds, awarded at from 100·30 to 101; the Indianapolis, Ind., $260,000 4 per cent 1-year school loan, awarded to Denison, Prior & Co., Cleveland, at par, less $975 commission, and the $250,000 3½ per cent 1-20 year Buffalo refunding park bonds, awarded to Street, Wykes & Co., New York, at 102·02.

In the following table we give the prices which were paid for June loans to the amount of $8,424,159 issued by 158 municipalities. The aggregate of sales for which no price has been reported is $1,266,166, and the total bond sales for the month $9,690,325. In the case of each loan reference is made to the page of the CHRONICLE where a full account of the sale is given, the smaller page numbers being found in the current volume.

Alessandro (Cal.) Irrigation District.—Bond Litigation.—We take the following dispatch from Los Angeles, Cal., dated June 29, 1898, from the Chicago "Inter Ocean" of June 30, 1898: "United States Circuit Judge Erskine Ross to-day rendered an opinion in the case of the Alessandro Irrigation District against the Cleveland Savings & Trust Company, involving the validity of the bonds of the Bear Valley and Perris Irrigation districts. Judge Ross decided that the defendants have a right to attempt to show that $500,000 of the bonds are invalid, to prevent their passing into the hands of many different purchasers. The opinion prevents any attempt to dispose of the bonds."

Baltimore, Md.—City Stock Not Exempt from State of County Tax.—An opinion of John T. Ensor, counsel for the Baltimore County Board of Commissioners, has been printed, in which he states that "city stocks owned by residents of the county are not exempt from taxation by the laws of this State, and therefore are subject to valuation and assessment for county as well as State purposes. While these stocks or bonds," Mr. Ensor says, "are not liable to taxation for city purposes by reason of the ordinance under which they are issued, the Legislature of the State has not exempted them from State or county tax."

Cook County, Minn.—Bonds Legal.—On June 16, 1898, Judge Ensign filed an opinion establishing the legality of the $8,000 bonds issued last March for building roads and bridges. In 1895 two laws were passed, the first of which provided that bonds could be issued for three different purposes, including road and bridge construction to the amount of 2% of the valuation. The second, approved two weeks later, provided that bonds could be issued for roads and bridges to the amount of 1% of the valuation. The suit was brought by Chris Murphy, who contended that the second law superseded the first, and that the issuance of the bonds would make the county's indebtedness greater than the 1% allowed. Judge Ensign ruled that the 1% law instead of reducing the effect of the 2% law extended it.

Des Moines, Iowa.—Proposed Purchase of Water-Works.—An agreement has been entered into between the city officials and the Des Moines Water-Works Company whereby the water works plant will be sold to the city for $850,000. The transfer is to be made July 1, 1899, provided the City Council ratifies the contract and the question is favorably voted on by the people.

Houstonia, Mo.—Tax Decision.—We take the following dispatch from Sedalia, dated June 4, 1898, from the St. Louis "Republic" of June 5, 1898:

Judge Longan rendered a decision in the Circuit Court to-day which, if sustained by the high courts, reverses the alleged right of the villages and towns to place a lien on real property to satisfy the cost of public improvements. The town of Houstonia passed an ordinance providing for the construction of a sidewalk in front of W. C. Grubb's property, and when he refused to pay the tax bills, the property was advertised for sale under the lien. Judge Longan decided that towns and villages could not place a lien upon the property, and that the tax bills were void. The town of Houstonia took an appeal to the Kansas City Court of Appeals.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Proposed Purchase of Water-Works.—The Board of Public Works has under consideration a proposition from the stockholders of the Indianapolis Water Co. relative to the sale of the company's water plant to the city. The proposition of the water company is as follows: The city is to agree to pay the company $120,000 per annum hydrant rental for 25 years, upon which the entire capital stock of the company will be sold to the city for $300,000 cash, subject to the mortgage indebtedness of $3,350,000, bearing 5% interest, excepting $500,000 due in 1911, which bears 6% interest. This indebtedness is to be payable by the water company in instalments of $75,000 for the first five years and increasing annually thereafter as the principal is paid, and the interest becomes correspondingly reduced. This indebtedness is to be secured by a mortgage upon the water-works, and to be in no sense a liability of the city, and to be paid only out of the revenues of the water company. The city is now paying a hydrant rental of $80,000.

Kansas City, Mo.—Bonds Valid.—On June 25, 1898, the State Supreme Court handed down a decision sustaining every contention of the city and overruling all the points raised by the appellants in the North Terrace Park case. The suit involved the constitutionality of Article 10 of the City Charter, under which these securities were issued. We are advised that as a result of this decision, Kansas City will offer for sale within the next sixty days about a million dollars of these park bonds or securities known as "Park Fund Certificates." Mr. D. J. Haff, council for Board of Park Commissioners, writes us, saying that "in view of the fact that they (the certificates) are based upon assessments drawing 7%, and that every possible legal question concerning them has been settled in advance of their issue, they should be very attractive to bidders and should net the city a very handsome premium.

Kidder County, N. Dak.—Warrant Decision.—A dispatch from Bismarck, N. Dak., dated June 4, 1898, to the St. Paul "Globe" stated that an important decision was filed by the Supreme Court on June 4, affecting many counties of the State. The case was that of Darling against Taylor, from Kidder County, in which the Sheriff brought suit against the Auditor to compel the issuance of a warrant to him for current expenses as Sheriff. The Auditor claimed that the county had reached its debt limit, and no warrant could legally be issued. A mandamus case was instituted, and the action brought to the Supreme Court, which decided that warrants, in anticipation of collection of taxes levied for current expenses for counties, may be issued even where a county has reached or exceeded its debt limit, and that they do not augment the debt of the county under the meaning of the Constitution.

The Court holds that all taxes levied, but not collected, are constructively in the treasury, and while, as a matter of fact, the entire amount of tax is seldom collected, still, as a legal theory, all taxes are collected, and debts against taxes do not constitute additional debts.

Several counties in the State have reached the debt limit and have not been issuing warrants for years, and this decision will enable them each year, the "Globe" says, to issue warrants up to the total amount of the taxes levied, regardless of their financial condition.

Sacramento County, Cal.—Bonds Invalid.—On May 10, 1898, Judge E. E Gaddis, Superior Judge of Yolo County, sitting in the Superior Court of Sacramento County, handed down a decision declaring that the $75,000 4% Fulsom Highway bonds sold February 12, 1898, were illegally issued. The suit was brought against the county officials on the ground that the Board of Supervisors has not the power to levy and collect a tax for county road purposes on property situated in a municipality within a county. The transcript of the case has been filed in the Supreme Court, and Mr. Charles F. Hughes, Secretary of the Folsom Highway Commission, writes us that the case will be advanced on the Supreme Court calendar, and that a decision of the matter will be handed down by that Court at an early date.

San Diego, Cal.—Litigation.—The San Francisco "Examiner" on June 2, 1898, contained the following:

"The city of San Diego held a special election to vote bonds for the extension of the water system in the amount of $1,500,000. Albert Meyer, a tax payer, brought suit to set aside the contract between the city and the water company and to enjoin the issuance of the bonds. A motion for a change of venue was made by other tax-payers, who came in as intervenors on the ground that Judge Torrence, before whom the matter was to be heard, was an interested party, being a tax payer, and as such his judgment would decide whether or not a lien would be placed against his own property for the term of forty years—the life of the bonds. The Judge denied the motion for a change of venue and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court. There the order of the Superior Court was reversed and a change of venue ordered."

Shoshone County, Idaho.—Bond Litigation.—As stated in the CHRONICLE January 29, 1898, W. P. Northrup, County Treasurer, paid the interest then due on the $250,000 bonds, claimed by the County Commissioners to be illegal. This action of the County Treasurer was taken in opposition to an order from the Commissioners, the Treasurer not recognizing the right of the Commissioners to treat the bonds as illegal until so determined by the Court. The Treasurer was preparing to remit the July interest at the usual time, when he was temporarily enjoined from doing so. The matter is now in the courts. See CHRONICLE January 29, 1898, December 4, 1897, and November 13, 1897.

Sny Island Drainage District.—Adams, Pike and Calhoun Counties, Ill.—Litigation.—Arguments began on June 7, 1898, in the Federal Court of Appeals on the famous Sny Island Drainage District case, involving over $1,100,000 directly, and as much more indirectly. The history of the case as given in the Chicago "Inter-Ocean" is as follows:

The suit involves 110,000 acres of land, valued at $1,100,000, in Adams, Pike and Calhoun counties, and special assessments for the construction of a levee along the Mississippi River. In 1871 the Legislature authorized certain farmers owning land between Fall Creek, Adams County, and Hamburgh Bay, on the east bank of the Mississippi, to construct a levee fifty miles in length, for the purpose of preventing annual overflows on their land. Under the act commissioners were appointed to make special assessments on the land in order to raise funds for the construction of the levee. Previous to the making of these assessments bonds were sold to a large amount, and the money thus raised was put into the levee work. Certain farmers resisted the special assessments, and declared not only the bonds issued invalid, but that the levee act of the Legislature was unconstitutional. The latter claim was afterward sustained by the Supreme Court of Illinois.

The bondholders sued to secure payment of their bonds before Judge Allen in the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of Illinois, and the judgment was rendered against them in favor of the landholders. The hearing before the Appellate Court is an appeal on the part of the bondholders from the decision of Judge Allen. There are nearly 1,000 defendants in the case, and according to the attorneys the land in question is among the most fertile in Illinois, being made so by the building of the levee.

Ex-President Harrison, counsel for the defendants, in his arguments declared that the suit as brought by the heirs of Francis Palms, who was the contractor that first built the levee in question, could not be sustained without affecting the political organization of Illinois. He said the law under which the assessment for the levee had been made had long ago been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the State, and the Constitution of the State would have to be changed if the decision was upheld.

Bond Calls and Redemptions.

Aberdeen, S. Dak.—Bond Call.—The city has called for payment August 1, 1898, $12,000 bonds.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, July 9, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. Contrasted with the preceding week, there is a decrease in the aggregate exchanges of about three-hundred and twenty-nine million dollars, and at New York alone the decline is two hundred and nine millions. In comparison with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 15·9 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a loss of 1·7 per cent, and the falling off from 1895 is 0·9 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 8·8 per cent. The decrease from 1896 reaches 4·5 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the loss is seen to be 9·4 per cent. In 1896 and 1895 the figures included a full week.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The subscriptions to the "popular loan," which closed Thursday at three o'clock, are announced to have reached $1,325,000,000. As an indication of the credit of the Government this response from such a mass of capital for a 3 per cent loan at par having probably only ten years to run is highly gratifying. It affords, too, timely and impressive testimony of the abundance of wealth in our midst waiting for investment, telling the public that the only condition needed to make this wealth serviceable for industrial expansion is confidence.

While all this is true we cannot help expressing regret for the misnomer involved in calling these subscriptions offerings to a "popular loan," as though our people in what has been done were making a sacrifice for a principle. If the expression "popular" had been made to refer to the desire to secure the bonds at the upset price, it would have been well chosen. In that sense, if the price had been lower the bonds would have been more "popular"—that is to say the subscriptions would have aggregated a much larger sum. But to characterize these subscriptions as an expression of patriotism, or to assume that they evidence to any considerable extent eagerness to get the bonds by men of small means who do not keep a bank account other than in a savings institution, or even that they are proof of a wide distribution for investment among the people, is clearly unwarranted. The simple truth is that Congress offered a loan below its market value and the shrewd and thrifty among our population were wise enough to "chip in" and take it. Some of these bidders live near Wall Street and pretty much all of them have affiliations with Wall Street. This feature is worth referring to because the law authorizing the loan is one of a long series of Congressional devices intended to humbug the more ignorant wage-earners and countrymen—devices which have led to a great confusion of ideas respecting money and money lenders among those classes. Bear in mind then that the only party that has made a sacrifice in this operation is the Government, it having donated to the subscribers several million dollars; furthermore, that with very few exceptions the people who have become the beneficiaries of this Government munificence belong to the class popularly called "Wall Street sharks."

We wrote last week with reference to the complete change that had been effected in the situation of the war and especially in its influence as a menace to our industries by the destruction of Admiral Cervera's fleet. The truth we attempted to enforce and the extent of the transformation which that event wrought have been further and forcibly illustrated by the incidents of the last few days. Chief among these is the surrender of Santiago on Thursday. To the army of course belongs in considerable measure the credit of furnishing the navy the opportunity to destroy Cervera's fleet and of following up that disaster by the investment of the city which has now surrendered. But antedating this grand success was the discouragement produced throughout Spain by a consciousness of the utter loss of sea power it had suffered and the inevitable result of that loss. With it passed away the last chance that country had of aggressive or offensive war, reducing its future movements to mere matters of defense. While we were left free to send our fleet where we chose, to carry the war even to the coast towns of Spain, striking at the port which was most vulnerable, she was forced to keep all her ports in a state of defense and was restricted to simply repelling our attacks if she could. We have remarked upon the Santiago surrender in a subsequent article and need not dwell further upon that feature here.

Earlier in the week, and while the issue at Santiago was still in doubt, other incidents had emphasized the decisive results of the defeat of Admiral Cervera. Nothing could better disclose the radical character of the change in the situation thereby secured than the report from Washington that an order of the Secretary of War is speedily to be issued for the removal of a large part of the submarine mines which now protect the harbors of the United States against the entry of hostile ships. These mines when placed were of course highly needful as a protection, but have been at the same time a decided detriment to commercial interests. For about two months, between the hours of sunset and sunrise, it has been impracticable for vessels to enter or leave any of our harbors. The determination to remove in large measure this hindrance shows the confidence the Government now feels in the safety and freedom from attack our coast cities again enjoy. Another incident similar in its working is the recall home by Spain of Admiral Camara's fleet from Port Said, after having only just passed through the Suez Canal on its way to Manila. This sudden reversal in the destination of those ships relieved all possible anxiety with reference to Admiral Dewey's situation that fleet may have given rise to. Besides these matters the peace movement at Madrid gained new force immediately following the loss near Santiago Harbor, and since the fall of Santiago it has looked as if the prospect in that particular was even more promising. We do not mean that there is substantial reason as yet to expect that Spain is ready to grant what our Senate would demand to close the war. But we have in the current movement the beginning of the end. It only remains for us to forward vigorously whatever plans have been undertaken, and peace cannot be far off. The happenings we have mentioned show clearly enough that Spain is no longer in a situation to make an aggressive movement against any portion of the United States, and that business enterprise is consequently relieved from the menace which the possibility of such an attack has given rise to.

We should not omit to record the fact that Congress has adjourned. A less advertised adjournment has never come within our experience. Such an occurrence has hitherto almost invariably caused a feeling of relief throughout business circles. Last Friday afternoon at two o'clock the Session came to an end, without any evidence apparent of either regret or gratification on the part of the public. This indifference evidences how exclusively the war and its interests have occupied the attention of the legislator and of the individual. When the needed legislation affecting our army and navy had been finished the Senator's and Congressman's necessary work was at an end. The session offered but limited scope for the kind of agitation which of late years has been so harmful to our industries; what chance in that line lay open was of a negative rather than of a positive character. It was sins of omission not of commission that this year fell within the sphere of possible action. Congress had the opportunity to do the country a great service and to permanently benefit all our indus tries. Commercial and financial classes earnestly desired currency reform legislation, but the House determined not to attempt it. The neglect to take up and pass the bill reported by the Currency and Banking Committee was extremely unfortunate. The dominant party, as a result of that neglect, would inevitably suffer in the fall elections were it not that the minority party represents dishonest money through and through and populism in the gross. Even as the matter stands, the party in power may be harmed, since the omission to pass the bill creates a spirit of resentment or indifference, either of which fosters abstention from voting among those who feel that currency reform is the issue of first importance. We should be sorry if that result were to follow, as the success of the sound money project appears promising to us through future action of the party in power; while at present the outlook for the success of such legislation in every other direction is without hope.

The crop indications, which are such an important factor in the situation at this season of the year, continue highly encouraging. The Agricultural Bureau at Washington has this week issued its report showing the condition of all the crops on the 1st of July, and it fully meets expectations in reflecting a very satisfactory outlook. As our readers are aware, there was some deterioration during June in the case of most of the leading crops, so that the general averages are not quite so high as they were at the time of the preceding report. But the important fact is that notwithstanding these declines, the averages remain exceedingly good, and much better than at the corresponding date a year ago. Take winter wheat for example. Condition has been lowered 5·1 points, and yet at 85·7 the average compares with 81·2 in 1897, 75·6 in 1896 and 65·8 in 1895, and is 4·3 points higher than the average for the past ten years. So, too, in case of spring wheat. The average is down from 100 9 to 95, but at this latter figure comparison is with 91·2 in 1897 and 93·3 in 1896. Indeed, the Bureau tells us the spring-wheat condition is 6·2 points above the average for the past ten years, and is the highest July average, with two exceptions, in thirteen years. Based on these figures, the yield the present season is estimated at over 600,000,000 bushels. This would certainly be a very comfortable crop. We may add that the estimates of private parties in some cases run as high as 700,000,000 bushels.

The other leading crops afford equal promise at this date, though of course should conditions be unfavorable hereafter this prospect might be modified. The average for the oats crop is 92 8, which though 5·2 points lower than last month, is 5·3 points higher than at the same date last year, 4·9 points higher than the average for the past ten years, and is, the Bureau says, the highest, with one exception, since 1889. The condition of corn at 90·5 is not as high as in most other years, but it is at least 7·6 points better than at the beginning of July in 1897. The acreage seeded to corn is reported 3 per cent less. Not less satisfactory are the Bureau's conclusions regarding rye, cotton, potatoes, &c. The average for rye is placed at 93·8, for barley 85·7, for potatoes 95·5 and for cotton 91·2.

In brief, then, so far as the situation has developed thus far, the agricultural promise is highly satisfactory. And this is a feature necessarily of great importance, both in its effects on our foreign trade and on the traffic and revenues of our roads. In an article on a subsequent page entitled "Our Contributions to the World's Food Supplies," we show that the value of our breadstuffs exports in the late fiscal year reached over a third of a thousand million dollars —$333,750,819—this comparing with only $114,604,780 in 1894-5. Nor has the expansion been due mainly to the higher price realized. In the case of wheat, to be sure, this has been an element of no mean significance, though even here the average was not up to that realized in 1891-2. In the case of the other cereals, however, the price, while good, has not been exceptional, and the quantities shipped have been simply enormous—far in excess of those of any other year. For instance, for corn the average was 35·6 cents per bushel. This is better than the average for the year immediately preceding, which was only 30·6 cents, but is not as good as the price realized for 1895-6 at 37·8 cents, when nearly a hundred million bushels of corn were sent out. Indeed, barring 1896-7, no year for a quarter of a century has recorded so low an export price on corn as 1897-8. In oats, too, the improvement has been comparatively small, the price for 1898 having been 29·8 cents, against 24·9 for 1897 and 26·9 for 1896.

We refer to this question of price because now that values are lower it seems desirable to bear in mind that it was quantity rather than values (excepting only wheat), that made the values of the breadstuffs exports so exceptional in the late year. For wheat it seems reasonable to look for a lower price, considering that the average was 98·4 cents per bushel in 1897-8; as the quantity shipped moreover was very large (217,510,533 bushels, counting flour reduced to wheat), it is possible that the difference on that account might be considerable. But we point out in the article referred to that a most noteworthy feature in the breadstuffs exports in recent years has been the marvelous expansion, not in wheat, but in the other cereals—corn, oats, &c. And there, as we have seen, prices have not been above the normal.

As far as the railroads are concerned the influence of good crops, together with an active foreign demand for the same, is well illustrated in our review of railway earnings for the first half of the current calendar year, which we give on a subsequent page. The compilations contained in that article show an actual increase in gross earnings over the first six months of 1897 in the sum of over 57 million dollars on the railways contributing returns, so that on the whole railway system the addition must have been between 65 and 70 million dollars. This improvement in the revenues of the roads indicates on what foundation the appreciation in the market value of the securities of these properties which has occurred during the last twelve months rests. At present the upward tendency in earnings has for the time being been arrested, as is evident from the returns for the current weeks of July. But, as we see, the improvement already established in the income of these transportation lines is of really striking proportions, and furthermore the less favorable comparisons now made in the weekly returns may be ascribed in the main to the sudden contraction in the grain movement. But this falling off in the grain shipments can hardly be regarded as permanent. The new wheat crop will soon be moving, and with the outlook for the other crops also good and the prospects favorable for an active foreign demand for all our agricultural products, it would seem as if the grain traffic of the roads must shortly again reach large proportions.

A very encouraging event this week has been the announcement by the reorganization managers of the Baltimore & Ohio that the time for the deposits of securities under the reorganization plan would be limited to August 1. This ensures a speedier carrying through of the arrangement than any one had dared to hope. It appears that the plan has met with such general approval that there is really no reason for further delay. As pointed out by us a few weeks since. the B. & O. is almost the last of the long list of railways which in recent years have been obliged to pass through the process of foreclosure and reorganization. The hardships resulting from these reorganizations have been great, but the movement has been restorative and therefore helpful to industrial development. As in the other cases, the rehabilitation of the B. & O. means the raising to a new plane of credit and value of a large mass of previously depreciated securities.

As was to be expected, the figures of iron production prepared by the "Iron Age" record a further falling off in the make of the pig metal. The "Age" reports only 185 furnaces in blast July 1, producing 216,311 gross tons per week, against 190 furnaces June 1, producing 225,398 tons, and 194 furnaces May 1, producing 234,163 tons. The contraction, it will be observed, is at the rate of close to a million tons a year. The lessened output would seem to have no significance further than that it reflects caution at a time when by reason of the war in progress enterprise is necessarily to some extent held in check. An encouraging feature is the decline in stocks coincident with the reduction in the output, though we would not have the reader infer that these stocks are to be regarded as unduly large. "The Age" reports the amount July 1, 805,311 tons, against 823,382 tons June 1 and 841,524 tons May 1.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, has loaned at 1 and at 1½ per cent at the Stock Exchange during the week, with the bulk of the business and the average about 1¼ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 1½ per cent as the minimum. Time contracts are more firmly held by lenders, there being some expectation of lighter offerings resulting from the bond settlements. Rates are 2@2½ per cent for thirty to ninety days, 3 per cent for four to five and 3½ per cent for six to seven months on good Stock Exchange collateral, and a fair amount of business is being done at these quotations. There is a moderately large supply of commercial paper offering and choice names meet with ready sale at the higher rates which have ruled this week. Quotations are 3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 4 per cent for prime and 4½@5½ per cent for good four to six months' single names. Banks report a good demand for re-discounting from nearly all parts of the country, East, West and South, but this inquiry is chiefly to procure money with which to pay for bonds, and not much of it is for business purposes. Correspondents of banks say that, except in specia lines which are affected by contracts for war material business is very dull, and especially that of manufacturing. Almost everybody seems to be waiting for the ending of the war and the return of peace, and it is believed that the termination of the conflict would be immediately followed by a very decided revival of all business enterprises.

An Indian rupee loan for £1,200,000, brought out in London on Tuesday, elicited tenders for about £22,000,000, and a syndicate applying at £88 5s. 6d. received only 1 per cent. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 1½@1¼ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1⅞@ ⅞ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3½@3⅝ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England lost £756,425 bullion during the week and held £36,346,627 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to £237,000 net sent to the interior of Great Britain and to the export of £519,000, of which £509,000 went to Russia, £5,000 to Holland and £5,000 to South America.

The foreign exchange market has been very dull though firm this week. Trades in bills between bankers are impossible because of the revenue tax upon exchange drafts, and there are very few commercial bills offering, though some of these for future delivery against grain are making their appearance in the market. The Canadian banks have, since the beginning of the month, sold about £150,000 of unstamped exchange drawn in Canada upon the correspondents of the banks in Great Britain, claiming that the Internal Revenue law does not require that bills drawn and made payable out of the United States shall bear a stamp. Such bills can be sold at $1 per £1,000 less than other bills of exchange and the Canadian bankers say that they have no difficulty in disposing of them though some of the other exchange drawers declare that they would decline to accept, or to receive, such drafts should they be offered them.

The range for nominal rates for exchange remained unaltered during the week at 4 85 to 4 85½ for sixty-day and from 4 86½ to 4 87 for sight. Rates for actual business opened firm on Monday at unchanged figures compared with those at the close on Friday of last week and quotations were 4 84½@4 84¾ for long; 4 85¾ @4 86 for short and 4 86@4 86¼ for cable transfers. On the following day, while rates for actual business in long were unaltered those for short and for cable transfers were advanced one quarter of a cent to 4 86@4 86¼ for the former and 4 86¼@4 86½ for the latter, and the market was quite firm though inactive. On Wednesday Brown Bros. advanced their posted rates half a cent but this made no alteration in the range, and the market was firm without change in rates for actual business, and it so continued on the following day, with the transactions almost wholly in counter business. On Friday the market was quiet and steady, with rates for actual business reduced one-quarter of a cent for short and for cable transfers. Bankers look for more activity as soon as commercial bills become more plentiful as the result of the grain movement. There is some prospect of a good demand for travelers' credits, the European passenger traffic showing a decided increase since the beginning of the month. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

SPAIN AND THE PEACE RUMORS.

The fall of Santiago was inevitable, and was so recognized by all experienced observers after the destruction of Cervera's fleet. Indeed, it may be said that the fate of the city was settled after the heights commanding it were captured in the dashing charge of General Lawton's regiments on July 2; for it is pretty well understood that Cervera's effort to escape from the blockaded harbor was based on the conviction of the Spanish commanders that the city was no longer tenable. It cannot, therefore, be said that the formal surrender last Thursday involved in any way a novel and unexpected turn in the campaign. In itself it certainly had no such significance as Dewey's victory at Manila on May 1 or the second naval triumph off Santiago July 3. This fact, we presume, accounts for the comparative apathy with which public opinion and the financial markets have received the news.

In two respects, however, the formal surrender was a matter of great relief and reassurance. Some hints contained in General Shafter's dispatches, and a reported difference of opinion in a council of war held some days since by our commanders, had led many people to suspect the possibility that the Spanish troops at Santiago might escape and join the army at Havana. The still more recent advices regarding an outbreak of yellow fever in our camp had led to very discouraging apprehension of what might happen if General Toral were to refuse to surrender. Such misgivings, at all events, are dispelled, and that is much. If there have been mistakes in the management of our army at Santiago, they are covered by the achievement of its double purpose, and it is reasonable to expect that some useful and necessary lessons have been learned.

It is only natural that the surrender of Santiago should be followed by renewed reports that Spain is about to negotiate for peace. Such rumors circulated even before the terms of capitulation had been settled. During all of the past ten days, discussion of the probabilities of battle have been almost superseded by discussion of the probabilities of peace. It has been asserted in the European press, with more or less particularity, that the Spanish Government, now that its entire American fleet had been destroyed, and especially since its army abandoned Santiago, was at length convinced of the hopelessness of continuing the struggle. Rumors were circulated accordingly that the Sagasta Cabinet had already made some tentative moves in the direction of a settlement; that popular sentiment in Spain had developed positively against continuance of the war; that the pressure of friendly European Powers for a termination of the war had become urgent, and, in short, that the way was fairly opened for successful negotiations.

In some regards the more explicit news from Madrid has borne out the beliefs voiced in these flying rumors. The Spanish news which comes to us needs to be sifted as cautiously and skeptically as the American news which goes to Spain; but it seems to be unquestioned that a "peace party" has developed in the Madrid Ministry, and that the Spanish newspapers, which take the cue of their official utterances from the Cabinet, have to a large extent shifted ground in favor of immediate negotiations. From the tone of the similarly inspired French and German press it may also be inferred that the governments of those two States have taken ground strongly in behalf of Spanish surrender. Both our own administrative officers and members of the Spanish cabinet were quoted in words which might be interpreted as meaning early negotiations.

But the difficulty in drawing conclusions as to immediate probabilities lies in the fact that Spain and the United States are by no means taking similar views as to what would be involved in such surrender. No definite proposition has as yet been made to our Government in Spain's behalf, either directly or through friendly intermediaries; but the tone of the discussion, as reported from Madrid, appears to indicate that at the present time withdrawal from Cuba is the only ultimatum which that Government is likely to entertain. Nothing is definitely said concerning Porto Rico; very little concerning Manila; but it is highly significant that the mere suggestion of the surrender of Cuba has aroused, especially in Spanish army circles, a vigorous opposition, and has already disrupted the Spanish Cabinet. The answer from these opposing quarters, probably faithfully re ported, is that whatever may have happened to the Spanish navy, the main army in Cuba is not yet defeated, and that to give up without resistance would be simple cowardice. When this argument is applied to Cuba, where our troops already hold a portion of the island, it may be judged how much more forcibly it will apply, from the Spanish point of view, to Manila, on which we have hardly yet obtained a foothold, or to Porto Rico, which is not even effectively blockaded.

The truth probably is that the greater part of the Spanish people wish for peace, but are looking for it on such terms as would be held inadmissible by our Government. If this is the situation, the outlook for an immediate termination of the war can scarcely be so bright as this week's dispatches have suggested. The Spanish Government would probably be willing, under pressure, to surrender Cuba; but an offer to give up anything more than Cuba would almost certainly arouse insurmountable popular opposition. On the other hand, it is conceivable that our own administration, if governed solely by its personal impulses and judgment, might arrange a peace on something like Spain's terms; but the administration is not free-handed in the matter. It has to deal, first, with an obstinate Senate, whose approval is requisite to any treaty, and, second, with the people at large, who have for upwards of two months been discussing not only Cuba, but Manila and Porto Rico, as the logical prizes of a brilliantly successful naval war. In each case it is popular opinion which bars the way to a reasonable settlement, and it is for that reason we have been unable to attach full credence to this week's reports of a movement in behalf of peace.

The problem of bringing the two sides to a settlement, if historical precedent is to be our guide, can be solved only in one of two ways—by the capture and holding of whatever territory this nation chooses to demand from Spain, or by the modification of our own terms of peace so far that Spain, in its financial and physical exhaustion, would consent to yield to them. At the present moment, we must confess that we see small reason to expect popular approval of any concession from the terms of peace which our people as a whole appear to have in mind. It must, however, be remembered that as yet little has happened to weary and disgust the American people with the idea of war; a people does not often plead for a settlement of war while its navy, almost without the loss of a single life, is dealing a series of successful and overwhelming blows at its antagonist and when its first military enterprise has just succeeded. The other side of popular sentiment discloses itself only after repulses in the field, heavy and useless sacrifice of life in battle, tedious manœuvres and long strategic deadlocks. Some feeling of this sort undoubtedly began to develop after the bloody battle at Santiago, followed as it was by delays, uncertainties, and reports of serious sickness in the army. It is conceivable that a few months more of similar experience would bring our own people into a somewhat altered mood as to what we are willing to concede to Spain for the sake of peace. If, on the other hand, Havana is captured, Manila occupied, and Porto Rico either surrendered or invested, the Spanish Government would have no alternative left but to submit.

We suppose that as a purely military problem it is our Government's proper policy to pursue this war relentlessly until Spain sues for peace on our own terms. Unfortunately the problem is not purely military; it is the civil, constitutional and diplomatic phases of the controversy which are even now rendering our position perplexing. In these regards our very attitude and purposes have not yet been in any formal way disclosed. Opinion on the one question of supreme importance—whether the United States is ready to embark on a colonial career—has found expression only in the press and in popular discussion. The Administration has not publicly defined its attitude; the Senate's sentiment is known only through canvass of individual opinions among its members. No party has as yet framed a platform on the question. At such a stage of public sentiment it is not easy to say off-hand how far our exactions from the Spanish Government ought to be or can be carried.

It is our own judgment, however, that the United States is already committed to the policy of maintaining distant dependencies. Whether wisely done or not, the annexation of Hawaii has settled the general principle; for it is peculiarly in radical changes of policy like this that the first step costs. Unless we wish to incorporate Hawaii as a State, which we hardly think would be advocated by the average American citizen, it must be administered virtually as a colony. The application of old laws, formerly applied to territory lying within the boundaries of the Union, can hardly alter the facts of the situation. It is at least a reasonable question then, whether Manila must not be considered as a further step along the same road. We have taken upon ourselves the responsibility of Hawaii; can we avoid the responsibility forced on us by circumstances in the Philippines? If it prove to be impossible either to return Manila to Spain or to guarantee the partially-civilized insurgents an independent government, or to dispose of the conquered territory to other parties, we shall be confronted with one of the situations in which history forces nations to break, to a greater or less extent, with the precedents of their own past. It is quite possible that such a situation will confront us in Manila, for the insurgents are our own allies and cannot decently be abandoned to their Spanish enemies; they can scarcely be assumed as capable of representative government, and the transfer of the islands to still another government is diplomatically out of the question.

We think this fact is recognized regarding Manila, both by our own people and by European observers. It cannot well be avoided in discussing the general question of peace, and it will, we think, eventually be recognized perforce by Spain herself. As to when such recognition of the facts may be expected, that is merely a matter of conjecture. It has been argued that yesterday's suspension of citizens' rights by the Spanish Government foreshadowed a move to settle the war in the face of popular opposition. This is conceivable; nothing is inconceivable in the present chaotic condition of the Spanish nation. We have stated merely the probabilities of the matter as they appear to us at the moment and in the light of history. It may be that Spain, in its helplessness, will abandon even its own diplomatic and historical precedents. This possibility may be better judged, however, when the first overture for peace is actually made by Spain. How even a tentative proposition of the kind would be received by the Spanish people, what answer would be made by our Government, and what would be the attitude of the American press and people, are factors yet undetermined, which must in the end decide the matter.

*THE ANGLO-FRENCH WEST AFRICAN CONVENTION—THE MADAGASCAR TARIFF—BRITISH SENTIMENTS ABOUT THE WAR —THE ENGLISH COTTON INDUSTRY.

MANCHESTER, July 2.

Much satisfaction is expressed by merchants and manufacturers interested in the West African trade, and indeed by business men throughout the whole country, that a final settlement has at last been reached of the long pending questions as to the boundaries of the French and English spheres of influence in the hinterlands of the Ivory coast, the Gold coast, Dahomey Lagos and the Niger region. Not the least acceptable part of the arrangement is that by which, in these particular parts of Africa, Great Britain and France agree to give equal commercial conditions to the trade of both countries. As far as this country is concerned the practice of equal treatment is, of course, universal and unchangeable. But France has shown a disposition in recent years to extend the colonial fiscal policy followed in Indo-China, Algeria, Madagascar, and elsewhere, to her West African possessions, and it is regarded as just cause for congratulation that the principle of the "open door" has been recognized, although the duration of this particular arrangement is only thirty years. Still some security is taken for its continuance, for England has agreed to give France two much desired bonding stations on the Middle and Lower Niger with rights of navigation on the river. These privileges are also to last only for thirty years, but as they are reckoned in France as of much value, it is to be concluded that their continuance after the end of the term will ensure a continuance also of the equal commercial conditions just referred to.

It may he hoped, however, that before 1928 experience will have convinced the French people that the Cuban and Philippine method of governing dependencies is neither profitable to the ruling State, nor anything but ruinous for the people of the dependencies, nor, in the long run, quite safe. A change of this kind is likely to be encouraged if the prosperity resulting from the present settlement in the really vast territories to which it refers should be great and progressive during the next thirty years. There is good ground for anticipating a very large development of trade and settled industry there before very long. From the English port of Lagos a railway has already been pushed a long way towards Aleskuta, and plans have been prepared for its extension in a northeasterly direction toward the Niger into the heart of Yoruba-land, where there are the great cities of Ibudan and Ilorin, one of these at least having a population of over 100,000. It will probably not be very long before this line is extended to the Niger, and perhaps beyond it into the rich and populous regions of Sokoto and Borneo, ending perhaps at Lake Chad. In the Yoruba country and in Borneo, if not also in Sokoto, there have long been the rudiments of settled industry and even of manufactures. In Borneo cotton cloth is spun and woven by hand and leather is tanned, the latter at least being sent over the desert in the shape of the red leather of which African slippers are made, as far as Tripoli, Tunis, Algiers and Morocco.

One important consequence of the development of these regions will be that an appreciable and growing market for silver will be opened out. Over a large portion of them there is at present no other currency except curios and slaves. Slave raiding, which is practiced by kings and chiefs upon their own people, is not prompted by savagery, but by the need of a valuable currency. Some thousands of curios must be counted out to pay sums which to us seem quite trifling, and it is absolutely impossible to pay large amounts, such as the annual tribute of a chief to his suzerain in that kind of money. Each chief, when he has to discharge his tribute-debt, seizes some of his own people and remits them to headquarters. If he goes on a journey, he provides himself with ways and means in the same fashion, disposing of the captured slaves here and there on his route in making purchases of the things he wants. The ruler of Kano in Borneo, however, is able almost to dispense with slave raiding, because he receives his taxes in cotton cloth and leather, and uses these in paying his tribute to the King of Sokoto. It is obviously a safe conclusion that one of the most prominent of the wants of these regions, which will have to be satisfied when trade and industry are quickened by closer commercial intercourse with the world, is the want of silver, the only one of the precious metals adapted to their condition and requirements.

There is some reason to regard the Madagascar tariff question as not finally closed—a fact which is of considerable interest to United States manufacturers of the cotton sheetings known there and throughout East Africa as "Americani," and of other cotton goods, of which considerable quantities have long been shipped to that quarter of the world. It will be remembered that when the French Government converted the "protectorate" of Madagascar into a "possession" by deposing the Queen, it was announced that the former treaties between Madagascar and other Powers, by which the import duties were limited to 10 per cent, were de facto extinguished. The doctrine was understood to be novel in international law, but it has been supposed to have received the tacit acceptance, with or without protest, of other States. At all events, there is good ground for the belief that the doctrine has never been formally accepted by the British Government. Allusions to it have been made by Lord Salisbury and other members of his Administration, but always in guarded terms, as if it were of modern origin and of the nature of an innovation.

The question is obviously of considerable importance, and it would not be surprising if it were to become the subject of diplomatic discussion, now that the delicate and rather irritating differences between the British and French governments about their West African boundaries are laid to rest. The application of the French minimum tariff to Madagascar last August pretty nearly killed off the import into the island of British and American cotton manufactures, and a recent further increase of the duties on particular descriptions has made the extinction of it absolutely certain. Manchester houses engaged in the Madagascar trade now buy the cloths they ship to the island from French manufacturers at Rouen or in the Vosges. They may well do so, for these French goods go into Madagascar duty free, whilst those from other countries pay specific duties equivalent to from 55 to 75 per cent. As if this inducement were not strong enough, General Gallieni, the Governor-General, issued recently a circular to French and native officers throughout the island, publishing it also in the "Journal Officiel de Madagascar," urging them, as a matter of patriotism, to encourage the wearing of French cloths, and giving them fac-similes of their trademarks, which they were enjoined to distribute amongst the people of the island in order that they might distinguish the French goods. There are enlightened men in France who disapprove of this policy entirely, on the ground that it will keep the population poor, and that the only way to prevent the new possession from becoming a still greater burden upon the home Treasury is to let them buy what they require from any quarter whence they can obtain supplies at the lowest cost.

British interest in the progress of the war continues keen and alert. Every phase of it is followed with the closest attention, the latest war news in the morning and evening papers being eagerly read. Sympathy with the United States has become wider and deeper as the real issues of the conflict have become clearer, and practically the whole nation is of one mind about it. It is accepted as certain that the colonies East and West are lost to Spain, and there is much confidence, even amongst those who have large commercial and investment interests in them, that the United States will make a wise disposition of these territories when the war is over. On this subject one hears hardly any definite opinions or forecasts. It is perhaps not out of place to express the hope that the American people will not permit themselves to be greatly perturbed by the somewhat acrimonious language indulged in by an influential section of the German press with reference to American criticisms of the large naval force now present at Manila. The calmness of President McKinley, reported by telegraph from Washington, is regarded by thoughtful people here as admirable and as justified by his consciousness of strength, and probably by his accurate information as to the purposes of the German Emperor.

The condition of the English cotton industry during the first half of this year has, on the whole, been better than it was in the corresponding portion of 1897. The improvement has, however, been much more distinct in the spinning than in the weaving branch. Spinners have made money, and confidence in the continuance of better times is shown by the fact that four large, new spinning mills, built within the last nine months, are just about to commence work in South Lancashire. The erection of four others has begun. Most, if not all of these, will use American cotton. The weaving or manufacturing portion of the industry has not fared so well, and no extensions in this department are heard of. One can hardly wonder that this is the case, considering the generally discouraging state of the India markets for a long time past, and the bad state of business in Brazil and Central America, which are usually large consumers of the higher qualities of English prints and other cotton goods of the better grades. The English home dry-goods houses are complaining of slack demand and somewhat too heavy stocks. Their disappointment does not appear to arise so much from the inability of the people to buy—although some injury must have been inflicted by the extensive and prolonged stoppage in the engineering industry last year—but rather from the unseasonable weather during the later spring and early summer. Light and fancy articles of dress have not gone off well, and both the retail and the wholesale distributers hold larger supplies of unsold goods than they like to have. An early advent of better weather will go far to make good much of the loss.

OUR NOTEWORTHY CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE WORLD'S FOOD SUPPLIES.

The United States has long been an important contributor to the world's food supplies, but never before has it occupied such a pre-eminent position in this respect as during the fiscal year which closed on June 30. Neither in quantity nor in value have we ever previously sent out as much breadstuffs in any period of twelve months as during the twelve months in question.

This may seem a very familiar fact, since reference to the unusual demands on us has been common enough all through the year. The newspapers have made much of the matter. The advance in prices served to rivet popular attention on it, and the avidity with which foreign consumers kept buying here, in face of the high prices ruling, furnished the best evidence of the urgent need that existed abroad. Notwithstanding all this we venture to say there are very few persons who have a proper appreciation of the magnitude of the supplies we sent out during the late fiscal year. So much is said and printed regarding wheat that one is very apt to lose sight of the fact that entirely independent of the wheat movement the breadstuffs exports have undergone noteworthy expansion and are each year reaching larger proportions.

We do not mean to assert that the wheat shipments are not of prime importance. Now and for many years to come they must necessarily form the bulk of the breadstuffs exports—that is as far as values are concerned; as concerns the quantities shipped, the outflow of the other cereals already exceeds that of wheat and flour. And that is the feature to which we wish to direct particular attention. In the immediate past it has been only within the last two years that such a statement could be made. Nor does the distinction arise out of any retrocession in the outward movement of wheat. The wheat and flour exports in the late year, as it happens, did not excel all past records. Nevertheless the shipments reached 217½ million bushels, an amount so imposing that to state it is to impress every one with its magnitude.

We say this export of 217½ million bushels of wheat and flour does not come up to the best previous record. As a matter of fact, however, there is only one year that can dispute pre-eminence with 1897-8 in that respect. We refer to the year 1891-2, when we shipped 225⅝ million bushels of wheat and flour Thus the late year's total falls 8 million bushels below this other large total, but with that exception it has never previously been approached. ' As against the 217½ million bushels for 1898, the exports for 1897 were only 145 million bushels and for 1896 but 126½ million bushels.

The outflow of wheat having thus been of such phenomenal proportions, the fact that the shipments of the other cereals combined should run ahead of even such a total gives added signi ficance to the fea ture. Indeed, the outward movement of corn alone has come pretty close to equaling that of wheat and flour. We sent out during the twelve months of 1897-8 over 209 million bushels of corn. The growth of the demand for this cereal on the part of foreign consumers is really one of the most encouraging incidents in our breadstuffs export trade. The significance of the 209 million total for corn will be better understood when we say that up to and including 1896 it had happened but once that the corn shipments aggregated as much as one hundred million bushels. In 1897 there was a great jump, so that we sent out almost 177 million bushels, and in the late year, as we have seen, there was another step forward to 209 million bushels. The progress made during the last three years is best indicated by noting the advance first from 27,691,137 bushels to 99,992,835 bushels in 1896, then to 176,916,365 in 1897, and now to 209,034,459 bushels for 1898. The price received for corn per bushel is of course much lower than that realized for wheat. The average for 1897-8 was 35·6 cents per bushel, which was just five cents a bushel better than the average export price of corn for the year preceding; but otherwise the lowest for a very long term of years. Applying the prices to the quantity shipped, we find that our corn exports in the late year were worth not far from 75 million dollars, in exact figures $74,292,769. The increasing part in value which the corn movement has played will appear when we say that in 1894-5 the amount was but $14,650,767, that from this there was an increase to $37,836,862 in 1896, then to $54,087,152 in 1897 and now to $74,292,769 in 1898. Evidently this is a profitable field to cultivate.

But it is not alone the corn movement that has been expanding. To most persons it will be a surprise, we are sure, to hear that we sent out over 69 million bushels of oats. This used to be considered a liberal export total for corn in the days when oats cut hardly any figure at all in the export trade. The rise of that cereal to prominence has been very sudden. In 1895-6 only a little over 13 million bushels (13,012,590 bushels) comprised the full extent of our disposals of oats to foreign consumers. From this there was an increase to 35 million bushels (35,096,736 bushels) in 1897, and then the jump to 69,080,344 bushels in 1898. The value of these oats exports was over 20½ million dollars ($20,611,567) in 1897-8, against only 8¾ million dollars ($8,756,207) in 1897, and less than 3½ million dollars ($3,497,611) in 1896.

So, too, the outside world has been taking increased amounts of rye from us. In 1896 that cereal contributed less than a million bushels (in exact figures only 988,466 bushels) to the exports; the very next year the total went above 8½ million bushels (8,560,271 bushels), and now for 1897-8 we find ourselves fortunate enough to have disposed of more than 15½ million bushels (15,541,575 bushels). We got an enhanced price, too, for our sales, the average per bushel in 1897-8 having been 56·8 cents, against 42·8 cents in 1896 7 and 45 cents in 1895-6. The value of the exports was $8,825,769, against $3,667,505 the year previous and only $445,075 in 1895 96. Barley is the one cereal recording a falling off, the shipments having been 11,233,695 bushels, against 19,030,301 and 7,680,331 bushels respectively in the two years preceding, and the values $5,530,399, against $7,646,384 and $3,100,311.

If now we add the 217,510,533 bushels of wheat and flour exported to the shipments of 209,034,459 bushels of corn, the shipments of 69,080,344 bushels of oats, the shipments of 15,541,575 bushels of rye and the shipments of 11,233,695 bushels of barley, we get a grand aggregate of cereal exports of about 522½ million bushels—522,400,606 bushels. If this illustrates in a striking way how greatly foreign consumers were dependent on us for their supplies, it also indicates under what a tribute we have been able to place the outside world in our foreign trade by reason of these phenomenal exports. We have shown how great has been the expansion in the shipments of the separate cereals during the last few years. The combined total serves to bring out the same fact in a still more signal manner, for we find that against the exports of 522,400,606 bushels for 1897-8, the exports for 1896-7 were only 384,692,645 bushels, and for 1895-6 but 248,118,190 bushels. In face of such figures it seems almost superfluous to say that the value of our breadstuffs exports as a whole in the late year exceeded that of any preceding year, notwithstanding that the wheat outflow did not equal that for 1891-2. The total value of the breadstuffs exports aggregates no less than 333¾ million dollars, which compares with $197,857,219 for 1897, $141,356,993 for 1896 and but $114,604,780 for 1895. The best previous total was for 1892, and that did not quite reach 300 million dollars. We annex a summary of the yearly figures for each year back to 1874.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR JUNE AND THE HALF-YEAR.

The course of railroad gross earnings for the half-year which ended on June 30 was satisfactory in an eminent degree. There was marked improvement in the results from beginning to end of the period. For June, the closing month, there was somewhat of a halt in the upward tendency under a modification of the conditions which had controlled the character of the returns in the earlier months, so that the outlook became for the moment a little uncertain. But that was practically the only exception to the rule, and taking the six months together, the gains were not only large in amount but large in ratio. In this we refer alike to the showing of the separate roads and to the comparisons made by the grand aggregates.

For the railroad system of the United States as a whole we should judge that the betterment of earnings, as compared with the first six months of 1897, must have reached over sixty-five million dollars. Of course final and complete data so soon after the close of the half-year (only fifteen days having elapsed since then) are out of the question. But our statements are nevertheless very comprehensive, covering much the greater part of the railroad mileage of the United States, and they leave no room to doubt that the estimate of an improvement of sixty-five million dollars in the gross receipts of all the roads is entirely safe and conservative. We have obtained returns for the full six months from 133 roads operating 104,926 miles in 1898, and for these roads gross earnings the present year have been $33,958,577 in excess of those for the corresponding six months of last year. In addition we have had returns for the five months to May 31 from 69 other roads operating 53,440 miles and reporting $23,481,928 more gain. Altogether, therefore, the recorded gain alone for these two classes of roads reaches $57,440,505 (this covering 202 roads operating 158,366 miles), with another month's increase to add on for one of these classes of roads. Annexed we show the figures in tabular form.

In order to understand the significance of this recorded improvement of $57,440,505 in the gross receipts of the roads, and to see what a striking contrast it presents with the character of the exhibits in other years, only very brief reference to the comparisons for these other years is necessary. In 1897, for instance, our statement compiled in the same way—that is, part covering only five months' earnings—showed a loss of $1,266,174. In 1896 and 1895 there were gains, but the amounts of these gains were relatively small, reaching respectively $20,061,481 and $12,232,536, and moreover they followed a loss of no less than 74½ million dollars in 1894, which latter was one of the worst years the railroads have ever experienced. In brief, after a long period of depression and slow recovery the revenues of the lines have at length taken a decided start forward. In tabular form the comparisons back to 1894 are as follows.

If the improvement the present year is large in the aggregate, many of the separate roads we need hardly say have been no less distinguished in the same way. The Pacific roads and the grain-carrying lines are particularly conspicuous, though as a matter of fact imporant gains come from all parts of the country. There are some twenty roads or systems where the increase runs close to or considerably in excess of a million dollars, and in at least one instance the addition exceeds four million dollars. The latter reference is to the Southern Pacific Company, which for the five months to May 31 reports its gross enlarged $4,361,162. This transcends the amount of the improvement of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which for the same five months on the Eastern and Western lines combined has $3,877,900 increase. But the trunk lines as a rule did not fare as well as the roads further West, first because of the demoralization in rates in the territory of the Joint Traffic Association, and, secondly, because the grain tonnage is necessarily a much smaller factor with them than with the other roads. The Baltimore & Ohio, however, was able to turn its improved facilities to advantage and added $1,341,043 to its receipts for the five months, which is considerably more than the gain on the Central, estimated at only $830,747 for the half-year.

The distinctively grain-carrying roads, both in the Northwest and the Southwest, all record noteworthy expansion. Thus for the five months the Burlington & Quincy has $2,739,088 gain, the Chicago & North Western $2,576,489 and the Atchison $2,424,859 gain; while for the full six months the Milwaukee & St. Paul has $2,010,897 increase, the Missouri Pacific $1,827,630, the Great Northern $1,814,025, the Rock Island $1,623,312, etc., etc. The Pacific roads make a similar showing, the improvement here following from a two-fold cause—that is, the revival of business on the Pacific Coast as well as the larger grain traffic. The exceptional improvement on the Southern Pacific has already been referred to. The Northern Pacific gained $2,634,741, the Canadian Pacific $1,869,215, the Oregon Navigation $1,265,543, not to mention smaller amounts. In the Middle Western States the Illinois Central has swelled its total by $2,456,544, due in part, however, to a larger mileage operated the present year. The Wabash has bettered its last year's total by nearly a million dollars. In the South the Louisville & Nashville has an addition of $1,111,734 and the Southern Railway (without the Memphis Division), an addition of $905,638. But these illustrations might be multiplied indefinitely. The truth is, the improvement has been general, and there is hardly a section or a class of roads that has not managed to participate in it. In the following we show all the increases down to $100,000, both for the six months and the five months. There are no decreases for that amount, and in fact only 25 decreases of any kind out of the whole 202 roads contributing returns.

In some respects the ratio of gain indicates more than the amount of gain. Hence it is interesting to note that the $57,440,505 improvement recorded by our figures reflects an increase of 13·13 per cent. The ratios of gain have been heavy all through the half-year, excepting, as already stated, June, for which month the increase is only 6·38 per cent. For the other five months the percentages have varied from 13·79 to 16·56, as will appear by the following. The reasons for the less favorable result in June are discussed further below.

The causes for the great improvement in earnings which occurred during the half-year lie on the surface. Among these causes first place must of course be assigned to last season's excellent grain crops and the coincident shortage abroad. The effect was, as our readers know, to establish a high range of values for our cereals and enable the agricultural classes to dispose of their grain at profitable prices. As a consequence the farmers have been blessed with great prosperity. The railroads profited in a double way from the large crops. They got in the first place a large traffic in grain and other agricultural products, and in the second place the prosperity of the farmers necessarily led to increased purchases of supplies and goods by this part of the population, giving the roads a large return movement in merchandise and general freight.

We shall presently set out the grain figures and show how important must have been the addition to the traffic of the roads in that way alone. But there were other favoring influences. The live-stock movement in the West was a little heavier in the aggregate, though there was considerable irregularity as between the amounts brought in by the different roads, some showing losses, some gains. In the South there was a large increase in the shipments of cotton—more than a million bales. Then also the weather conditions interposed fewer obstructions than usual. The winter was mild, and snow and cold interfered comparatively little with the operations of the roads; no general blockades extending over wide areas were reported, barring the blizzard experienced in the New England States at the end of January and the beginning of February. There had been comparative freedom from such disturbances in 1897, too, but not quite to the same extent. As to floods and overflows, the difference was decidedly in favor of the present year. In March there were some customary freshets and washouts, but as compared with the situation which prevailed in the spring of 1897 these occurrences hardly deserve mention. For in that year the floods in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys were of exceptional magnitude; the overflow of the Mississippi, for instance, was the worst on record, it lasting through many weeks and being accompanied by great destruction of property and the loss of many lives.

The activity of general trade of course also played a prominent part in enlarging the traffic and revenues of the roads. The outbreak of war, with the developments leading up to it, served to prevent the great expansion in trade which might otherwise have occurred. At the same time the war did not prove such a serious impediment to trade as had been at one time feared; the naval victory at Manila came very early in the conflict, and made it evident that the struggle would be a very one-sided affair, with all the elements favoring this country. Of course, with war in progress, no matter how foregone the issue, full industrial activity was out of the question. But whatever the check on business, trade was much more active than in the first six months of 1897, when we had not yet recovered from the depression which attended the silver campaign and when Congress was engaged in framing a new tariff law. The war, by reason of Government contracts, proved a stimulus in certain lines, but this was of limited advantage treating the industries as a whole. The movement of troops to points of concentration and debarkation was likewise a new source of traffic, but this, too, was of special and limited rather than of general importance; a few roads did, though, benefit in a decided way, notably Southern roads and more particularly Florida roads, like the Florida Central & Peninsular. In discussing the effects of the war on general trade, the fact should not be overlooked that the prosperity of the farming classes and the great revival in trade on the Pacific Coast (the latter in part induced by the favorable agricultural situation, but in part also by the Klondike gold discoveries) necessarily proved a stimulus to trade everywhere.

The one adverse influence of large moment was the rate disturbances. Probably never before in a time of peace among the roads have rates been so completely demoralized as they were during the half-year just closed. The trouble was particularly serious in the territory of the Joint Traffic Association, rates both east bound and west bound being affected. This will explain why the results on the roads in this territory have been so much less satisfactory than on the roads further west.

Coming now to an examination of the grain movement, we find a very heavy increase nearly everywhere. A few of the Western markets show diminished receipts of particular kinds of grain—Duluth of wheat, Peoria of corn and oats—but in the grand aggregates embracing all the Western markets, the expansion has been very noteworthy. Thus for the 26 weeks ending July 2, the receipts of wheat in 1898 were 69½ million bushels, against 47½ million bushels in the corresponding period of 1897, and the receipts of corn 117½ million bushels, against 78½ million bushels. Combining wheat and corn with oats, barley and rye, the total is 283,152,074 bushels, against 220,754,253. In other words, roughly, 62½ million bushels more of grain were brought in the present year—representing, say, 1½ million tons of freight. We may add that the movement at the seaboard has shown even more striking expansion, the receipts in 1898 having been 236,790,455 bushels, against 165,828,937 bushels in 1897, 96,285,139 bushels in 1896 and 55,061,285 bushels in 1895. We annex our usual table giving the details of the grain movement in the West—both for June and the half-year. For June, it will be observed, there was a falling off.

As usual, the bulk of the increase in the grain deliveries occurred at Chicago. Taking here the figures for the even half-year, we find a total of 133,419,383 bushels for 1898, against 91,757,852 bushels for 1897, as per the following table.

The foregoing table covers also provisions and live hogs, in which it will be discerned there was likewise an increase. The deliveries of hogs were 4,323,800 in 1898, 4,097,082 in 1897 and 3,839,466 head in 1896. This, however, relates to only one kind of live stock. The deliveries of all kinds of stock aggregated (according to the Western papers) 136,027 car-loads in 1898 against 133,256 cars in 1897.

With reference to the cotton movement, receipts at the Southern ports in the six months of 1898 were 2,693,907 bales, against 1,609,728 bales in 1897 and 1,537,663 bales in 1896. The shipments overland in the same years were respectively 862,816 bales, 476,774 bales and 482,305 bales.

We have left ourselves little room to review the month of June by itself. But the less favorable results for that month are easily explained. We have seen that for the half-year the heavy grain movement was a prominent factor in the large gains in earnings. For June this grain movement fell materially behind that of a year ago. The collapse of the Leiter wheat deal was in part responsible for the contraction. On the one hand the drop in prices removed the inducement for sending grain to market, while on the other hand the high prices previously prevailing had so reduced stocks, at least in the case of wheat, that there was little left to be sent forward. Another fact to be taken into consideration is that June earnings, as far as the aggregates are concerned, have been fairly good for several years. The evidence of this is found in the following table.

	Mileage.		Earnings.		Increase or Decrease.
	Year Given.	Year Preceding	Year Given.	Year Preceding

Below we furnish a list of the principal changes on the individual roads. The great body of roads have done well, notwithstanding the smaller grain movement. The loss of $269,313 reported by the Central deserves a word of explanation. It is an estimate made in June, after the month had only just about opened. It therefore probably errs in being ultra conservative. Hence it would not be surprising to find the actual loss very much smaller.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

We have received this week from the Collector of Customs at San Francisco the details of imports and exports of gold and silver through that port for the month of May, and give them below, together with the figures for the preceding months, thus completing the results for the eleven months of the fiscal year 1897-98. The imports of gold were large in volume—only slightly less than for April—the amount received reaching $3,025,504, of which $2,949,052 was in coin. Of silver there came in $111,929, of which $105,746 was bullion. There has been received during the eleven months a total of $22,448,938 gold and $1,927,173 silver, which compares with $9,499,130 gold and $1,997,710 silver in 1896-97. The shipments of gold during May were $81,162 coin, and the exports of silver have been $121,880 coin and $529,334 bullion. For the eleven months the exports of gold have been $1,190,285, against $977,391 in 1896-97, and $9,348,535 silver has been sent out, against $8,690,906 in 1896-97. The exhibit for May and the eleven months is as follows:

Monetary and Commercial English News

[From our own correspondent.]

London, Saturday, July 2, 1898.

The political events of the week have been a more optimistic speech from Lord Salisbury than he has delivered for many months past, and the termination of the Ministerial crises both in France and in Italy.

The first statement of M. Brisson, the new French Premier, has been received, as was generally expected, with a moderate amount of favor in the French Chamber of Deputies, but it is thought that the members of the Government are drawn too exclusively from the Left to be likely to obtain for long any very cordial support from the Chamber taken as a whole. Nevertheless, in two or three weeks' time the Chamber will adjourn for the summer recess, and if the Government is able to maintain itself on good terms with the Chamber during that short period, it is at any rate assured of office until the re-assembling in the middle of October next. Its fate must depend upon the chapter of accidents and the general impression as far as I can gather is that it is not thought that it will be a very long-lived Ministry. But in these matters even the opinions of those best in a position to judge are rarely of any great value, as the tenure of any ministry in office must depend upon such a variety of circumstances which cannot be foreseen beforehand.

With regard to the new Italian Ministry, a similar comment would not be out of place, the Italian Ministry being still more dependent upon a very uncertain majority for its tenure of office. It is composed chiefly of members of the Left and the more influential supporters of the late administration. In addition the Premier is a general of the Italian army, and doubt is naturally expressed how the more advanced wing of the party upon which his Government must lean, if they are to secure a majority at all, will like to be presided over by one who from the nature of his position is at all times at the order of the War Office. As in the case of the French Ministry, so in that of the new government at Rome, the near advent of the holiday season may give it a longer life than is prophesied for it in influential quarters.

For no conceivable reason the Bank of England directors at their meeting on Thursday decided to reduce their official minimum rate from 3 per cent, at which it has stood since the 2d of June, to 2½ per cent. As this change was made after prolonged deliberation on the part of the Court of Directors, it is assumed that a large minority of the Board were making against any change whatever, which would have certainly coincided with the wishes of the market outside—the general opinion being that as Thursday was the last day of the first half of the year it would be well to put off making any reduction until next week. A reduction of ½ of 1 per cent, moreover, it is thought, will, in all reasonable probability, be followed by a further reduction to 2 per cent, which would give bankers and others the trouble of announcing in two consecutive weeks a reduction in the rate of interest which they are prepared to allow to depositors. In addition and until the very end of the half-year even the short-loan money was so easy that it was readily obtainable by those in really first class credit at anything from ½ to ¾ per cent. It is true that on Wednesday night there was a small business done at the Bank, and on Thursday those who had failed to provide themselves with accommodation earlier in the week had to go to the Bank and pay the full official rate. Nevertheless, rates in the outside market were quoted below 2 per cent. Under these circumstances I need hardly add that the Bank exercises but a very moderate control over the outside market, and as soon as the turn of the half year has passed considerable sums will again be offered by bankers and others who have called in money for the purpose of making a good show in their half-yearly statement.

Yesterday's return shows that the Bank remains in a very strong position, although there is a considerable reduction in the reserve during the week. This has been occasioned merely by an outflow of money into internal circulation consequent upon seasonable demands, and the item at 27 millions sterling is nearly two millions higher than at the corresponding date of last year, while the proportion of the reserve to the liabilities of the Bank, at 48¾ per cent, although somewhat lower than the figure at which it stood last week, is 4 per cent better than at the corresponding date.

So small is the speculative position open upon the Stock Exchange that at the settlement which was concluded on Wednesday rates for the fortnight ruled from 2¼ to 2½ per cent, and the extreme ease in the money market to which we have just referred is undoubtedly partly due to a very large extent to the absence of any kind of speculative activity in the stock markets. Even the great investment markets fail to attract their usual share of business, and speculative activity, so far as the public is concerned, has almost completely died out, while the professional operator does very little. The reason for this, as I explained last week, is that greater attractions for the employment of capital are to be found in other directions. The highest class of investment securities, such as consols, local loan stock and British and Irish corporation securities and the railway stocks upon which there is a fixed rate of interest are already at such high prices that the return to any but the very richest is almost prohibitively small. Industrial securities are undoubtedly attracting considerable attention; nevertheless the growth of expenses in these undertakings militates to a very large extent against any possibility of their reaping additional profits from the increase in their receipts. The speculative position is depressed, chiefly upon political account, and until you see your way to terminate the war now in progress between yourselves and Spain, it is hardly likely that we shall witness, particularly on this side, any great activity in American railroad securities. The South African market is likewise dominated by political considerations. The defeat of the Cape Ministry a fortnight ago is taken as a forecast of the speedy advent to power once more of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, and how he will be able to maintain all the relations between the Government and the Cape and that of the Transvaal Republic remains to be seen.

Silver has been steady for the greater part of the week at 27s. 5-16d on the continuance of the Spanish purchases, but the price yesterday fell to 27⅛d. on cessation of this demand. The India Council was again successful in the disposal of its weekly allotments of 40 lacs of rupees. For this amount the total applications of the market exceeded 129 lacs, and although the prices tendered were again somewhat lower than at the preceding allotment, nevertheless they work out about a penny a rupee over the prices offered for the corresponding date 12 months ago. The total sales so far have realized £5,200,000, as against about 2¼ millions a year ago.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The dominant influence this week in Wall Street was the prevailing sentiment in regard to probable results of military operations in Cuba in the near future. The stock market was strong or weak, as this sentiment was one of hopefulness that success would be speedy or of discouragement because of delays and exaggerated reports of sickness among our troops; this was the situation until Thursday, when the announcement was made that Santiago had surrendered on terms made by American authorities, which gave a substantial upward movement to prices.

A prominent feature noted at the Stock Exchange was an unusually active market for railway bonds and a phenomenal advance in some issues. Brokers also report a better demand at the counter. No doubt a part of this demand is speculative in character, but it is equally true that a large amount of money is now seeking investment. The new war loan has been many times over-subscribed and will absorb only a small part of the funds that have been held in anticipation of it. Moreover investors are evidently expecting an era of general prosperity to follow the close of the war, during which well selected railway securities are likely to be profitable holdings.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1 to 1¼ per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¼ to 1½ per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3¾ to 4 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £756,425, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 46·12, against 46·39 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 3,675,000 francs in gold and 1,650,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of July 9 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $6,669,900 and a surplus over the required reserve of $53,345,300, against $62,013,550 the previous week.

State & Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $6,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 91½.

The market for railway bonds has been relatively active and strong. Business in this department is usually at the minimum during July and August, but this week transactions at the Exchange have ranged from a little less than $3,000,000 to nearly $6 000,000, par value, per day. Of these amounts only a small proportion was of bonds which sell at par or above, the larger part including issues which are likely to benefit by the increased traffic reported during recent months or by proposed reorganization plans. Conspicuous among these are Atchison adjustment 4s, Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf, Missouri Kansas & Texas 2ds, Pittsburg & Western 1sts, San Antonio & Aransas Pass, Texas & Pacific 2ds, Union Pacific Denver & Gulf and Wisconsin Central bonds, which advanced from 2 to over 6 points. Several other issues show gains of between 1 and 2 points on more limited transactions.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been largely under control of the professional element during the week. The volume of business was limited to an average of about 200,000 shares per day, in which the speculative issues were conspicuous. The opening was strong on Monday and prices advanced on expectation that peace negotiations would soon be announced. Tuesday's market was somewhat hesitating in character, and on Wednesday weakness was the prominent feature. Thursday there was more or less irregularity until the news came that Santiago had surrendered, which caused a complete change in tone, and prices advanced. To-day's market was disappointing to those who looked for a strong upward movement to follow the favorable war news.

Illinois Central was conspicuous for an advance to 111½, the highest quotation recorded since 1890, on rumors of an increased or extra dividend. Unusual activity is noted in Atchison preferred shares, in sympathy with the adjustment bonds as noted above. The grangers were strong features, St. Paul again selling above par, North West. going to within a fraction of the highest price this year and St. Paul & Omaha exceeding its high record for 1898 by nearly 5 points. Shares of the anthracite carriers were weak on the unsatisfactory condition of the coal trade. Central of New Jersey, Delaware & Hudson and Reading declined an average of about 2 points.

The miscellaneous list was irregular, as is frequently the case, but net changes are generally unimportant. West Chicago Street fluctuated over a range of 8¼ points, Consolidated Gas a range of 4¼ points and American Tobacco a range of 4⅛ points.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of June 18, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of July 23, 1898.

Lake Erie & Western Railroad.

(Report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1897.)

President Calvin S. Brice says in substance:

Results.—The gross earnings for the year increased $95,123, the net earnings $36,267 and the surplus, after paying charges and dividends, $15,257. The ratio of expenses to earnings, exclusive of taxes, was 57·46, as against 57·33 for the previous year, and the sum of $295,551 was expended in additions and betterments, as against $319,366 for 1896, including $158,925 for automatic couplers and air brakes.

The quarterly dividend of 5 per cent upon the preferred stock has been continued during the year, leaving a surplus of $149,647 to be carried over. From this balance there has been advanced to the Northern Ohio Ry. Co., on account of interest on the bonds guaranteed, $125,000, leaving a net surplus for the year of $24,646.

Cleveland & New Castle Ry.—The contemplated extension of the Northern Ohio Ry. from Akron to New Castle was not made in the year 1897, but contracts have now been signed between the Lake Erie & Western and Northern Ohio railroad companies on one part and the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Ry. Co. on the other part, by which your companies agree to build a line of railway of the first class from Akron to New Castle, during the year 1898, and the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Ry. Co. agrees that it will extend its line from Panxsutawney, through Butler, to New Castle, so that the same shall be completed as a first-class railway not later than May 1, 1899. This not only gives the lines of this company an eastern outlet over roads now in operation, but gives access also to the manufacturing and coke districts of the Pittsburg and Connellsville region by connection at Butler with the Pittsburg Bessemer & Lake Erie RR. Co.'s line, recently completed, and to the extensive coal and coke fields of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Ry. The board believes that this will make the Northern Ohio Ry. Co. not only self-supporting, but a source of profit to the Lake Erie & Western.

Prospects.—Your property is in better condition than ever before in its history. Traffic conditions are still unfavorable in the territories served by your company's lines,' so that while the volume of business increases, gross revenues show little or no gain. We believe, however, that in your company's territory the returns for the year 1893 and subsequent years will be much more satisfactory.

Maintenance.—Some of the work done for the maintenance and improvement of the property is as follows:

The bridges have been fully maintained and extensive improvements of a permanent character added. Included in the repairs is the renewal and repairing of pile and trestle bridges, aggregating in all 27,015 lineal feet. In addition one seventy-foot, one forty-one-foot and two forty-foot steel plate girders, resting upon first-class masonry abutments, were placed. Track ties renewed, 312,870; switch ties renewed, 202 sets. About three thousand feet of openings in the track were replaced by permanent embankment.

Ninety eight miles of main track, extending from Kirks Station to Wesley Junction, were ballasted and 1,900 tons of new 75-pound steel rails were used to renew well-worn steel of lighter section. The replacement of not less than forty miles of light steel with new rail of our standard seventy five-pound section is recommended.

The number of locomotives is one hundred and ten, all in good or fair repair. Three small locomotives were scrapped during the year. The company is engaged in supplying its freight equipment with air brakes and automatic couplers, to meet the requirements of national and State laws. About three thousand cars have been supplied with automatic couplers and over two thousand with air brakes.

Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

(Advance Statement for year ending June 30, 1898.)

Mr. August Belmont, Chairman of the Board, accompanies the usual preliminary statement of earnings with the following remarks:

Results.—"The general results of the operations for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, show an estimated surplus of $1,621,143. There has been appropriated out of this surplus the following amounts:

For couplers and air brakes	$500,000
For rolling stock	500,000
For reduction of grade	248,441
Making a total of	$1,248,441

"The amount for the purchase of couplers and air-brakes is sufficient to equip fully, in accordance with the requirements of the Inter-State Commerce Commission all of the cars in the service of the company. While the rolling stock has been fully kept up and added to, the increased business of the company has required an addition to the same, the cost of which it was not deemed advisable by the Board to charge to capital account.

Restoration of Wages.—"The reduction of the salaries of the officers and employes which went into effect in 1893 has been restored 50 per cent, commencing July 1, 1898, and 50 per cent Jan. 1, 1899, which will appear in operating expenses for the coming fiscal year.

Dividends From Future Earnings.—"The above appropriations complete the extraordinary expenditures which appear necessary to be made, and the surplus earnings which accrue hereafter will be applicable to dividends."

Pennsylvania Company.

President Frank Thomson says:

General Results.—Your lines regained in 1897 the tonnage which had so largely fallen off in the preceding year, although it was not until midsummer that the normal movement of traffic was resumed. The conditions from that time until the end of the year were quite favorable, and are reflected in the increased earnings of both the Northwestern and Southwestern systems. The entire tonnage upon the lines operated directly by your company was 23,871,767 tons, being an increase of 4,348,456 tons. The aggregate tonnage moved upon all your lines west of Pittsburg was 51,80),?53 tons, as compared with 46,176,140 tons for 1896. The entire number of passengers moved was 15,532,735, as against 16,379,284 in 1896. It will be seen that there was a material decrease in this branch of traffic. The number of passengers moved on the lines operated directly by your company was 5,221,400, a decrease of 544,107.

The earnings per ton per mile on the entire system show a further decrease, the average rate being 6 4 10 mills, as against 6 8 10 mills for the preceding year, but the cost having been reduced from 5 1-10 mills to 4 4-10 mills, there was a profit of 2 mills, as compared with 1 7-11 mills for 1896. The earnings per passenger per mile were the same as in 1896, but the cost was increased 1-10 of a mill.

Construction and Renewals.—There were laid on the Northwest System, in construction and renewals, 14,2?0 tons of new steel rails, and on the Southwest System 17,017 tons. There were 114 miles of track on Northwest System ballasted with gravel, cinders and stone, and 214 miles on the Southwest System. There were 8·17 miles of second track completed and put in operation on the Pittsburg Division of the Pittsburg Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry. and 2·16 miles of third and fourth track on the Eastern Division of the Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago Ry.

Terre Haute & Indianapolis.—St. Louis Vandalia & Terre Haute.—The Terre Haute & Indianapolis RR. still remains in the hands of a receiver. The time has hardly yet been reached when a satisfactory adjustment can be had between the various interests embraced in that system. The affairs of the St. Louis Vandalia & Terre Haute RR., which is operated under lease by the Terre Haute & Indianapolis, are in the meantime necessarily administered by the receiver of the latter road; and it was deemed unwise, until the relations between the lines in the Vandalia system are adjusted, to make any permanent arrangement with regard to the $3,6 0,000 second mortgage 7 per cent bonds of the St. Louis Vandalia & Terre Haute which matured May 1st, 1898. They have, therefore, been purchased by your company and are held in its treasury.

Bonds.—The funds for that purpose, and for the redemption of other obligations about to mature on your lines, were obtained through the sale of $5,000, 00 guaranteed trust certificates dated Sept 1, 1897. These certificates are secured by deposit of an equal amount of 7 per cent guaranteed special stock of the Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago Ry. Co. and constitute Series "A" of an authorized issue of $30,-100,000. The other series will be available from time to time for the capital requirements of your Western lines. The issue of $3,20 ,000 of your 6 per cent bonds secured by the stock of the Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago Ry. Co. as collateral has been entirely redeemed.

Capital Expenditures.—The expenditure on capital account west of Pittsburg was very light during the year, the entire amount being $409,087. It was absolutely necessary, however, to enable your lines to carry traffic at the low rates that prevailed to make large expenditures on additional tracks and revision of grades, the latter being notably the case in Chicago, where, under recent ordinances, both the Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago and the Pittsburg Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway companies were compelled to elevate portions of their tracks at a heavy expenditure, the ultimate object being the elimination of the grade crossings in the more thickly populated sections of that city.

The H. B. Claflin Co.

(Report for the six months ending June 30, 1897.)

Mr. John Claflin, the President, says:

During January and February our trade was excellent, but the Maine disaster and consequent expectation of war caused serious mercantile depression in March and April, from which the country is now gradually recovering. Great agricultural prosperity and large importations of gold have in the past been followed invariably by notable activity in trade. Such considerations point to a material improvement in general business during the coming half-year

The results for the half-year and the balance sheet June 30 were as follows:

Altoona & Phillipsburg Connecting RR.—Receiver Applied for.—The Harlan & Hollingsworth Co. has filed a bill in equity in the Common Pleas Court at Philadelphia against the railroad company, and the Union Trust Co., trustee of the $400,000 mortgage, dated June 1, 1893, asking for the foreclosure of the mortgage and the appointment of a receiver. Interest on the bonds is in default. The road extends from Altoona to Ramey, Pa., 13 miles. Its gross earnings for the year 1896-97 were $21,061; deficit from operating, $16,939. The funded debt June 30, 1897, was $15,000; current liabilities, $338,555.

American Lamp Chimney Co. of Toledo, O.—Prospectus.—Reference was made recently to this company, a portion of whose stock was offered for subscription by the Home Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Toledo, Ohio, and W. E. Hutton & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. The prospectus now at hand confirms the statements heretofore published and says:

It is provided that no bonds or additional preferred stock shall be issued without consent of 95 per cent of preferred stockholders.

The proceeds of the sale of the $250,000 of preferred stock will be used to build and equip large additions to the plant acquired from the Toledo Glass Co., and to supply adequate working capital, increasing the capacity three-fold and enabling the American Lamp Chimney Co. to supply one third of the total demand of the United States. The vendors have agreed to accept the common stock for the patents, plant and real estate.

Mr. E. D. Libbey, President of the Libbey Glass and Toledo Glass companies, will direct the management of the American Lamp Chimney Co. for five years, subject to the approval of the stockholders.

As to the patents controlling the use and manufacture of machines for blowing chimneys, reflectors, globes, etc., by machinery, Mr. Libbey says: "The experimental stage is past. The figures given here are the result of actual operation of the machines. Under the old process of blowing offhand or in moulds the cost to blow chimneys when produced under the most favorable circumstances is on the average 15 cents per dozen. By our process the cost is 5 cents per dozen. The demand for lamp chimneys in this country is very large, the annual consumption being over 7,000,000 dozen. With the 14 pot furnace now in operation and the 16 pot furnace which will be erected at once and be in full operation by November, we can produce 22,500 dozen lamp chimneys per week. The cost of manufacturing and selling same, including taxes, insurance and all other expenses, will be $7,500 per week. The selling price after deducting 15 per cent from present market price will be $10,000, which shows a net profit of $2,500 per week. This earning capacity will be largely increased when our third furnace is in operation, early in 1899."—V. 67, p, 26.

American Tobacco—Continental Tobacco—Plug Tobacco.—Consolidation Deal Blocked.—A Louisville paper is authority for the report that the proposed consolidation of tobacco factories has been blocked by the unfavorable action of the Scotlins and the Drummond Tobacco Co.—V. 66, p. 810.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Bonds Sold.—The company has sold to a syndicate composed of the Guaranty Trust Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. $3,500,000 general mortgage bonds to reimburse its treasury for cash expenditures heretofore made. These expenditures include the payment of equipment bonds (of which $250,000 are redeemed yearly), the completion of the Atlantic & Pacific purchase, improvements upon the Santa Fe Pacific since July 1, 1897, and improvements upon other lines of the system in the calendar year 1897. The price is not stated, but is understood to approximate the present market price of the bonds.—V. 66, p. 1139.

Baltimore City Passenger Ry.—Until Sept. 30 to Subscribe.—The stockholders are given until Sept. 30 to subscribe at $50 per $25 share for the 40,000 shares of new stock, the allottment being two shares for every five shares now held. President Franklin states that 52,843 shares of stock were voted in favor of issuing the new stock and 12,331 shares in favor of issuing $2,000,000 4 per cent bonds.—V. 67, p. 72.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—25 Per Cent of Assessment Payable on or Before Aug. 1.—The success of the reorganization plan of June 22, 1898, appearing assured, the reorganization managers have called for payment on or before Aug. 1, 1898, the first instalment of the stock assessment, viz: 25 per cent of the $2 per share payable on the first preferred stock and 25 per cent of the $20 per share payable on the second preferred and common stock. Payment must be made at the Mercantile Trust Co., No. 120 Broadway, New York, or at the London & Westminster Bank, London.

Deposits of Securities Received Till Aug. 1.—The reorganization managers also announce that the time for further deposits of the stocks and bonds disturbed by the plan has been limited to Aug. 1, 1898, after which date deposits will be accepted, if at all, only upon such terms and conditions as the reorganization managers may impose.

Non-Assenting Consol. 5s Must Be Withdrawn On or Before July 28.—Owners of more than 75 per cent of the 5 per cent consols of 1887-1988 deposited under the agreement of Nov. 1, 1897, have already given their written assent to the plan of reorganization. Holders of the remaining certificates who do not approve the plan have until July 28, inclusive, to announce their dissent. All bonds not so dissenting will be deposited subject to the plan.

Parkersburg Branch Bonds.—More than 60 per cent of the Parkersburg Branch bonds, due April 1, 1919, deposited under the agreement of April 1, 1898, have already given their written assent to the plan. Non-assenting certificate holders must give notice of their dissent on or before July 28, or their bonds will be deposited under the plan.—V. 67, p. 27.

Brooklyn Elevated RR.—Long Island RR.—Rockaway Trains on Brooklyn Elevated.—The Brooklyn "Eagle" gives the following interesting particulars as to the arrangements for through travel which are being perfected by the Brooklyn Elevated RR. and Long Island RR. Co. under their recent alliance:

"The new Rockaway Beach route of the Brooklyn Elevated RR. Co., via the tracks of the Long Island RR. Co. will be opened next Saturday (to-day) if the plans of the officials do not miscarry. The Broadway route of the elevated will be used to run to Rockaway and passengers may transfer to this line from any of the other lines of this company and may also reach it from Manhattan by taking the bridge elevated cars. The running time from Broadway Ferry to Rockaway will be 45 minutes and the fare will be 30 cents excursion and 15 cents single tickets.

"The work on the inclined plane at Chestnut Street and Atlantic Avenue, which connects the elevated structure with the tracks of the Long Island RR., has been done by the Long Island RR. Co. The necessary property for the inclined plane was bought by the elevated company, which has half of a city block, some 400 feet frontage and 125 feet deep. The inclined plane has been built to the rear of this plot and the front will be sold or leased ultimately for building purposes. President Uhlmann, of the elevated road, expects a good summer business over this new Rockaway route. According to the contract with the Long Island RR., the elevated road will receive 5 cents for each passenger carried, and as its cars and engines will make the run to Rockaway, it will also receive payment for the use of the rolling stock, in accordance with the agreement made on the Culver route to the West End.

"As soon as the Rockaway Beach route is running smoothly attention will be turned toward building a second inclined plane at Flatbush Avenue and connecting the two systems here. This connection will be of far greater importance than the other and will probably result in the abandonment of the rapid transit system of the Long Island road. When the inclined plane is built, which is expected to be by Sept. 1, elevated trains will run along Atlantic Avenue as far as Jamaica, making frequent stops. By this means it will be possible to ride from Manhattan Borough over the Bridge and as far as Jamaica without change of cars. It is expected that the Brooklyn Elevated engineers will do the work on the Flatbush Avenue inclined plane, and plans are now being prepared. An order for over 150 new cars to be used on this new route from Manhattan to Jamaica has already been placed."—V. 67, p. 27, 29.

Brooklyn & New York Ferry Co.—Purchase of Control—New Company Proposed.—The firm of H B. Hollins & Co. has offered $300 per $100 share for a controlling interest in the $2,000,000 stock of this company. If the purchase goes through, as expected, it is proposed to organize a new company to take over the property and to make improvements. The Union Ferry Co., it is stated, has no part in the transaction. A circular to the shareholders says:

An offer of $300 a share having been made by H B. Hollins & Co., of New York City, for the control of the stock, the undersigned, acting as a committee of directors to consider the same, have for themselves individually decided to sell their holdings, provided that all the stockholders have a like privilege to sell their holdings at the same price. This stipulation having been agreed to, the stockholders desiring to participate in this sale are hereby informed that they may deposit their stock duly endorsed in blank with the Knickerbocker Trust Co., No. 66 Broadway, New York City, which will issue its receipt therefor, and will pay for the stock when 70 per cent of the capital stock, or 14,000 shares, have been so deposited, at the rate of $300 a share. Deposits as above may be made on and after July 18 until August 15, when right to deposit and sell shall expire.

The company operates three lines of ferry, one from Broadway, Brooklyn, to Roosevelt Street, N. Y.; another from Broadway, Brooklyn, to 23d Street, N Y., and a third from Grand Street, Brooklyn, to Grand Street, New York. The $2,000,000 of stock has paid dividends of 8 per ct. per annum. There is also a bonded debt for a million or more.

Buffalo City Gas—People's Gas Light & Coke.—Consolidation Plan.—An agreement has been reached for the consolidation of these properties, either under the title of the People's Gas Light & Coke Co., or of a new company to be organized. In either case Mr. Emerson McMillin will be President of the consolidated corporation, and representatives of both the old organizations will be on the board of directors.

It is understood that the syndicate money has practically been arranged for, but that stockholders of the Buffalo Co. who may wish to participate can do so upon application.—V. 66, p. 1013; V. 67, p. 74.

Calais & Baring RR.—Foreclosure Sale Aug. 1.—The foreclosure sale is advertised for Aug. 1 at Calais, Me., under mortgage of 1852. The sale will include the lease of St. Stephen RR.

Capital City Water Co. of Montgomery, Ala.—Bonds Being Redeemed.—The Maryland Trust Co. is now redeeming at par and accrued interest the $350,000 bonds of this company. The plant has been purchased by the City of Montgomery.—V. 66, p. 899.

Carolina & Cumberland Gap.—Purchased by Southern Ry.—This line, extending from Aiken, S. C., to Edgefield, 24 miles, has been acquired by the Southern Ry. Co., which began operating it on July 1 as part of the Columbia Division.—V. 64, p. 81.

Central Pacific RR.—Mr. Huntington's Statement.—Regarding the amendment to the General Deficiency bill as adopted by the House of Representatives last week, providing for the settlement of the indebtedness to the Government of the Central Pacific RR. (see amendment V. 67, p. 27,) President C. P. Huntington of the Southern Pacific Co. says:

We have not made up our minds what we had better do. The bill gives some little time to fix the matter up with the Government and many things are likely to happen in twelve months. My impression is there will be some arrangement arrived at satisfactory both to the Government and to shareholders. There seems to be some complaint in London about me, but I myself know that I am doing the best I can for the shareholders. All the transcontinental roads have gone into bankruptcy twice except Mr. Hill's Great Northern. I have kept the Central Pacific always in a position where it has paid its bills except to the Government.

I am looking out more particularly for shareholders. The Government has received $5 in benefits for every $1 it advanced in the construction of the road. There are some people in Congress who make it their business to tear down things, but the shareholders of the Central Pacific should certainly be paid, and I have every hope that they will be paid. Our Government gave the Northern Pacific and the Atlantic & Pacific land grants twice the value of those given the Central Pacific. In building those other two roads it did not increase the business to be carried, and, what is far worse, the competition cut down the transportation rates. The competition mean death to the earnings of the Central Pacific, but when we get Central Pacific affairs adjusted we can run in harmony with the Southern Pacific, and eventually, I believe, Central Pacific shares will get back to their best prices.

Against the amounts due the Government there are considerable claims against the United States for transportation on non aided lines. Attorney-General McKenna, in his annual report to Congress in December last, stated that after crediting the company with all possible items disputed, as well as admitted to be due to it, there would be unpaid on Jan 1, 1898, $46,753,087.

Central Pacific RR. Shareholding Company.—At a meeting June 28 of the holders of the certificates issued by the London committee of shareholders, Mr. F. G. Banbury, M. P., who presided, said, in substance :

The Central Pacific Railroad Shareholding Co. has been organized, and through it we have for the first time acquired control of the property, the total expenses involved being only £6,595, or 5d. per share, which amount has been advanced by Speyer & Co. The total number of shares issued is 672,755, of which 338,500 are held by the new company, thus giving it a clear majority. The figures do not include the shares which are held by the Amsterdam Committee, who are working in accord with it. When the shares had been transferred to the new company there remained only a fortnight before the election of directors to the railroad company took place. That was a short time in which to obtain new directors, and it was thought, moreover, that until the question of the company's indebtedness to the United States Government was settled, it would be unwise to make any great change on the board. A distinct and written pledge from the present directors, however, was received that they would not do anything important without consulting the committee.—V. 67, p. 72.

Chicago & North Western Ry.—Bonds Listed.—There were listed this week on the New York Stock Exchange, under previous authority of the Stock List Committee, $1,040,000 of new general mortgage 3½s, making the entire amount of these bonds listed $6,000,000.—V. 66, p. 1139.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry.—Stock Dividend Payable July 18.—The stock dividend of 10 per cent authorized at the annual meeting will be distributed on and after July 18. At the time of the meeting we were officially informed the stock dividend would be paid Aug. 1, along with the cash dividend then to be paid on both old and new shares alike. It is now deemed best that the stock distribution should take place first.

Additional Stock to be Listed on July 18.—The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the listing on July 18 of $3,844,000 additional stock, raising the total stock authorized and issued to $50,000,000. This additional stock, together with a portion of the amount heretofore listed, but held by the company, represents the stock issuable on Monday as an extra dividend.—V. 67, p. 73.

Cincinnati New Orleans & Texas Pacific Ry.—Answer in Suit to Assess Stockholders.—Charles Kruse has filed an answer in the suit of Tate and others to assess the stockholders. He sets up the fact that there is an action pending in the U. S. Circuit Court, and alleges that the assets in the hands of the receiver are more than sufficient to pay the debts of the company.—V. 66, p. 900.

City Gas Co. of Norfolk, Va.—First Dividend.—The company has declared its first dividend, 1 per cent.—V. 62, p. 1139.

Cobourg Northumberland & Pacific Ry.—Canadian Pacific Ry.—Bonds Offered.—Five per cent perpetual first mortgage debentures of the Cobourg Northumberland & Pacific Ry. Co. for £151,200 were recently offered for subscription in London at 102. The road is a standard gauge line, under contract for completion by Oct. 1, 1898, from Cobourg, on Lake Ontario (about eighty miles east of Toronto), to the Ontario and Quebec division of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Central Junction, a distance of forty-nine miles, through an agricultural district. The Canadian Pacific Railway leases the line for 999 years, provides all rolling stock and equipment, pays all expenses and taxes, and hands over to the company 40 per cent of the gross earnings of the line, payable quarterly, with no deductions whatever.

Colorado Midland Ry.—Listed in London.—The London Stock Exchange announces the listing of the following securities: $6,250,000 first mortgage 2 3 4 per cent 50-year gold bonds of 1947, $861,000 first mortgage 4 per cent 50-year gold bonds of 1947, $4,644,800 4 per cent non-cumulative preferred stock and $3,420,200 common stock.—V. 67, p. 28.

Edison Electric Illuminating of Brooklyn—Municipal Company Acquired.—The acquisition of the Municipal Electric Light Company has been completed, substantially on the basis outlined in the circular issued by the Municipal Company to its stockholders on June 20. All of the 75,000 shares of stock of the Municipal Company, except a few shares, have been transferred. The circular of June 20 said :

Each stockholder will receive at least twice par value of his stock in cash or in the consolidated mortgage bonds of the Edison Company. The amount of additional consideration to be received from the $250,000 of bonds to be deposited with the trustees, as provided in the agreement, is necessarily uncertain; but we believe that it will amount to at least 10 per cent of the par value of the stock sold.

The negotiations with the Kings County company are still pending and the form that the deal will take if carried out has not been determined.—V. 67, p. 73.

Fort Wayne (Ind.) Consolidated Ry.—Foreclosure Decree.—Judge O'Rourke at Fort Wayne has entered a foreclosure decree under both mortgages. The Court declares invalid $600,000 5 per cent bonds, which were to have been held to take up the first mortgage 6s; $300,000 of 5 per cent bonds reserved for betterments, it is stated, are also "placed under the ban of the Court." The 6 per cent first mortgage is for $600,000, the 5 per cent consolidated mortgage for $1,500,000. Of the 5s, $100,000 are spoken of as in the hands of innocent purchasers.—V. 63, p. 458.

General Electric.—Meeting Aug. 10 to Act On Reduction of Stock.—A meeting of the stockholders is advertised to be held on Aug. 10 for the purpose of voting upon the proposition to reduce the capital stock from $34,712,000, consisting of 304,600 shares of common stock and 42,520 shares of preferred stock, both of $100 each, to $20,827,200, to consist of 182,760 shares of common stock of $100 each, and 25,512 shares of preferred stock of $100 each. See plan in V. 67, p. 28.

Hyde Park Electric Light & Power Co.—Judgments.—The company has confessed judgment on two notes aggregating $20,891, one for $14,891 being held by Clarence N. Goodwin, the other for $5,000 by Robert F. Hall.

Illinois Rolling Stock Co. of East St. Louis.—Increase of Stock to $1,000,000.—The company has filed a certificate in the Recorder's office in Springfield, Ill., showing an increase in the capital stock from $300,000 to $1,000,000.

Johnson Typesetter Co.—New Enterprise.—This company, whose capital stock is $3,000,000, has been organized to manufacture the Johnson typesetting machine, invented by F. Amos Johnson. This machine sets type in any length of line, automatically justifies and automatically leads. It is said to be the only machine that actually sets type and justifies a line. The company has been in an experimental state, but is now ready to enlarge its plant and manufacture for the market. Tucker, Anthony & Co., 53 State Street, Boston, Mass., by advertisement in another column, offer for sale 3,000 shares of the company's stock.

Kansas City Suburban Belt Ry.—Additional Tenants.—Secretary Taylor is quoted as follows: "The Kansas City Suburban Belt RR. has made contracts for the use of the Belt tracks by the St. Louis & San Francisco for 30 years, and the St. Joseph & Grand Island RR. for the same period. These with the contracts now in force with the Kansas City & Northern Connecting RR. gives the Belt road three new systems for the use of its tracks, the Northern Connecting road starting through trains to Omaha July 1 in connection with the Omaha & St. Louis; the St. Louis & San Francisco commence using the tracks July 15, and the St. Joseph & Grand Island the last of July. The Belt road has now the Chicago Great Western, Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf RR., Kansas City & Northern Connecting RR., St. Louis & San Francisco and the St. Joseph & Grand Island, all under thirty-year contracts except the Chicago Great Western, and contracts are expected to be closed with two other roads for the use of its tracks within thirty days.—V. 66, p. 664.

Kansas El Dorado & Southern RR.—Mortgage for $450,000.—The company has made a mortgage to the Lincoln Trust Co. of St. Louis, as trustee, to secure a bond issue of $450,000. The road is building from Rich Hill to El Dorado Springs, Mo., 40 miles. O. H. Pitcher of Rich Hill is President. It is stated that all the grading has been done and that the rails, ties, steel for bridges, etc., necessary to complete the line are upon the road. The contract is held by the Middle States Construction Co., Rialto Building, St. Louis, Mo., of which B. A. Aldrich is Secretary.—V. 66, p. 857.

Kings County Elevated RR.—To Cross the Bridge in August.—Receiver Frothingham expects his trains to begin crossing the bridge about Aug. 15, and certainly not later than Aug. 23. The delivery of the forty-five new cars to be used for this purpose will begin next week. Twenty of them will be at once equipped with electric motors. When the motor cars are in operation the company plans to extend the third rail system to three points along the line, where the grade is heavy, making in all about one mile of electric road, viz., between the Bridge and Boerum Place, between Lafayette Avenue and Cumberland Street, and between Ralph and Rockaway Avenues. Eventually the entire system will use electricity.—V. 67, p. 74.

Little Falls & Dolgeville RR.—Default.—The company was unable to pay the interest due July 1 on its $250,000 of first mortgage 6s. There is also a second mortgage for $100,000. Milwaukee Electric Ry. & Light Co.—City Ordinances.—At a recent meeting of the Milwaukee Common Council the Mayor sent in a communication recommending that no appeal be taken from Judge Seaman's decision in the 4-cent-fare case, but that a new ordinance seeking that end be adopted. A Milwaukee paper says:

Mayor Rose briefly reviewed Judge Seaman's decision, the conclusion arrived at being that an appeal would be ineffectual. The Mayor said it was apparent that the business of the street railway company had increased materially since the passage of the ordinance and the change in conditions warranted the passage of an ordinance now providing for a reduction in fares. The Mayor also advised that an ordinance be passed requiring the company to make an itemized financial report on the first of every month.

An ordinance was accordingly introduced repealing the old ordinance, but containing provisions which are described as an exact duplicate of those in the ordinance repealed.

Improvements.—Vice-President Henry C. Payne is quoted as follows with respect to the improvements in progress:

Before the close of the present year the company will have expended about $1,000,000 in improvements. The company is using its earnings for this purpose. Of course some bonds have been sold, but most of them are being held for better prices, and in the meantime the earnings are all going into improvements here, such as extensions now being built, the large and complete power house, etc.—V. 67, p. 74.

Natural Gas in Indiana.—Future of the Gas Belt.—The 22d annual report of the Department of Geology and Natural Resources of Indiana contains an interesting statement by J. C. Leach, State Natural Gas Supervisor, regarding the natural gas belt. As to the future of the belt he says in substance: "What will be the future history of the Indiana natural gas field?" * * "In most localities there has been plenty of gas to date. The service during the past two years has been better than at any time previous, owing, in most cases, of course, to the improved facilities for transporting, distributing and controlling the gas." * * "Natural gas was first used as a fuel in the Indiana field in 1886. For eleven years it has stood an enormous draught. The field did not show any material signs of exhaustion until 1890. Since that time the evidence has been accumulating. Salt water is the most aggressive enemy with which the natural gas field has to contend. It made its appearance at the edge of the field, and is advancing towards the centre. Where it has completely overrun the gas territory the wells are no longer productive. The heavier the draught, the more intrusive is the salt water. The area in the heart of the field in which wells free from this agent can be found is comparatively small, and is decreasing in size yearly. The time when the entire field will succumb to its influence can not be far distant.

"Eleven years ago the rock pressure of the entire field was 325 pounds. Now the average pressure of the productive area, which is very much less than the original gas field, is less than 200 pounds. The average yearly decrease during the past three years has been 20 pounds, the decrease for the past year being near 25 pounds. It is safe to say that a majority of the wells of the field will cease to be serviceable when the rock pressure reaches 100 pounds. This estimate is too low rather than too high."

New England RR.—Official Circular.—A circular has been sent to the stockholders offering them the privilege of exchanging their stock for the shares of the N. Y. N. H. & H. RR. on the terms already announced (V. 66, p 1002). A cash bonus is paid on exchanges of preferred stock made prior to Jan. 1, 1899. The Commission appointed by Gov. Cooke of Connecticut to consider the exchange gave its consent thereto when informed that 95 per cent of the New England shares had assented.—V. 67, p. 29.

New Orleans Traction.—Reorganization Postponed.—The payment July 1 of the coupons on Crescent City and New Orleans City & Lake bonds, it is said, will postpone the plans for the reorganization of the company. The interest paid is on the underlying bonds. The interest on the $1,500,000 trust notes of the New Orleans Traction Co. went to default May 1.—V. 67, p. 29.

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.—Large Contract.—President C. B Orcutt states that the company has secured contracts to build three steamships, averaging about 5,000 tons each, for the Morgan Line. The total price is believed to be at least $2,500,000. The company is also building, it will be remembered, two battleships for the United States Government.—V. 66, p. 709.

Northern Central Ry.—State Objects.—The right of the company to pay, as it desires to do, the $1,500,000 6 per cent State of Maryland loan, treated by the State as an annuity, is to go to the courts for settlement, and in the meantime the company will pay thereon the quarterly instalments of $22,500 each, as heretofore.—V. 66, p. 1141.

Northern Pacific Ry.—Washington Central.—Possession Taken.—The Northern Pacific took over the management of the Central Washington, 125 miles in length, now known as the Washington Central, at midnight June 30.—V. 67, p. 30; V. 66, p. 953.

Omaha Water Co.—First Dividend.—The company has declared a dividend of 2½ per cent on its $750,000 of 5 per cent first preferred stock, payable at the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. on July 20. This is the first dividend declared on the stock since the reorganization of the company in 1896. Besides the first preferred there is outstanding $1,000 000 second preferred and $2,500,000 common stock. The company is reported in sound financial condition and without debts, aside from a bonded debt consisting of $400,000 old 6s, $158,000 prior lien 5s and $3,579,000 of 4-5 per cent bonds. The company is successor, per plan in V. 62, p. 1085, of the American Water Works Co. of Illinois. Theodore C. Woodbury, of Portland, Me., is President.

Pacific Ry. Co.—Los Angeles Cable RR.—Final Decree.—Stockholders Assessed 68 Per Cent.—At Chicago, July 1, Judge Tuley in the Superior Court entered a final decree in the case of the Pacific Ry. Co., declaring the stockholders liable to the extent of their several holdings. Attorneys representing the creditors, the receiver and the shareholders have agreed that each holder shall be liable for $68 per share. The following is published regarding the case:

The suit grew out of the collapse of the Pacific Ry. Co., which was organized in 1888 by Chicago capitalists to control a Los Angeles cable road. The Court finds that the amount of the indebtedness of the Los Angeles Cable RR., which the Pacific Company became liable to pay, was $1,300,000.

The decree orders that $1,058,264 be paid to the receiver by sixty-one different stockholders who hold a little over 15,000 shares of the Pacific Ry stock, of which there are 25,000 shares. The balance of the stock is referred back to a master, who is to ascertain who is liable thereon, the stockholder or transferer. The Supreme Court held that where stockholders bought shares in good faith, believing them fully paid, the liability should fall back to the transferer. When additional claims have been proved it is estimated all claims will aggregate about $1,500,000, which, with interest accrued, would probably bring the total amount due in excess of $2,500,000. Counsel for the creditors estimate there will be realized on the 68 per cent assessment no more than enough to pay 70 or 80 per cent of the face of the claims, allowing nothing for interest.

Paducah (Ky.) Railway & Electric Light Co.—Consolidation.—This company, incorporated in June with a capital stock of $200 000, by Geo. C. Thompson, T. J. Flournoy, Geo. C. Wallace and others, it is understood has absorbed, by consolidation, all the street car lines and electric light plants in the city of Paducah, Ky. R. S. Vivian, investment broker, Portland Block, Chicago, had charge of the consolidation and the new bond issue.

Philadelphia & Reading RR.—Bonds Called.—The following 10-year sinking-fund 5s of 1902, viz., Nos.:

Terry, Dumont Clarke, Francis S. Smithers, James W. Alexander and Simon Borg, with Alvin W. Krech, 120 Broadway, as Secretary, announces that, in view of the receivership and the foreclosure proceedings under their mortgage of May 21, 1891, and also the pending reorganization of the B. & O., they have consented, at the request of a majority of the bondholders, to prepare a plan of reorganization. The committee is now prepared to receive deposits at the Mercantile Trust Co., and deems it important for the protection of the holders that such deposits should be made on or before July 30.—V. 66, p. 1190.

Richmond Nicholasville Irvine & Beattyville RR.—Ordered Resold.—Judge Barr has ordered the property to be resold, Adolph Segal of Philadelphia, who agreed to buy it for $250,000, having failed to pay more than the first instalment of $25,000. The sale, it is said, will take place in September. Mr. Segal organized the Louisville & Southeastern Ry. On or after Aug. 1, 1898, those so depositing will be entitled to receive the new consols and the balance of interest due on said exchange ($21 25 for each $1,000 of bonds exchanged). Scranton Ry.—Securities Listed in Philadelphia.—The Philadelphia Stock Exchange has listed the $2,500.000 capital stock of the Scranton Ry. Co., and also the $1,000,000 first mortgage 6s of the Scranton Traction Co., which were assumed by the Railway Company at the time the assets of the Traction Company were purchased. The Railway Company operates 54¾ miles of street railway, including 33½ owned and 21¼ leased. It has a funded debt of $2,500,000, but no floating debt.—V. 64, p. 85.

For proper comparison the earnings of these lines will be added to those of the Southern for the similar period last year, increasing the mileage of same from 4,827 miles as heretofore reported to 5,256 miles, an increase of 429 miles or nearly 9 per cent.—V. 67, p. 30.

Tennessee Coal, Iron & RR.—Alabama Steel & Shipbuilding.—Meeting Aug. 30 to act on Contract.—The stockholders of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & RR. Co. will meet Aug. 30 at Tracy City to "approve certain contracts with the Alabama Steel & Shipbuilding Co. of the State of Alabama, constituting a disposition of part of the property of this company and confirming the action of the board of directors in acquiring the stock and bonds of said Alabama company."—V. 66, p. 1235.

Tubular Dispatch Co. of New York City.—New York Mail & Transportation Co.—Howard Gould Buys Control.—Howard Gould and his friends have bought control of these companies, which own the pneumatic tube lines for the transportation of mail, etc., in the city of New York. The companies are reported to have outstanding capital stocks of $2,100,000 and $1,000,000, respectively, the Mail & Transportation Company, however, being controlled by the Tubular Company. Their bonded debt is said to be $800,000. The Tubular Dispatch Co. has circuits now in operation from the Produce Exchange to the Post Office and from the Post Office to the Grand Central Station, including connections with the intermediate Post Office sub stations. The New York Mail & Transportation Co. owns the lines shortly to be in use over the New York & Brooklyn Bridge and through the Borough of Brooklyn. Mr. Gould has succeeded John E. Milholland as President of the Tubular Dispatch Company. In addition to its plant and franchises, the Tubular Dispatch Co has a mail carrying contract with the Government amounting to $172,000 a year. Mr. Gould, it is said, proposes to develop an extensive system of pneumatic service for the carrying of general merchandise, etc.—V. 65, p. 825.

Union Traction Co. of New Jersey—Reorganization Plan.—Under date of July 12, 1898, the McCormick Committee (see V. 66, p. 1090) has issued a plan of reorganization which provides for the extension of the road, now in operation, from Arlington to Woodridge, N. J., about 8 miles (half of which is double track, making in the aggregate about 12 miles of completed road) a distance of 5 miles, into Hackensack. The plan also provides for new securities, viz.:

First mortgage fifty-year 5% gold bonds, coupons for first year to be cut from all bonds issued in exchange	$500,000
In exchange for outstanding bonds (40% of par value)	127,600
In exchange for bonds issued as collateral and held by creditors (65% of amount due on claims), about	146,250
To be retained by the committee until validity of the $100,000 disputed bonds can be determined (40% of par value)	40,000
To the committee (for purposes of sale) for completion of the road, purchase of new equipment, liquidation of receiver's and reorganization expenses and cancellation of prior claims on equipment account	186,150
Stock, to be represented by voting trust certificate, the stock to be held by the three following voting trustees: Wilbur K. Mathews, George A. Lee and William C. Giles, for two years, or until the trust shall be terminated by an instrument in writing signed by each of the trustees; in $50 shares	$650,000
To be issued with every $1,000 worth of new bonds distributed to creditors and holders of old bonds	1,000
To the committee for the purposes of this plan	Balance

The committee believes the bonds of the new company "will, in a comparatively short time, be worth in the neighborhood of par, and that in a few years the stock will be on a dividend-paying basis." The present creditors and bondholders are asked to subscribe for the $186,150 new bonds available at the rate of 85 per cent of par, receiving in addition a bonus of 50 per cent in stock.

The total gross receipts for the first year of operation ending May 13, 1898, were about $21,750. With increased mileage, better transportation facilities and new and increased equipment, the gross earnings, it is estimated, will be for the first year $50,000; net earnings, $20,000. The first year's coupons of bonds issued in exchange will be cut off, and better results are expected later.—V. 66, p. 1142.

Wellington Grey & Bruce Ry.—Called Bonds—Interest Payment.—The numbers are announced of £1,900 bonds which have been drawn and are payable at par at the offices of the Grand Trunk Railway Co., in Montreal, or at Dashwood House, New Broad Street, London. Western Electric Telephone—Minnesota Mutual Telephone & Telegraph.—Independent Telephone System.—The Boston "News Bureau" gives the following statement relative to the independent telephone movement in the West as coming from Vice-President and General Manager Charles Webster, of the Western Electric Telephone Co., who was recently in Boston:

The Western Electric Telephone System is composed of 3,000 miles of toll lines in operation in Minnesota, Iowa and North and South Dakota. We are putting in copper metallic circuits on all of our trunk lines. We are now building a line from St. Paul to Duluth, Sioux Falls, La Crosse, etc., 1,000 miles in length, and by Jan. 1, 1899, we expect to have 5,000 miles of wire in operation.

Our system is composed of the Union Electric Telephone Co., capital $100,000; Minnesota Central Telephone Co., capital $100,000; Western Electric Telephone Co., capital $100,000, Western Minnesota Telephone Co., capital $30,000, and Southern Minnesota Telephone Co., capital $30,000.

After a year's fight independent companies have obtained franchises in St. Paul and Minneapolis, where the Northwestern Telephone Exchange Co., a sub-company of the Erie Telephone Co., operates. In Minneapolis we have organized the Minnesota Mutual Telephone & Telegraph Co., with $300,000 capital, and the company already has between 5,000 and 6,000 subscribers on five year contracts, on the basis of $48 per year for long distance instruments. The Northwestern company charges $6 per month for business telephones and $10 per month for long distance telephones. The new company will not start for a year at least. It is now putting its wires under ground.

The independent telephone movement in the West has assumed large proportions. In St. Louis the Kinloch Telephone Company will soon have one of the finest plants in the country in operation. The new company starts with 6,000 subscribers. Our company has the largest independent system in the country, although the oldest of our six companies is but three years old. Net earnings have been put back into the property, but the companies are now earning from 8 to 10 per cent. We will begin the payment of dividends at the rate of 4 per cent on the stock of the Western Minnesota and Minnesota Central Companies next month.

It has been gravely questioned whether more than one telephone system in a district can prosper, and the disaster which has overtaken several independent ventures has proved the necessity for caution in connection with all attempts to run rival to established companies possessed of ample means. The above statement, though quite possibly somewhat colored, indicates that the opposition movement is still alive.

Westinghouse Airbrake Co.—Increase of Stock to $11,000,000—Stock Dividend of 100 Per Cent.—The stockholders at their meeting on Tuesday voted unanimously to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $11,000,000, $5,000,000 of the increase to be used to pay a stock dividend of 100 per cent. The remaining $1,000,000 will held in the treasury. The resolution adopted is:

Resolved, That of the 120,000 shares ($6,000,000) of new capital stock authorized by this meeting, the stockholders recommend that the board of directors should distribute 100,000 shares, that is $5,000,000 at par, to the stockholders as a stock dividend out of the surplus earnings of the company not heretofore divided amongst the stockholders, and that the remaining 20,000 shares ($1,000,000) remain in the treasury and be issued by the board of directors from time to time for the purchase of property, upon such terms and in such manner as they shall deem for the best interests of the company.

No action was taken relative to the contract with the American Airbrake Co.—V. 66, p. 955.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, July 15, 1898.

Considering the season of the year trade reports have been generally of a fairly satisfactory nature and merchants as a rule are anticipating a good fall trade. In fact, in some lines first hands have latterly been accumulating fairly full stocks, so confident have they been in the future prospects for trade. The surrender of Santiago on Thursday has had its influence in strengthening general confidence inasmuch as it has had a tendency to further add to the belief that negotiations for peace will be opened shortly by Spain. Some alarm was caused on Wednesday by the reports that yellow fever had broken out among the American troops at Santiago. Subsequent advices, however, were more assuring. As was generally expected the new Government bond issue was largely over-subscribed, 40 per cent of the entire issue being taken in subscriptions of $500 and less.

Lard on the spot has had a moderate sale to the home trade but exporters have been slow buyers; prices have advanced and the close was steady at 5 85c for prime Western and 4·90@4·95c. for prime City. The demand for refined has been limited but prices have been firmer, closing at 6·05c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in the market for futures has been fairly active and prices have advanced on buying by large operators for investment account. The close was steady.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been slightly more active and what little change has occurred in values has been towards a higher basis The outside interest shown has continued of decidedly limited proportions, the trading having been confined almost exclusively to transactions by regular operators and has been in the main to liquidate contracts, shorts in particular having shown more of a disposition to cover sales. There has been also considerable transferring of long accounts in August contracts to the more distant deliveries, particularly January. Saturday there was a steadier market, prices advancing 2 points on buying by shorts. Monday prices showed a partial advance of 2 points. The monthly report issued by the Government's Agricultural Bureau was made public, and although it showed a high average condition of the crop, it was barely up to the general expectations of the trade. Tuesday prices reacted 2 to 3 points, under limited selling, prompted by disappointing foreign advices and favorable crop prospects. Wednesday there was a firmer market, prices for the day advancing 4 to 7 points, principally on a demand from shorts to cover contracts, stimulated by complaints from a few sections of the South of excessive moisture, and the reported appearance of yellow fever among the troops before Santiago was used as a bull card. Thursday the market was again firmer, prices advancing 2 to 3 points, as there was a continued demand from shorts to cover contracts, and there appeared to be limited buying by a few local operators for investment account. The surrender of Santiago, which, it was thought, would hasten peace negotiations, had a favorable influence upon the market. To day the market was quiet and easier under limited selling, prompted by disappointing foreign advices and favorable crop prospects, closing quiet at a decline of 3 points for the day. Cotton on the spot has been quiet and unchanged, closing at 6 3-16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—Twelve manufacturing corporations in Fall River, representing some 900,000 spindles, which shut down July 2, resumed operations on Monday, July 11. The Slade Mills, however, will remain idle this week. The Pacific Mills, of Lawrence, will start up July 18 after a two weeks' cessation of operations.

EUROPEAN COTTON CONSUMPTION TO JULY 1.—We have received to-day (Friday) by cable Mr. Ellison's figures brought down to July 1. We have also received the revised totals for last year and give them for comparison. The spinners' takings in actual bales and pounds have been as follows:

October 1 to July 1.	Great Britain.	Continent.	Total.

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Great Britain is 509 pounds per bale this season, against 500 pounds during the same time last season. The Continental deliveries average 490 pounds, against 479 pounds last year, and for the whole of Europe the deliveries average 499·3 pounds per bale against 487·7 pounds last season. Our dispatch also gives the full movement for this year and last year in bales of 500 pounds.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending July 11:

VIRGINIA.—Weather favorable for crop growth and farm work.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Drought broken; generous rain falling upon clean, well-cultivated fields caused material improvement; cotton fruiting well; blooms to northern limits of State; lice disappearing.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Abundant moisture and favorable temperature caused marked improvement in general crop conditions, cotton growing fast and heavily fruited; some complaints of rust, shedding and grassy fields.

GEORGIA.—Scattered showers in north and northwest counties, general showers elsewhere and crops much improved; cotton fruiting and doing nicely, few complaints of shedding.

FLORIDA.—Favorable week for all crops; distribution of rainfall very satisfactory and decided improvement noted in cotton.

ALABAMA.—Lands washed in a few places, but all crops improved by general rains; cotton fruiting well and very promising, though a few complaints of rust and vermin are reported.

MISSISSIPPI.—Crops doing very well generally; cotton being laid by, but in many places damaged by heavy rainfall, which has caused rapid growth of grass and weeds, seriously retarding fruiting and cultivating of crop.

LOUISIANA.—Lowland cotton grassy, some rust and shedding, crop needs dry weather to stimulate fruiting and check rapid growth of weed, fruiting general, laying by progressing.

TEXAS.—Week of more favorable weather for cleaning crops of weeds and grass; cotton improved, but in need of cultivation, especially in low grounds, Mexican boll weevil damaging crop, particularly in south portion, rust reported in some sections, otherwise crop very promising.

TENNESSEE.—Good rains, mostly local, with high temperature, favored growth and development of crops; cotton in fine condition, fruiting well.

ARKANSAS.—Cotton nearly all laid by in excellent condition; in bottoms and black land too much rain for cotton, which is becoming grassy and turning yellow.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton has done well; early cotton forming bolls.

MISSOURI.—Cotton doing well.

These reports are summarized by the Department as follows:

With the exception of a few complaints of rust and shedding the reports indicate an improvement in cotton over the eastern portion of the cotton belt. The crop is also doing well in Missouri and Arkansas, and generally in Texas, where, however, rust and boll weevil are reported in some sections, and the crop is in need of cultivation on lowlands. In Louisiana and Mississippi dry weather is needed, the first-named State reporting too rapid growth and crop grassy.

UNIFORM-SIZED COTTON BALES.—Action is being taken all over the South on the subject of uniformity in size of cotton bales. At a meeting of the Charleston Cotton Exchange held July 5, 1898, the following was unanimously adopted and ordered sent to the farmers and ginners of South Carolina:

"For several years serious complaints have been made by the cotton merchants and spinners of this country and of Europe as to the baling of American cotton. The complaints are both as to the poor bagging used and as to the irregularity of the size of the bales. It has been ascertained by practical experiments that a package 54 inches long by 24 inches wide can be compressed to greater advantage, for in this shape the compresses can bring to bear a greater pressure to the square inch. The greater the irregularity in size, the greater the difficulty in applying pressure.

"Bales of uniform size can be handled both by the railroads and steamships to better advantage, and therefore at less cost to the producer. It is claimed that if the cotton of this country is packed in uniform bales, there would result a saving of 70 to 95 cents per bale in transportation from the farms to the mills in Europe and a considerable amount in transportation to the mills of this country. It is a well known fact that the cost of transportation and all other charges come out of the article marketed, therefore we need not call to your attention the advantages that must accrue to the producer by packing such article so as to reduce the cost of handling to a minimum. We have been forced to the conclusion that the demands as to the standard size of bales and good bagging will have to be complied with sooner or later. In Texas and in other Cotton States bales during the coming season will be of standard size and an effort may be made to require a reduction of 50 to 70 cents on each bale not of the standard size, on the plea of increased cost of handling. A strong protest is made against the use of gunny bags, sugar sacks and second-hand bagging, for such coverings do not sufficiently protect the cotton nor do they admit of good branding. New two-pound bagging should be used. "To make the standard bale 54 inches by 24 inches will require only the changing of press boxes, and this change, we are informed, can be made at a cost of about $5 to $8 a box. "We earnestly recommend to the consideration of the farmers and ginners the necessity for the proposed changes."

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE TO STOP "WASH SALES."—The board of managers of the New York Cotton Exchange has posted an amendment to the by-laws designed to provide that a trade must be made "across the ring" before it can be recorded. This amendment, which is intended to stop "wash sales" will be voted on by the Exchange after it has remained on the bulletin board ten days. The amended section will read as follows:

The price at which all transactions in contracts are made for the future delivery of cotton under Article 1, Chapter 3, and for the future delivery of print cloths, Chapter 5, Article 1, Section 123, shall be reported by the seller to the Collector of the Exchange, giving the exact time and place within ten minutes after the transaction sale; and unless so reported shall not be posted on the blackboard nor noticed in any of the records of the Exchange. Neither shall the posted price be changed unless the purchase or sale is an absolute transaction made across the ring.

BREADSTUFFS.

Business in the market for wheat flour has continued on a decidedly limited scale, as there have been no developments of a nature to stimulate buyers; in fact they have been, if anything, to the contrary, prices for the grain having shown a downward tendency, and the marketing of the wheat crop has been freer. Buyers consequently have continued operating on a strictly hand-to-mouth basis with prices ruling more or less in their favor, although mills have shown no disposition to hurry business. Rye flour has had only a small sale and prices have again weakened. Corn meal has been quiet, but values have held to a steady basis.

Speculation in the market for wheat futures has been only moderately active, and it has been at gradually weakening prices, the freer movement of the new crop, together with the more favorable weather conditions for harvesting in the winter-wheat belt, being the principal depressing factors. At the lower prices exporters have been fairly good buyers, particularly for the Continent, and this has served to hold the decline in check to some extent. Saturday there was a dull but about steady market. Monday prices declined ¾@2¼c. under moderate selling for both long and short account, prompted by favorable weather conditions in the winter-wheat belt for harvesting, increasing receipts and disappointing foreign advices. Tuesday prices were again easier, declining under general selling prompted by the continued favorable crop prospects; an active business, however, stimulated buying late in the day to cover contracts and part of the loss was recovered, closing at a net decline for the day of ⅛@1c. Wednesday there was a steadier market early in the day in response to stronger foreign advices and the more active export demand. Subsequently reacted on favorable crop prospects and the yellow fever reports from Santiago. Thursday there was a steadier market for the distant deliveries, but July was easier under liquidation by longs, closing ¼c. lower for July and ⅛@¼c. higher for other months. To-day there was a quiet market, but prices advanced, largely in sympathy with the upward turn to values for corn, closing ½@¾c. higher for the day. The spot market was moderately active, the sales for export here and at outports being 202,000 bushels, principally for forward deliveries.

There has been a quiet market for Indian corn futures, and following wheat values the tendency of prices has been towards a lower basis. Weather conditions in the corn belt have been reported as generally favorable for the growing crop and have had their influence against values, as did also the fact that longs generally have shown a disposition to liquidate their accounts. At the lower prices there has been a more active export trade, which has served to give some tone to the market. To-day the market was higher on less favorable crop accounts. Speculation, however, was only moderately active. The spot market was quiet, the sales for export at outports being 85,000 bushels; no business was reported locally.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF NO. 2 MIXED CORN.

Oats for future delivery have been dull, and prices have declined in sympathy with the downward tendency to values for other grains. Favorable crop prospects also have had their influence against values, as has also a prospective heavy crop movement. Exporters have been fairly large buyers at the lower prices, and this demand has held the decline in check to some extent. To-day the market was firmer in sympathy with the advance in corn. The spot market was quiet. The sales for export were 20,000 bushels.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT ON CEREAL CROPS, &c., July 1.—The Agricultural Department issued on the 10th inst. its report on the cereal crops for the month of June, as follows:

Preliminary returns to the Statistician of the Department of Agriculture on the acreage of corn indicate a reduction of 3 per cent from the area harvested last year. There is a decrease of 502,000 acres in Illinois, of 303,000 acres in Iowa, of 661,000 acres in Missouri, of 722,000 acres in Kansas and of 432,000 in Nebraska. Many other States likewise show a reduced acreage, but a majority of the Southern States report an increase, ranging from 1 per cent in the case of North Carolina and Georgia to 8 per cent in that of Texas. The average condition, 90·5, although 7·6 points higher than the condition for the corresponding date of last year, is, with the exception of 1892 and 1897, the lowest July condition in ten years, the average for that period being 91·3. Conditions vary widely among the different States, Iowa reporting 100, Nebraska and Ohio 90, Kansas and Illinois 83 and Missouri 78. The acreage and condition percentages by States are as follows:

	Acreage.	Condition.		Acreage.	Condition.		Acreage.	Condition

The condition of winter wheat, 85·7, is 5·1 points lower than last month, but is still 4·5 points higher than at the corresponding date last year and 4·3 points higher than the average for the past ten years. The principal State averages are as follows: Pennsylvania, 87; Maryland, 86; Tennessee, 90; Kentucky, 93; Ohio, 84; Michigan, 98; Indiana, 94; Illinois, 66; Missouri, 68; Kansas, 89, and California, 40. The average condition of spring wheat is 95. This is 3·8 points higher than at the corresponding date last year, is 6·2 above the average for the past ten years and is the highest July average, with two exceptions, in thirteen years. The principal State averages are as follows: Minnesota, 91; South Dakota, 89; North Dakota, 92; Iowa, 97; Nebraska, 102; Washington, 102, and Oregon, 105. The average condition of spring and winter wheat combined is 89·4, which is 4·5 points higher than at the corresponding date last year and 6 points higher than on July 1, 1895. The percentage of wheat crop of 1897 reported as still on hand on July 1, 1898 is 3·36 per cent.

The average condition of the oats crop, 92·8, is 5·2 points lower than last month, but is 5·3 points higher than at the corresponding date late year, 4·9 points higher than the average for the past ten years, and is, with one exception, the highest since 1889.

The average condition of barley is 85·7, which is 6·9 points higher than last month, but is 2·8 points lower than on July 1 last year and 3·1 below the July average for the past ten years.

The average condition of winter rye is 91·8 as compared with 95·0 on July 1, 1897, and 90·6, the July average for the past 10 years. The average condition of spring rye is 96·9 as against 90·0 on July 1, 1897, and 90·6, the July average for the past ten years.

There is an increase of 1·3 per cent in the acreage of Irish potatoes. The average condition, 95·5, is 7·7 points higher than at the corresponding date last year and is 2·2 points above the ten-year average.

There is a market increase in the acreage of tobacco in nearly all the States of principal production, Kentucky reporting an increase of 8 per cent, Virginia 4 per cent, Tennessee 15 per cent and Ohio 7 per cent. There is a reduction of 6 per cent in North Carolina and of 12 per cent in Florida. The average condition is much better than at the corresponding date last year.

The reports as to forage crops are, with few and unimportant exceptions, exceedingly favorable. The outlook for the apple crop is very discouraging. Of the fourteen principal apple-growing States, eleven report even a lower average of condition than at the corresponding date last year.

With a few notable exceptions, among which is Georgia, with a condition of 104 in localities as to the peach crop are somewhat unfavorable. The wool report indicates the average weight per fleece as being 5·8 pounds, the same as last year.

The acreage and condition of corn for a series of years, as made up from Government figures, is as follows:

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., July 15, 1898.

The attendance of buyers in the market has increased materially during the past week, but there has not been a commensurate improvement in volume of demand. Sales have reached a larger aggregate total than last week, it is true, but still have hardly come up to expectations encouraged by the free arrival of buyers. In spite of the excellent reports of business conditions in their home markets which the visitors bring with them, they are in no hurry over actual business and are confining themselves for the present to meeting current requirements in most instances, and to posting themselves upon general market conditions. The latter are not always as buyers evidently expected to find them, and some surprise has been expressed over the number of well-sold-up spots in the market. Taken in the aggregate stocks cannot be considered at all burdensome in view of the generally accepted assurance of an unusually good consumptive demand this fall, and that few of them are oppressive to holders is shown by the way in which prices are upheld in face of quiet current buying. The undertone of the market is in fact encouragingly steady in the general run of cotton goods. The woolen goods situation is still indefinite, so far as prices for new spring goods are concerned, and likely to remain so for a week or two longer. Collections satisfactory.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The demand for serges for next spring has been the chief feature in the men's-wear woolen and worsted goods situation. It has been irregularly distributed, and on the whole has hardly come up to expectations. Further prices have been made during the week, but they do not show any material change from what was quoted last week. Business in new fancies has been on a limited scale. Only low grades have been opened yet for next spring, and it will probably be the end of the month before any quantity is shown. In heavy-weights fair reorders have come to hand for both staple and fancy lines at previous prices. Business in overcoatings has been moderate, without special feature. Cloakings very quiet. Dress goods in moderate request and and barely steady. Flannels quiet and blankets in moderate demand at firm prices.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending July 11 were 14,238 packages, valued at $468,380, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $6,446,544 in 1898 against $5,951,764 in 1897.

Bleached cottons have had rather more attention given to them, but orders are still individually light in all grades. Low qualities are irregular but prices of other grades steady. Heavy brown goods remain firm in price for all leading brands, as although buying is moderate, stocks are easily controlled. Light-weight browns are rather inclined to favor buyers. Wide sheetings in slack request and barely steady. Cotton flannels and blankets firm with a better reorder demand. Denims quiet but prices maintained; other coarse colored cottons dull with ready sellers. Kid finished cambrics in light request at previous prices. Dark, fancy calicoes sell steadily both on new demand and reorders. Regular prints in average request and buyers readily met. Staple ginghams firm but quiet. Dress styles well situated for fall in all grades. Regular print cloths have been in better request at 2c. for July and August deliveries. Odd goods have sold fairly at unchanged prices.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been very little improvement in the demand for foreign merchandise in any line, and business for fall continues disappointing. Importers are not, however, carrying heavy stocks, and prices show no material change.

Austin, Texas.—Bond Interest Not Provided For.—The following dispatch from Austin, dated July 9, 1898, appeared in the Houston "Post" of July 10, 1898: "The City Council has refused to make an appropriation for the purpose of taking care of the sinking fund and interest for the current year on $32,500 of bonds issued in 1881 and 1884 for the redemption of certain city warrants. This action was taken because of a recent decision of the District Court of Travis County, which was sustained by the upper courts, to the effect that said bonds were illegally issued, said decision having been rendered in an action brought by certain taxpayers in resistance of the tax levy made to pay the interest thereon. The Council's purpose in refusing to make an appropriation to pay the interest on the issue is to get the bondholders themselves to liquidate the matter and secure a direct declaration from the courts as to the status of the bonds, it being considered unfair to force non-objecting taxpayers to pay a tax for their extinguishment while others who have fought the levy in the courts have secured exemption therefrom."

Essex County, N. J.—Bond Issue Valid.—On July 8, 1898, the Court of Errors and Appeals, at Trenton, affirmed the decision of Justice Depue of the Supreme Court, declaring that the $1,500,000 park bonds voted at the election held April 12, 1898, were legally authorized.

Lampasas, Texas.—Bonds Valid.—We take the following dispatch from Austin, bearing date of July 9, from the Houston "Post" dated July 10, 1898:

"In the United States Circuit Court to-day judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff in Talcott vs. city of Lampasas. The question before the Court was the validity of $4,000 of Lampasas water-works bonds floated in 1885, the city corporation responsible for their issuance having been declared illegal by the State Supreme Court in 1890, since which time no interest has been paid thereon. There are some $3,000 of bonds affected by this decision, which is also of interest to several other Texas municipal corporations. The case will be carried to the United States Supreme Court."

Milwaukee, Wis.—Bond Issue Enjoined.—On July 9, 1898, Judge Sutherland decided that the debt limit of Milwaukee had not been exceeded, and vacated the injunctional order restraining the sale of the garbage, bridge and street-improvement bonds. He granted a stay of proceedings until July 11, 1898, when the case was argued before the Supreme Court. This last Court has now granted a further stay of proceedings, and this prevents the sale of the $80,000 bridge bonds and $140,000 street improvement bonds, bids for which were asked for yesterday, July 15, 1898.

New Jersey.—No Extra Session.—On July 12, 1898, Governor Voorhees stated that he saw no reason for calling an extra session of the Legislature. This statement was brought forth by the fact that it was rumored that Mayor Seymour of Newark had asked for a special session to pass a law authorizing Newark to appropriate money for needy families of soldiers. The Governor said that he had not received such a letter.

New York City.—Proposed Regulation of Debt Limit of City.—Comptroller Coler has addressed a letter to Governor Black requesting him to transmit a special message to the Legislature, now convened in extra session, asking that body to change the charter requirement with reference to the issue of bonds. The consolidated city now has an excess of indebtedness over the limit prescribed, caused by the lumping together by annexation of the individual debts of counties, towns, villages and school districts. The Comptroller proposes to take out of the common debt of New York City the bonded indebtedness of the several counties wholly or partly within its limits which still retain their corporate identity.

New York State.—Extra Session of Legislature.—On July 11, 1898, the State Legislature met in extra session to provide a method of polling the votes of soldiers and sailors engaged in war, to make an additional appropriation for war expenses and to pass upon an election law intended to prevent and punish fraud.

Ohio.—Law Governing Power to Borrow Money.—We give below a copy of Section 2709 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, as amended April 26, 1898.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, that Section 27 9 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, as amended May 21, 1894, be so amended as to read as follows:

SEC. 2709. Whenever any municipal corporation issues its bonds, it shall first offer them at par and accrued interest to the trustees or commissioners, in their official capacity, of the sinking fund, or, in case there are no such trustees of commissioners, to the officer or officers of such corporation having charge of its debts, in their official capacity, and only after their refusal to take all or any of such bonds at par and interest, bona fide for and to be held for the benefit of such corporation, sinking fund or debt, shall such bonds, or as many of them as remain, be advertised for public sale. In no case shall the bonds of the corporation be sold for less than their par value; nor shall such bonds, when so held for the benefit of such sinking fund or debt, be sold, except when necessary to meet the requirements of such fund or debt. All sales of bonds, other than to the sinking fund, by any municipal corporation, shall be to the highest and best bidder, after thirty days' notice in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county where such municipal corporation is situated, setting forth the nature, amount, rate of interest and length of time the bonds have to run, with time and place of sale. Additional notice may be published outside of such county by order of the corporation council; provided, however, when any such bonds have been once so advertised and offered for public sale, and the same, or any part thereof, remain unsold, then said bonds, or as many as remain unsold, may be sold at private sale at not less than their par value, under the direction of the mayor and the officers and agents of the corporation by whom said bonds have been, or shall be prepared, advertised and offered at public sale; provided further, that when it shall appear to the trustees or council of any municipal corporation to be for the best interests of such corporation to renew or refund any bonded indebtedness of such corporation which shall not have matured, and thereby reduce the rate of interest thereon, such trustees or council shall have authority to issue for that purpose new bonds, with semi-annual interest coupons attached, and to exchange the same with the holder or holders of such outstanding bonds, if such holder or holders shall consent to make such exchange and to such reduction of interest, but the rate per annum of interest on any such new bonds thus issued in exchange by any city of the first class, or by any city of the first or second grade of the second class, shall not exceed four and one-half (4½) per cent, and by any other city shall not exceed five (5) per cent, and by other municipalities shall not exceed five and one-half (5½) per cent; such new bonds shall not in any case be so issued in an amount in excess of such outstanding bonded indebtedness so to be renewed or refunded, and may be in such denominations and payable at such time or times and at such place as may be determined by such trustees or council.

SECTION 2. That said Section 2709 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, as heretofore amended, be, and the same is hereby repealed; and this act shall take effect on its passage.

HARRY C. MASON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
ASAHEL W. JONES,
President of the Senate.

Passed April 26, 1898.

It will be noticed from the above that no limit is fixed as to the length of time which refunding bonds may run, this being evidently left to the discretion of the trustees or council.

Philadelphia, Pa.—More Litigation Relative to New Loan.—On July 11, 1898, a bill in equity was filed in Common Pleas Court No. 4, by Robert J. Barr and Howard Yocum, asking that the city officials be restrained by injunction from carrying out the provisions of the $11,200,000 loan bill recently passed by the City Council and approved by the Mayor. The plaintiffs contend that the ordinance is illegal, on the ground that the election to authorize the bonds was not lawfully held, because there was no separate vote upon the several propositions (of which there were 17) for the increase of the indebtedness of the city contained in the ordinance of September 27, 1897, but the electors were compelled, by the manner of holding the election, either to vote in favor of the whole group of propositions submitted to the people by the said ordinance or to vote against all of said propositions. Furthermore, that the corporate authorities who assumed to enact the said pretended ordinance of June 17, 1898, are not the corporate authorities to whom, if at all, power was given by the assent of the electors of said city to increase the indebtedness thereof, the old councils going out of existence on April 1, 1898.

South St. Paul, Minn.—Bonds Legal.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals has declared valid $75,000 bridge bonds, issued in 1891 to help build the Belt Line Bridge at Inver Grove. It is stated that the interest now due amounts to $18,000.

Bond Proposals and Negotiations this week have been as follows:

Akron (Ohio) School District.—Bond Sale.—On July 12, 1898, the $10,000 5% refunding bonds were awarded to Farson, Leach & Co., Chicago, at 105·75. Following are the bids

Purchase of Water-Works.—The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has appropriated $570,000 for the purchase of the plant of the Long Island Water Supply Co. The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, July 16, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. Contrasted with the preceding week, there is an increase in the aggregate exchanges of about one-hundred and sixty-one million dollars, and at New York alone the increase is one-hundred and three millions. In comparison with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 13·9 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 21·5 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 22·7 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 7·1 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 11·8 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 10·3 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Trade conditions are beginning to drop back into the old ante-war ruts. We mentioned last week one striking change in that direction which was then about to be made; we refer to the work begun this week by the Government of relieving commerce from the mines which have been protecting our harbors for two or more months. As the Spanish navy is no longer a factor in the situation the mines are no longer needed, and the Administration has shown its appreciation of that fact, and also its desire to free trade without unnecessary delay from the shackles a condition of hostilities had forced into use, by removing them promptly.

Another development along the same lines has been the initial steps taken by merchants this week towards reopening business relations with Cuba. Santiago and the district surrounding it having fallen under the control of the United States, our people interested in the Cuban trade are naturally seeking to avail themselves of the opportunity thus presented to restore the old connections or to establish new ones with that city. A more decided indication of the new position of affairs and of the new era beginning, is the announcement of the sailing to-day of the steamship Philadelphia for Santiago. It is said that the steamship goes out with a full passenger list and all the freight it can carry. Several other steamships will sail the coming week to the same destination. It is possible that yellow fever may delay a rapid expansion of this trade; but those prominent in the business heretofore, and most intimately connected with Santiago, appear sanguine that under the new conditions there is sure promise not only of a restoration of the old trade but of a material increase in the commerce of the United States with Southern Cuba.

This expectation would seem to be warranted. The abolition of the discriminating duties which favored Spanish products must of itself contribute materially to such an enlargement as is now anticipated. Then under the better and more stable government hereafter insured no doubt the amount of American capital invested there will be materially increased and all enterprise will develop as never before. Expansion is to be looked for not only in the cultivation of sugar, tobacco, coffee and the other staple products which in past years have made up the bulk of the trade of Southern Cuba, but in many other directions, for there are to be found in that district other promising fields inviting enterprise. As our readers are well aware, iron and copper mines have already, and under the discouraging conditions of past years, attracted capital in considerable amounts. No doubt those mines will give employment to a large number of persons when operations are resumed; and there is good reason to suppose that they soon will be opened; indeed, it is reported that a number of those interested in the American iron mines will go as passengers on the Philadelphia to-day. We call attention to these facts simply as suggestive of what may be reasonably expected under a stable government when American enterprise and capital get freely at work in that rich district so long shut up by arbitrary rule and unsafe surroundings.

These are some of the first fruits of the fact that the war has ceased for the time being to be an influence of importance. We have destroyed Spain's navy and thereby removed the danger of the centre of hostilities coming in contact with our shores. The taking up of the mines in our harbors is not only the statement of a bare fact, it is likewise figuratively descriptive of the free action given to all our industries by the removal of Spain's sea power. If peace were declared to-morrow there is reason to doubt whether the announcement would have any radical immediate effect on affairs. To be sure war in prospect and war begun checked prosperity. The first two months of the year business was active and widely remunerative, whereas during the following four months it has been disappointing. Hence many think because war was the disturbing cause peace would work at once a perfect cure. But new conditions have entered into the situation since the year opened, and it will require something more than the close of the war to impart to our industries that state of progress which they were enjoying the first week of March. In those two earlier months we were confronted by large crops of breadstuffs and very high prices for them, large railroad earnings and a gradual expansion in progress of our manufacturing industries. To-day crops are promising but not yet made, prospective prices are also promising though not assured; railroad earnings have fallen off materially in large part because of a railroad war now at its acute stage; moreover, industrial disturbance has been continued so long that contraction in production by manufacturers is the outlook, instead of expansion, of which the movements now going on among Northern cotton spinners and in the iron trade are illustrations.

These contrasts by no means indicate a surprising situation. They show that incipient prosperity can be suppressed instantly, but that time is always an element of recovery; that the depressing influences which have been causing contraction in business operations may be removed, but after that the restorative agents must be allowed the opportunity for action. In this case the war has ceased to be a hindrance; but neither that nor even peace could so change affairs as to result in an immediate return of buoyancy. Trade expansion is a development not a miracle. To-day, however, the promise is that whether the war ends soon or six months hence we shall find by the time September opens that we have secured good crops and are obtaining fair prices for them; that the railroads have adjusted their matters in dispute—indeed, as we write there are reports current that the difficulties between the trunk lines are even now in process of and well on the way to a settlement; that Cuba, which has so long been made use of by agitators to stop every recurring movement towards business revival has at length been turned into a promising field for commercial rivalry and enterprise; and that capital, relieved from its timidity by that and other changes in the situation, and encouraged by the strength displayed and confidence inspired by the results of the war, is again free to engage in the enterprises of the day. If all this be realized, we are not permitted to doubt that our industries will be stimulated, consumption of all kinds of manufactured goods will soon be increased, and a new era of prosperity be well under way.

We referred last January to the arrangements made by the Denver & Rio Grande for refunding its outstanding first mortgage 7 per cent bonds into consolidated first mortgage bonds bearing 4½ per cent interest. The bonds do not fall due for two years yet—that is, not until November 1 1900—but this week Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have announced the terms upon which they will exchange the new issue for the old one, thus permitting the carrying out of the refunding plan in advance of the maturity of the bonds. There are $6,382,500 of these bonds outstanding, and when the refunding has been fully completed, the saving in interest charges will amount to nearly one hundred and sixty thousand dollars per year—in exact figures $159,562. Moreover, by the retirement of the old first mortgage 7s the consolidated bonds become an absolute first lien on the entire system. There are $28,650,000 of these consols outstanding now at 4 per cent, and the $6,382,500 to be issued at 4½ per cent in exchange for the 1sts will raise the amount to $35,032,500. The combined interest charge on the whole issue will be only $1,433,212, whereas net earnings above operating expenses for the twelve months ending June 30 1898 will amount (judging from the returns for the eleven months) to fully 3½ million dollars. Adding on the interest on the $8,103,500 of improvement 5s, the company's total interest charges per year, after refunding, will foot up only $1,838,387. We have several times recently referred to the growth in the Denver's earnings and noted the increase in the dividend on the preferred shares resulting from this improvement. The company's strength and progress attract particular attention in view of the fact that its lines are located entirely in the silver-mining districts and that the silver-mining industry has naturally been depressed by reason of the decline in the price of the metal.

Current returns of earnings still make indifferent comparisons with last year. For the second week of July our compilation on another page, covering 75 roads, shows only 4·15 per cent gain over the corresponding week in 1897, and 21 of the roads actually record losses. The explanation is the same as that given in previous weeks, namely a great contraction in the grain movement. This contraction has latterly become more rather than less pronounced. Thus for the week ending last Saturday the arrivals of wheat at the Western primary markets were only 1,350,913 bushels the present year, against 1,952,399 bushels in 1897 and 3,793,590 bushels in 1896, and the receipts of oats 1,609,225 bushels, against 3,220,845 and 2,367,512 bushels, while even in the case of corn there was a diminution as compared with last year of over half a million bushels. Combining wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye, receipts were only 5,204,178 bushels in 1898, against 8,196,651 bushels in 1897, a loss in this one week alone, it will be observed, of almost three million bushels. It should be remembered, too, that a falling off in the receipts at the West affects not merely the roads carrying to Western points, but also the trunk lines running from those points to tide water; for with less grain coming in there is naturally less to go forward to the seaboard. It will be found that most of the roads reporting decreases have been affected in one of these two ways, though there also are a few others. With crop prospects remaining highly encouraging, this contraction in the grain movement cannot represent a permanent condition. As indicating the outlook in the Northwest, we have been permitted to see a letter written to one of our New York banks by one of their well-informed correspondents at Lincoln, Nebraska. This correspondent takes a very hopeful view of the prospects, saying that Nebraska expects to harvest the greatest wheat crop ever raised in that State, and that other crops promise to be equally good. Trade is satisfactory in the West, he says, and there is no cause for complaint.

The Treasury Department has this week been returning to firms and corporations their subscriptions for the new bonds, as no allotments can be made under the regulations to others than individual subscribers. The price of the bonds was advanced on Wednesday to 103⅝@103¾, on Thursday to 104⅛ and on Friday to 104⅜, from 102½@102¾ on Tuesday, and sales of moderate amounts were reported at these figures. It is thought probable that in view of this rise in the price, some banks may refrain from buying until deliveries of the bonds become general. Then it is fair to expect that those subscribers who do not want the bonds for permanent holding will be eager to sell and realize the premium, and if there should not be an urgent demand the price will naturally decline under the pressure of free offerings. The profit on circulation by the use of the new 3 per cents at par, allowing 6 per cent on the capital invested in the bonds, is estimated at 1·437 per cent. This profit would of course be slightly reduced by whatever premium had to be paid for the bonds.

It is reported from Washington that the subscriptions for $500 and under of the bonds amounted to about $100,000,000 and that subscribers for $5,000 and over would not be awarded any of the securities. Though subscribers for amounts in excess of $500 have the option of paying for the bonds in instalments, it is thought that the majority will elect to pay in full on the acceptance of their bids. In this case there might be some slight derangement of the money market pending the distribution of the money among bank depositories and its disbursement by the Treasury. It is understood that the Treasury Department has made selections of depositories at distant points in order to distribute the money as widely as possible. But the principal difficulty appears to be that bonds as security for deposits cannot now be readily obtained and therefore, until the depository banks can qualify with the new bonds, so as to take larger amounts, the bulk of the money for the bonds will have to accumulate in the Treasury. The amount reported in the specially-designated depository banks on Monday was $58,229,345 and on Tuesday $57,530,000. The net gold reserve of the Treasury is rapidly gaining and on Monday it was $185,045,484, of which $120,652,478 was in gold coin. On Friday the net gold was $189,455,533. Since June 18, when the condition of the New York banks began to be influenced by Treasury operations in connection with the new loan, there has been a gain of $29,517,000 in loans and of $27,091,600 in deposits, the amount of loans very closely corresponding to the increase of Government deposits in the banks. On July 2 the specie was $186,070,200 and the legal tenders were $63,462,000. The loss in specie since this date has been $9,303,800, while the gain in legal tenders since June 18 has been $4,350,600. Both specie and legal tender holdings of the banks have, however, been influenced to some extent by receipts from near-by interior points.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, has loaned during the week at 1 and at 1½ per cent, with comparatively small amounts at the extreme rates, and the bulk of the business and the average has been about 1½ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 1½ per cent as the minimum. Offerings of time money are liberal for sixty to ninety days at 2½ per cent, but for longer periods the offerings are less free and rates are 3 per cent for four, 3@3½ per cent for five and 3½ per cent for six months or longer dates. The supply of commercial paper is not large, and the absence of many new notes indicates light borrowings by merchants and good collections. The demand is fair and the market is reported quiet. Quotations are 3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 4 per cent for prime and 4½ @5½ per cent for good four to six months' single names. Banks having large commercial accounts are out of the market for paper, employing their funds in accommodating those of their customers who do not usually sell their paper, while other large banks are buying only moderately. Re-discounting for interior banks is not yet important, and the inquiry, noted last week, for the purpose of paying for bonds seems to have subsided.

With the exception of peace rumors and increasing political tension in Spain, indicating an impending revolution, or a change of Ministry, there have been no important features in the European situation this week. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 1⅛@1¼ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾@1⅞, and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¼@3⅜ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England lost £101,774 bullion during the week, and held £36,244,853 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to the exports of £259,000 (£171,000 going to Russia and £88,000 to Holland), to imports of £117,000 (£111,000 coming from the Argentine Republic and £6,000 from Portugal) and to receipts of £40,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market has been dull and heavy this week, influenced by a light demand and also by offerings of grain and cotton futures, the former in fairly liberal and the latter in moderate amounts. One reason is that trading in bills between bankers is practically at an end, owing to the revenue tax, and therefore business is confined to daily requirements and to commercial bills. In the absence of demand rates naturally fall off and the decline is further influenced by the foreign trade conditions and also by the expectation that within the next twenty or thirty days there will be an increased supply of cotton futures in anticipation of the movement of the new crop, and there will also be more liberal offerings of grain futures. At the moment the supply of commercial drafts consists chiefly of those drawn against provisions, and there are a few but not many spot grain bills in the market. The latter are expected soon to increase in volume and the outlook is for still lower rates for exchange.

The range for nominal rates for exchange opened on Monday unchanged, compared with those last week, at from 4 85 to 4 85½ for sixty day and from 4 86½ to 4 87 for sight, and though Brown Bros. & Co. and Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. reduced their rates after Tuesday, there was no alteration in the range. Rates for actual business also opened unaltered on Monday, compared with those at the close on Friday of last week, at 4 84½@4 84¾ for long, 4 85¾@4 86 for short and 4 86@4 86¼ for cable transfers, and the market was dull and steady, so continuing until the following day, when it grew easier and rates for actual business fell off one-quarter of a cent, to 4 84¼@4 84½ for long, 4 85¼@4 85¾ for short and 4 85¾@4 86 for cable transfers. On Wednesday the market was dull without change, but on Thursday rates for actual business in long were reduced one quarter of a cent, to 4 84@4 84¼, while those for short and for cables remained unchanged. On Friday there was a reduction of one-quarter of a cent all around. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

* The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver, but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

NOTE.—We receive the foregoing results weekly by cable, and while not all of the date given at the head of the column, they are the returns issued nearest to that date—that is the latest reported figures.

OUR RELATIONS WITH GERMANY.

We are inclined to think that the so-called "German episode" in the Philippines has been absurdly exaggerated, and it has been made manifest this week that the Washington authorities hold the same opinion. There has been a good deal of newspaper talk and conjecture on the subject—some of it, as might be expected, of a sensational character. But when the actual facts were sifted out, it has been quite uniformly found that the German fleet has done nothing else than both it and the English vessels did when the dispute arose last January over the cession of the Chinese ports. It is true, perhaps, that the Subig Bay incident, if interpreted by some one searching for evidence of hostility, might have been assumed as an incident of possible importance. We think, however, that the manner in which that very incident terminated was pretty clear proof that it meant nothing so far as a general policy or purpose is concerned.

It is impossible to say, of course, whether Admiral Diedrich, in his reported menace to the insurgents, followed out indiscreetly some general instructions imposed, without clear anticipation of the situation; or whether he merely acted from a hasty impulse of his own. Either is conceivable. Readers of news from the Philippines are apt to draw conclusions as if the incidents were occurring in harbors near home and after quick communication with the respective governments. But the German home authorities would not have found it easy, had they wished to do so, to give explicit advance instructions as to the action of their officers at Manila, when even our own Government did not know what would be the condition of things when the opportunity for a move should arrive. Of one important fact, moreover, we may rest quite assured. A government really anxious to pick a quarrel with the United States in the Philippines might through its fleet have made itself extremely annoying; but it would certainly not have authorized and planned exactly what Admiral Diedrich did. It might have struck its blow, but it would surely not have withdrawn and apologized as soon as the American commander showed signs of objecting to the action. Far from proving that a hostile policy was endorsed by the Government at Berlin, we are of the opinion that the Subig Bay incident shows the conviction of the German Admiral that his country wishes to remain friendly with the United States. This week's reports at Washington regarding the German Government's own assurances are to that effect, and we can readily believe them.

We have no doubt, however, that the massing of a good-sized German fleet about Manila had a distinct and definite purpose for the future, and a review of some recent incidents in European diplomacy will show clearly enough what that purpose is. The Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78 was virtually terminated by the preliminary terms of peace signed at Adrianople in January 1878. These terms did not include any reference to the possible cession of Constantinople to the Russians; but pending the armistice there was an advance of Russian troops in the direction of that city. At once Great Britain's Mediterranean fleet was ordered into the Dardanelles. This action, said the British Ministry to Parliament, was taken only for the protection of English life and property in an emergency, and in a diplomatic way it was so accepted at St. Petersburg. Every diplomatist was, however, perfectly well aware that Admiral Hornby's entry into Constantinople harbor meant that England proposed to protect not only its material but its political interests, and to make sure that Russia should go no further than the situation warranted. In the belief of most observant people the demonstration of the British fleet really prevented the seizure of Constantinople as a prize of war.

This action, it will be observed, did not deprive the victorious government of territory already won, and it was not intervention during actual progress of the war, because an armistice was in force and terms of peace under formal consideration when the fleet was ordered to the city. The case is, therefore, not analagous to the recent or present situation at Manila. But it is evident that the Constantinople situation of 1878 might conceivably, from the European point of view, repeat itself in the Philippines in 1898. On general principles, therefore, Germany, which has undertaken the policy of colonial expansion in the China seas, has kept its fleet in the neighborhood of Manila.

A much more recent incident of the kind will perhaps show even more clearly the nature of the German manœuvres. At the close of last year it became evident that Russia and Germany were preparing to take possession of territory on the Chinese coast. It was not fully known on what terms such acquisitions would be made—whether or not by seizure in defiance of China's protests, and whether or not with exclusive trade arrangements for the appropriated ports. There was no evidence that the action of the Continental Powers would be either high-handed or unfriendly, and in fact their policy turned out in the end to be neither. But the British Government, whose interests on the Chinese coast were paramount, promply dispatched a squadron of seventeen vessels to that part of the Chinese coast then under negotiation.

It will be remembered that at the close of 1897, as at the opening of 1898, the movement of the warships was a source of much uneasiness to the general public. On the sensitive stock markets there was a little "war scare" at each of the two periods, and in the newspapers there was the usual talk of national hostility and probable collision. Yet there was no collision. When it was found that the governments chiefly interested were disposed to make no diplomatically unwarranted move—when Russia's army remained outside of Constantinople, and when Germany settled with China on the basis of a so-called lease, and gave assurances of reasonable trade provisions—the incidents closed quietly. Such, we presume, will be the course of events with the German fleet in the Philippine waters.

The mere fact, however, that a demonstration even for this purpose should have been made, provides sufficient food for reflection. It is as convincing witness as could be asked to the altered situation with which we should be confronted by the appropriation of Asiatic territory, especially if our ambitions grew with our successes. Our course of action in the Western Hemisphere—even as regards Porto Rico, where no such call for interference existed as in Cuba—is a comparatively simple matter. It has been argued that our intrusion into the Eastern hemisphere would logically open the way for intrusion by European powers on the two American continents. To what extent such results might eventually be expected is a question of conjecture. But at the present moment every Power appears to acquiesce in the Monroe Doctrine, even to the extent of conceding that it has no right to inquire into our Government's purposes regarding the West Indies.

But with the Philippines the problem is altogether different. We have not yet actually conquered any of the Spanish islands in that group; when we shall have acquired Manila we shall still possess but a relatively small section of the archipelago. We may be either unable or unwilling to attempt the conquest of the hundreds of other islands; but this, too, is at present a matter of uncertainty. It is quite possible that some of the colonizing Powers, as has indeed been rumored, may have already made overtures to Spain for the cession of some territory in the group when the war is closed. This is precisely what happened after the Russo-Turkish war, when, in addition to the territory surrendered to Russia by the Sultan, Cyprus was ceded to Great Britain, Bosnia and Herzegovina were turned over to Austria, and even Greece was allowed an extension of its northern boundary. The Treaty of Berlin in fact fully recognized that consent of the Powers to the partial dismemberment of a defeated State must be offset by a share in such partition. We do not say that such division is probable at the close of the present war; though, as concerns its relations, past and present, with its various dependencies, Spain's situation resembles not a little that of Turkey twenty years ago. What we wish to emphasize is the fact that such a position by the outside interests is possible and might easily result under certain conditions. It may be that our own people are confident that their Government will act within the limits of conservative rule and precedent; but of this, it must be remembered, foreign States have as yet had no assurance, direct or indirect.

The significance of the move of Germany in the Philippines is that it faintly foreshadows the doubts and misgivings with which our nation will be perpetually harassed if it extends its colonial dominion as a result of the Spanish war. We have already pointed out the difficulties which would surround our withdrawal from Manila—difficulties which very possibly will make withdrawal impracticable. We have suggested, also, that the annexation of Hawaii has introduced a colonial policy in our government, so that in that regard the step is taken. So far as any appropriation of territory, even in the East, is shown to be an unavoidable outcome of the war developments, it will undoubtedly be recognized as proper by the foreign Powers. Beyond this every step will be surrounded with diplomatic snares and pitfalls.

We can well believe some recent floating reports from Washington that members of the Administration, which sees the future with better opportunities of judgment, have been seeking such an expedient as should free the United States, on the return of peace, from Asiatic responsibilities and entanglements. How such a result could be attained, were it to be advisable, we confess that we are unable to say; the recent news regarding the attitude of Aguinaldo and his insurgents is not reassuring. It comes, moreover, along with some awkward developments nearer home. This week's dispatches regarding the resentful attitude of the Cuban insurgent officers when immediate possession of Santiago was very properly refused to them, may turn out to be a forecast of an angry dispute in Cuba. There may be friction of a similar character when we have taken Porto Rico. To be confronted at the same time with a diplomatic dispute in the China seas would add rather too ample measure to the fruits of our Spanish war. It is perhaps fortunate that such incidents as have lately attracted renewed attention to Manila should occur at precisely this time, when public opinion is in process of formation and when warnings that everyone will hear are likely to be most useful.

THE INDIAN CURRENCY INQUIRY. *

Manchester, July 13.

What is to be the future monetary system of India? No economic question, it may be safely affirmed, is so constantly or so anxiously on the minds of thoughtful people in India and in England as this. It is just five years since the coinage of rupees was suspended. The immediate motive of the suspension was the apprehended repeal of the Silver Purchase Act by the United States Congress, and the consequent great fall in the gold price of silver, and in the Indian exchange. Its aim was to establish permanently a rate of exchange of 1s. 4d. per rupee, or 15 rupees to the pound sterling. This purpose has not been accomplished, although various auxiliary and costly expedients have been adopted in order to assist in its realization.

In a dispatch dated March 3, but not published until May 3, the Indian Government urged upon the Secretary of State for India in London, that effective measures should be adopted to establish a gold standard in the dependency at the rate just stated, and at the same time sketched out a plan by which this end was to be reached. Before making public the dispatch the Secretary of State—Lord George Hamilton—had determined to submit the scheme to the judgment of a departmental committee of experts, of which Sir Henry Fowler, his predecessor at the India office, was appointed chairman. The other eleven members were selected with a view to securing the services of competent men as nearly as possible unconnected with the commercial or banking interests of India and not committed to either monometallic or bi-metallic views. According to the terms of appointment the committee was to report upon the proposals of the Indian Government and upon any other matters which it might consider relevant thereto, including the monetary system now in force, and the probable effect of any proposed changes upon the internal trade and taxation of India. The committee was also "to submit any modifications of the proposals of the Indian Government, or any suggestions of their own, which they may think advisable for the establishment of a satisfactory system of currency in India, and for securing as far as is practicable a stable exchange between that country and the United Kingdom."

It was at first supposed that the reopening of the mints to the coinage of silver was excluded from the purview of the committee, but so great has been the dissatisfaction with this limitation that Lord George Hamilton has expressly announced that the committee is quite at liberty to include the resumption of silver coinage within the scope of its inquiry. It has already held several meetings and has taken the evidence of official and other authorities in India and in London. Later on, witnesses nominated by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and other bodies will be heard, but it is not likely that the report will be presented until toward the close of the year.

Meanwhile informed and influential opinion both in India and in England is overwhelmingly opposed to the gold standard scheme put forward from Calcutta. In the commercial and banking communities of London, Manchester, Glasgow, and other cities, the opposition is exceedingly strong. Its salient features are the melting and sale of Indian silver coin to the extent of Rx. 6,000,000 (or 60,000,000 rupees) per annum for one, two or three years, until the object of the scheme is attained; and the acquirement by loan of gold up to the limit of £20,000,000, to be held partly in London and partly in the currency reserve in India. The main purpose of the proposal is to raise the gold value of the rupee by creating further scarcity and to "give confidence" in the maintenance of the desired rate of 15 rupees to the pound, by the holding of gold in the Indian paper currency reserve.

The objections urged against the scheme are numerous. In the first place it is said that in operation it will aggravate enormously the monetary insufficiency, which has already so severely hampered the trade of the dependency since the cessation of coinage, and, secondly, that it is idle to expect anyone to show confidence in the upholding of the rate chosen by offering gold in exchange for rupees at that rate so long as the Indian Government practically declares that it is itself afraid to part with gold at the same rate by the announcement that it will keep all gold remitted to it from the proceeds of the loan under lock and key.

It is clearly a justifiable inference from the strong and almost general disfavor with which the project has been received that the committee will not be able to found a recommendation of it upon the evidence presented; for in addition to the great suffering and the cost involved in carrying it out, there is a widespread conviction that its maintenance would be impossible. The special circumstances of India requiring a huge surplus of exports to discharge its constantly accruing indebtedness, and to pay for the gold and silver imported for hoarding and ornaments, would, it is held, lead to a break-down in adverse seasons when a sufficient surplus of produce is not available. In such a contingency the gold would disappear, and the maintenance of the sixteen penny rupee would become impossible. What courses are open, then, if the report of the committee should be adverse? Assuming that the India Office and Parliament would not venture to act upon the recommendation of the Calcutta Government, there remains only the device of two alternatives—to continue the present unsatisfactory and entirely provisional system, and to re-open the mints.

The contemplation of the latter plan without conditions raises some very large, and at present insoluble questions. With the resumption of the free coinage of silver in India, what would be the gold price of that metal and the rate of the Indian and other Eastern exchanges? But no one can suppose that the re-opening of the Indian mints would be thought of apart from some international agreement as to the resumption of the use of silver elsewhere. It is just possible, therefore, that out of the inquiry now being conducted by the Indian Currency Committee, some large and grave issues may arise. An interesting and significant feature of the opposition to the proposals of the Indian Government is that leading and influential men in London, in Manchester, in Glasgow and other centres, monometallists and bimetallists, who have long been in serious conflict with each other on the monetary question, are now working in most cordial co-operation to defeat the attempt to establish a gold standard in India. All, or nearly all, too, it may be said with confidence, were opposed to the closing of the mints in 1893.

MARVELOUS FEATURES OF OUR FOREIGN TRADE.

The fiscal year which closed on June 30 last was without question the most remarkable in many respects the country has witnessed in the course of its foreign trade. Not only have many of the leading features been unique, but there seems scant likelihood that the results will be repeated in the near future. Take the balance recorded in the country's favor on the merchandise movements—that is, the the excess of merchandise exports over the merchandise imports; this reaches for the twelve months the extraordinary sum of $615,259,024. The reader may suppose we see reflected here merely the effects of very large exports, and more particularly exceptional shipments of breadstuffs to supply Europe's augmented requirements arising out of deficient harvests in the leading producing countries of the world. The exports certainly were large—large beyond precedent. But that condition alone would not have sufficed to give a balance of the magnitude of that now recorded. There was another and attending condition, namely abnormally small imports. We shall presently advert to the reasons for these small importations, and will therefore at this point simply note that in value the imports were the smallest for thirteen years. Hence in considering the probability of the recurrence of such a balance in favor of the United States as accrued in the late year, we must make estimates, not alone of the chances of future large exports, but of coincident diminutive imports.

We can only measure the magnitude of this balance of 615¼ million dollars by comparing with past standards. We have become accustomed to big things in this country and mere bigness alone does not necessarily afford evidence of either growth or expansion. Hence we must show how far this favorable balance excels the best previous records to bring out its true significance. The fact, therefore, to which special prominence should be given is that never before have we had a balance for even half the late year's amount—that is, while we now have a 615 millions excess of exports, in no previous fiscal year has the excess amounted to even 300 million dollars. Indeed, the best previous record was that for the year immediately preceding, which was only 286¼ millions, or 329 million dollars less than now. Prior to that the export balance in the years 1878, 1879 and 1881 was the largest on record; in those years the excess was, roughly, 258 millions, 265 millions and 260 millions respectively—figures obviously which look small alongside the 615 millions for 1898. Those were years, too, which will always remain noteworthy as among the most prosperous that industrial interests in the United States have ever experienced.

While the amount for 1898 proves to have been exceptional and phenomenal, the results for the years preceding as a matter of fact had also been highly favorable, even though now so greatly overshadowed by the figures for 1898. Indeed, the extent of these accruing balances causes one to pause, so great is their aggregate when brought together. The feature is one which has played an important part in the recent history of our foreign trade, and yet one to which very little attention has been directed. In the following we show the balances on the merchandise, silver and gold movements, separately and combined, for each of the last five years.

Note that the balance of 534¼ millions for 1898 (merchandise and specie combined) comes on top of a balance of 273 millions for 1897, of 213¼ millions for 1896, of 132¾ millions for 1895 and of 278¾ millions for 1894. Adding the five years together we get an aggregate accrued balance of no less than $1,432,585,017. If we allow an average of 150 millions as due by us yearly to the outside world, for interest on American securities held abroad, freights, undervaluations of imports and other items, there would still remain out of the 1,432 millions 682 millions which must have been settled for in some other way. The significance and bearing of this will not escape notice. A few years ago a leading English paper, in commenting upon the large gold exports from the United States, which were then creating uneasiness, declared that the United States must still be regarded as a relatively poor country, that it was so largely indebted to Europe that it was completely at the mercy of the foreign capitalist and money lender. The diagnosis at best was a faulty one, but the above results demonstrate that so far as our large foreign indebtedness may be an element of weakness, we are making rapid strides in reducing it—that many hundred millions of it have been liquidated in recent years.

We have stated above that our merchandise imports in the late year were unusually, indeed abnormally, small. In value the total was 616 million dollars, against 764¾ million dollars in 1896-7 and 779¾ million dollars in 1895-6. To get a total smaller than this we should have to go back, as already said, to 1885, thirteen years, and if we except the 1885 total the 1898 imports are the smallest since 1879. The reasons for the marked contraction are obvious enough. The new tariff law was the main factor in it. This induced large anticipatory importations in the previous fiscal year, so as to get the benefit of the lower duties under the old law. Thus in April 1897 the value of the imports was in excess of a hundred million dollars—$101,322,405—breaking all previous records, and the totals continued large in May and June, being respectively $79,458,147 and $85,183,021. The wants of consumers having been so largely provided for in the old fiscal year, there was naturally a decided falling off in the new year. As a matter of fact, we may state that in August 1897 the imports dropped to only $39,844,605. At the beginning of 1898 the tendency seemed to be towards recovery to normal figures again, but the events leading up to the war with Spain imposed a new check. War necessarily tends to derange foreign trade in any event, and in addition there was in this instance a feeling of added caution induced by the halting tendency of domestic trade and the doubt as to the immediate future of our industries arising out of the prevalence of war.

The exports of course are deserving of very careful study. Like the imports, they are the result of a combination of circumstances and conditions all tending in the same direction rather than the development of a single cause. And this is a very important fact in its bearing on the future. Owing to the special prominence held by the wheat exports, attendant upon the shortage in the wheat harvest abroad, the general public is very apt to get the impression that this has been the chief, if not the only, factor in raising the merchandise exports to such exceptional and phenomenal proportions. But the truth is, there has been noteworthy growth in all branches of the export trade. In the breadstuffs movement, as we showed last week, it has been not merely the wheat shipments that have made the totals large beyond precedent. Indeed, these wheat shipments, as it happens, were not quite up to the best previous record. But never previously has the country disposed of such extraordinary amounts of the other cereals, and more particularly corn and oats. Of corn we sent out over 209 million bushels, of oats over 69 millions. The wheat and flour exports were 217¼ million bushels.

So, too, in the case of the other leading commodities; of cotton the shipments in quantity were far in excess of those of any previous year, though the low price prevailing made the value of the shipments fall behind the best previous figure. Those of our readers who do not follow our cotton report from week to week will no doubt be surprised to hear that the outward movement of this staple for the twelve months exceeded 7½ million bales. Or take another branch of the export trade, namely mineral oils; for the first time in any fiscal year the petroleum exports aggregated 1,000 million gallons, the exact figure being 1,014,050,188 gallons. In the provisions and dairy exports, likewise, it is many years since the shipments were so large. We show below the growth of the cotton and the petroleum movement, year by year, since 1876, as that is such a striking feature, distinct from the breadstuffs outflow. Only by giving quantities, as we here do, can this growth be traced. Where values are taken, the growth is concealed by the great contemporaneous decline in price which occurred.

† Figures for 1898 subject to slight corrections.

The grand total of the merchandise exports for the late year foots almost one-and-a-quarter thousand million dollars—$1,231,311,068. This compares with 1,051 million dollars for the year immediately preceding, a record which up to that time had never previously been attained, with 882 millions for 1895-6, and with an average of 892 millions per year for the five years ending with 1895. Compared with this average, the expansion the last two years, it will be observed, has been considerably more than one-third. Contrasting with 1888, a decade ago, we find that the value of the merchandise exports then was not quite 696 millions, as against the 1,231 millions now—that is, total merchandise exports then were comparatively little more than the excess of exports at present. The following shows the yearly imports and exports, arranged in five year periods, back to 1881. The table contains a column indicating the total foreign trade each year—that is, the total of imports and exports combined. It is a curious fact that this total trade for the late year, notwithstanding the large exports, was not quite equal to that for 1891-2, which was another very remarkable year in our foreign trade. The difference is entirely in the imports, which in the earlier year were 201 million dollars heavier, and as noting the resulting contrast arising out of these heavier imports, it should be observed that as against the favorable trade balance of 615¼ million dollars for the late year, the corresponding balance in 1891-2 on substantially the same amount of total trade was only 212¾ million dollars.

NOTE.—The foregoing figures are exclusive of gold and silver in ore, exported and imported, which we now include with gold and silver.

Another point which should not escape notice is that the magnitude of the exports has followed mainly from the great expansion in the quantities shipped, and not, as might be supposed, from an appreciation in the prices of the articles and things sent out. An exception must be made in the case of wheat. For that cereal prices were undoubtedly high, though not up to those ruling in 1891-2. But for corn the average price at 35·6 cents, as we showed last week, was the smallest for a quarter of a century, with the exception of that for the year immediately preceding. Nor can the average price for oats at 29·8 cents be said to have been high. As regards cotton, the price realized was not quite six cents per pound, and as showing the effect of this low price, we may note that with 1,405,296 more bales sent out than in the year preceding, the aggregate value of the exports of this article was actually $240,549 smaller. In the matter of petroleum, the story is the same; foreign consumers took from us 1,014 million gallons in 1898, against only 968 millions in 1897, and 890 millions in 1896, but the price received was so much less that values were only $55,200,001 in 1898, against $62,635,037 in 1897 and $62,383,403 in 1896.

The growth in the general range of exports (we mean outside the four leading staples, breadstuffs, cotton, provisions and petroleum) is yet another feature to which attention should be directed. Taking the last four years we find that the export values of the four staples rose from $499,800,231 in 1895 to $525,300,446 in 1896, to $628,521,311 in 1897 and to $784,915,604 in 1898. This is an addition, roughly, in three years of 285 million dollars. But total merchandise exports in the same three years increased 424 million dollars, showing that 139 millions of the increase came from outside the four leading staples. If we compare with 1892—that previous year of marvelous exports—we find a gain of 42 million dollars in the four staples but of 202 million dollars in the total of all exports. Indeed, the growth in these other articles of exports has been steady and almost uninterrupted during all recent years, the record being as follows: 1892, $286,900,974; 1893, $277,650,977; 1894, $327,490,742; 1895, $307,737,934; 1896, $357,396,492; 1897, $422,472,245, and 1898, $446,396,264.

With reference to the gold movement, the magnitude of the trade balance kept the flow this way through all the months of the year, beginning with August. We have already seen that the net influx for the twelve months was $104,985,283; the gross importations were $120,391,674, both being of very exceptional magnitude. The bulk of the gold came in in March and April, the spring months when the flow is usually in the other direction. The uneasiness prevailing in financial circles at this time on account of the strained relations between the United States and Spain forced the movement, thus having the contrary effect from what such a disturbance ordinarily would have had. But the trade balance in our favor was of unusual dimensions, and large loans were being carried here on foreign bills of exchange. The uneasiness referred to caused a rise in interest rates, this precipitated sales of investment holdings of exchange, this in turn broke the exchange market, bringing sterling down to the gold-import point, and then the metal flowed this way naturally and readily. Obviously we had here another one of those fortuitous combinations of circumstances which on so many previous occasions have occurred at critical junctures in the history of the United States and have averted threatened disturbance or embarrassment. We annex a record of both the gold and the silver movements back to 1881.

POWER OF ONE COMPANY TO PURCHASE THE STOCK OF ANOTHER.

The decision of the New York Supreme Court (Special Term, Part I.,) in the suit seeking to restrain the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Brooklyn from purchasing the stock of the Municipal Electric Light Company possesses some points of general interest. The belief exists somewhat widely among laymen that schemes on the part of one corporation to obtain control of another corporation engaged in the same kind of business can be prevented by legal means, on the theory that the law does not authorize such proceedings and the courts will not sanction them. As a matter of fact, Section 40 of the New York Stock Corporation Law expressly provides for the purchase and acquisition of one company's securities by another—a fact well enough known to lawyers, though strangely ignored by the general public.

The section referred to is very broad and declares that any stock corporation, domestic or foreign, now existing, or hereafter organized, except moneyed corporations, "may purchase, acquire, hold and dispose of the stocks, bonds and other evidences of indebtedness of any corporation, domestic or foreign, and issue in exchange therefor its stock, bonds or other obligations, if authorized so to do, by a provision in the certificate of incorporation of such stock corporation, or in any certificate amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, filed in pursuance of law, or if the corporation whose stock is so purchased, acquired, held or disposed of, is engaged in a business similar to that of such stock corporation," etc. Moreover, to cover the contingency contemplated the law also provides that when a corporation shall be a stockholder in any other corporation, its president or other officers shall be eligible to the office of director of such corporation, the same as if they were individually stockholders therein, and the corporation holding such stock is given in respect thereof all the rights, powers and privileges of individual owners or holders of such stock.

The arrangement by which the Edison Electric Illuminating Company sought to acquire the stock of the Municipal Electric Light Company clearly came within this provision of the statute. The arrangement was simply a proposition on the part of the Edison Company to purchase the holdings of stock of the Municipal Company, payment to be made at the rate of 200, either in cash or by delivery of bonds secured by a second mortgage upon the property of the Edison Company. The carrying-out of the proposition was to be contingent upon the deposit of a majority of the stock of the Municipal Company. James J. Phelan, one of the stockholders of the latter company, sought to defeat the contemplated purchase. He claimed that the Edison Company was a business rival of the Municipal Company, that as such it had no purpose in the whole transaction other than to annihilate the latter's business when in control of its affairs, and thus to render worthless the stock of which he and other minority and dissenting stockholders were possessed.

Judge Bischoff, who read the opinion of the Court, said that as to the nature of the agreement generally there could be no doubt that the Edison Company had legal authority to purchase directly from the stockholders of the Municipal Company any or all the stock of the latter, under the section of the Stock Corporation law above quoted. Of course, also, if it acquired a majority of that stock it would have a controlling vote in the matter of the latter corporation's management. In other words, legally the Edison Company was authorized to obtain control of the Municipal Company's business policy, if it was able to acquire the stock. The plaintiff contended, however, that equity should intervene upon the ground that when the purchasing corporation's desire to obtain a majority of the stock is confessed, a sinister motive is disclosed, and that accordingly the Court must assume the sole object of the purchase to be the destruction of the purchased company's business. It is beyond question, Judge Bischoff asserts, that if the plaintiff's fears were shown to be founded in fact, the injury suffered or threatened should and would be made the basis of equitable intervention. But the charge rested entirely upon assumptions. The only direct proof upon the question of intent was found in the answer of the Edison Company averring that its object was to protect and preserve the business and property of the Municipal Company, and to fully utilize the facilities possessed by both companies for furnishing electric light within their territory.

Upon the matter of probabilities, Judge Bischoff said he could not find from the facts that it would be to the interests of the Edison Company to wreck the Municipal Company's business "rather than to continue it, with the greater profit which might be expected to result from the combination of the respective plants and the lessening, so far, of active competition." The plaintiff's apprehensions, and the surmises upon which he based them, could not, he declared, afford warrant for the Court's interference in such a case as this, where the good faith of the purchasing corporation and of the stockholders whose stock was offered for sale was not necessarily impugned by the circumstances of the case. The Court could not balance the probabilities to a nicety for the purpose of determining whether the proposed transaction should or should not be approved.

As showing the rule which must govern in such cases, the opinion of Judge Peckham in Gamble vs. G. C. W. Co. was cited. Judge Peckham held that generally the will of the majority must govern. He laid down the doctrine that courts would not be justified in interfering even in doubtful cases where the action of the majority might be susceptible of different constructions. To warrant the interposition of the Court in favor of the minority shareholders in a corporation or joint-stock association, he declared, as against the contemplated action of the majority, where such action is within the corporate powers, a case must be made ont showing that such action is so far opposed to the true interests of the corporation itself as to lead to the clear inference that no one thns acting could have been influenced by any honest desire to secure such interests, but that he must have acted with an intent to subserve some ontside purpose, regardless of consequences to the company and in a manner inconsistent with its interests. "Otherwise the Court might be called upon to balance probabilities of profitable results to arise from the carrying out of the one or the other of different plans proposed by or on behalf of different shareholders in a corporation, and to decree the adoption of that line of policy which seemed to it to promise the best results, or at least to enjoin the carrying out of the opposite policy. This is no business for any Court to follow."

RAILROAD GROSS AND NET EARNINGS FOR MAY.

In our May exhibit of railroad gross and net earnings we have another striking record of improvement. In gross the increase is $9,044,368, or 14·25 per cent, in net $3,621,174, or 20·22 per cent. May was the month when the Leiter wheat speculation was still an active factor in the situation, and when therefore grain prices ruled high and the grain movement was of extraordinary dimensions. In addition the cotton movement in the South continued heavy, and there were many othor favoring factors. Here are the comparative totals.

The gain this time is the more noteworthy as comparison is with pretty good results a year ago. Our statement last year showed $1,904,504 increase in gross, and as this was attended by a reduction in expenses, the increase in the net was still heavier, reaching $2,261,697. The following carries the comparisons back for a series of years.

We need hardly say that we have some very heavy increases from the separate roads. The Southern Pacific has added $1,148,608 to its gross and $604,320 to its net; the Burlington & Quincy $745,536 to gross and $216,695 to net; the Atchison $485,845 to gross and $233,298 to net; the Northern Pacific $448,180 to gross and $368,350 to net, &c., &c. In the annexed we furnish a full list of all losses and all gains in excess of $30,000. There are, it will be observed, no such losses for that amount in the case of the gross and only one in the case of the net, namely the Pennsylvania, where the decrease is $55,800, this following entirely from augmented expenses.

When arranged in groups, every group records an improvement in both gross and net, which indicates perhaps better than anything else the generally favorable character of the showing. We may note, too, that even in the previous year there were for this month only two groups that fell behind in the gross and but one (namely, the Anthracite Coal group), that fell behind in the net.

THE NEW INTERVAL REVENUE LAW AND STOCK TRANSFERS.—According to a ruling of the Internal Revenue Department; the power of attorney on every certificate of transfer of stock must, under the new law, have a 25-cent stamp affixed, this being in addition to the transfer tax of $2·00 per 100 shares required by the law. Collector Charles H Treat, of this city, received a notification to that effect on Monday of this week from Commissioner Scott of Washington. The following is the text of the ruling:

"SIR—Your letter of the 8th instant enclosing a communication from Charles A. Gardiner, attorney for the Manhattan Railway Company, wherein he desires a ruling upon the question whether a power of attorney, forming part of the transfer and indorsed upon the certificate of stock, requires to be specially stamped with a 25-cent stamp as for a power of attorney in addition to the two cents per hundred dollars of face value of the stock transferred, has been received.

"In reply you are informed that in the opinion of this office the power of attorney is required to be stamped in addition to the tax on the stock transferred."

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, July 9, 1898.

The destruction of the Spanish fleet off Santiago has been welcomed here with almost as much cordiality as if the feat had been accomplished by our own ships, and upon the Continent it has made a very remarkable impression, silencing for the time being at all events nearly all the carping and hostile criticism of things American. The great question everybody is asking is, Will it bring peace? If the Spaniards were wise they would submit at once. It is proved now that they are totally unprepared to fight either upon land or upon sea. They have no competent officers and they are utterly without credit.

The Government of Spain has been practically bankrupt for years and has paid its way only by continually issuing notes of the Bank of Spain. But the circulation of the Bank of Spain is now so large that practically much further issues must bring insolvency. Indeed, the notes are virtually inconvertible already, for the Bank refuses to pay out the little gold it holds, while silver cannot be withdrawn from the Bank for the purpose of being sent abroad. Every friend of Spain is urging upon the Government to make terms at once. But the Government fears revolution and civil war. In the North the Carlists are strong and in the South the Republicans. The army holds the balance between the two, and heretofore it has supported the present dynasty. If that dynasty is overthrown what kind of a government would the army set up, or is it not probable that the army would become divided itself?

Still, though Señor Sagasta makes brave speeches, it is believed that he is petitioning the great Powers to use their good offices in behalf of Spain. In this country we should prefer that Spain should address herself directly to the United States. We are well aware that the American people will not yield to foreign pressure, and we are convinced that they will give as generous terms if only asked for them by Spain as they would if there were to be mediation by a really friendly Power. This country, then, is very unwilling to move, and indeed will not move unless the Government is convinced that by so doing it would act in accordance with the wishes of both parties. Especially, it must be sure that whatever it does would be agreeable to the United States.

Naturally the outlook in Spain is causing much perturbation, and besides there are gross causes of anxiety in France itself. The Meline Cabinet was upheld mainly by Conservatives, and especially the wing of them who are rallied to the Republic at the instance of the Pope. That Cabinet was overthrown by a combination of the Republicans to put an end to the Royalist influence. Unfortunately the Meline Cabinet allowed the general staff at Paris to get an influence over the Government which it will be very difficult to shake off, and the general staff is almost entirely composed of clerical Royalists. It seems incredible notwithstanding the undoubted fears entertained in France that the staff in Paris can dispose of the army of France. But unquestionably the staff is very angry. The Royalists and the rallied Conservatists are sore and disappointed, and the Radicals and Socialists are by no means satisfied. Fortunately for the Republic neither the Royalist nor the Bonapartist candidate has any personal influence, and there is no general of great popularity. We venture to think, therefore, that the danger is exaggerated in France.

There is widespread uneasiness in Italy; although outward order is maintained, the situation is extremely critical. In Austria-Hungary there is no improvement. In the Balkan Peninsula there are still fears of an outbreak. Upon the whole, however, the feeling in England is that if the war between the United States and Spain were to come to an end, there would be a very great improvement in business. If, indeed, really good understanding can be established between the two great branches of the English speaking peoples, it is confidently felt here that peace can be imposed upon all disturbing elements and that the world would then be able to enjoy a long period of great prosperity. In the meantime, however, although the actual home trade is good here, the foreign trade is rather inactive. Now enterprise is entirely checked and there is scarcely any speculation. Upon the Stock Exchange at the end of last week and the beginning of this there was an inclination to put up prices, both in the American and the South African departments. But New York did not rise, while Paris began to sell South African shares, and thus the support has come to an end.

The Directors of the Bank of England made no change in their rate of discount this week, mainly because a very considerable amount of German gold coin had been withdrawn from the Bank during the preceding eight or ten days. The gold is sent directly to Berlin. The general impression is that it is really intended for St. Petersburg and Vienna However that may be, the fact that gold is in demand for the Continent has to be borne in mind, while it must not be overlooked, moreover, that the great activity of business in the United States may make money dear and tight in New York by and by, and may therefore lead to considerable gold shipments. Upon the whole, then, the opinion here is that the Bank Directors have acted wisely in not putting down their rate, although in actual fact they are doing scarcely any business, as their official rate is much above the real rate in the open market.

Another thing to be borne in mind is that the Indian Government has just announced a sterling loan of six millions. But nearly 3½ millions are intended for paying off existing debt, and consequently only 2½ millions will be at the disposal of the Government. The money will be used mainly for railway building, and therefore will be spent in this country, and consequently it is not likely to have much effect upon rates. Still the city is inclined to think that with gold going to the Continent, with India borrowing, and with the probability of other colonial and foreign loans, it would be unwise to lower rates further.

In India the long continued stringency is at length practically at an end. On Thursday the Bank of Bengal put down its rate of discount from 8 per cent to 7 per cent, and in the open market rates are a little better than 5 per cent. The reserves of all the Presidency banks have rapidly increased, and there will probably be now two or three months of comparative ease. The best opinion seems to be that rates will not go very much lower. In other words, that they will not go as low as they used to go in the slack season before the mints were closed; and that in October or November stringency will return and there will be another five or six months of extremely high rates. Meanwhile, with the beginning of the rainy season, exports are checked. Business is becoming quiet everywhere, money is returning from the interior to Calcutta, Bombay and Madras, and so it is expected that the Government will be able to raise the announced rupee loan. In Bombay and Kurrachee the hot season has in a great measure put an end to the plague. But there is great anxiety in Calcutta still. Apparently the mortality is very much less than it was. But the natives have taken fright and have left the city in very large numbers.

The dearth of labor and probably the flight of native bankers largely account for the rapidity with which the Bank rate has fallen of recent weeks. The Presidency banks directly lend to the European, the Indian and the native bankers, and it is the native bankers who finance native trade generally, except where the traders are wealthy and conspicuous and educated. But the small branches of native trade are almost entirely accommodated by the English banks. The native bankers have fled in great numbers from Calcutta, and thus practically have brought trade to a standstill. The India Council on Wednesday offered for tender 40 lacs of rupees and the applications were on an enormous scale—seven or eight times the amount offered. The total amount was alloted in bills at 1s. 3 21-32d. per rupee.

MORTGAGE COMPANY BONDS.

The recent listing on the New York Stock Exchange of $5,000,000 of First Mortgage Trust Gold Bonds of the UNITED STATES MORTGAGE AND TRUST COMPANY, brings into notice a class of securities very favorably known for many years on the European Stock Exchanges.

Mortgage companies were first started in Germany about 130 years ago, and spread gradually to Austria, Italy, France, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Russia, and other countries. These companies have had a very successful history, their permanent success being due to the fact that their business was so well conducted as to render a genuine service to the borrowers and yield a fair return to the bond and stock holders. The fundamental idea of these companies was to render convertible at least one-half of the value in the enormous aggregate of improved and income-producing real estate, both in cities and in the country, much of which up to that time had been unavailable for collateral. This idea of rendering and keeping convertible a large amount of real estate value led to the making not only of loans of ordinary length but of long-time loans, the duration varying from twenty to ninety five years, the average term of the loan being between forty and fifty years.

In granting such long-time loans the mortgage companies protected themselves from possible loss caused by depreciation of improvements or shifting of land value by introducing the amortization principle, which consists of the gradual reduction of the loan by small annual payments. Where the loan runs from seventy-five to ninety-five years, the instalment payment was so small as to be hardly felt, the real result being a slightly increased interest rate, which gradually absorbed the principal, and avoided the payment of the loan at any one time. For example, in the case of a loan made at 4½ per cent an increase of interest to 4·86 per cent would entirely extinguish the debt in seventy-five (75) years. It should be noted that the borrowers were protected in making such long-time loans by having the option to pay off the entire loan at any time. The high degree of security afforded by the bonds of these mortgage companies created a market for them at rates of interest varying usually from three to four (3 to 4) per cent; and in the case of recent issues of the Credit Foncier bonds from 2·60 to 2·80 per cent. The difference in the rate of interest on the bonds sold and the mortgages made was limited ordinarily by competition, but in some cases by law, as in France, to ·60 of 1 per cent per annum; in Austria, to ·65 of 1 per cent per annum; in Italy, ·60 of 1 per cent per annum. The establishment and success of these mortgage companies performed the double service in bringing about a great saving annually to borrowers as well as affording a large field for secure investments at fair rates of interest. The foreclosure of these companies have amounted to but a small percentage of the mortgages made, and the property taken in has usually been quickly realized upon, so that the real estate owned by the companies is insignificant in amount. The aim of these companies from the start has been to carry on a large volume of business at a small margin of profit, and they have never apparently yielded to the fallacy of attempting to make large profits by charging high rates of interest. By strictly limiting loans to centrally located business or residence property and making none on unimproved property, farms, factories or leaseholds, it is believed sound investments can be made at rates of interest which will permit a small margin of profit in selling 4 per cent bonds, thereby giving to the public for this margin its expert services in placing loans in addition to the guarantee of its large capital.

The European mortgage companies which have operated on these principles have become among the largest and strongest financial institutions in their respective countries, the Credit Foncier of France having now a capital of upwards of $50,000,000, and bonds outstanding amounting to $840,000,000; the German Mortgage Banks having $1,200,000,000 of mortgage bonds; the North German Mutual Credit Association having upwards of $500,000,000 of bonds; the Austrian Mortgage Companies having about $300,000,000 of bonds; the Denmark Credit Associations having about $200,000,000 of bonds. These mortgage bonds, during the long period in which they have been listed on the Exchanges, have shown great stability of price, the fluctuations being comparatively both small and gradual. The general history of these bonds has shown that they are a security which, while not speculative, provides a maximum of safety with a ready convertibility and a fair rate of interest. As to English mortgage companies, we find that the chief difference between them and those of Continental Europe is in the closer limits placed by the English Companies upon the issuing of bonds; and also in their not having adopted the amortization principle. The limiting of the debentures of the English and Colonial mortgage companies to the subscribed or paid-in capital results in a small volume of business and consequently has a tendency to lead the companies to seek less desirable mortgages at high rates of interest, in order to pay office expenses and dividend on their stock.

The failure of many farm loan companies in America has been due to the placing of mortgages at very high rates of interest in thinly settled communities where the value of the land had not been fully determined, as well as to the fact that these companies engaged in many other enterprises apart from mortgage loans and issued their bonds against such other investments. That well selected real estate mortgages, especially in large cities, constitute a most stable basis of security and desirable form of investment is proved not only by the sanction of the law for investments of this character by executors and trustees, but also in the enormous holding of mortgages by the savings banks, life insurance companies, trust companies, and other fiduciary institutions. For example, the investments in bond and mortgage of the savings banks of the state of New York in 1897 amounted to $358,000,000, and of the largest American life insurance companies are as follows: The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, $89,423,937; New York Life Insurance Company, $41,052,422; Equitable Life Assurance Society, $46,175,726; Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, $66,785,998; Commercial Mutual Life Insurance Co., $33,045,673. Of New York companies, the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has invested over $100,000,000 in the past seven years, and the Bond & Mortgage Guaranty Company has $27,000,000 of guaranteed mortgages outstanding.

The volume of mortgage investment has steadily forced down the rate of interest on mortgages all over the United States, the rate of interest on the best loans, for example, having dropped in New York, Philadelphia and Boston within the past few years from 5 to 4 per cent, and for the best loans in cities of 50,000 population and upwards, even in the Far West, from 6 to 5 per cent.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JULY 22, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—In the absence of important war news this week business in Wall Street has been chiefly of the routine character incident to a mid-summer heated term. The stock market has been largely controlled by professional traders, as offerings of long stock are limited and actual investors seem not eager to increase their holdings of this class of securities. In the bond market the conditions noted last week have continued in a somewhat milder form. There is evidence that some of the speculation which has heretofore been a feature of the stock market is now transferred to the bond department, presumably on account of the stamp tax on share transfers. However this may be, there is a good demand for railway bonds, and the transactions in some issues have been large. Government issues are also in request at advancing quotations. A feature of to-day's market was the sale of nearly $283,000 new 3s, when issued, above 104.

The probability is becoming more and more remote that any new phase of the war with Spain will affect the business interests of this country adversely. In view of this fact attention in financial circles is turned to other factors which are likely to exert an influence upon security values in the near future, conspicuous among which are the crop prospects. Reports have come to hand this week from a reliable source in the Far West confirming the more general information that the outlook in that section is excellent, and every week now diminishes the chances of disappointment in this regard. The prospect of a foreign demand for our surplus breadstuffs is good, and this outlook may prove a prominent and favorable feature of the general situation.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1 to 1½ per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¼ to 1½ per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3¾ to 4 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £101,774, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 45·88, against 46·12 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 2,700,000 francs in gold and 2,800,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of July 16 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $4,049,900 and a surplus over the required reserve of $49,365,825, against $53,345,300 the previous week.

Foreign Exchange.—The foreign exchange market has been dull and weak on a limited demand. Some bills drawn against future grain shipments have been offered, and the prospect of a large supply of this class of bills during the coming season has a tendency to keep rates down.

To-day's actual rates of exchange were as follows: Bankers' sixty days' sterling, 4 83¼@4 84; demand, 4 85¼@4 85¼; cables, 4 85¼@4 85¾; prime commercial, sixty days, 4 83¼@4 83½; documentary commercial, sixty days, 4 82¾@4 83; grain for payment, 4 82¾@4 83; cotton for payment, 4 82¾@4 83; cotton for acceptance, 4 83¼@4 83½.

The market for railway bonds has been relatively active, although the volume of business was smaller than last week. Daily transactions at the Exchange averaged about $3,000,000, par value, in which the low-priced issues were prominent. Of these Wisconsin Central trust receipts were most conspicuous, having advanced 4½ points on a steadily increasing demand. Union Pacific Denver & Gulf advanced 3 points and St. Louis & Iron Mountain 2 points, on large transactions. Denver & Rio Grande and Baltimore & Ohio con. 5s, 1988, each advanced a point or more.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—On a volume of business averaging only about 130,000 shares per day, the stock market was narrow and professional in character, but growing firmer in tone as the week advanced. Notwithstanding a lack of interest on the part of investors, the grangers and trunk line shares have been generally well sustained, North West., Burlington & Quincy, Rock Island, St. Paul & Omaha, Northern Pacific preferred, St. Paul and New York Central closing higher than last week

Illinois Central failed to sustain the high quotations noted in our last issue and some Southern lines were weak on reports, which afterwards proved to be false, that yellow fever had appeared in some military camps at the South The coal stocks continued weak, but declines are unimportant.

The miscellaneous list was relatively active and in most cases strong. American Tobacco advanced over a point and U. S. Leather preferred and U. S. Rubber preferred each moved up 2 points on buying said to be based on good trade conditions. These advances were not sustained in all cases.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The following shows the gross and net earnings to latest dates of all STEAM railroads furnishing monthly statements. The compilation includes every road from which we can get returns of this character, and in that form is given once a month. Early returns are published from week to week, as soon as issued, but for the convenience of our readers all the roads making returns are brought together here in the week in which we publish our monthly article on net earnings—say on or about the 20th of the month.

The returns of the street railways we give by themselves under a separate head at the extreme end of these tabulations —see page 174.
